"My God, How Can It Be?"

"My God, How Can It Be?"

"That one boy lies rotting from malnutrition and torture from a jungle prison camp in North Vietnam and another boy spits and tramples on the flag of this country on the steps of a university of learning."

"That one boy lies in a U. S. Naval Hospital suffering from communist-infected wounds, and another boy used a Communist flag to drape himself in defiance of the laws of this country."

"That one man of Medicine begins his 30th straight hour standing over an operating table in pursuit of life for men serving this country, and another man of Medicine implores crowds of young men to refuse to serve this country."

"That one negro holds the face of his dead white comrade in his arms and cried pitifully in a dirty mudhole in Vietnam and another negro screams with his hate against his white brother on the streets of countless of American cities."

"That one boy lies in a coffin beneath the ground because he believes in duty to country and another boy lies on a dingy cot giving blood to the enemy of his country."

"That one man of God shields a wounded boy from an enemy bayonet with his body and dies, and another man of God uses his cloths as a shield to preach hatred, dissension and lawlessness."

NIGHT FLYERS

The topic for today is as perhaps you have already guessed, flying squirrels. First of all, let's straighten out this name business. Flying squirrel is a misnomer because these tiny creatures do not fly. (Actually the only mammal which can fly is the bat.) However, it would be technically correct to call these little characters-of-the-night gliding squirrels because, at this art, they are most proficient.

As one article describes the action—the squirrel scampers high in a tree, sets himself, bobs his head back and forth and up and down several times, pushes off with all four feet, spreads his gliding membranes and 'flies' to a nearby tree.

The head-bobbing ritual is thought to be important in judging distance, the jumping off with all four feet is, of course, simply a means of getting a good start.

On either side of the squirrel's body there are loose flaps of skin, called gliding membranes, which extend from the front legs to the back legs. By stretching out his four legs spread-eagle fashion, the squirrel pulls these two membranes taut thus forming a perfect airfoil.

Control of the downward glide is achieved by moving or dipping the front arms and regulating the size of the gliding surface. For example, a dip of the right arm creates a right turn and the less extended the arms and legs are, the faster the fall.

ALTHOUGH THE glide usually ends near the bottom of a nearby tree, an expert will free-fall, then suddenly snap his wings out and, making use of the momentum thus gained, making a landing high on a tree.

Preparations for the landing are made by the squirrel turning upward and using his 'flying gear' like a parachute. He lands on all four feet and is immediately ready to streak up the tree trunk and take off on another flight.

A 150-foot glide is quite common and once, on a downhill run, a squirrel was measured to have made a record 100 yards.

Unfortunately, all of these aerial acrobatics are performed at night and are therefore not seen by most of us. Isn't it a shame — just see what an appreciative audience a daytime performance would draw. But the flying squirrels are confirmed night-people: they seldom, if ever, venture out before dark.

Or occasionally someone is fortunate enough to know someone who knows they have flying squirrels. I fit into this category. Several months ago the General and his Lady had marvelous flying squirrel fun.

They suspected someone was visiting when every morning there would be a noticeable amount of corn gone. A fresh ear put out in the early evening would be more than half clean by breakfast time.

Soon they realized that their guest followed a regular schedule. He arrived shortly after dark and, although they never saw him fly, they, and many of their friends, did watch much corn-eating.

IT TURNS OUT that autumn nights, just shortly after dark the the best flying squirrel watching times. The little characters are busy gathering food to cache away in preparation for winter.

Although not true hibernators, they become extremely inactive during the cold winter months and often venture out of their nest only for quick trips to their well-stocked pantries.

They are also gregarious, in some instances as many as 30 squirrels have been found sharing the same winter home, but the average is somewhere between four and six.

Although they only saw one, it is quite probable that the General and his Lady have quite a few flying squirrels in their woods. The acorns from their oaks would be very inviting. And the squirrels themselves are held together by strong family ties.

People who have had unpleasant experiences with them know this. They are not above raiding attics and those who have had their carefully-collected supply of walnuts or hickory nuts stolen, know that more than one squirrel is involved in the thievery.

But back to nicer facets of the squirrels' personality. They are quite tame — the General and his Lady found that lights shining on their visitor were not the least upsetting to him and he even allowed people to come quite close.

They could come quite close, that is, as long as they made no sudden movements nor any loud noises. By this careful 'slow and easy' approach, my friends obtained some exceptionally good flying squirrel pictures.

Taken from a distance of only three feet, they clearly show one very cute little guy! He is smaller than a red squirrel but has the same pure white tummy and thin black side-stripe.

Like all nocturnal prowlers, his eyes are huge. And I must not forget his tail, it's quite unique. First of all, it is flat, it almost looks like a furry tongue depressor, and for an extra bit of distinction, this squirrel curls the end of his tail in the opposite direction from the way most of his bigger cousins do.

So it is that even though they do raid attics, I think that flying squirrels must be marvelous and am only sorry they are such confirmed night flyers.

Dress Dolls For Little Girls At Christmastime

Christmas is a time for giving. The Salvation Army can help area residents give a needy child a brighter holiday.

There are many 11-inch dolls with hair and movable eyes at the Salvation Army Citadel, 215 W. Church St., Adrian. These dolls need some clothes.

The Salvation Army is staging a doll-dressing contest to get them dressed in time for Christmas giving.

Anyone may stop at the Citadel and pick up one or more dolls. After the dolls have been dressed in new clothes, they are to be returned to the Salvation Army for distribution. December 15 is the final date for returning them.

Win a prize for making the best looking clothes as well as making a little girl happy this Christmas.

Women's Clubs and church groups may pick up enough dolls for each member of their organization.

Kiddie Kast Is Readying Play

Mrs. James Vanzo, director, said that rehearsals are in full swing with a delightful cast of youngsters for the Tecumseh Players production of "The Elves and the Shoemaker."

"This lovely children's play will be presented as an extra treat for the Thanksgiving weekend in three matinees, Nov. 29, 30 and Dec. 1."

Tickets are now on sale from members of the cast or they may be purchased at the door of the Tecumseh Community Center Glass Room before performances.

Ladies Display Female Finery

Plans for the Top to Toe Style Show of the American Legion Auxiliary are well under way, according to the president, Mrs. T. Rentschler.

Shoes and purses have been added to the clothing, hair styling, and cosmetics.

Admission tickets for the full fashion show to be held in the American Legion Home on Monday, Nov. 18, at 7:30 p.m. are available from the members, Flanders Music Store, B-Bon Beauty Salon and Larry's Grill.

Camp Fire Girl Candy Sale To Start Wednesday

The Tuckabatchee Council of the Camp Fire Girls are planning a massive county-wide candy sale from Nov. 13 thru Dec. 3. Proceeds will go towards the Camp Fire Girls' Camp Tuckabatchee located on Lake Adrian, and other Camp Fire Girl programs.

Mrs. Jerry Ford, campaign chairman, announced that the Tuckabatchee Council has arranged with the Heath Candy Co. of Robinson, Ill., to sell $1 boxes of English Toffee candy during the three-week sale.

The Tuckabatchee Council hopes to raise $8,000 which will enable hundreds of girls from second grade through high school age to enjoy Camp Fire Girl programs, Mrs. Ford reported.

"Anyone who wishes to place an advance order," said Mrs. Ford, "may call 423-4097, and I will contact a leader in their area."

OES Commemorates Veterans

When the American Flag was presented at the altar in commemoration of Veterans Day, Mrs. Manley read a verse and the lights were lowered with a spotlight on the flag. Mrs. Sherman McRae sang "To America With Love."

Mrs. Manley welcomed all present with a verse "Take Time." Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kempf, first vice-president and formations instructor, respectively, of Lenawee-Monroe Association, were introduced and welcomed.

The Charter was draped in memory of Mrs. Jennie Ladd, a 50-year member who passed away November 6. Mrs. Manley read an appropriate memorial verse.

The Thanksgiving message from the worthy grand matron and worthy grand patron was read, as well as a reminder of the Line Officers School in Ann Arbor, Nov. 20; the Alumni meeting at Fairfield Nov. 21, dinner at 6:30 p.m., reservations to be made with Mrs. Donald LaBounty by November 13.

Mrs. Manley named her committees for the year. They are:

Sunshine — Mrs. Glenn Driscoll.

Publicity — Mrs. Donald LaBounty.

Refreshments — Mrs. Robert Bonner.

Estarl — Mrs. Stanley Miller.

Relief — Mrs. Ray Schlegel.

Examining — Mrs. Henry Kempf, Mrs. Melvin Ruettinger, Lawrence Hoagland.

Auditing and finance — Dean Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dickinson.

Ways and Means—All officers.

Three life memberships were presented and will be mailed to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hall and Ford Exelby, all in Florida.

Mrs. Douglas Osworth, Mrs. Richard Creswell and Mrs. Al Street were presented their proficiency cards and a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Manley.

Mrs. Calvin Dixon gave a report of the recent Grand Chapter session in Grand Rapids.

A single school of instruction for Tecumseh Chapter will be held December 12, at 7:30 p.m. with Grand Ruth, Mrs. Frances Strand, as Instructor. The officers will practice December 10 at 7 p.m.

The next regular meeting will be December 5 with a family potluck supper preceding the meeting at 6:30 p.m. All members with children are asked by the committee to furnish a 50c gift as Santa Claus will visit them, and Ralph Erickson and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Fields of the Villa will be guests. The meat and beverage will be furnished.

Refreshments were served in the dining room from tables decorated with arrangements of flowers and praying hands by Mr. and Mrs. George Rinehart and Mrs. Joe Rice.

Air Medal Given For Combat Duty

Army Sp/4 William M. Goodrich, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton E. Goodrich, 826 S. Church St., Hudson, received the Air Medal at Camp Radcliffe, Vietnam, Oct. 21.

Sp. Goodrich earned the award for combat aerial support of ground operations in Vietnam.

Sp. Goodrich is a legal clerk with the 1st Battalion of the 173rd Airborne Brigade's 50th Infantry. He entered the Army in August, 1967, and completed basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky. He holds two awards of the Purple Heart.

The specialist, whose wife, Carol, lives at 415½ S. Pearl, attended Hudson Area High School, Adrian College and Cleary College, Ypsilanti. Before entering the Army, he was employed by Kresge, Detroit.

Committee Plans Holiday Ball

Mrs. Thomas Rudd was the hostess Nov. 6 for the committee planning the annual Holiday Ball starting the holiday season in Tecumseh.

The event is held the first Saturday in December each year sponsored by the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

Invitations to Auxiliary members and their guests will be in the mail by mid-November for the 20th annual dance to be held Dec. 7 at the Tecumseh Country Club.

Ray Louis and his orchestra will play for dancing from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. and a buffet lunch will be served by the Auxiliary.

Mrs. James Palmer is assisting Mrs. Rudd in co-chairing the Ball. They have chosen their committees. Mrs. James Hammand and Mrs. Wilbur Andrews and committee will have charge of the decorations, Mrs. John Lundi and Mrs. Robert Cayce, the invitations and tickets.

Mrs. Joseph Galazzi and Mrs. Donald Nixon will head the committee serving the food. Mrs. Richard Meyers and Mrs. Paul Roeckle are publicity chairmen.

Sheriff Explains Service

Sheriff Richard L. Germond was the speaker Tuesday evening for the members of the Hospital Auxiliary at the Community Center.

He told of the operation of the new ambulance service recently adopted in Lenawee County.

"We have radio - dispatched cars in the areas all the time, already on the move, providing police protection as well as ambulance service with first aid given right on the scene," the sheriff stated.

"We are having problems, we anticipated them and we are solving them as they arise. The overall system is working well with our response good and the public acceptance good," he said.

Two more station wagons will be patroling by the end of December in addition to the three and a full-sized ambulance, in operation now, bringing the total to six vehicles," he concluded.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lloyd Slagh, Mrs. James Mac Mrs. Lloyd Slagh, Mrs. James MacDowell and Mrs. Graham Foster before the regular business meeting was conducted by President Mrs. Albert Caesar.

New members welcomed were Mrs. James Bick and Mrs. Lyle H. Dornan. They, accompanied by Mrs. Caesar, attended an orientation meeting at Herrick Memorial Hospital, arranged by Mrs. Charles Mensing, membership secretary.

Army Private Is Assigned As MP

U. S. Army Pvt. Ross T. Feezel, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Feezel, 9493 Newburg Rd., was assigned as a military policeman with the 504th Military Police Battalion in Vietnam Oct. 6.

His wife, June, lives at 1843 Lindsey Rd., Jackson.

Mrs. Thomas Rudd and Mrs. James Palmer, co-chairman, are working with committees on the Holiday Ball to be held Dec. 7.

Mrs. Ed Schwartz will have charge of the holiday fruit cakes. The goodies are available at H. W. Tuttle Co., Jean Colgrove's Gift Shop and Don's Beef Buffet.

Mrs. Roger Kapp arranged to have Halloween favors placed on patients' trays and is making plans for Thanksgiving and Christmas decorations at the hospital.

Cale's wins in his Mercury Cyclone:

1. Daytona 500.
2. Atlanta 500.
3. Virginia 500 at Martinsville.
4. Firecracker 400 at Daytona.
5. Southern 500 at Darlington.

You can't buy an exact duplicate of Cale's car. But you can buy a version that is almost as exciting. We call it the Cyclone CJ mainly because it comes with a new CJ 428 engine, a 4-barreled power plant which cranks out 335 horsepower. The burly tires have an extra-wide tread and are belted with fiberglass. A competition handling package, low-restriction dual exhausts and 4-speed manual transmission are all standard. We went all the way on everything except the price.

Cranberry, pink and white were the colors used in the wedding Saturday morning when Judith Hillebrand became the bride of Ronald Oliver.

White gladioli and pink carnations were used on the altar of St. Elizabeth Church as the Rev. Fr. Robert Handley officiated.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Mason, parents of the bride, live at 503 Cairns and Mr. and Mrs. Raynor Oliver, parents of the groom, live at 3850 Kaiser Rd.

MRS. RONALD OLIVER

William Whiting was the soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Donald Johnson.

The bride chose an A-line gown of satin, trimmed with Venice lace appliques. The gown had a detachable train and long tapered sleeves.

Her elbow length veil was secured to a crown of lace petals and she carried a cascade arrangement of Snow Song roses centered with pink and cranberry sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Howard Poley of Saline was matron of honor in a floor length A-line gown of pink kortie and daisy trim with train and bell sleeves.

She wore a matching pink bow and veil on her hair and carried Elegance carnations accented with pink and cranberry velvet fruit.

Thomas Oliver, brother of the groom, of Saline, served as best man and 200 guests were seated by Thomas Vance and Lance Hillebrand, brother of the bride.

The bride is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and is employed by the Tecumseh Products Co.

The groom is a Clinton High School graduate and is employed by the Ford Motor Co. at the Rawsonville plant.

Altar Society Member Shows Alaskan Slides

Mrs. James Vanzo showed colored slides of Alaska Wednesday evening to the St. Elizabeth Altar Society. There were 50 members and one guest, Mrs. Mary O'Rourke, present.

Mrs. Vanzo and her husband and children spent a year in Alaska. Both Mr. and Mrs. Vanzo taught there, Mr. Vanzo in the Ketchikan High School and Mrs. Vanzo taught the first class for the deaf in Alaska at Ketchikan.

The Rev. Fr. Robert Handley reminded the ladies that an Evening of Recollection will be held Thursday, Nov. 14, from 4 p.m. till 9 p.m. in the Church and Church Hall. All women are invited.

The annual Pantry Shower for the Sisters will be November 24.

The Society's next meeting, December 4, will be a potluck dinner served at 6:30 p.m. followed by a Christmas party and a dollar gift exchange.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Joseph Conklin and her committee including Mrs. Robert Kerr, Mrs. Robert Randall, Mrs. Robert Sage, Mrs. Eugene Parros, Mrs. Joseph Prochaska, Mrs. John McVay, Mrs. Paul Rudd, Mrs. Irene Lewis and Mrs. William Ross.

We care where our product is served.

Beer served in pleasant and wholesome surroundings is the aim of the United States Brewers Association. And we are always striving to do something about it.

The USBA is represented by field men around the country. They meet with proprietors of establishments where beer is sold. They work in every way possible to promote a set of high standards wherever beer is served.

Friendly Class Fete Daughters

A Mother and Daughter Tea for the ladies of the Friendly Class of the Friends Church and their daughters was held Thursday evening at the church with 42 in attendance.

Mrs. Roland Mohr, president of the class, presented Mrs. Paul Brantingham, program chairman, who introduced Larry Ehinger, a senior at Adrian College, majoring in Bio-Chemistry and studying voice under Mrs. Betty Smith at the college.

He presented a varied vocal concert, accompanied by Mrs. Ashley Chase and Mrs. Paul Brantingham.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Johnson showed educational colored slides of Texas and other states they wintered in.

Mrs. Herbert Murphy, assisted by Mrs. Naomi Sallows, was in charge of decorations. The tables were centered with candles in colorful holders, bouquets of fall flowers, and baskets of gourds and fruit. Each place setting included two yarn dolls of many colors for the guest to wear.

After grace was said by Mabel Lockwood, teacher of the class, the supper committee, Mrs. Perry Hayden, Mrs. Sheldon Chase, and Mrs. Roland Mohr presided at the serving table, bountifully spread with colorful squares of Jello, crackers, topped with meat and cheese, decorated cake squares, nuts and meats. Tea and coffee were served at the tables.

Negro Situation To Be Discussed

Mrs. Roberta Cottman will speak for the Women's Association of the Presbyterian Church Wed., Nov. 20 at 8 p.m.

Mrs. Cottman, a member of the National Executive Committee of United Presbyterian Churchwomen, will talk on the Negro situation. She has a full time job as coordinator of physical rehabilitation at Mt. Carmel Hospital in Detroit.

Shirley Rupp Becomes Bride of Terry Sisty

Shirley Kay Rupp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Rupp, 315 W. Patterson, and Terry Eugene Sisty 217 N. Pearl St., were married Saturday evening by the Rev. Donald Porteous at the United Methodist Church.

Mr. Sisty is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. William Fielder, 217 N. Pearl St.

Her elbow length veil fell from a rose headpiece of the same lace and her only jewelry was a necklace of three diamonds, centered in a heart, the gift of the groom.

She carried a nosegay of white roses.

Mrs. Michael Withrow was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Nancy Marks, Marsha Curth and Lee Ann Ward. All were attired in floor length gowns of moss green with empire waistline, A-line skirts of crepe and bodices of textured velvet in a rose design. The drains were secured at the waistlines and large moss green roses secured their brief face veils.

Theresa Withrow, niece of the groom, was the flower girl dressed like the maid of honor and carrying a basket of yellow tea roses.

Both young people are graduates of Tecumseh High School. Mrs. Sisty is a secretary for Faraday, Inc., and her husband is employed by Jim Fielder, contractor.

They will live at 108 W. Pottawatamie St., Apt. No. 3.

Sharleen Bird Wed In Evening Ceremony

White gladioli and chrysanthemums flanked the altar and lighted seven-branch candelabra accented with white rose trees, stood at the chancel entrance while greens and satin bows marked the family pews along the carpeted aisle.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Bird of Britton and Mr. and Mrs. William Burgess, Sr., of New Hudson.

Mrs. Fred Schober presided at the organ.

The bride chose a floor length A-line gown of angelskin peau de soie fashioned with rounded neckline and bracelet length sleeves edged with lace. The empire bodice was appliqued with Chantilly lace and seed pearls and the chapel train flowed gracefully from the back waistline. Her elbow length veil was secured to a matching satin bow in her hair.

She wore an engraved locket necklace, the gift of the groom, and carried a cascade of Snowdrift pompons and white petite carnations.

Carol Bird, another sister of the bride, Paula Moeller, of Tipton, and Elise Buku of Ypsilanti were the bridesmaids attired as the maid of honor.

Michael Grim of New Hudson was best man and the 225 guests were seated by Gene and Ken Burgess, brothers of the groom, and Michael Allen of New Hudson.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Roberts of Onsted were the hosts for the reception at the Community Center where a four-tiered wedding cake, made and decorated by Mrs. Alden Erlenbush, was served.

Mrs. Robert Spence, Barbara Eipps, Mrs. Dewey Frayer and Shirley Spence assisted with the serving.

The bride is a 1967 graduate of Tecumseh High School and Cleary College and is employed as an accounting clerk at Automation Forester in Ann Arbor.

The groom served two years in the U. S. Marine Corps and is employed by the Ford Motor Co. at the Rawsonville plant.

The couple live at Allen's Trailer Park, Clinton.

Methodists Host Foreign Students

BRITTON — Twenty foreign students who are attending the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, were special guests at a dinner in the Grace United Methodist Church in Ridgeway Thursday evening. Over 100 attended the event.

The students were assigned host families for the evening when they arrived. After an opening prayer by Pastor John Lover and group singing of a hymn, a fellowship meal was served.

The students are all teachers from their various home-lands who have come to Ann Arbor to further their education, especially in the English language field. They welcome this type of fellowship dinner, because it gives them a chance to meet people in their homes and churches, and have informal conversation in the English language. Several families indicated that they have made plans to get together in the future with their guests.

Following the dinner, the pastor introduced Mrs. Charles Bishop, who had arranged the dinner. She introduced Mr. Frazier, co-ordinator from Ann Arbor, who in turn introduced the students.

Tables were set by members of the Junior High MYF, and decorated by Mrs. Kathryn Judkins and Mrs. Neal Judkins. Mrs. Howard Haas, Sr., was in charge of the kitchen, and Mrs. George Forsythe in charge of music.

Bethel Baptist Women Donate Books, Clothing

BRITTON — The Ladies Missionary Society of the Bethel Baptist Church met Thursday evening at the church for a work session with 17 members and one guest present.

Mrs. Milburn Preston led in devotions using Matthew 10:29. Mrs. Preston reminisced and read minutes of some of the earlier meetings of the society.

Mrs. Jack Hintz presided at the business meeting with Mrs. Walter Stutesman leading in prayer.

The group is giving $3.50 per month to the church library to purchase missionary minded books from the junior age level on up.

Members voted to buy books to be sent to the servicemen from the church. Mrs. Alva Clark and Mrs. Bill Bartenslager are to take charge of the purchasing and mailing.

The meeting closed in prayer by Mrs. Preston and the remainder of the evening was spent in packing clothing to be sent to West Virginia and toys for the Navajo Indian children in New Mexico.

Mrs. Bartenslager and committee served blueberry dessert.

The December meeting is to be a potluck Christmas dinner at the church with each one bringing $1 to be used for gifts for the Rendel children whose parents are in Nigeria. Ten dollars was voted to be sent to Jack Rendel in Iran from the treasury.

Slides of the Shepherd Home and their work, in Wisconsin will be shown at the January meeting.

The next work meeting is scheduled for February to make aprons for the Schiltemas and Howders to take back to Venezuela and Japan. Also Christmas cards are to be brought to this meeting.

Weddin' Hillbilly Style

BRITTON — The Senior Class of Britton-Macon High School will be presenting their play entitled "Hillbilly Weddin'" Thursday and Friday evenings, Nov. 21 and 22, at 7:30 p.m.

The play centers around the problems Ma and Pa Belsnickle (Nancy Vreeland and Jim Skelton) have with their six daughters.

It seems that Juney Lou (Dennise Ivan), who is the third eldest daughter, has found a potential husband and wants to be married.

Ma refuses to allow Juney Lou to be married until the two eldest daughters, Celie (Diane Marks) and Bonnie Mae (Peggy Hagans) are "hitched."

The big problem is that Pa can't seem to find anyone who will marry up with Celie, since she never had a bath, or Bonnie Mae, who is extremely studious.

The solving of this crisis results in many hilarious scenes. Admission prices are 75c for students and $1.25 for adults.

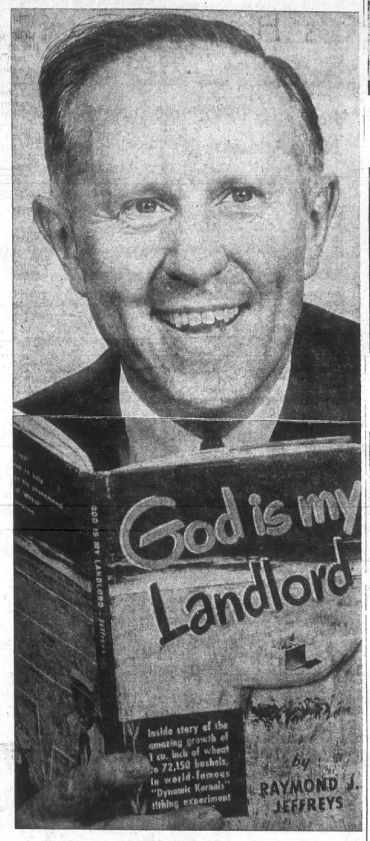
God Is My Landlord

A story of Perry Hayden's wheat tithing project of nearly 30 years ago will be published in a series of articles by The Herald. Mr. Hayden, a Quaker miller who died here on March 18, 1954, will always be regarded as one of the community's outstanding citizens. His story was written by Raymond J. Jeffreys and is published in book form.



PERRY HAYDEN

CHAPTER 1.

The Germ of "Dynamic Kernels"

"I am going to take God at His word and see what happens!" That was the startling statement made by Perry Hayden, a Quaker miller of Tecumseh, Michigan, at the close of a history-making service in the Tecumseh Friends Church, on September 22, 1940.

Perry Hayden, his wife Elizabeth, daughters Mary Jane, Martha and Betty, sons William and Joe, grandmother Malinda Comfort, relatives and friendly neighbors were in their regular pews listening to a sermon being preached by a young student of Cleveland Bible College, Clifton J. Robinson.

The regular pastor, Edward Escolme, was curious as he watched Perry Hayden excitedly making notes during the sermon, which was preached on the text: "Verily, verily I say unto you, Except a corn (kernel) of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit." . . . (John 12:24).

"When the preacher talked about wheat," said miller Hayden afterwards, "he was talking directly to me about my own business."

It was wheat planting time in Michigan, and Perry announced, "I'm going to plant a kernel of wheat and see what happens" . . . and plenty happened!

Little did Perry dream of the huge problems, momentous decisions and stupendous growth ahead for the idea born that morning. His only immediate objective was a simple demonstration, for the benefit of his neighbors and townsfolk, proving that it pays to give and share with the Lord.

The people of Tecumseh had become accustomed to Hayden's unique and spectacular achievements, unlimited energies, dynamic personality and religious zeal. He had already helped to put Tecumseh "on the map" with his colorful promotions. What, ever this new idea might be, they knew that he would see it through — but not even Perry could anticipate the millions of inches of publicity which he was to receive in the newspapers and magazines around the world, in competition with the greatest war in history — which created more sensational headlines than any other event on earth.

"On that day was born the most spectacular international human-interest story of our generation, and a great dramatic living proof that it pays to work with the Lord," said Tracts Magazine.

In our modern sophisticated and scientific age, we have failed to accept the Lord's promise and missed the blessings in His work.

Perry was an inveterate tither. He conscientiously paid a tithe from his personal, and company income, to the Lord . . . so, he wanted to prove to others what he already knew — "tithing really pays . . . not simply in dollars and cents return, but in spiritual blessings, the joy of faithful stewardship."

"Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the Lord of hosts, if I will not open you the windows of heaven, and pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it" Malachi 3:10). This was more than a Bible verse to him. It was almost a passion in his life.

Perry was always an adventuresome chap from childhood, but above all, he lived joyously. He came by these characteristics quite naturally. His grandfather, William Hayden, was one of the "49-ers," who went to California in the "gold rush," and had many hair-raising experiences. On one stage of the long journey across the desert, William was left behind; he had cholera, and his companions were too eager chasing gold and too afraid of the disease to carry him further. Later he was rescued by his partner, and went on to find a fortune in gold, only to lose it months later in a shipwreck off the coast of southern California.

Everyone was forced to take to the life rafts. William Hayden had strapped his gold around his waist in a money belt, but during the storm he was thrown from the raft and had to unfasten the precious gold, and let it drop into the ocean to keep afloat himself.

After an exciting trip around Cape Horn, William Hayden arrived in New York City, and shortly afterwards went to Michigan to work for his brother, Henry. Several years passed, and finally, with the backing of his brother, Henry, William bought the bankrupt Globe Flour Mills at Tecumseh in 1858.

Upon William's death, his son, Levi, assumed control of the mill and continued the business. In 1898 a disastrous fire destroyed the mill, but Levi was able to rebuild it. This particular plant was operated as a small "merchant and custom mill" until 1927, when the need for railroad sidetrack facilities necessitated removal to its present location in the village of Tecumseh.

A strong vein of seriousness runs undercurrent to Perry's smile and twinkling eyes. Determined to make a success out of life, he entered the University of Michigan, in the fall of 1920. While there, he was sent with twelve other United States students on a "Pilgrimage of Friendship," as a good-will gesture toward European nations.

All during his busy years in college Perry kept a motto before him on his desk: "Organize, deputize, and supervise"—words of Andrew Carnegie. They made a lasting impression and explained why he could keep so many "irons in the fire" at the same time.

He also started the habit of writing a diary, which developed into one of the most complete records of one man's activities ever seen. He keeps separate diaries on all of his major activities, for his busines, personal diaries on his religious activities, health — and who knows how many more! People wonder how he gets anything else done, after all these entries are made . . . He enjoys it, and this book is possible because of the details therein preserved.

During those four years at the University, from which he graduated in 1925, Perry figured actively in Christian campus functions. He kept friendly connections, too, with one — Elizabeth Comfort, a pretty Quaker girl who sat in front of him in history class at high school.

After they were married, Perry says, "I suggested that since she was a Quaker and I an Episcopalian, we ought to compromise and both become Presbyterians."

He chuckles about it now, "We did compromise — and I became a Quaker."

"In 1930," Perry relates, "when I was 29 years old, I attended a Christian Endeavor Conference in the Highland Avenue Friends Church at Columbus, Ohio. Rev. Claude A. Roane preached a sermon which seemed directed especially at me. It was a challenge to surrender all I had to the Lord and let Him work in and through me. But I was the sales manager of the flour mill that had been in our family for 95 years. I wanted to be a successful miller. I wanted to make money. How could I serve the Lord in the mill? It was something I could not understand, until after the meeting when I asked Rev. Roane what he would advise me to do. He knew my situation, and gave me some excellent advice. He said, 'Perry, the Lord needs Christian businessmen as much as He needs anything else. Go home and make all the money that you can earn honestly! Then give all the money you can give, and MIND THE LORD!'

"I followed this advice and the years since have been the happiest of my life. Two years later, someone sent me a little booklet written by Rev. James A. Hensey, entitled 'Storehouse Tithing.' I had not heard of it before, but it sounded reasonable and I began to practice it. It brought happiness, health and wealth, just as God promised it would.

"In 1935, came the opportunity to take over the entire control of the family business in which I had been working. It was then called the Wm. Hayden Milling Co. I wanted to show the world that a man can be a Christian and a successful businessman at the same time. I had been running this 100-year-old business for only a few months when I came to the greatest crisis in my life," Perry testifies.

"I was losing money, and losing it fast. Believe me, it was a humbling experience to realize how incapable I was of stopping the trend that was leading to bankruptcy. But I faithfully tithed my weekly pay check and kept asking God to show me the way out.

"In 1936 the firm was placed under the control of a group of creditors. They were a grand bunch of men. I guess they thought it was a little strange when I suggested that we open our monthly meeting with a word of prayer. But none of them doubted my sincerity, even if they did question my ability."

Strategy

It's Tim's move, and he is taking a long time thinking it over. In chess, if you're a good player, you don't play quickly. If you do, your opponent may outwit you.

Military strategy, they say, is based on the rules of chess. So are many of the "higher games" in business and finance. Yet, when it comes to life itself, the rules of chess apply in only a limited way. In life, you can't be totally objective. You can't exist on logic alone.

The Church teaches that though we surely need logic in order to live successfully, we also need compassion, tolerance, love, understanding, and the strength that comes with faith.

Although life is not a game, we must have the help and strength of the Church to discover those rules that will determine our ultimate destiny.

Village Council Report

CLINTON — James Beardsley, representing River Raisin Development Corp. on their mobile home park development, was present at the meeting of the Clinton Village Council, Wednesday, to discuss the requirements for supplying sufficient water for coolants at the light plant and for use at the sewage plant, resulting from the changed waterway.

Final plans were completed for purchase of the corner property at Michigan Ave. and Jackson St. The property, occupied by the Texaco service station, owned by Allen Brooks, is to be vacated this week, and demolition of the station, fire station and village barn adjacent are to take place promptly to make room for the erection of a new fire station.

Contracts for the new, brick-faced fire station, were to be let at a special meeting Wednesday night.

Approval was voted for the $5 million increase in Industrial Development Bonds for the Budd Company plant. Preliminary plans were made for a trip to New York City to sign the bonds in the near future.

Progress was reported in the restoration of the Smith-Kimball Community Center. The heating has almost been completed, wiring is complete in the apartment end and the contractor is planning to finish the apartment area first to permit the caretakers, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Werth, to return there to live.

Oriental Art Film Shown

Shown by Mrs. William Driscoll and Mrs. Paul Hawkins, the film was a study of Oriental religious arts, and it was accompanied by appropriate background music.

The group has sent six boxes to servicemen overseas. Boxes for servicemen in the States will be packed at a meeting of the Faith Circle Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Oren Wood.

Asks To Rezone 160-Acre Farm for Mobile Homes

Discussion was held regarding the request by C. C. Richards to have his 160-acre farm on Allen Rd., at the south edge of Clinton Township, rezoned.

A Tecumseh real estate broker, William Powell and Art Eaton, Tecumseh Township supervisor, were present to explain plans for a mobile home park which is under consideration for the Richards' site.

A committee was appointed to visit a similar mobile home park operated by the prospective developers near Detroit.

Teenyboppers Bop Musical

CLINTON — "Oh, Conrad, we love you,' sing the teenybopper trio, Jan Campbell, Aleta Claus and Jeannie Meeks, in rehearsal for the musical production of "Bye Bye Birdie," at Clinton High School.

Just who is Conrad? He's the hip-swinging, growling teenage idol in the musical to be presented by the Music and Drama departments under the direction of Mrs. Donald Geiger.

Performances will be at 8 p.m., Nov. 21, 22 and 23 in the high school auditorium.

Cast members, Judy Hoyt, as Rosie Alveraze, and Jerry Porter as Albert Paterson, the romantic lead, are always fighting. Pressured by his mother and his fiance, he learns to cope with the situation and steals the show with his voice, "a combination of Dean Martin and Dick Van Dyke."

A featured dance routine, to the music of "A Lot of Livin' to Do", is performed by Carol Happel, Jan Shelley, Jeannie Meeks and their partners, Mark Williams, Dave Slusher and Eric Sparks.

A&P

It takes an expert to grade beef!

In our great country we're lucky.
Our government trains and employs experts...men who inspect and grade beef at hundreds of locations throughout the nation. They protect you...and retailers, like us.

That's why A&P is happy there's a U.S. government inspector on the premises of our meat plant serving this area.

Also important are A&P's own beef experts. Their job is to see to it that A&P Beef measures up to our own "SUPER-RIGHT" quality standards... standards which don't exactly fit our government's grading categories. For instance, some beef graded U.S. Choice just doesn't meet our "SUPER-RIGHT" specifications.

No wonder we don't hesitate to guarantee that the "SUPER-RIGHT" Beef you buy will be as flavorful and tender as you think it should be, or your money back.

So, you don't have to become an expert to choose great beef for your family... just shop A&P!

New Books

A treat for the children! These new books will be available for the small fry National Children's Book Week, Nov. 17-23.

UNCLE FONZO'S FORD. The day Uncle Fonzo came for Effie after school, proudly driving his brand-new Ford, it was pouring rain and the top would not go up. Everyone laughed and Effie wished that he were someone else's uncle. This is only the beginning — nothing he does is right. A very humorous book by Miska Miles.

RAIN COMES TO YAMBOOR-AH, by Reginald Ottley. Not until the boy helped to find Old Kanga, injured and helpless in a driving rainstorm, did he begin to come out of his cocoon and realize his own place in the world. One of the trilogy begun with BOY ALONE.

WRITTEN WITH FIRE, the story of cattle brands. A cattle rancher's way of saying "Hands off! This critter belongs to me." Edna Hoffman tells the history of brands, first introduced by Cortes and still used today.

KING GATOR, a stirring story about a boy and a great alligator. Their meeting made a great difference to the life of the Everglades and its creatures. By George Laycock.

EDITH AND BIG BAD BILL, another lonely doll story by Dare Wright. Little Bear and Edith are kidnaped by Big Bad Bill . . . was he so terrible! How did they get away! Come see us and find out.

MAN WHO WALKED AROUND THE WORLD, by Elkin. The people of Luna were happy and excited — they had a Boola Bird to bring them luck. Keeping it in Luna was a problem which the mayor solved handily.

COMEUPPANCE OF EMILE THE DRUMMER, adapted by Miri Kin from a Flemish tale. Emile is a scoundrel, such a scoundrel. You have no idea what that boy can do and the trouble he causes, until you read the book.

Mittens For Christmas

Mittens for every needy child in the Tecumseh School District for Christmas is the goal of the Tecumseh Service Club.

Plans for the project were made at a meeting last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Albert Caesar.

The Service Club would also like to supply a new dress for every needy girl in the same area.

Local organizations may participate and the Service Club will supply the required materials such as patterns, yard goods, yarns and needles to any group that would like to help.

Anyone interested may contact Mrs. Robert Cheers, 423-4158.

Thanksgiving baskets will be assembled and delivered from the Community Center on Tuesday, Nov. 26.

Any local group that would like to donate a basket of food, clothing, toys or gifts for the elderly are asked to contact the above name.

Young Mothers Sample Goodies

They sampled foods prepared by Mrs. Una Iott consultant for Consumers family services.

Mrs. Raymond Seitz will be the hostess for the Christmas party Dec. 4, assisted by Mrs. Larry Snyder.

Girls Win Again, Boys Are Losers

TIPTON — The Tipton Sunday School's Balloon Launching was marked successful when the cards started coming back. Most of the cards came from the Dundee area, with one from Detroit, but the farthest distance so far is E. Orwell, O., which is near the Pennsylvania border. Roger Cook received the Ohio card.

The contest will end Sunday with a breakfast at 9 a.m. The boys, losers in the balloon contest, will be the cleanup squad.

Children Need "Sense Of Belonging"

Mrs. Paul Kaehn, a teacher and guidance counselor at the Lenawee Youth Center, was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Tecumseh United Methodist Church.

Avowing her personal commitment to her Christian beliefs, Mrs. Kaehn chose "Parental Obsolesence" as her topic. Stating that this was her own term, she defined it as a state in which the social relationship between the parent and child is obsolete because the parent allows someone else to take his place. This brings on the breakdown of the family unit.

Three areas for re-entrenchment were pointed out: (1) restore the family unit as a training ground with parents giving of themselves to their children with a time equal to their work and community projects; (2) a need for consistently defining the moral code within the home and establishing guidelines; and (3) improving the feeling of belonging to a family unit by curbing undue criticism, assigning suitable responsibilities, and recognizing the child's personal rights as an individual. Children need reassurance, parental presence, and a sense of belonging.

Thought provoking devotions were given by Mrs. William Schooley with the refreshments being served by Mrs. Douglas Sprague and Mrs. Dale Perry. Mrs. Ben Joseph and Mrs. David Criss were greeters.

Book Sales Near End

A tremendous response for Clara Waldron's book, "100 Years — A Country Town" — will probably make it necessary to quit taking orders next week at The Herald office.

As of press time Wednesday, the newspaper had accepted over 425 orders for the hard back copies. When The Herald learns of the exact number to be sent here, it will have to refuse further orders.

Tecumsehites and others interested in the book, however, will probably be able to buy paper-back copies at a later date. The entire project, including the writing by Miss Waldron and book sales, is on a non-profit basis.

The Herald has also learned from the printer that the books will not be available until sometime after Dec. 1, probably the middle of December. Folks who have ordered the books will be notified in The Herald when the books will arrive.

Miss Waldron, who has expressed great concern about autographing 500 or 600 books, will sign the books at the newspaper office before any distribution is made.

Each hard back copy costs $4.95 plus 20c for tax. If a book is to be mailed, an additional 30c is required.

BALL INVITATIONS — Mrs. James Palmer and Mrs. Thomas Rudd, co-chairmen of the Holiday Ball, Dec. 7, announced that invitations for the social event entitled "Peace" are in the mail. Other members of the committee are working to make the annual dance, sponsored by the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, an evening to be remembered.

Five Are Hurt in 3-Car Crash

Five persons, including two young Clinton girls, were injured in a three-car accident on N. Evans St., just north of Burt St., about 12:30 Saturday morning.

Taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital by the sheriff's ambulance were Aileen Armstrong, 18, Clinton, and her sister, Sharon, 14; and Debbie Houghton, of 102 W. Pottawatamie.

Debbie was treated and released, but the two Armstrong girls were held for x-rays.

Driver of one car, Duane A. Houghton, 18, of Vanlue, O., complained of a minor injury to his right leg but refused medical attention.

Jesse J. Baughey, 44, of 409 Russell Rd., told police that he was shaken up and bruised but did not want to see a doctor.

According to the police report, Houghton was headed south on N. Evans and was being followed by another motorist, Welcome C. Cowell 18, of Adrian. Both Houghton and Cowell indicated that the Baughey car, headed north, came over the center line.

However, the point of impact was in the middle of the street. Houghton and Baughey met almost head-on with Baughey continuing north and striking the Adrian car. Cowell was not injured.

Baughey's auto traveled over 250 feet after impact and finally stopped in the west ditch. Houghton's car came to a stop in the front yard at 708 N. Evans, some 93 feet from impact.

The two young Armstrong girls and Debbie were passengers in the Houghton auto. No citations were issued in the mishap.

In other accidents investigated by the police, Raymond Stockinger, 42, of 9561 Carson Hwy., reported that a trailer hitch on his car caught the railroad rails behind Wright's Pharmacy and pulled his rear bumper off. Accident occurred Monday.

Also Monday, John Williams, 49, of 603 Brook St., struck the rear of a parked truck on N. Union St. Williams was headed south and failed to see the truck during a snow squall.

WILL HOLD 600 — The giant-size Friends Church is rapidly taking shape just north of Tecumseh on the Tecumseh-Clinton Rd. The Rev. Paul Brantingham here says the new church should be completed sometime in June. J. Vander-Ark Construction Company of Grand Rapids is the general contractor.

Three Buses Are Ordered

Local school bus fleet will include three new ones after School Board action Monday night.

Officials have already ordered Wayne bodies for the buses and will advertise for chassis in February, to assure summer delivery and availability for the 1969-70 school term.

Board members here also were concerned with a State Board of Education proposal which would force all schools to have six hours of instruction, kindergarten through grade 12.

Although an apparent majority of schools are opposing it and voiced objections at a recent hearing at Lansing, passage of the ruling could force Tecumseh to double its bus fleet or radically stagger its school day.

There are enough buses now to operate on a somewhat staggered school day, but the extra hour for kindergartners, and the early elementary grades would force officials to completely revise the schedules.

Christmas Hours Start Next Week

Whether most of us like it or not, the Christmas shopping season is just about with us.

Patrons of Tecumseh will have lots of time to shop this year with the Chamber of Commerce hours announced for local stores.

Starting with the weekend after Thanksgiving, merchants will be open Friday and Saturday, Nov. 29-30, from 9 to 9. The following Friday and Saturday shop hours will be the same.

Beginning Dec. 9, local stores will stay open until 9, Monday through Saturday, and on Monday, Dec. 23, until 9 p.m.

Burglars Rob Service Station

Cap and Dan's Fleetwing Service Station on Rogers Hwy., at Sutton Rd., was burglarized Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning.

A cash register with an undetermined amount of cash and several cartons of cigarettes were taken.

State police are investigating.

Federal Help Is Explained

Two methods of re-developing sections of Tecumseh were explained to Council and the Planning Commission Monday night.

David Foster, representative of Vilican-Leman and Associates, planning consultants for the city, discussed two Federally-sponsored programs, Urban Renewal and Neighborhood Development.

He told city officials that Urban Renewal was primarily interested and devoted to the redevelopment of residential districts, especially in the larger cities. He said that it would probably be at least five years before Tecumseh could receive any assistance under Urban Renewal.

Officials here learned that its quickest and best aid assistance could be realized under Neighborhood Development.

Mr. Foster said that the community could re-develop a single block, or even a smaller or larger section, under this program and could avoid the numerous reviews and red tape common under Urban Renewal.

The planner agreed with Steve Illeck, member of the Planning Commission, that folks here, including businessmen, would have to be educated to the program. Some discussion centered around removal and re-development of upper stories of downtown buildings.

City Manager Cal Zorn inquired about Federal assistance in procuring commercially zoned property and re-developing it for future business use. These areas constitute present residential property currently occupied by homes and residents.

Mr. Zorn feels that the community has an opportunity to re-develop portions of the town with Federal funds contributing greatly to the overall cost.

Under the two re-development programs, the Federal government would loan the city funds at a low rate of interest with the loans paid back by individuals through the city to the Federal government.

Mr. Foster said some grants are available but did not discuss them to any degree, inferring that such grants are few and of small amounts.

After the regular Council session, Councilmen and the Planning Commission discussed a proposed Master Plan, projected here after years of study and review by Vilican-Leman and Associates.

Statements Show Hike of 4.1 Mills

City Hall is ready with the annual winter tax statements and will send them to property owners via mail right after Dec. 1, Vera Zornow, city clerk announces.

The annual winter tax for the schools and county will amount to 33.32 mills, an increase of 4.1 mills over a year ago. With the city millage of 13 mills, property owners here will pay 46.32 mills for the past year.

Increase in millage is for the local and county vocational schools.

The city clerk reports approximately 2,500 tax statements will be mailed this December. Summer or city tax statements are mailed in July.

Extend Pond Option Sought by Council

Council verbally agreed Monday night to seek an extension of its 90-day option with Perry Satterthwaite for Globe Mill Pond and approximately 60 acres of property, which is involved.

Mr. Satterthwaite, local businessman, has offered the city the pond and property for just $15,000.

Councilman William Holmes, Carlton Cook and Gene Tuckey were in favor of picking up the option immediately and not asking for an extension.

Mayor Harold Easton and Donald Sunderland favored an extension of the option.

Cal Zorn, city manager, told officials that purchase of the property now could eliminate the possibilities of securing Federal assistance in re-building the Globe Mill Pond dam, washed out in the June 27 flood, or re-developing the area on a much larger scale.

One plan projected would vastly increase the size of the Globe Pond, eliminate the Standish Pond dam and the dike at Herrick Park, and would also avoid re-building the washed-out dam.

This plan would include a larger dam, nearer E. Chicago Blvd., and would be tied in with property now owned by Dr. Merlyn Blanden, just east of the Globe Pond and north of the boulevard.

Opening Bids for School

Tecumseh School Board will open bids next Tuesday evening for construction of a new Sutton Elementary School.

As of Tuesday, only three bids had been received from general contractors and all three are from Adrian. Bidding are MacKinnon - Parker Construction, Kriegoff - Lenawee Construction and Goodrich Construction.

Five bids have been received so far for plumbing and heating, and two bids for the electrical work.

Local school officials have anticipated expenditures of about $900,000 for the new Sutton school and other school improvements.

Two Injured In Collision

Clinton State Police are still investigating an accident which occurred last Wednesday at 3:50 p.m.

A car driven on Allen Rd. by Mrs. George Dinius of Billmyer Hwy., was struck broadside by a vehicle driven by Kelvin A. Philo, 31, of Blissfield. Philo apparently failed to observe the yield sign on Murphy Rd., and the cars collided at the intersection.

Mrs. Dinius was bruised and Mr. Philo was treated at Herrick Memorial Hospital for chest injuries.

Safety Award Goes to Rotary

Howard E. Crawford, vice-president in charge of marketing of the General Motors Corporation, will be the speaker for the Safety Award Night of the Rotary Club Nov. 26. Mr. Crawford is also director and vice-chairman of the Auto Industries Highway Safety Committee in Washington, D. C.

Dinner will be served at the Tecumseh Country Club at 6:15 p.m.

Mr. Crawford will make the presentation of the national annual safety check award won three consecutive years by the local Rotary Club, assisted by individuals and other service club members.

Fred E. Davids, Michigan State Police Commissioner, Gerald W. Shipman, executive secretary of the State Safety Commission and Stanley Johnson of the Auto Industry Highway Safety Commission on loan from Buick Motor Co., and other local dignitaries have been invited by Robert French in charge of invitations.

Dr. Sydney Adams also invites any interested persons to attend since the Safety Check was a community project spearheaded by the Rotarians, under the chairmanship of Charles O. Butler.

Graham Fleming will have charge of the program.

HOWARD E. CRAWFORD

Board Favors Spec. Ed. Millage

Tecumseh School Board passed a resolution Monday night in favor of the Lenawee County Special Education asking for one mill at next June's annual election.

Country Club Manager Quits

William Peterson, manager of the Tecumseh Country Club for past three years, has resigned to accept a similar position at Parkersburg, W. Va.

While here, he and his wife, Eloise, and son, Bill, lived at the Country Club.

Local Agency Is Expanding

Construction work started Monday for a 400-square-foot addition to the F. C. Hanna Agency in downtown Tecumseh.

The addition will be constructed at the rear of the agency and will be utilized for private offices and for the convenience of customers.

Benedict and Cheever are general contractors, and LeRoy Betzoldt is the architect. Completion is scheduled for January.

The local insurance agency has been at its present location since 1940, when it moved from offices over what is now Ken-Ray Drugs.

Ten years ago it was extensively remodeled, and some interior remodeling, including carpeting the offices, is planned in the present construction program.

Fire Department To Be Located On Occidental

Although final papers have not been signed yet, Raisin Township's new fire department will probably be located at the corner of S. Occidental Rd. and Gady Rd.

The Township is negotiating for a lot 150 feet by approximately 500 feet, just north of Gady and east of Occidental.

William Mackey, building inspector for the township and recently elected Lenawee County Supervisor, says the township board is considering the new building also as headquarters for a second township precinct.

Faculty, Gals In Basketball Game Friday

Tecumseh High School Student Council will sponsor a basketball game here Friday night, featuring the faculty all-stars against a touring gal's team, called the Arkansas Lassies.

Tickets will be sold at the door. Game time is 8 p.m.

Santa Claus Coming Dec. 13

Santa Claus will make his downtown appearance on Friday, Dec. 13, according to Don Moffatt, city recreation director and Chamber of Commerce secretary.

He will greet youngsters at his usual Tecumseh home on the four corners from Dec. 13 through Dec. 24. His hours will be announced later.

BEHIND PAGE ONE

Edwin Lewis, 9230 Carson Hwy., may have been the first in the area to get his buck, Friday. At least he was the first to inform The Herald that he shot a six-point deer at 7:15 a.m.

If anyone thinks the employees of the City of Tecumseh show partiality, stop thinking so! When the mother-in-law, Mrs. Robert McCrate, of the meter-maid gets a ticket, it proves she is doing her duty. Keep up the good work, Sandy. Mrs. Fred McCrate, nee Sandra Beal, recently assumed meter-maid duties. Her husband is Fred McCrate, biology psychology and coach of ninth grade at the Clinton School.

Information is available at The Herald office concerning the 69th International Livestock Exposition, Horse Show and Rodeo to be held Nov. 29 - Dec. 7 at the Union Stockyards in Chicago, Ill.

Herald office is still receiving orders for Clara Waldron's book in the amount of $4.95. This is to remind you there is a 20c sales tax and a 30c mailing fee if you desire them mailed to you. There are about 20 orders in the office where the sales tax and mailing fees were not included. We cannot mail these out until the fee is received or the sales tax paid.

Telephone solicitors are bugging Tecumseh again. This time it's for carpeting. Folks should remember their hometown stores which sell carpeting and stand behind their merchandise.

Folks even read the fine print in display ads in The Herald. Don Meyers reports that a recent mention of "Free puppies" in a Tecumseh Plywood Co. ad brought in several persons who inquired for and accepted the five giveaway puppies. Sorry, folks, they're all gone now. Your display ads in The Herald will get results, too.

Perry Satterthwaite, a patient at Herrick Memorial Hospital, is progressing very satisfactorily according to his doctor but he is still not receiving visitors.

REV. AND MRS. KIRKPATRICK

Friends Church Family Dinner

Saturday evening at 6:30 p.m. Tecumseh Friends will have a potluck family fellowship dinner, followed by a 7:30 missionary service. Rev. and Mrs. Tim Kirkpatrick, missionaries to Burundi, Africa, will show the 16 mm film entitled "Africa's Hour".

Sunday at 10:00 a.m. and at 7:30 p.m. the Kirkpatricks will be speaking and representing the Christian Radio Station C.O.R.-D.A.C. of Central Africa. This station ministers to an area 1000 and 15000 miles in radius which includes over 100 million people.

Pastor Brantingham extends a cordial invitation to all to attend these services.

Church School

Friends in the community are invited to spend one of their thankful days this year with the First Presbyterian Church School in a Thanksgiving Worship Service to be held in the church sanctuary this Sunday, Nov. 24, from 10 to 10:45 a.m., before the regular services.

Over 100 members of the Church School from 2 to ? will have a part in the worship service. In the study of the Church this year this service will be significant in learning of the meaning of worship and the personal meaning of the church's form of worship. From the kindergarten Call to Worship "Come Into My Heart" all will gather together for thanksgiving.

Siena's "The Lark" Is Masterful Theatre

By VIRGINIA MURRAY

Siena Heights College Drama Department presented its most ambitious undertaking to date, Jean Anouilh's "The Lark." The production, held in Walsh Hall last weekend, for those accustomed to the regular timing and sequence of events of George Bernard Shaw's "St. Joan," the other tale of Joan of Arc frequently done in theatres might be upset by the pace of this play.

True to its name, it seems to fly here, there and everywhere. As a result, just as you are beginning to get used to one set of characters, another group is "on stage." This pace was fast and the players kept up the tempo in the highly dramatic offering.

Though the theatre is almost too small for the magnitude of action and the large number of actors in the cast, the set was ingeniously created to give the effect of height without depth, and the lighting was magnificently executed to carry the eye up and out of the theatre.

The balconies could have been put to use to enlarge the scene of action, and to include the audience in the more dramatic scenes; putting the soldiers on the balcony and visible would have added one dimension of the theatre gallery to that of the stage.

Not for the faint of heart is this piece. It's story is as old as history. The simple tale of the Maid of Orleans, excellently done by a wisp of beauty named Michelle Bolger, who defies her family, friends, the crowned heads of Europe and the Church, to lead the French army to victory against the English. In the end she is deserted by all, and condemned to death for heresy by the Church she loved.

There are brave words from Joan:

"Miracles are created by man using strength, courage and splendor," says the maid. And, "The stupidity and evil of the world are hidden by the shadow of the Lark," philosophizes Beauchamp, the Earl of Warwick, beautifully played by J. Craig Collicutt. The evening is filled with splendid words of wisdom and the simple acts of folly of an all too fickle mankind.

There were times when I did not feel the author truly believes in his heroine, and poor Joan is left stranded high and dry, with the audience trying to decide whether or not she is slightly Schizoid, really hearing voices or imagining it. The stage is no place for an indecisive author. Either he believed she heard the voices or he didn't. Sometimes in this drama the characters suffer terribly from lack of conviction on the part of their creator; strength, yes, weakness, yes, but not indecision.

The costuming added greatly to the credibility of the entire drama, they were magnificent, both in authenticity and materials. Miss Bolger played Joan with great energy and grace in her meetings with the characters from the past, in the persons of Bill Sanford, who shook the rafters, the audience and Joan by his forceful performance as Robert Beaudricourt, Joseph Cherry, who was outstanding as the Dauphin, John Raymond as Monsieur de la Tremouille. There was an adept, strong performance by James Vanzo as Captain La Hire, who has followed Joan through her conquests.

Patrick Yoder was fine in the role of the Inquisitor. Michael Watts was so convincing as the Archbishop of Reims, that visitors backstage could not quite decide whether to shake his hand or kiss his episcopal ring. In a bit part Jerry Scannell turned in a fine performance as the father of Joan, as did all in the large cast.

Many of those with a great deal of experience tended to overact, and those with little or no experience, tended to underact, relaxing the tension that should have been there. There is a tendency towards this in period pieces with highly dramatic undertones.

Sister Rose Terrance has done a masterful job on a difficult piece, and she and her entire cast and crew are to be congratulated for the patience and skill lavished on the entire production, and for their willingness to attempt the impossible.

Camp Fire Girls Honor No. 1 Girl

It was back in 1913 that the first group of Camp Fire Girls organized in the county here in Tecumseh. Miss Clara Critchet was the first guardian of this group, she was the force behind the organization. Last week the Tuckabatchee Council of Lenawee County honored one of those original members, Mrs. J. Duaine Service, 121 W. Chicago Blvd.

Mrs. Service was given a Camp Fire Adult Members pin as well as an Honorary Alumni Membership in the council. Mrs. Mary Hanson and Mrs. Jerry Ford hosted an intimate luncheon at Don's Beef Buffet for the Lady of the Day.

Mrs. Lawrence Drewyor, or Pat Bowen as she was known in those days, is also a local resident who was an original member of the council.

Efforts are being made by the Tuckabatchee Council to locate the original members of the group which formed on September 29, 1913. Miss Critchet is now Mrs. Watson Cross, she lives in retirement at Seal Beach, Calif.

Like most groups of people in their youth, the Camp Fire Girls of 1913 grew up and flew away from their local confines. As is recalled by most, the Methodist Church here sponsored the original group.

Memory dims much of the antics which the girls participated in the year that Woodrow Wilson became President, some of the reminiscence still brings chuckles from Mrs. Service when she thinks back on the beginners of the Tuckabatchee council.

Thistles on the Wind

I shall not grow old on purpose, but then men seldom do, and women never. Old that is to say in the sense of the Psalmist's three score years and ten. We grow old with a dread of an aftermath of labor and sorrow. I am as reluctant as anyone else to throw a farewell kiss to youth. To say goodbye to its escapades, its gay sorceries, the dreams wrapped in cellophane. I shall not go to the wailing wall and listen to doomsayers singing through egg-beaters.

One day you wake up and wonder why you lost sleep over those "huge" trifles of the past. Mr. Myself the sole survivor of those headlong years.

Why did I squander those mornings of fickle spring chasing thistles in the wind? Or trying to win a laughing contest with the gods? We have survived the sweet swindle of passions and then go on to others. Never will I throw a farewell kiss to youth nor cease to play kissing games with the future.

I could perhaps, but things happen. Something like an old couple found in Detroit last week, dying of malnutrition. Starving to death in old fashioned terms.

Two old people had lived their lives together and yet their survival depended on bread and milk and crackers. Our beneficent government preaches and preaches for these people, but does nothing.

Maybe if they're lucky they'll get sixty bucks a month, and you'd be surprised at the number who receive just that. Depending on their luck, some survive well enough to maintain respectability. Others become what journalists refer to as unsavory commitments to man.

People are not as easy to get along with as they used to be. Something has deprived the human soul of any commitment. Some still long for the old fashioned idea of pursuing our happiness whatever it might be.

Perhaps things will happen that way again. I hope so. But too many idealists do not know what it is like to be poor, to be ridiculed, to be stepped on by the passing parade of psuedo-giants.

All I know is that two old people nearly starved to death in Detroit, Michigan, in 1968, and that ain't progress in any way, shape or form.

It is time man began to examine himself, to say to himself, "the day my poor are happy, ignorance is missing, the jails are empty of prisoners, streets not crowded by beggars, the aged do not starve or strive against unholy odds for dignity, that taxes are not oppressive and laws are made for the good of man," that day when all of those things are real, then we can boast of our country, its constitution and its government.

So, if you don't mind, I have some thistles to chase on the wind, and a few gods on Mount Olympus are aching for a laughing contest, maybe I'll even tilt at a windmill or two, who knows, my beliefs are much younger than my despair and that is what counts.

EARL BROWN

Former Football All-American Speaks To PDA

The Lenawee County Personnel Directors Association will hold a dinner meeting on November 21, at Adrian Elks' Club. Their guests will be the football coaches of the County. A special program is arranged for this event.

The guest speaker will be Earl Brown, and his topic will be "Football, Past, Present and Future, and Big Business." He is a graduate of Benton Harbor High School, and the University of Notre Dame. He won All-American in Football and Basketball in 1938 and 1939, and was captain, while attending the university.

Mr. Brown was coach at Brown University, Harvard University, Dartmouth University, Canisius College, Auburn University, and in 1951-1952 he was end coach with the Detroit Lions. For the last 17 years he has been Sales Representative with the Yale Rubber Manufacturing and York Rubber.

He has a wife and three children. His son won All-American in Ann Arbor High School and the University of Florida. He also played with the Baltimore Colts for two years and is presently playing with the New York Giants.

An Adventure In Denmark

By MAXINE CALHOUN

"This Is My Country," the 1968 theme of the Clinton Woman's Club, was ably compared with the country of Denmark and her ways by a senior from Clinton High School, Bonnie Hoover, as an exchange member of Youth for Understanding.

Introduced by Mrs. Roy Bower, Miss Hoover illustrated her interesting talk with colored slides.

With a $300 scholarship won from the Niels Hansen Foundation Memorial Foundation and light luggage consisting mostly of a suitcase and flight bag, she flew to Copenhagen from Detroit in seven hours and then went to Sun Mountain Farm (translation) to the home of her foster mother and foster father, Mr. and Mrs. Sigvard Vestgard and her foster sister, Sonja, near Voldum. She communicated well with Mrs. Vestgard, who spoke English, almost as well as with Sonja. Although Mr. Vestgard understood English somewhat, he proudly refused to sneak it for fear of making a mistake.

Miss Hoover loved the little children by the countryside and in the towns, but they, too, were shy even though she spoke to them in her halting Danish.

Life on this Danish farm was her dish. She was impressed with their wonderful garden in which they raised all the vegetables and fruit for the table as well as canning, preserving, and of late years, freezing them for winter use.

Canned goods in Denmark are expensive so the farmers, especially, make do with what they raise. She helped pick red raspberries and red and black currants for market. A delicious fruit soup or red porridge is made from the red currants, served cold in the summer and hot in the winter.

On this pig farm her foster father had 250 Landrace pigs and sold eight young fat ones every week. Wheat and barley are grown but no corn as the season is too short. Pork is the main meat dish, with some beef, and because no town is more than 40 miles from the coast, pickled herring, sardines, caviar and flat fish are in ample supply.

The Danes use mostly oleo instead of butter except for special occasions and love open-faced sandwiches.

Bonnie's foster mother ran a leather goods shop in town close by, which featured such items as skirts, coats, purses and jackets made mostly from sheepskin.

Since the churches are state-supported, the members do not have to work together to earn money for their upkeep. Consequently, many have lost interest and do not attend regularly. The parsonage is the most beautiful house around and well-furnished.

The minister in the little town near where Bonnie stayed, wore a long black robe with white collar and cuffs; he must retire at 67 and perhaps go live with his son or enter a nursing home.

Bonnie did the usual — went on a camping trip one weekend, visited an ancient castle surrounded by a moat, visited schools in neighboring towns, went to Copenhagen by bus with her companions and visted Hamlet's castle, also the famous harbor and the statue of the Little Mermaid from Hans Christian Andersen's fair tales as well as this famous writer's statue and home, and the King's castle and Royal Guards.

She noted that young boys and girls learn to sew in Denmark. American cars are mostly too expensive and too large to traverse the narrow streets. The Danes love their storks; the 4th of July is celebrated by Danes who lived in America; women do beautiful needlework and Danes have social security and retirement homes.

Before she flew back home, Bonnie looked up Hans Schmidt's sister. Not sure of the house, she knocked at an open door and on peering in saw the same family oil paintings as she had seen at the Schmidts in Clinton, so knew it was the right house. Like the typical American girl that she is, Bonnie coped with and adapted herself to a new country that she loves.

Preceding her talk, the club held its business meeting at Lyster Hall. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Ralph Reed, who is convalescing at her home, Mrs. Hans Schmidt, the vice-president, welcomed the members and the mother of the speaker, Mrs. Guy Hoover, as well as her grandmother, Mrs. Ralph Halladay, who is a member of the club.

Mrs. John Hoelzer installed the new officers and read the poem that describes the 60-year-old gavel. Mrs. Wayne Powell reported on the proceeds from a subscription sale.

Mrs. Dan Reilly reported on the yearbooks, drawing attention to the inclusion of the constitution and by-laws.

After the meeting delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Harlon Ruhl, Mrs. Richard Cadmus and Mrs. Roy Bower. The orchid-colored tea cloth was centered with a beautiful arrangement of large purple mums, red roses autumn leaves and acanthus, and flanked with orchid-colored candles. Mrs. Ted Kiebler presided at the silver service.

The Dec. 11 meeting will be held at Lyster Hall, featuring Christmas music.

READ HERALD WANT ADS

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITOR:

I was especially proud of Tecumseh and a project of the United Church Women of Lenawee County Halloween weekend so that I'd like everyone to have the same opportunity as our family had.

If you love your town and country and want others to feel likewise and would like to visit a foreign country, you can serve both ideas by putting an extra plate or two around the dinner table and doubling up in bedrooms for a weekend. That is what our family did Oct. 31 to Nov. 3.

We had our misgivings about signing up when Mrs. Nancy Hamilton, International Student Program chairman for U.C.W., called to arrange a family weekend visit for the Ecumenical Hospitality Council in Ann Arbor. We have a house full with six children from 7 to 17 and the traffic is terrific on the weekends not to mention Halloween to boot. But we were assured our guests would be content to stay at home if there was some activity they couldn't or didn't care to do. And the children are accustomed to doubling up in beds and sleeping bags when grandparents and other friends visit.

The students who came to Lenawee County were chosen in their countries to receive this six months' training in the U. S. with Fullbright Scholarship Funds. They are all English teachers in Universities and High Schools in their home countries. We had our choice of any language, sex or number we wanted. Foreign students besides being very intelligent are the most perfect and appreciative guests you will ever have. Probably because we had ours longer than the usual Thanksgiving Dinner, we rate Rosario and Frida the best yet.

Rosario Lovey is an English teacher at a University at Puia de Buenos Aires, Argentina. She has three children in their 20's who live at home while attending universities and working. (Young people don't leave home so early there). She was very adventurous, swimming in our outdoor pool and taking a plane ride. She loves "Peanuts", our beautiful trees, grade schools, especially Patterson's kindergarten. Like most of her countrymen she is Roman Catholic and appreciated the All Saints Mass at St. Elizabeth Friday.

Frida Alvarez has a seven-year-old boy at home and teaches English and French in High School in Concepcion, Chile. She brought her students' addresses and gave some to our girls and their friends for pen pals. They couldn't have been more thrilled and excited. Frida's dedication to and love of teaching young people showed through and was lapped up by all our family and their friends.

All the students were interested in visiting a farm. We were lucky to be able to show Frida and Rosario the wonderful cows and calves at milking time at the Fred Feight farm. They were surprised to see Mrs. Feight bright and early the next morning teaching a room full of seventh graders in church school.

We are grateful to our friends who dropped by to meet them for a spur-of-the moment coffee Friday morning. All of us enjoyed the teenage serenaders, Harvey Schmidt, Bill Whiting and Chuck Coffee on Halloween and Saturday afternoon songs in three different languages to Lotta Bergstrand, Swedish exchange student, her American sister, Cathy Jewell, Bill Weigle and Chuck Coffee.

They admired our town, its homes, schools, trees but through all it was people who interested them most from the smallest to the oldest. The only thing we didn't ever finish was talking.

I know our family will remember this Halloween as the highlight of the year as we saw a little of Chile, Argentina and ourselves through Rosario's and Frida's friendship.

Won't you call Nancy right away and have her put you on the list for a Thanksgiving visitor?

Sincerely,
Lynn Cook.

Three Shoot Their Deer Near Town

Del King, local businessman, was one of the first — if not the first — to bag a deer here in the Tecumseh and Clinton area.

While hunting with his son near Clinton, he clipped a 10-point buck early Friday morning.

Arlo Spivey managed to get one of the bigger deer over the weekend. Hunting west of Tecumseh, Spivey shot a buck that weighed 225 pounds after being field-dressed.

Jesse Lavoy shot a nine-point buck about three miles west of town on Friday.

By DOROTHY GRIGG

In the hustle and bustle, it's so nice to savor the pleasant little happenings of life to keep one from getting downright bitter in the face of the unremitting battle against runaway inflation and in the undeclared war in Vietnam.

Happiness is — Eggs, toast and coffee ready and waiting when you pop out of bed, already late at 6 a.m. It was carefully prepared by a wehry, but thoughtful son, just returning from 14 hours in an auto hatchery. Gee, Norm, but that was great.

Carlo Mobley, outstanding Tecumseh Indian lineman during the 1968 season, gained top honors for his play by being selected on the first team for the Huron League.

Mobley played both ways for the Indians, who compiled a 6-3 season mark.

Three players, Jim Parros, Jim Hunt and Ken Pieh were picked for the league's second team. Coach Tom Fagan feels Parros would have been first string, if he had not missed three games.

● HARLEY H. McCONNELL

Services were held Tuesday afternoon at the First Baptist Church for Harley H. McConnell, 60, of 706 Wenonah St., who died Saturday at 10:10 p.m., at Herrick Memorial Hospital soon after admittance. Death was the result of a heart attack.

Born June 23, 1908, in Ridgeway Township, he was the son of Norman and Jennie McClelland McConnell.

In 1927 he was graduated from Tecumseh High School and later from a radio school in Valparaiso, Ind.

His marriage to Dorothy E. Cain was solemnized in September, 1934. She preceded him in death in September, 1959.

Mr. McConnell operated a radio repair business in Crown Point, Ind., before moving back to Tecumseh in 1936, where he opened an appliance and Pyrofax bottle gas business.

He operated the business for over 15 years on main street. For the past 16 years, he has been employed by the Ottawa Machine Co. as maintenance engineer.

On Oct. 24, 1962, he married Mary Wilson Hoch, who survives.

He was a member of the First Bantist Church.

Survivors include his wife, two daughters, Mrs. H. Gerald (Mary Lou) Munger, 2170 Munger Rd., and Jane, a freshman at the University of Michigan; two stepdaughters, Mrs. David (Diann) Shafer, New London, Conn., and Susan Hoch, at home and two grandchildren, Michael and Lisa Munger.

One half-sister, Mrs. Lyle M. Grigg, of Brooklyn, also survives.

The Rev. Blair Bashore officiated and burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

● MRS. GEORGE NAGEL

Services were held Tuesday at St. Dominic Catholic Church, Clinton, for Mrs. George Nagel, 63, who died Saturday at Herrick Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient since Oct. 29.

Mrs. Nagel had been in failing health for eight months. She lived at 203 Clark St., in Clinton.

Born in Adrian June 8, 1905, she married George A. Nagel July 17, 1929, who survives.

The Nagels owned and operated the Nagel grocery store on US-12 in the Irish Hills for about 24 years.

Mrs. Nagel was a member of the St. Dominic Catholic Church and Altar Society and belonged to the Ladies' Catholic Benefit Association of Adrian.

Besides her husband, four daughters, Mrs. Leonard (Beverly) Rochowiak of Clinton, Mrs. Bernard (Patricia) Isaacson of Deerfield, Mrs. Charles (Joyce) Harback of Onsted and Mrs. Robert (Georgiana) Messenger of Brooklyn and one son, George W. of Clinton and 13 grandchildren also survive.

One sister, Mrs. Elmer Merrick of Florida; two brothers, James and Gerald Clark, both of Adrian, are also living.

One son and two grandchildren preceded her in death.

The Rev. Fr. Joseph Noelke officiated and burial was in the parish cemetery.

● MRS. JOHN SHULER

Services were held Monday in Hilliard, O., for Mrs. John Shuler, 60, who died Friday at her home at 806 W. Pottawatamie St.

Born in Genoa, Ill., Aug. 16, 1908, the Shulers moved to Tecumseh three years ago.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Shuler is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Feres (Maryfaye) Makssour of Columbus, O., and one granddaughter.

Arrangements were made by the Dunn Funeral Home.

● GEORGE ADAMSON

Services were held Monday at the Proctor Funeral Home for George Heeson Adamson, 80, of 401 W. Kilbuck St., who died Friday at 9:35 a.m., in Herrick Memorial Hospital. He had been transferred there Tuesday from St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Mr. Adamson, an inventor and prominent member of the Masonic lodge, was born in Tecumseh Jan. 17, 1888. He attended Tecumseh High School and the Technological College in Peoria, Ill. He was married to Florence Rosaerans Feb. 4, 1913.

Working for the Elgin Watch Co., he invented the time instrument and its non-magnetic case used in U. S. airplanes during World War II.

He was also an expert in cutting diamonds and other precious stones and worked for a time in South America in the diamond industry.

In addition to belonging to the Masonic lodge No. 69, he was a member of the Knights Templar in Toledo and the Shrine Temple in Detroit.

He was a member of St. Peters Episcopal Church and a former City Council member and a member of the Tecumseh Rotary Club.

During World War I he served in the Navy and for many years was a member of the Naval Reserve.

The Adamsons lived in Toledo after their marriage and later in Chicago for 25 years and three years in Kansas City, Mo. They returned to Tecumseh and in 1940, he opened his own shop, the Time Laboratory.

For the last 15 years the Adamsons have spent their winters in Arizona and their summers in Tecumseh.

Besides his wife, he is survived by two cousins.

The Rev. Blair Bashore officiated and burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

● WINIFRED LEMMLIE

Funeral services were held Wednesday at Proctor Funeral Home, Clinton, for Winifred (Dottie) Lemmlie, 53, who died at Cape Canaveral, Fla., Nov. 17. She had been in failing health for about a year.

She was born in Clinton, Mar. 25, 1915, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lemmlie. The family lived in Clinton until a few years ago when they moved to Cape Canaveral.

Preceded in death by her father, she is survived by her mother and aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews and cousins.

● GARRY LOUIS RATHKE

Funeral services will be Thursday afternoon at Emmanuel Lutheran Church, Ida, for Garry Louis Rathke, 20, who died Monday of injuries resulting from a head-on collision with a two-ton truck east of Saline on US-12.

Mr. Rathke was returning home at 8 a.m. from the Ford Motor Company, Dearborn, where he was employed as a tool repair apprentice for two years, when the accident occurred.

He was born in Dundee Jan. 25, 1948, and was a graduate of Dundee High School.

He resided with his father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth L. Rathke, at 12285 Fisk Rd., Clinton.

Other survivors are his mother, Mrs. George Malko and twin stepsisters, Michilene and Franeine, all in Montreal, a brother, Kenneth Rathke, 743 N. Union St., Tecumseh, and stepsisters, Julie Schwartz of Kalamazoo, Mrs. Rene Crombez of Ayres Rd., Brooklyn and stepbrother, Roy Schwartz of Maine and grandfather, Fred Rathke, of Dundee.

Burial will be in Maple Grove Cemetery, Dundee.

● EDWARD LEIGHTON

Services were held Monday at the Dunn Funeral Home for Edward Leighton, 83, of 205 E. Pottawatamie St., who died at 11:30 p.m. Friday at Herrick Nursing Home.

He had been a patient there for six weeks and had been in failing health for three years.

Mr. Leighton was born Feb. 16, 1885, in St. Louis, Mo. He married Edith Poppenger in Detroit, April 10, 1907. He was a Tecumseh resident for 53 years, and was employed as a molder at the Foundry, later Bruce Foundry, and at Hayden Mills. He retired from Tecumseh Products in 1955.

He was a life member of Tecumseh Chapter 51 of the Order of the Eastern Star and a life member and past master of Tecumseh Lodge No. 69. He attended the Methodist Church.

Surviving are his wife; one son, John E. Leighton of Port Clinton, Ohio; and six daughters, Mrs. Margaret Iffland of Blissfield; Mrs. Philip (Louise) Futscher of Chelsea; Mrs. Dwight (Helen) Hodges of 9365 Tonneberger Drive; Mrs. Herman (Maxine) Henry of Saline; Mrs. Ruth Townsend of Marshall; and Mrs. Larry (Jane) Kendall of Taylor.

One step brother, Fred Leighton of Hannibal, Mo., survives, as do 19 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Donald Porteous officiated and burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

Masonic services were held Sunday evening.

● MELVIN D. PRATT

Services were held in Adrian at the Bethany Assembly of God for Melvin D. Pratt, 76, of that city who was found dead Sunday at the Jenkins Car Wash on E. Becher St.

For the past year, Mr. Pratt has managed the car wash.

Mrs. Kenneth McEnroe of Clinton is among the survivors.

Burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

● SAMANTHA SHULTERS

Graveside services were held Tuesday at Lenawee Memorial Park for Samantha Shulters who was dead at birth in Bixby Hospital Sunday night.

The baby was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Shulters, 717 Seneca St.

Players Will Sponsor Yule Fantasy

The student production of "The Elves and the Shoemaker," is being sponsored by The Tecumseh Players. Mrs. James Vanzo is directing the play to be presented Nov. 29, 30 and Dec. 1, at 2 p.m., at the Tecumseh Community Center. Tickets are available at Flanders and from cast members.

The shoemaker is away at the wars and his wife and daughter are about to lose the shoemaker's shop to a "mean" woman named Heckla. The elves try to help save the shop. Soon the village girls all think that the shoemaker's wife and daughter can now make shoes.

For a delightful afternoon, the Players urge the public to attend the weekend of fantasy at the Community Center.

I'd feel a lot better if I received one of those wonderful . . .

Let Contract for Fire Barn

CLINTON — At a special meeting of the Village Council last Wednesday night, bids were opened and the contract was let to Clintonian Construction Company for the construction of a 55'x57' fire barn, at a cost of $42,000. The building will be located on the northeast corner of the main intersection of Michigan Ave. and Jackson St. It will be all brick veneer construction and will have exits on Jackson St.

The Texaco station was recently purchased by the village and will be razed as well as the present fire barns and storage building adjacent this winter, and construction of the new barn will begin March 1, in order to avoid cold weather storage of the fire equipment.

The remodeling of the village office to include the former post-office section is nearing completion.

Village President John Truesdale reported that the remodeling of the Smith-Kimball Community Center is progressing rapidly and it is expected that it may be completed in time for Christmas activities there.

Harvest Supper Planned Nov. 25

CLINTON — The Missionary Committee of the Women's Fellowship is planning the annual Harvest Supper and Auction for Monday, Nov. 25. The co-operative family supper will be held at 6:30 p.m. and will be followed by the auction of donated canned goods, baked foods, and all sorts of miscellaneous household articles. Proceeds are for Our Christian World Missions.

The committee in charge includes Mrs. Edwin Bihlmyer, Mrs. Edgar Randall and Mrs. Mervyn Witherell.

Rolls and coffee will be furnished for the dinner.

New Grandson

CLINTON — A son Sean David, was born Monday to Mr. and Mrs. David McKee, nee Evelyn Witherell, at Oakwood Hospital, Dearborn. The little fellow weighed in at 8 lbs., 5 oz., and grandma, Mrs. Mervyn Witherell, who has already had a glimpse of him, says he's doing just fine and so is his mother.

Pit Band Set for "Birdie"

CLINTON — Music for "Bye Bye Birdie" by the Music and Drama departments of Clinton High School, will be provided by an offstage pit band composed of selected symphony band members, directed by Richard Perkins.

Carolyn Girbach, a former band member, now working on her music degree at University of Michigan, will accompany the band on the piano.

Also helping the musical venture will be Mrs. Gary Korte, nee Sylvia Williams, another former member of the band.

Performances will be Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. in the high school. Since a matinee will not be presented, elementary children will be admitted for 50c on the first night, Thursday only. Admission is 75c for students and $1.50 for adults.

Mrs. Donald Geiger is the director and she has been assisted by Mrs. Carla McElvey of Adrian, a student teacher from Adrian College.

Wednesday night, a dress rehearsal performance was given with Boysville students as guests.

The Exchange Club of Tecumseh urges all citizens to "Thank God for the privilege of being an American, asking Him to preserve America and keep it safe for all time and His help in making it a still better Nation."

Only 399 Passes Issued for Dump

Less than a fourth of the city residents have applied for their free passes to the Lenawee Disposal landfill on Ogden Hwy., just north of Deerfield Rd., and about a mile east of Adrian.

The passes can be obtained at city hall and are necessary for residents here to enter the dump. The count Tuesday showed 349 residential passes issued and 50 commercial.

The Lenawee dump came into use when Council closed the local landfill, Oct. 1, when it was not economical for the city to meet new regulations governing landfills.

There's A Chance Your Thanksgiving Dinner Won't Cost You A Penny...

Here's All You Have To Do:

First you must buy a turkey at A&P.

Serve it for Thanksgiving dinner. Be unhappy with it.

Come and tell us (and bring the price label or register tape, of course).

We'll give you DOUBLE YOUR MONEY BACK (that should just about cover the cost of your whole dinner).

Simple?

We're selling only the finest turkeys.

Every "Super-Right" bird is U.S. Grade "A".

So we can't lose. But neither can you.

BRITTON BRIEFS

Principal Robert Bolton will be in Grand Rapids Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week, where he will be attending the convention of the Michigan Association of Secondary School Principals.

A wishing well will be set up in the Grace United Methodist Church for people to contribute canned goods, food or cash, and Sunday, Nov. 24, the MYF members will take the gifts to the Chelsea United Methodist Home.

Junior High basketball for 7th and 8th grade boys has started, announced Principal Robert Bolton, who will be the coach. The boys meet Tuesday night and Saturday afternoon. Their first game will be Thursday, Dec. 12, time to be announced.

Also starting this Saturday, 5th and 6th grade boys will have basketball practice Saturday mornings from 10 a.m. to 12 noon.

Members and friends of Grace United Methodist Church are invited to place a family picture on the bulletin board for display during the holidays. Sounds like a great idea!

The Maconettes Extension Club met last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Beryl Albring. The evening was spent making Christmas decorations. Refreshments were served by the hostess and Mrs. Robert Bush, co-hostess. The next meeting will be the annual Christmas party Dec. 12, with a potluck supper at 6:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Robert Bush. There will be a Secret Sister gift exchange.

Flight of the Stork Honored

BRITTON — Mrs. Tom Smetka was the guest of honor at a pink and blue shower Sunday afternoon, given for her by Frances Studnick and Anna Check at the home of Mrs. John Check.

About 50 relatives and friends were present. The guests played bingo, and prizes were awarded the winners.

Mrs. Smetka opened many lovely gifts from a table centered with a stork carrying a miniature baby doll.

Mrs. Smetka was presented with a corsage of pink and white baby mums tied with a blue ribbon bow, which was centered with a tiny doll.

The future great-grandmothers, Mrs. Joseph Studnick and Mrs. Elizabeth Fojtik, wore corsages of pink carnations.

Sgt. and Mrs. Smetka are residing in Battle Creek, where he is stationed at Fort Custer AFB.

Saturday Night At Bandorama

Saturday evening they attended the University of Michigan band's presentation of Bandorama at Hill Auditorium. Featured were the Varsity Concert, Symphony, Jazz and the Dixieland bands, conducted by William D. Revelli and assistant conductor George Cavender.

Guest artist of the evening was John Heney, xylophonist of the John Philip Sousa Band.

Also on the program were vocal selections by the Friars, a male octet from the University of Michigan, and the Chordbusters. Dance numbers were provided by the Soft Shoe Seven.

Extension Club Met For Lunch

BRITTON — Members of the L & M Extension Club held their November meeting at the home of Mrs. Orris Tubbs on Bleasner Highway on Thursday. Luncheon was served by the hostess and her assistant, Mrs. Chester Brown, at noon.

Mrs. Martin Ivan, president, announced that the items for the gift shop for Goodwill Industries are to be taken to the Elmer Eberhardt home not later than November 22.

The study on "You and Your County's Water" was given by Mrs. Tubbs and Mrs. Gerald Benedict. Fourteen members attended.

The next meeting will be the Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Mills Swick on Wednesday, December 18.

Picked for All-League

BRITTON — Three members of the Britton Tory football team were selected to be on the River Raisin All-League Football team for 1968.

Senior end Jim Skelton and Junior linebacker Bill Tuberville were repeaters on the all-league squad, having been named to the honor last year as well.

Also chosen for honorable mention were Tories John Rowe, Jim Lister and Dick Schroeder.

All-league team members are chosen by the league coaches, who may nominate candidates for selection, but may not vote for their own players.

The boys will receive their league certificates at an assembly program in the school of the league champions, Sand Creek.

Special Ed Needs Told School Board

BRITTON — George Eidson, special education co-ordinator for the Lenawee Intermediate School District, was present at the regular meting of the Britton-Macon Board of Education last Thursday evening. He explained the financial needs of the special education department, if the department is to continue to offer the services which they have in the past.

The board authorized William Saxton to borrow the sum of $60,000 against anticipated State Aid to carry the school through until they receive the winter tax collection revenue.

The board authorized head custodian Art VanWormer to investigate the possibility of purchasing an auxiliary generator for the school, to be used as an emergency precaution in the case of power failure in the area. A guaranteed source of electric power would prevent such emergencies as frozen water pipes and furnace breakdowns if there is a power failure.

In other action, the board moved that the school offices be soundproofed. This will insure privacy for any conferences with the superintendent or principal.

Also, 12 new lockers have been purchased and are being installed, which will relieve some of the crowded locker conditions.

PTA Receives New Budget

BRITTON — The presentation of the budget for the coming year by the executive committee and its acceptance by the PTA members, was the main topic of business at the PTA meeting Monday night. A short meeting was held prior to the annual High School open house, when parents were invited to visit 10-minute class sessions and meet the teachers.

Superintendent William Saxton announced that elementary teacher conferences are being set up for Dec. 5 and 6. Kindergarten through third grade will be one day, and grades four thru six will be held the other. Appointment times will be mailed to parents.

Supt. Saxton also announced that Wednesday night will be left free for church night. No school-sponsored activities are to be scheduled for Wednesday nights, so that the churches may plan for that night without conflict.

The question submitted to the question box last month pertaining to the activities and expenses of the summer recreation program was answered by a letter from Paul Palka, director of the program.

The budget for 1968-69, as presented and accepted, is as follows:

State conference	$ 50
PTA refreshments and school milk	75
Girls' State (2 girls at $55)	110
Boys' State (2 boys at $55)	110
PTA programs	20
UNICEF Halloween expenses	60
Elementary teaching aids ($10 a room)	130
PTA Fun Night door prizes	75
Kindergarten record player	50
Playground equipment	300
Home Ec. Dept.—Bissell sweeper	20
	$1,000

After the run-through of high school classes, refreshments were served in the cafeteria.

Community Gives to Fund

BRITTON — The Sum of $1,120.35 in cash was collected during the recent Britton-Macon Community Fund Drive, reported Secretary Mrs. Tom Korican. All but one of the 41 collectors have turned in their collection envelopes.

Some industrial pledges will be coming in throughout the year, and it is expected that the total budget of $2,164.00 will be met.

"We feel that the fund drive was a success, as we collected more this year than last, when our fund drive collection totaled $1,090.00 in cash," stated Mrs. Korican.

The proposed budget for the year is as follows:

1968-1969 BRITTON-MACON COMMUNITY FUND FOUNDATION, INC. BUDGET

Red Cross	$150.00
Salvation Army	150.00
Wolverine Council (Boy Scout)	200.00
Tuckabatchee Council (Campfire)	200.00
Michigan United Fund	334.00
Family Counseling	100.00
Boy Scouts (Local)	150.00
Cub Scouts (Local)	150.00
Campfire Girls (Local)	150.00
Bluebirds (Local)	150.00
Recreation Fund (Summer Baseball)	400.00
Administrative Expenses	30.00
	$2,164.00

The nine local board members all donate their time and services for three years, as do the 41 collectors.

Donate Money To Operation Joe

BRITTON — The Sunshine Circle of the Congregational Christian Church met last Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Murell Clark of Tecumseh, with 14 members and four guests present.

The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Charles Patterson. Two ditty bags were packed and taken to the Red Cross to be sent to servicemen in Vietnam.

It was also voted to donate money to "Operation Joe," a telephone home service which permits men in Vietnam to call their homes.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Willard Exelby, with a reading on "Thankfulness" and the thought for the day from the Secret Place.

Mrs. Lillian Buttolph presented the program. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Berkley showed slides of historic Williamsburg, Va.

Increases Hit Budget; County Faces Red Ink

By BILL SANFORD

Deficit financing has reached the coffers of Lenawee County in grand style. The Board of Supervisors have passed a budget with a deficit of $278,433. The county expects to start the new year in January, $66,948 in the hole, the end of 1969 will find the county even deeper in red ink.

Forthcoming revenue from the state income tax was promised at a smaller rate than actually realized. The State-wide economy has risen to the point where the tax estimates midway through this year hiked the ratio of monies which the county will receive.

Revenues which will come into the treasury will include the 5.5 mills from the county millage or $1,603,960. The county's share of the state income tax will amount to some $233,100. Departmental receipts will account for $364,000.

The 1969 budget compared with the 1968 summary has an increase in expenditures of $521,000.

Increases in the budget were caused by the take-over of the ambulance service for the county by the Sheriff's Office. In the Sheriff's appropriation the increase was from $310,190 to $403,290. The increase in the number of men necessary as well as the addition of equipment caused the hike in monies.

Another part of county government which has put a strain on the new budget is the district courts. This is a new area of appropriation and has already put a strain on the county. This year an added $95,000 was taken from already deficit budget, for the purpose, of purchasing chambers for the judges' occupancy.

In the 1969 budget, $101,350 is set aside for the establishment of the courts and for expected expenditures. The salary of the judges has been set at $18,000 each for the two elected last week.

County social services have increased a whopping $308,000 over last year. The new Lenawee Medical Care Facility takes a large percentage of the increase.

The new county facility will be in operation next October, according to present plans. At present salaries at Maple Lane Manor, which will be phased out as a result of the MCF, has been budgeted $266,000. Salaries for two months at MCF are set at $91,890.

While the new convalescence home will qualify for subsidy from state and federal governments in the form of Medicare and Medicaid, payments are expected to lag two months. Therefore, in the budget no repayment for service at the facility was figured in. Considering this, an additional $99,000 has been appropriated to operate the new home for the last two months of 1969 or until governmental funds start coming into the county.

Another $140,000 has been set aside as required by the agreement in constructing the medical facility for the payment of bond redemption and interest according to a lease which the supervisors signed a year ago establishing the facility.

The total social services budget for 1969 totals $1,005,517, a county welfare budget high, not all is taken from the county, state and federal funds assist in this area of finance.

Some payments which the county will receive through services, such as the ambulance service which will pay into the county general fund, have not been established well enough to determine what percentage they will take up in easing the financial strain on the county. It is also impossible to determine the payments to be received for patient care at the Medical Care Facility.

In Cavalry

Army Pvt. 1c Larry R. Rathbun, 20, son of Mrs. Kathryn V. Cutler, 2053 Russell Rd., was assigned as a radio operator with the 1st Cavalry Division (Airmobile) in Vietnam, Oct. 9.

His wife, Brenda, lives at 502 W. Chicago Blvd. His father, Roy C. Rathbun, lives at R1, Custer.

It is hoped by many of the people who have been involved in establishing it, that while it will provide a needed service, it will also revolve money back into the general fund, which is not the case with Maple Lane Manor.

A year ago the supervisors estimated that the deficit at the end of 1968 would be in excess of $200,000, it fell some $140,000 below that this year. It is hoped that perhaps next year will also see expenditures keeping relatively close to county receipts.

After nearly two hours of debate the budget passed by an 18-12 vote.

Votes of area supervisors were: Yes, Charles Bigelow, Ron Brown, Richard Platt, Stacy Zilke, James Mitchell and Martin Halley.

No, Art Eaton, Harold Easton, Calvin Zorn, Rev. Blair Bashore and Donald Sunderland.

Needs of People Are Fund Goals

Tecumseh has a unique organization in its Community Fund Foundation.

The Board has a deeper interest than in just the solicitation and allocation of monies in an annual drive familiar to the citizenry across the country. This group has a personal interest in the local peoples, their needs and desires.

Because of this unique position each of the member charities has been asked to submit information of a personal nature emphasizing its work to the individual people in our area.

In many cases these reports will be composites, but each will point out the services offered by the charity to our residents. Facts and figures will be only a sidelight.

Using this personal approach it is hoped that the citizens of Tecumseh can receive a closer look at these charities and their advantages as each are presented in feature stories not only during the annual drive but throughout the entire year.

The first article concerns the Huron Valley Child Guidance Clinic and how it works.

What happens to a first grade boy of good intelligence when it is discovered that he cannot learn to write the alphabet and is slow in reading? What happens to this boy who is thought to be a model child when he is found to be immature in speech and motor coordination?

John, one of four children, is such a boy. He was tense and anxious and quite worried about his ability to learn and to achieve the high standards expected of him. Because his parents were deeply concerned, John and his family found themselves at the Huron Child Guidance Clinic seeking aid.

Counseling revealed that his mother had very high standards for conduct with an emphasis on courtesy and cleanliness. The father did not share these objectives and was concerned about the mother's intolerance to noise and naughtiness.

The Clinic's help proved to be relatively easy in this case since both parents were insightful and capable of understanding their role in John's problem.

Guidance enabled the mother to modify her standards and goals so that her children could grow up in a more relaxed environment. She learned to set her goals for a long term basis.

John's father, whose business had prevented him from much involvement in his family relationship, found more time for companionship with his wife and family. The new relaxed atmosphere which resulted helped John gain more confidence.

In school, special guidance was given to John's learning skills and now he is reading quite well and writing slowly but confidently. He has a new faith in himself. Recently he confided, "The alphabet doesn't make me feel scarey any more."

The Huron Valley Child Guidance Clinic, staffed with men and women who are trained in understanding children's problems, is available to parents who become concerned about a child's behavior at home, at school, and about his difficulties in adjusting to growing up.

Temper tantrums, sleeping disturbances, inability to make friends, day-dreaming, poor grades, fears and worries are some of the common problems that take families to the Clinic. Here a study of the child and his problems is evolved and a plan of treatment follows.

This fine organization is under the joint sponsorship of Washtenaw, Lenawee and Monroe Counties and the School Districts of Wayne and Belleville.

Freckelton Wins National Award

James Freckelton was presented the National Sales Achievement award of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company at a recent luncheon meeting held in Jackson.

The award is designed to honor those highly successful Life Underwriters' Association members who, during a calendar year, excel in placing a substantial amount of life insurance on a large number of clients.

Mr. Freckelton has won the award two years in a row.

Family Night Program Feature

A family night potluck supper will be held this Sunday evening at the Tecumseh United Methodist Church at 5:30 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall.

Sponsored by the Commission on Missions, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Carroll Sprague, the program will feature two mission films: "People In Agony," concerning the refugees in Vietnam, and "Chinese in Dispersion," the story of the refugees of Southeast Asia.

Those attending are asked to bring their table service, a dish to pass, and milk. Tea and coffee will be provided.

Time Remembered

Marshal Drury of Harrisonburg, Virginia and Douglas Baker of San Leandro, California, visited in the vicinity of Britton at the same time recently.

In their honor an open house was held Nov. 5 at the home of Mrs. E. J. Aebersold concentrating on the 1917-18 classes in Britton High School.

The evening was spent in hilarity over old photographs and reminiscing, recalling the day all of the high school pupils marched to the railroad station with Harold Ousterhout carried on the shoulders of classmates. He had enlisted in World War I at the tender age of 16 and was given a "send-off."

Guests were present from Deerfield, Blissfield, Adrian, Britton and Tecumseh.

LEWIS L. RUESINK SAVES AT ADRIAN FEDERAL

(He should . . . he's a director)

Lewis L. Ruesink, supervisor of Adrian Township and a lifelong resident of Lenawee County, has been a member of the board of directors of Adrian Federal Savings & Loan Association for two years. Prominent in Farm Bureau and 4-H activities, Mr. Ruesink has a farm on Tipton Highway in Adrian Township about a mile and a half from the Ruesink homestead where he was born.

After graduation from Adrian High School in 1932, Mr. Ruesink entered Michigan State University and graduated with a bachelor of science degree in physical chemistry. He also took graduate studies in soil science at Michigan State.

First Lieutenant with the U. S. Army Air Force during World War II in the Azores, Mr. Ruesink served as an Air Traffic controller for the North Atlantic Wing of the Air Transport Command.

In addition to being Adrian Township supervisor, Mr. Ruesink served for 12 years on the township Board of Review; is a past president of Lenawee County Farm Bureau and a former member of the Adrian District Board of Education. He has been a 4-H leader for 16 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruesink (the former Erma Gust) have a son, William, who is doing graduate work at Michigan State University; a son, Lorne, who is an undergraduate in forestry at Michigan State; a daughter, Kay, also a student at Michigan State, and a daughter, Janet, a registered nurse on the public health department staff of Oakland County.

THE ONES THAT GOT AWAY

Hunters and fishermen are all the same. They love to talk about their adventures and misadventures. But no matter how successful the hunting and fishing trips are, the lengthiest tales usually involve the prizes that got away. Well, the more I listen to camera-nuts the more convinced I am that they fit into the same category — and guess who is the worst of the lot!

It all happened several Sundays ago. It was a beautiful morning, the sun was so warm and bright, the sky such a clear blue that one know it was going to be a good day.

The leaves had fallen but the sight of naked trees was far from depressing. After all, even though one of the best sights in the world is that gauze of green which envelopes the trees each spring, there is really more fun in the winter after this leaf topping has been shed.

I can feel this way when the sun shines, I can convincingly rationalize that better looking at what is going on in the treetops compensates for certain aspects of winter.

WE THREE Duncans and one Austin were, as usual, enjoying the one leisurely breakfast of the week. We had not even worked around to wondering what was on the day's schedule when suddenly Dad exclaimed that there was the black squirrel!

A few weeks ago he would have scampered along the tree roads unseen but now, with our watching world greatly expanded, it was easy to follow his movements. And truly, it was fun to once again spy on a squirrel as he ran and jumped, always, of course, at top speed. His actions were quick and sure.

As the black squirrel traveled through the elm, crossed into the mulberry and headed for the corn that is fastened to the top of the railroad tie, which once anchored the near-the-creek end of our post and rail fence, we wondered. The ear of corn was empty.

Would he resent the poor service, would the empty breakfast tray send his rushing away? Fortunately he was in an understanding mood — nothing of the kind, Marda, more likely he was just hungry and saw the full ear of corn on the near-your-window feeder.

Whatever the reason, his next stop was up here and oh, what a handsome fellow!

As he nibbled his corny breakfast we admired him. His black coat glistened and shone in the sunlight; texture-wise it looked thick, thick, thick. It also looked soft and smooth and luxurious and so very pettable. He was fat and sleek, all set for a long hard winter.

NOW I MUST make a confession. When explaining how my remote camera works, I always say that it is kept loaded, aimed at the feeder, and ready to go should something interesting come along.

What could be more interesting than an elegant-looking black squirrel poising in near perfect lighting conditions? I can think of nothing. Oh, yes I can, I can think of stupid people doing dumb things — when will I ever learn?

After all these years of picture-taking why do I not do as I say I do, why wasn't the camera turned on and ready to go? Actually, I was in far worse trouble than just not having the camera turned on and the switch handy.

The day before I had taken the last picture on the film and, because the day and evening had been unusually hectic, the used-up film was still in the camera. I always say that when I pull a boner, it just might as well be a great big one.

So it is that as for getting good pictures of the black squirrel, I have now joined the ranks of typical hunters and fishermen and can talk about the ones that got away.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Troop 94 Brownies invested one member. The girls have made corn-husk dolls and "God Bless Our Home" plaques from construction paper. Refreshments were cookies shaped with the Brownie hand greeting.

Troop 78 Juniors held their fly-up ceremony and an investiture of two new members, Renee Johnson and Mary McElroy.

Ginny Fielder received her wings. Lynn Wilkie, formerly of Kent, O., joined the troop, making a total of 16 members. Committee mothers are Mrs. Harold Wilson, Mrs. Joseph Platt and Mrs. Thomas Fagan. Leaders are Mrs. Ted Todd and Mrs. Richard Creswell.

Rotary Invites Community To Safety Night

Interested persons of the community are invited to attend Rotary Safety Award Night, Tuesday, Nov. 26, at 6:15 p.m., at the Tecumseh Country Club.

Howard E. Crawford, vice-president of the Marketing Division of General Motors and vice-chairman of National Inter-industry Highway Safety Commission, will be the speaker.

Reservations may be made by calling 423-4130.

Merx Termed Standout At Adrian College

A line from that old football song of back in the good old days of raccoon coats and banners was "It's great to be a football hero." Saturday's heroes come in pretty big sizes sometimes, like Larry Merx, center for the Adrian College Bulldogs and former Tecumseh High Indian.

Merx has been termed one of the two standouts on this year's Bulldog squad. Coach Bill Davis says of the stocky 5-foot-9-inch, 180-pounder, "Larry is our most consistent football player and our best blocker." He is never injured in practice or games — he stays in good shape." Although he was switched from guard to center, he never complained, according to the Adrian mentor. Davis calls him "very coachable."

He is married and working his way through college at the same time. "Despite these responsibilities, he keeps working as hard as he can on the team. We could use a couple of dozen more just like him," Davis remarked.

His determination and drive have been an inspiration to the other members of the gridiron squad, fellow players term him the team's most "underrated" player.

The college team is playing better ball now than they did in the first few games of the season. Davis says that the Bulldogs are working as a unit and are getting used to his type of offense.

Diamond Talk Is Friendly

Iota Epsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held their November meeting Nov. 12 at the home of Mrs. Richard Purkey. Mrs. John Korican was co-hostess.

Ellis Berndt of Berndt's Jewelery Store was the guest speaker and gave a talk on girls best friend, diamonds.

The girls will attend the B-Line and R-Bon fashion show at the American Legion Hall on Monday, Nov. 18.

Mrs. Jack Whelan was surprised with a baby shower honoring her new daughter, Cathy. All the girls "oohed" and "aahed" at all the pretty, dainty gifts.

3 medium-size tart apples
1½ cups sliced celery
½ cup chopped walnuts
½ cup Kroger Mayonnaise or Kroger Salad Dressing
2 teaspoons sugar
Dash Kroger Ground Allspice
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Pare, quarter, core and dice 2 apples. (Save remaining apple.) Place in medium-size bowl; stir in celery and walnuts. Blend remaining ingredients in 1-cup measure; pour over apple mixture; toss lightly to mix. Quarter and core saved apple; cut into thin slices. Fill individual salad bowls with apple mixture; garnish with stand-up ring of apple slices around edges. Top each with a halved walnut if desired. Makes 6 servings.

SP/4 GARY COUTURE

Earns Commendation

Sp/4 Gary Couture, Company B, 1st Supply and Transport Battalion, 1st Infantry Division, has been awarded the Army Commendation Medal.

His citation reads in part, "he distinguished himself by exceptionally meritorious service in support of allied counterinsurgency operations in the Republic of Vietnam. During the period Sept. 8 to Sept. 15, 1968, he astutely surmounted extremely adverse conditions to obtain consistently superior results. Through diligence and determination he invariably accomplished every task with dispatch and efficiency.

"His unrelenting loyalty, initiative and perserverance brought him wide acclaim and inspired others to strive for maximum achievement. Selflessly working long and arduous hours, he has contributed significantly to the success of the allied effort. His commendable performance was in keeping with the finest traditions of the military service and reflects distinct credit upon himself and the United States Army."

Sp Couture's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Couture of rural Clinton and his wife Sheryl, resides with her parents, the David Olsens, 108 Bartlett St.

Women Society's Holiday Festival

Celebrating many of the most familiar holidays will be possible when the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Tecumseh United Methodist Church opens its Holiday Festival on December 4 at 9:30 a.m.

The tasty toffee, made by the women under the direction of Mrs. Harold Ocamb, and the home-made peanut brittle will fill the Valentine Sweet Shop along with fudge and other tempting candies. St. Patrick's Day will provide the theme for the needlework specialities featuring many embroidered aprons, lint removers, pillowcases, mother-daughter party aprons, and other clever sewing novelties. The children will find many toys, records, books and a fish pond in the Fourth of July toy booth which promises to be a "bang-up" area.

Thanksgiving and its harvest of goodies will be the country store where all varieties of home-made bakery goodies will be available. In the Christmas gift shop the ever popular Christmas decorated gingerbreadmen, Mrs. Aden Mead's specialty, will be available along with drip-dry hangers, candles, and decorating items.

Those interested in eating will be able to get coffee, baked goods, and sandwiches at the New Year's coffee shop from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. In the evening a complete turkey dinner will be provided by the excellent cooking staff in the kitchen from 5 to 7 p.m. Tickets for the dinner are available from Mrs. Erwin Buss, 423-4515, at a cost of $2 for adults and 75c for children 12 and under.

Film Portrays Heroic Struggle

BRITTON — "Through Blood and Fire", a full color motion picture secretly filmed in Russia and other Iron Curtain countries by Underground Evangelism, will be shown at 7:30 p.m. at the Bethel Baptist Church Sunday.

This film portrays the heroic Christian struggle now raging behind the Iron Curtain.

Underground Evangelism works with the underground churches in the Communist countries through literature, gospel broadcasting and missionary outreach to the people there.

Pastor Duane McNeil says this is a very worthwhile film and invites the public to attend.

At the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday, Rev. McNeil will speak on "A Thanksgiving Sacrifice."

Tipton Church Notes

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONTEST

The Sunday School contest of Tipton Community Church ended Sunday, Nov. 17. A breakfast was served at 9 a.m. to 60 adults and children by the Junior and Senior High classes, under the direction of teachers, Carol Tuckerman, Brenda Andrews and Sherry Griffin.

CONSTRUCTION STARTS — Work to install a sheet steel wall at the River Raisin bridge on N. Evans was started last week by an Ann Arbor firm. The construction is being temporarily held up by wildcat strikes of suppliers for the firm. Total cost for the wall — to prevent a washout that occurred in the June flood — is 7,000.

3 Suspected In Attack, $200 Holdup

Police investigation is continuing on a robbery, amounting to $200, and beating of an elderly Tecumseh man, early Saturday morning.

Accused in the theft and attack are two Adrian and one Blissfield youth, all in their early twenties. None of the three has been arrested.

According to the police, Smith had been drinking at Jerry's Bar and Grill in downtown Tecumseh. While there, he struck up a conversation with the young men, one an ex-convict, flashed his money before patrons there and even bought drinks for all of the tavern's patrons.

When he told the men he was walking home, they reportedly offered to drive him to his house on W. Cummins. He left the tavern with them and a six-pack of beer.

Shortly after 3 a.m., Smith called the police and reported the robbery and beating. Although he refused medical attention, he suffered two black eyes, one of which was swollen shut.

He first identified his attackers from pictures and picked out two of them in a police lineup at the sheriff's department. However, when confronted directly with the men, he is said to have hesitated and told officers he wasn't sure.

Tecumseh police lifted fingerprints off from a can of beer at the Smith residence and have sent them to Lansing for identification. The men, upon being questioned by the police, reportedly denied even being in the house.

Since his mother died, Smith lives alone.

AWARD WINNERS — Winners of the awards for the best posters displaying the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation are Doug Jacobs and Edward Solarski. The two boys won five dollars each in the contest. Mrs. William Steele and Dyke Helms made the awards.

Store Hours Are Changed

A couple small changes have been made by most Tecumseh merchants in store hours for Christmas shopping.

Instead of starting the holiday hours this Saturday evening, most retailers have decided to start the following week.

New store hours for the season for most will be 9 to 9 on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 6-7, and then 9 to 9, Dec. 13th thru the 23rd.

This is a change from last week when it was announced the stores would be open this Saturday night until nine o'clock. Most shops will not be open this Saturday evening, and most will not be open evenings, Monday through Thursday, Dec. 9-12.

Fund Drive Lagging But Hopes Run High

Tecumseh's annual Community Fund Foundation drive is lagging far behind in its campaign to reach the '68 goal of $58,700, but hopes are high that final reports next week will send the total donations soaring.

As of Wednesday, contributions had totaled just $14,298, including a $11,800 sum from Fisher Body and its employees, and $336.50 from employees who work in out-of-town industrial plants.

The local industrial, commercial, professional and municipal drives are not completed, although some are partially done and have reported.

The professional division has given $860; residential, with two zones still to report, $697.38; and school teachers, $550.

The residential drive will probably fall far short of its normal figure of approximately $3,000. Some of the large donors are now residing in Florida for the winter.

The Foundation drive, usually held in October, was postponed a month this year due to the strike at the Tecumseh Products.

Union Service Is Cancelled

For the first time in a great number of years, there will be no annual union Thanksgiving service.

Members of the Tecumseh Area Ministerial Association decided at an early fall meeting to discontinue the service due to lack of interest and attendance.

City Decorating For the Holidays

First evidence of the Christmas season was seen here Tuesday when the city started putting up the downtown Yule decorations.

Cal Zorn, city manager, says city employees will start Wednesday and expect to complete decorating the business district before next Monday when Consumers Power is scheduled to hook up the lights Monday.

Youngsters Head Cast At Center

"The Elves and the Shoemaker" will provide a delightful additional treat for the Thanksgiving weekend. To be presented at the Tecumseh Community Center at 2 p.m. on Nov. 29, 30, and Dec. 1, this entrancing children's play, sponsored by the Tecumseh Players, is directed by Mrs. James Vanzo and has a cast composed entirely of children.

Children are also assisting the crew members back-stage. Phil Baker is handling the lighting for this production; Pat Petee, chairman of the costume committee, is aided by Marty Bagdon and Marge Broderick; Judy Sherwood is the Tech Director and Bertha Vallelunga is in charge of make-up. Mrs. James Quigley oversees the "back stage" crew consisting of Stephanie Slick, Jackie Baker, Becky Storms, Julia and Ann Quigley, Paul Holms, Mary Margaret Rapin, Mimi Vallelunga, Kathy Laslo, Michele Aten, Linda Gerton, Debbie Hollister, Candy Young, Cassandra Kureth, Michele Vanzo, Jane Schuyler and Linda Withrow.

The imaginative set has been created by Ron Wisner, Ted Broderick, Hal Weakley and Howard Furry with assists from Patty Marine, Linda Marine and Bill Rohrer. "Door Elves" will be Susan Palmer, Margaret Furry, Nora Lee Platt, Cheryl Sheldon and Scott Miller.

Tickets are a minimal 50c and are available from cast members, Flanders Music Store, or at the door before performances.

2 Hurt in Mishaps

Four accidents were investigated during the past week by the Tecumseh police, and two of the mishaps involved personal injury.

Lilly M. Matthews, 62, of Matthews Hwy., suffered minor injury in a three-car accident Friday at the intersection of W. Chicago Blvd. and N. Union St. She sought her own treatment.

According to the police report, Harold J. Loveland, 20, rural Adrian, was headed west on the boulevard and hit the Matthews car which made a left turn in front of him. The Matthews car then slid into Neil R. Hause, 70, Clinton, who was on N. Union waiting for the traffic light to change.

After the collision, the Loveland car continued west, jumped the curb and stopped in the front yard of the James Beardsley residence, some 120 feet from the point of impact.

Police cited Loveland for failure to have his car under control, and Mrs. Matthews for failure to yield the right of way.

In the other personal injury accident, James M. McClain, 709 Ternes Rd., was riding a motor bike Sunday on the hills across from the Community Center and fell off. He suffered a cut left leg, requiring several sutures.

A resume of the other mishaps is:

Nov. 21 — Danny L. Murphy, 16, of 316 W. Patterson, was cited for failure to stop within an assured clear distance after running into the rear of a car driven by Carroll S. Oliver, 18, of 808 S. Union St. The 18-year-old was cited for no registration on person. Accident occurred at N. Evans and Chicago Blvd.

Nov. 25 — Ronald E. Braden, 19, of 6952 Close Dr., was arrested for failure to have his car under control and for obstructed vision. According to the police, Braden ran into a Consumers Power pole on W. Murray Dr. He told officers that he did not see the pole as his windshield was iced over.

Ernie Oliver Is Magistrate

District judges-elect Kenneth B. Glaser, Jr., and Yale L. Kerby have submitted requests to the Board of Supervisors amounting to over $20,000 in establishing the new courts.

In the opinion of the new judges, magistrates, clerks and probation officer salaries will be the justification of the increases. The budget which the supervisors passed this month give the new courts $101,000, plus the $95,000 spent in purchasing and remodeling the court rooms which are proving an expensive addition to the local judiciary.

Locally the magistrate will be Justice Ernest Oliver. The judges have approached the local justice of the peace to continue on in the city as the magistrate. Oliver has indicated that he would accept the position and continue at the same location for handling guilty pleas and traffic infractions.

A salary request of $7,000 for a magistrate in Tecumseh was included in the Glaser-Kerby recommendations. One magistrate in Tecumseh has been assigned by the statute setting up the new court system.

A place also has to be set aside for the holding of court in Tecumseh one day a week. In the recommendation, the judges-elect suggested the council room at city hall. The magistrate must furnish his own office space.

Another budget request was for $7,500 for a probation officer of the court. In the opinion of the two judges, without a probation officer the court's power of probation would be ineffective.

Country Club Hires Allie

Allie Luckhardt, former Wamplers Lake businessman and more recently manager of a restaurant in Jackson and the Devils Lake Yacht Club, has been employed as new manager of the Tecumseh Country Club.

He succeeds William Peterson, who has resigned to accept a similar position at Parkersburg, W. Va.

9 Involved In Accident

A head-on accident Sunday at 5:50 p.m. involved nine people, but none were badly injured.

A car, driven by Gerald James Scott, 30, of Wayne, crossed the center line on M-50 one-tenth of a mile west of Gilbert Hwy., and hit another car driven by George Edward Hosler of M-50, Onsted.

Passengers in the Hosler car were Charles Hosler, 13, Susan, 3, William, 11, and Lila Hosler, 9, and Daniel P. Collard, 30, of 1123 Scott St., Jackson, and Coller, 9, and Deborah Collard, 7, also of Jackson.

Mr. Scott and George and Charles Hosler are all patients at Herrick Memorial Hospital. The rest were treated and released.

Mr. Scott suffered lacerations of the scalp and abrasions. His condition is good.

Charles Hosler has head injuries, a fractured right arm and lacerations. George Hosler suffered abdominal wall contusions and possible internal injuries. He is in good condition.

Sheriffs officers said that it is believed that Mr. Scott had been drinking but no arrest has been made and the case is still under investigation.

Holiday Closing

The post office will be closed Thanksgiving. It has been announced that all mail in the two boxes in the business district and all boxes at the post office placed there before 3 p.m., will be dispatched that day.

All special delivery will be delivered.

There will be no window service or city and rural delivery.

Jim Barton Is Rushed To Hospital

James Barton, local bulk distributor of Standard Oil products, is in serious condition at University Hospital in Ann Arbor, following a cerebral hemorrhage last week at the Hiawatha Club in the Upper Peninsula.

Family sources say he is quite alert, and doctors have indicated that his trouble may be operable.

Mr. Barton became quite ill last Wednesday while hunting. Weather prevented him from being flown to Ann Arbor, and he was taken there by Ambulance Sunday.

A son, Tom, has taken an early leave from an air force base in Washington.

By DOROTHY GRIGG

For all the blessings of the year
For all the friends we hold so dear
For peace on earth, both far and near,
We thank Thee, Lord.

Early 17th Century Hymn.

Clara Waldron comes under the heading of "friends we hold so dear," and Nov. 27 Tecumseh's historian and author will observe her natal anniversary. Wonder if she kept tab on the number, we don't know how many? Happy Birthday, Clara.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Cain of Valparaiso, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Howard Burns of Brazil, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McConnell of Mason, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoch were among those from out-of-town who attended the funeral service for Harley McConnell last Tuesday.

Hospitalized area people this week included Mrs. Roscoe Hewlett, getting better at Herrick Hospital, Orville Bishop in F 307 at Ford Hospital, Detroit and Llewellyn Sisson at St. Joseph Hspital, Ann Arbor, who underwent surgery Friday. His room number is 607 and he is improving. Dennis Bryan is still waiting it out at St. Joseph. His regular Tuesday night visitor is Ward Cornell. They play "checkies".

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Berry and family of Tiffin, O., were Sunday afternoon visitors at the home of his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Schooley, Helen and Diane.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cook entertained at a pre-Thanksgiving dinner Sunday. Guests were Mrs. E. C. Brandt, Mrs. Neil Pearson, Alice Johnson, all of Tecumseh, Curtis Dolan of Battle Creek and Jim Cook from East Lansing. Mrs. James Cook was ill with pneumonia and unable to be present. Her husband is leaving Saturday for military service and Mrs. Cook will remain at MSU until the end of the term when she hopes to join her husband.

Mrs. Neville Hart is carrying on the good neighbors policy this week. She entertained 12 new neighbors of Mrs. Al Kusmierz Nov. 18 at the Hart home on Brown St. The Kusmierz family, with four youngsters, moved from River Acres to the Richard Preston residence at 416 N. Union St., and have completely remodeled the house. Both Union Street and Pottawatamie St. ladies had a good visit over their tea and each gave a little resume of their families for Mrs. Kusmierz's benefit. Her husband is associated with Vescio's Market.

Mr. and Mrs. James Danforth were in Ypsilanti recently to attend the Founders' Day concert of the MuPhi Epsilon International Music Sorority at Eastern Michigan University. Linda Sinkey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sinkey, first on the program, sang "Les Cloches" by De-Bussey.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. McConnell left the day before Thanksgiving for their Englewood home in Florida for the winter. Sunday they were feted at a pre-Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wyman Campbell in Milan. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McConnell and Steve of Mason, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Edward McConnell and family of Ann Arbor and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Grigg and Norman Grigg of Brooklyn. Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Studnicka of Milan were also present, bringing a decorated birthday cake for Jack Lee McConnell who was five years old that day.

Lonal Bishop came home from the Houghton Lake area, ruddy faced and happy (?) from a deer hunting spree. No deer, but his excuse was heaps of snow. "Spent most of our time pushing cars," he said.

The mailman takes a holiday or more properly, the mail lady takes a holiday, a forced one. Mrs. Ward Person missed her step at the Thomas Morgan residence on Seneca Nov. 15 and somehow managed to break her ankle. Now she is encased in a walking cast that until now she hasn't been able to master walking with. She has hopes of getting the cumbersome thing off by Christmas time.

Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Donovan and children of Livonia were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sinkey. Mr. Sinkey and Mike and Richard Meade returned Sunday night from Newberry where they spent last week hunting white-tailed deer.

What kind of vitamins is it that Mrs. Carl Burch takes? Congratulations are certainly due to the lady on her 80th birthday anniversary Nov. 26. She has recently completed making a cover for her garbage sacks and before that hammered a new floor into her bedroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred F. Dickinson and the William Vollmers returned from the Dickinson cabin near Grayling Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Dickinson came home Saturday to participate in the Bashore festivities.

Mrs. John Surratt is undergoing a series of tests at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Thomas Hazzard, Coachlite Dr., entertained for her son, Rodney's, seventh birthday anniversary Sunday.

Ten of Rodney's friends spent the afternoon playing games.

Cake and ice cream was served.

Rodney received a variety of gifts.

Think More Of Blessings, Pastor Asks

By DOROTHY GRIGG

"Make us more thinkful for all of our blessings," the Rev. Blair Bashore said as he preached Sunday from the pulpit of the First Baptist Church rounding out a 25-year pastorate here with his wife, Miriam.

"Lord, Help Us to Think and Thank," was the title of the 1097th sermon to be broadcast over Radio Station WABJ from the Baptist Church on the boulevard.

Following the worship service attended by 225 members and guests, dinner was served in the Youth House by young people of the Youth Fellowship. It was prepared by ladies of the church.

Dr. George Burkhard acted as master of ceremonies and introduced distinguished guests present who spoke of the honored guests and their work in the church and community.

The Rev. Donald Porteous represented the Tecumseh Area Ministerial Association, and told of his warm friendship with Mr. Bashore through this group.

The Rev. Todd Roberts of the First Baptist Church, Adrian, represented the Lenawee County Ministerial Association.

Coming from Lansing, Dr. Arthur Farrell of the Michigan Baptist Convention, noted that the local pastor is now considered dean of the Baptist pastors of the Convention.

Mrs. Clifford Curran, who has served as church clerk for 20 of the 25 years, related increases in missionary giving, additions of membership, marriages performed, memorial services officiated and personal appreciation for the years of loyal and devoted service of the Bashores.

Robert H. Moore, one of a group of members in the church at the time that the Bashores came here from Independence, Ia., spoke of the years that the Moores had served in the church and then entertained the audience with a Baptist Sunday School song he had learned as a boy. Mrs. Bertram Updike accompanied him at the piano.

Dr. Burkhard said there are four areas of service he felt should receive special mention during the Bashore program.

He stated that the Rev. Bashore's preaching ministry has been recognized by those attending the worship service and those listening on the radio for the consistently interesting, thought-provoking messages and the diligence displayed by the pastor in relating spiritual values to everyday life.

Carl Fosbender told of the additions and improvements to the church and related facilities, emphasizing the building of the Youth House in 1952 and the removal of the old parsonage, the hard surfacing of the parking area and the purchase of the Stevenson residence where the pastor and his wife now reside.

Mayor Harold Easton recognized the Rev. Bashore for his service to the city in helping to draft the original charter and serving on the first council.

Judge Rex Martin spoke of his association with Mr. Bashore and his contribution to the formation of the Family Counseling Service.

Mrs. Bertram Updike, chairman of the anniversary committee, presented a clock with Westminster chimes to the Bashores on behalf of the church.

The Bashores extend a special "thank you" to those who made the day such a memorable one for them especially to the church boards and to the Women's Society.

Readers May Share Christmas Memories

Holidays have their own special significance in the lives of each of us. A holiday is a memory, a time of reflection, it is a time of what we are, what we have been and what we hope to be in the future. Holidays are people and people are what a newspaper is about and serves.

That is why The Herald would like to offer the chance to our readers to write and tell us your favorite story of Christmas. It can be something that has happened in the past, an anecdote, a memory.

The Herald staff will read the stories as they are received and in the issues of Dec. 19 and 24 will publish as many as space will allow.

Deadline for submitting any stories of Christmas will be Dec. 12. Anyone from the little people just beginning their memories to the older people with attics filled with treasures are eligible. The stories can be humorous, sad or inspirational, in any mood or manner, just like the people The Herald serves.

TIPTON BRIEFS

A public card party will be held Nov. 30 at the K of P Hall at 8 p.m. Please bring sandwiches or cookies.

Worth Bailey of Buffalo, N.Y., and G. P. Bailey of Eau Claire, were guests of Rev. and Mrs. Bailey and family Saturday and Sunday.

Ginger, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Max Bailey entertained seven girl friends at a slumber party Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Clem LaFerriere were hosts to their card club Saturday night. A cooperative dinner was served after which euchre was enjoyed by the group. High prizes were won by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Platt and low prizes by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Anderson.

Mrs. Wallace Wilkin, Mrs. Rodney Bird, Mrs. Bruce Norton and Mrs. Fay Luce attended a bridal shower at the home of Mrs. Richard Rudd in Tecumseh honoring Mrs. Luce's niece, Mrs. Ralph Gibson, of Detroit.

Surprise!!

Felix Kotlarczyk was a surprised and happy hunter this week when he was fortunate enough to shoot a 10-point buck right on his own farm at 11846 Clinton-Macon Rd. Disappointed when he and his family were at the cabin near Lewiston last week, his good spirits were restored by the huge animal which weighed 207 pounds before it was dressed. He had seen several deer in the area, one even came right up to his tractor while he was plowing in the field.

Past Chief Activities

The Addie Kemp Past Chief Club met at the home of Mrs. Richard Dewey Wednesday evening. Dorothy Baker was the co-hostess. Cards were signed and sent to ill members. Mrs. Earl Luce received the mystery gift. Euchre was played with Mrs. William Mukensturm receiving high prize, Mrs. Glen Kemp the low prize, and Mrs. Grover Swarts the lone hand prize. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The next meeting will be a Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Laurence Mohr. Mystery sister gifts will be exchanged.

Grand Chief Mrs. Ethel Richardson, Pythian Sisters, will make her official visit to Tipton Dec. 2. A planned potluck supper will be held at 6:30 p.m. Presentation of 25-year and 50-year certificates will be made.

A Delightful Talk Recalls Aunt Laura

BRITTON — Seventeen members and six guests of the Britton's Woman's Club were present for a planned potluck dinner Tuesday, Nov. 19, in the Fellowship Center of the Congregational Christian Church.

Mrs. Gustav Hannevik gave the devotions on ,'The Art of Thanksgiving."

Mrs. Bert Moore gave a reading on the early Thanksgiving.

The Ladies' trio from the Tecumseh Friends Church presented two musical selections, accompanied by Mrs. William Raeburn.

Guest speaker was Miss Edith Haviland, who gave a delightful talk about the life of her aunt, Laura Haviland, famed woman of this area who helped escaping slaves over a hundred years ago.

President Mrs. Clay Croll reported on the Nov. 6 meeting of the Federation of Woman's Clubs which was held in Adrian.

Also announced were the Lenawee Youth Center Tea, which will be held Nov. 29; and the Goodwill request for new items for the Gift Shop, which will be open Dec. 2.

Mrs. Hannevik will be hostess for the Christmas Tea Dec. 17. Each member is asked to bring Christmas cookies for the tea, and for shut-in boxes. Also needed are staple items to pack in a basket for a needy person.

Saturday Guests

BRITTON — Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. LaVern Russell were Dale Mavis and granddaughter, Gloria Boger, of Auburn, Ind.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Noble Gregg and granddaughter, Beverly Hendricks, of Tecumseh.

Mr. Mavis is a brother of Mrs. Gregg and Mrs. Russell.

Peace Corpsman Tells Of Sierra Leone

BRITTON — Mrs. Ann Wilson of Adrian presented an entertaining program on Sierra Leone, Africa, for the November meeting of the Christian Duets class in the Fellowship Center of the church.

Mrs. Wilson visited her son and family, who are serving in the Peace Corps in Sierra Leone, for several weeks last spring. She related many details of life in that country and showed colorful slides to illustrate her talk. She also brought for display a number of articles from Africa, including native baskets, leather goods, art objects, jewelry and children's books.

The Duets and their guests enjoyed a cooperative dinner before the program. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kahle were hosts.

Coming events at the church were announced by the Rev. Gustav Hannevik.

Thanksgiving Eve service will be Nov. 27 at 8 p.m.; Women's Fellowship will meet Dec. 4 at noon; Christmas Family Night will be Dec. 8; and the Sunday School Christmas program will be Dec. 22. The Duets voted to buy the church Christmas tree.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks, Dec. 18. There will be a one dollar gift exchange.

Evening Service On Thanksgiving

BRITTON — The annual Thanksgiving Eve service in the Congregational Christian Church will be at 8 p.m.

Daily Thanksgiving and Thanksliving" will be the theme Pastor Hannevik will speak on.

The combined high school and adult choirs, under the direction of Mrs. William Raeburn, and a trio consisting of Mrs. John Buckles, Mrs. Keith Swain and Mrs. Joseph Hall will sing.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Family Dinner Is Held Early

BRITTON — A pre-Thanksgiving family dinner was held Sunday in the Henry Ivan home, also a birthday celebration for Henry. After the co-operative dinner was served, Henry opened many nice gifts.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Becker and Vicki of Dearborn; Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Becker of Westland; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Heezen and Becky of Ann Arbor; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Denhard, Gail and Danny of Allen Park; Mrs. Anna Cevora of Detroit; and from the Britton area, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ivan, Dianne and Dennise, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Ivan, Karen and Cindy; Mrs. Larry Ivan, Mrs. Kenneth Ivan, and Mrs. Jerry Benedict and son, Timmy.

Holy Communion Observed Sunday

BRITTON — The sacrament of Holy Communion will be observed at the Bethel Baptist Church Sunday at the 7:30 p.m. service with the Rev. Duane McNeil in charge.

Something to be Thankful For

What is there to be thankful for in a world as tormented as the one we live in? Simple, the other world that is honest, that world which is briefly happy, tender and joyous . . . We were given this life with no guarantee that it is to be completely devoid of misery, pain, disillusionment or torment. However, too often most of us give those tortures of the human spirit over to the artists, writers and composers.

Talent does what it thinks it has to do, genius does what it must. The rest of us can simply kneel in awe of the magnificence of their tragedies and despair and glowing beauty which they transmit to us with hidden senses the average person has stowed away in his personal pest house.

Like an eye within an emotion, like the tearing out of a piece of time and later holding it to your ear to listen to its heartbeat, the whole of the human, divine comedy is portrayed.

We can be most thankful for those things hidden from us through day to day living, small things forgotten in the rush to immortality. One of those moments in time happened to Dorothy Grigg here at the office recently. She wrote of her son preparing breakfast for her after spending all night working in an "auto hatchery." She remembers, and so do those who know her.

Most of us have those moments, but seldom think of them. I cannot help but feel that if more people thought of tenderness and affection more than they thought of how to outdo the other person the world would be a better place in which to live.

Once there was a little girl in Holland in the mid-forties faced with death, hatred, fear and lack of food. In facing extinction, her young mind reached out, not to that which threatened every second of her life, but with brilliant innocence, like a bright star it turned to the good that could have been there.

Even though hatred and death knocked at her door, she did not view her own tragedy and fear, she could not help but believe that man was really good inside and that sooner or later that good would come through and the world would be all right again. She died believing that, because she saw man not in the large scheme of the world of which she was such a little being, but on the smaller scale, the scale that touched her soul and her mind. The things she saw, she saw in other people, the tenderness and warmth in them.

She wrote it down for some of us cynics to pick up from time to time and make us feel ashamed of ourselves. The deep, dark, haunting eyes of Anne Frank were the windows of a special wisdom we could all use.

* * *

The soul of man has no color, no special significance. The soul of man everywhere are much the same. Taught through the evolution of learning, they hate those who could be their friends.

* * *

People can be thankful for newspapers. Sometimes you may wonder why, but it is true, without the freedom of the press we would be a muted nation with only one voice; The Solitary Voice of tyranny.

Newspapers play a small role in the vintage of history. The reporters on newspapers shoot history on the wing, so to speak. Special breed of hunters that they are, they sometimes shoot the wrong bird, but more often they do not. I have had the experience of being foolish enough, like the duck hunter who shot his decoy.That can be embarrassing, to feel like a road company King John speaking Hamlet's aria in the third act of "As You Like It". Only personal histories are made out of shooting rubber ducks.

That reminds of a woman who remarked at a party last week, the only reason I stayed single was, no woman would marry a man who blindfolds his rubber duck when he takes a bath. I say, that is personal history.

* * *

A date comes to my mind for which I am personally happy. November 27 ceased to be a date on the calendar but something that is eternal. I am thankful for it and for what it brought. There are few times in our lives when we can pinpoint dates that we can tell we are different people, when suddenly we become what we have hidden or transformed ouselves into thru awkward years of other hunts. I learned on Nov. 27 one year, that man is good, that man can love again, that things will turn out all right. Love is eternal, it begins and goes on and on, for that be thankful, forever and always.

A TIME FOR Thanksgiving

—Thomas Jefferson

Almighty God, Who has given us this good land for our heritage, we beseech Thee that we may always prove ourselves a people mindful of Thy favor and glad to do Thy will. Bless our land with honorable industry, sound learning and pure manners.

Save us from violence, discord and confusion; from pride and arrogance and from every evil way. Defend our liberties and fashion into one united people the multitudes brought hither out of many kindreds and tongues.

Endow with the spirit of wisdom those to whom in Thy name we entrust the authority of government, that there may be justice and peace at home, and that through obedience to Thy law, we may show forth Thy praise among the nations of the earth.

In the time of prosperity, fill our hearts with thankfulness and in days of trouble, suffer not our trust in Thee to fail; all of which we ask through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Holiday Festival Bazaar

By KAYE STEELE

When the aroma of succulent turkey wafts across Chicago Blvd. on Wednesday, Dec 4, be not deceived that some local restauranteur has added something new to his menu. Just stroll near the bakery and sniff that flavorful smell which will indicate to you that those big, fat birds which survived the Thanksgiving holiday are now roasting slowly to be served in the evening to those fortunate enough to take advantage of the Holiday Festival at the Tecumseh United Methodist Church.

The delicious dinner, complete with stuffing, potatoes, applesauce, gravy, squash, cranberry sauce and 60 tantalizing homemade pies, will be served beginning at 5 p.m. and lasting until 7 p.m. Mrs. Carroll Sprague and her untiring group of faithful cooks will prepare the dinner which is the climax to a busy day.

For those of you who want to visit the holiday lane earlier, the doors of the bazaar open at 9:30 a.m., with the talents and time of the members of the Society being displayed in the various booths — candy, toys, baked goods, needlecraft and special gift items. There will be fun for all ages and much to see and enjoy. All the delicacies and dainties are for sale in this one fund-raising project of the Society.

The Society sends its monies in many directions and so the membership uses its abilities to provide a function that is delightful as well as profitable.

Tipton Church Notes

WOMEN'S FELLOWSHIP

Members voted to accept the certificate of authorization.

Obituaries

● ROBERT MACHAN

Services were held Wednesday in Adrian for Robert Louis Machan, 31, of North Raisin Center Hwy., who was killed in an automobile accident Sunday evening in Tomah, Wis.

He was one of three men riding in a car when it hit a bridge. The other two men were from Wisconsin.

Mr. Machan had been working at the Nash Rambler Co. in Kenosha, Wis., for several months.

The son of Louis and Frances Studnicka Machan, he was born March 17, 1937, in Detroit.

He was a 1958 graduate of Catholic Central High School. Mr. Machan served two years in the Army.

Surviving are his wife, Dorothy; two sons David and Mark, at home; his parents, of West Holloway Rd., R. 5, Adrian; one brother, Richard, of Antioch, Ill.; one sister, Louise Machan of Adrian; two grandmothers, Mrs. Helen Studnicka of rural Blissfield and Mrs. Catherine Horak of Deerfield.

The Rev. Fr. William Carolin officiated and burial was in St. Mary's Church parish cemetery.

● MARIA C. FLORES

Graveside services were held Monday at the Lenawee Hills Memorial Gardens for Maria Cecelia Flores, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Flores, Jr., 4947 DeLeon Dr., who was dead at birth Saturday evening at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Besides her parents, the baby is survived by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ramon Gonzalez, of Mexico and Mr. and Mrs. Juan Flores, Sr., of Tecumseh.

The Rev. Fr. Handley officiated and arrangements were made by the Proctor Funeral Home.

● MRS. ANNA BIRD

Funeral services were held Nov. 19 for Mrs. Anna Bird, 73, who died Nov. 16 at her home in Oroville, Calif.

Mrs. Bird spent her early years in Tecumseh.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. George (Alice) Foos, Oroville, Calif.; two sisters, and a granddaughter, Mrs. Herman Steuwe, Jr., 416 N. Evans, and four great-grandchildren.

New Sales Lady For Kohler Realty

Mrs. Dorothy Wetter, secretary for the past two years in the Glenn Kohler real estate office, has received her license to sell real estate.

Last month, she completed the Real Estate Institute 1 course, offered by the University of Michigan Graduate School of Business Administration. Subjects taught include those required by the National Association of Real Estate Board for a new designation, GRI or Graduate, Realtors Institute.

Mrs. Wetter and her husband reside at 1571 Taylor Rd. They have one daughter, Martha, a student at Siena Heights College.

Season's Opener In Basketball Friday

Tecumseh's orange and black Injuns will travel from their home tepee into enemy territory in Ann Arbor Friday when they take on Ann Arbor Huron in a league tilt to open the 1968-69 basketball season.

The local warriors will be lacking in a big man around the pivot spot with junior Bill Puffer at center, standing 6'3". Puffer will be the only six-footer in the starting lineup for the Tribe.

Others whom Coach Vic Lawson has pegged for openers will be John Kennedy, 5'9", senior guard, and co-captain of the team; Steve Dalton, 5'11", senior forward; Wally Quinn, 5'10", senior, forward; Ken Pieh, 5'10", junior guard; Puffer at center and Jim Hunt, 5'11", senior forward and also co-captain of the team.

All are lettermen returning to the courts this year, along with 6'2" senior forward, Dave Lord. Puffer, Lord, David Laidlaw, at 6'2" and Paul Burns at 6 feet even, are the only men over six foot on the squad.

With the seven returning lettermen, backed by some new blood which promises some hustle on the Indian team, hopes are high for a respectable season in the Huron League this year. The game Friday with Ann Arbor should be an interesting contest for local followers of the Indians.

Merx Wins 4th Varsity Letter

Line Coach Paul MacDonald, who made the presentation to Merx, said, "It's a distinct privilege to award this letter. Larry is a man who commands a lot of respect, and has developed into a team leader by example. He is never unable to play despite injuries and did a fine job despite being transferred to center, a new position for his this year."

Swicks Host Philathea Class

BRITTON — Mr. and Mrs. Mills Swick were the hosts for the Baraca Philathea class meeting at their home Sunday evening.

Twenty-four members and one guest met at 6:30 p.m. for a cooperative ham dinner.

At the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Leland Bush, the class agreed to sponsor a church-wide Family Night Sunday, Dec. 8. A potluck dinner is planned, to be followed by a showing of the film "God Is My Landlord."

A nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Raymond Seagert, Mrs. Bert Moore and Mrs. Gerald Benedict was named to select a slate of officers for elections next month.

The class also voted that each couple will give a dollar to missions instead of the usual Christmas gift exchange. The next meeting which will be the Christmas party, will be Dec. 29 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Cadmus.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Raymond Seagert from the 17th chapter of Luke. Mrs. Percy Cadmus presented the program, reading a Thanksgiving story entitled, "Hester and Chief Massasoit."

It's Off To Chicago For FFA Students

Tecumseh and Clinton FFA members will attend the International Livestock Exposition in Chicago Dec. 4, 5 and 6, going by Tecumseh School bus.

The group will leave Tecumseh at 4:15 a.m. and will leave Clinton at 4:30 a.m., breakfasting at Howard Stricker Plaza, on Indiana turnpike, Wednesday.

At 10 a.m., the group will tour the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago, and eat lunch at the museum. At 2:15 p.m., they will board a bus for the Adler Planetarium tour, and plan to arrive at the Midland Hotel, 172 W. Adams St., at 4:30 p.m. for check-in.

Thursday, they will visit the Board of Trade, largest grain auction in the world and attend a movie. This will be followed by a visit to the Police Department, with some free time until 4 p.m., when they assemble for the bus trip to the horse show and livestock show, where 37 breeds of livestock are on display.

Friday morning, they will tour the International Harvester Crawler Plant, return to the hotel to eat and load up the luggage, and then tour the Shedd Aquarium and Natural History Museums before leaving for home.

Expected arrival home time is 10:30 to 11 p.m., Friday.

Harvest Auction Nets $168.02 For Missions

CLINTON — One of the most successful Harvest Auctions ever held in the United Church of Christ, netted $168.02, Monday night. The odd cents total resulted from the spirited bidding in which children and adults participated for a mish-mash of items which ranged from pickles to pie plates, and included such odd items as an imported pansy vase and a hard-board chair seat.

Mrs. Harold Calhoun and Robert Vogel shared the auctioneering duties.

Proceeds from the event each year go to the Our Christian World Mission fund. Clarence Heimerdinger and Mrs. George Heimerdinger served as clerks.

There were 58 persons attending the family cooperative dinner which preceded the auction. Arrangements for the dinner were made by the Missionary Committee, Mrs. Edgar Randall, Mrs. John Hoelzer and Mrs. Edwin Bihlmyer.

MRS. ETHEL KENNEDY SHOWS APPRECIATION FOR "THE LIMITS OF MEN."

A Note Of Appreciation

Luella Mohler, 518 N. Locust St., Adrian, is the proud recipient of a note of appreciation from Mrs. Ethel Kennedy, widow of the late Senator Robert Kennedy, for her poem, "The Limits of Men."

The poem, which was printed in The Herald June 27, was written June 9, 1968, as Mrs. Mohler watched the day-long funeral rites, while she was a patient in Bixby Hospital.

Mrs. Kennedy also enclosed a lithograph of Robert Kennedy.

Two months ago, Mrs. Mohler received an acknowledgement from President Lyndon Johnson for a copy of the poem.

She says this is the first poetry that she has ever received any recognition for.

She has 300 copies of the poem suitable for mailing, available for 25c, the cost of mailing. Write Louella Mohler, 518 N. Locust St., Adrian.

Federal Grant Awarded County

Milton C. Porter, Lenawee Intermediate School District Superintendent, announced that he had received word on October 29, 1968, the Michigan State Board of Education appropriated $950,000.00 of federal funds to the Lenawee Intermediate School District for construction of the proposed Lenawee Area Vocational-Technical Education Center.

The State Board of Education committed this appropriation for after July 1, 1969, when construction contracts for the new vocational-technical facility are to be let for bid.

William Ross, Director of Vocational Education, announced that Lenawee County will apply for approximately $250,000.00 additional federal funding during the 1969-70 fiscal year.

These appropriations will be used for construction of the $2,250,000 county-vocational-Technical education facility on a matching basis. The local (county) share was provided by the June 10 county-wide 1.5 mill tax levy election.

This federal commitment is the outcome of presentations and applications to the State Department of Education made by representatives of Lenawee County schools including Milton C. Porter, Intermediate Superintendent; Carlo H. Heikkinen, Adrian Public Schools; William J. Ross, Director of Vocational Education; James R. Brown, Vocational Principal; and the architectural firm of Samborn, Steketee, Otis & Evans.

Pack Grateful To Sponsors

Members of Pack 72 Cub Scouts have expressed gratitude to the Lenawee Glass Co. for their financial support as sponsor of the Pack.

Twenty-three boys attended the meeting Nov. 18 and plans were made for a yule log hunt in December when the theme for the Pack meeting will be "The Pleasure of Giving and Sharing."

No special activities were planned for November.

Pack meetings are held the third Monday of each month at 7 p.m. at the Community Center. Den meetings are not held the week of Pack Night.

Den mothers will give all eligible awards to Robert Bird, award chairman, one month in advance of the Pack meeting. Announcement was made that no additional awards will be honored until the following meeting without exception.

The Pack has openings in the dens for boys from seven years of age in the third grade or 8-10 years.

Interested boys may contact Robert Hyde, cubmaster, by calling 423-7161. Macon and Ridgeway area boys will also be welcomed.

Mrs. Sandra Thornberry and daughter, Rene, of Cicero, Ill., arrived Friday evening to spend the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Schooley and her sisters, Diane and Helen.

All Dressed Up

Approximately 300 people viewed the Top to Toe Style Show sponsored Nov. 18 by the American Legion Auxiliary.

Mrs. Truman Rentschler, president of the Auxiliary, introduced Rushia who presented live models wearing latest styles in Beeline Fashions with exotic hair modes described by Ray of the R-Bon Beauty Salon. He did some actual styling on the stage.

Mrs. Elmer Spreeman demonstrated Luziers Cosmetics. Betty Flanders and Patti Mull of Flanders Music presented background music and many shoes and purses were shown from Proctors.

A number of door prizes were given by Rushia, Ray and Mrs. Spreeman.

Mrs. Larry Kanous headed a group of Auxiliary members who made an artistic setting for the show and executive board members greeted guests at the door following the revue.

Mrs. Byron Goodman was ticket chairman.

Mrs. Rentschler stated that the Auxiliary wishes to acknowledge with gratitude the work of those behind the scenes and to express thanks to the public for their patronage.

"The financial success of this event helps to extend the program of the Auxiliary among the veterans and their families," Mrs. Rentschler concluded.

A GOOD TIME TO START

If you are not already hooked on the habit, have you ever toyed with the idea of getting a bird feeder and some food just to see what would happen? Well, you can never do it any sooner than right now. This is a good time to initiate a bird-feeding program, too. With you-know-what season headed this way, the business at the free lunch counters will be very good.

Besides being fun to see, the birds often need a helping hand during the rigorous weather and thus a bird feeding hobby is a two-sided affair. You help them and they entertain you.

To start a feeding program can be simplicity itself — or, if you prefer, it can be complicated and quite elaborate. From experience, we have found that our feathered free-loaders seem to care not so much what the feeder looks like as what it contains.

Any kind of a covered feeder affords two distinctive advantages; it keeps the food dry and the diners themselves are protected.

The open tray which serves as the near-my-window feeder is rather wasteful of feed, much blows off and there is spoilage, and occasionally during bad weather the birds desert it in favor of the more sheltered dining room, but because of the camera we stubbornly cling to it. The birds will just have to suffer this slight inconvenience.

AS TO HOW to stock your new feeding station, the choice is almost limitless. Scratch feed or wild bird mix is, of course, the staple food. For special treats and to entice those special birds, such as cardinals and evening grosbeaks, don't forget a plentiful supply of sunflower seeds.

Most birds dearly love them. Fun is also to be had with leftovers — bluejays and tufted titmice do not seem to mind if roasted peanuts are rather stale, chick-a-dees like hard doughnuts (this is reliable hearsay and not first hand knowledge, Our Missie has first claim on old doughnuts), fruit such as apples, raisins and oranges appeal to several birds and, of course, peanut butter always draws a crowd.

By the way, if much peanut butter is fed, it should be well laced with scratch feed so as to eliminate any chance of choking. It is interesting to experiment and see who comes to eat what. Please let me know if you have anything unusual.

Another important staple to offer your birds is suet. All the woodpecker family relishes this as do the chick-a-dees, bluejays and wall, it is surprising the number of birds that will drop in for a nip of suet now and then.

A piece of suet laid on the feeder suits many birds but the shyer ones seem to prefer having it hung from a tree limb.

There are no hard or fast rules for placing bird feeders. I am a great advocate of having them in front of a convenient window — after all, when you provide the banquets it seems only fair that you should have the fun of watching your guests. The gang of regulars who keep our bird-watching interesting do not seem a bit afraid to come close to the window, the one feeder is only two and one-half feet away.

If, however, you should encounter some skiddish free-loaders, try placing the feeder well away from the house and, as they become accustomed to it, gradually move it to a more desirable location.

And please, if your first attempts are not all you wish them to be, if you are not immediately overrun with the unusual and exotic, do not become discouraged. Our list of feeding station patrons may be long but, good gracious, we have been at it for years and years.

AND NOW A word of caution. If you do start a feeding program, BE FAITHFUL. Your feathered visitors will become dependent upon your handouts, they will make it a habit to dine with you, and it is therefore most important for the food to always be there.

When the weather is bad, when the snow banks are high and the icy yards slippery, the temptation to wait or put off getting outside to fill empty feeders is great. But these are exactly the times when an easily available food supply is important. Often it is vitally important. So please, if you start feeding the birds, be prepared to continue throughout the winter.

Finally, look out for cats. I have no good advice about how to keep them out of a yard — if I did, I would put into practice here. Shooing away helps, but it is far from really being effective. Look out, Marda, you do not have time for a tirade on cats.

It is heartbreaking, though, to see one of these four-legged murderers slinking through your yard when you have gone to great length to encourage the birds to stop by.

So it is that I wish you luck and remember, if you have wondered about feeding the birds, this is a good time to start!

German Student Finds Most Americans Sane

By BILL WHITING

To Miss Dagmar Schultze, a 16-year-old German exchange student, this startling realization stands out most vividly in her year's American adventure.

Dagmar, who is a senior at THS, came here from Germany this August on a Youth for Understanding flight from Hamburg to Detroit. There, she was met by her sponsoring family, Mr. and Mrs. William Ferrow, 7998 E. Monroe Rd., and their two children, Gary, who is attending college, and Audrey, also a senior.

Miss Schultze "enjoys" a hectic class schedule which includes Government and Economics, United States History, American Literature, Sociology, and Physical Education. In addition to this regular classwork, she finds time to become involved in several extra-curricular activities as GAA and Student Council. She has keen interests in reading, sports and drawing.

She has been interested in coming to the United States since her brother came last year. It was his influence and encouragement that enabled her to make the trip.

Before leaving Hamburg, Dagmar and other prospective exchange students attended several preparatory seminars to acquaint themselves with American life. In addition, they reviewed pertinent German facts to help them field the barrage of questions which they frequently run into. Past travelers were on hand to give them a hint of what to expect.

In coming to America, she stated she wanted to become acquainted with the language, which she speaks quite fluently, and study the people and their culture.

In Germany, she pointed out, children take lessons for several years and often attend dances with their parents.

Despite this slight flaw, Dagmar, who is supposed to have an appetite for cookies, is enjoying her new surroundings and all the normal people, "the nice people — they're all so neat and friendly."

Attack Carrier Visits Japan

Airman Larry E. Hartwig, USN, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Hartwig, 115 W. Pottawatamie, visited Yokosuka, Japan, aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Constellation.

Constellation arrived in Yokosuka from conducting combat operations with the Seventh Fleet off the coast of Vietnam.

In addition to sight-seeing in Yokosuka, many crewmen enjoyed tours to Tokyo, Yokohama, Kamakura and Hakone.

The San Diego-based carrier recently spent a 28-day period in the Gulf of Tonkin where Constellation pilots continued to disrupt and impede supplies flowing into North Vietnam. While knocking out nine bridges and destroying 134 trucks and 280 supply barges, they also silenced 56 anti-aircraft gun emplacements and struck four surface-to-air missile sites.

Two Dears Bag Deer

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wagner, 7328 Billmyer Rd., decided to do their hunting close to home for the first time this year.

On nearby property, east of Tecumseh, they both bagged their deer Monday, a 4-pointer about 8 a.m. and a 9-pointer about 4 p.m.

Mr. Wagner reported seeing eight deer since they started hunting last Friday.

Select Student For Who's Who

David Porteous, son of Rev. and Mrs. Donald Porteous, 409 Seminole Dr., is among 27 seniors from Albion College selected for publication in the 1967-68 "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

The selection is based on scholarship, leadership and participation, made by the faculty with the final choosing determined by senior class vote.

Scouts Serve

Ten hours of Community Service was the requirement three Boy Scouts of Troop 73 fulfilled as they assisted in the Community Fund Foundation Drive.

James Crandall, Richard Packard and Robert Meadows helped with Push and Pull stickers and in making up kits for the workers.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITOR:

It's that time again! Hunting season, I mean. A person wouldn't have to be in our house long before he'd realize that fact. My husband's odd assortment of hunting apparel can be seen dripping dry from every available hook and knob in the place. His boots are sitting on a newspaper by the back door. "Kids, don't knock them over, they're still about one-third full of muddy water."

And the aroma of sopping wet gloves drying on the stove fills the air. There's really nothing quite like it. My husband has always liked to hunt but didn't really get serious about it until two years ago.

Then, he and three or four other guys went up north hunting and really did it up right, tenting out in the woods, and all. After three days of sitting out on a stump in the freezing weather, awaiting a deer, he came home empty-handed.

Then he and my brother turned around and bagged a buck about three miles from our house. Everybody said that the deer down here are better and fatter anyway, they're corn-fed, while the less fortunate northern brothers fare on bark and anything else they can scrounge up.

So I thought he'd be reasonable, and thrifty, and hunt around here, the next deer season. Not on your life. Last year the same guys bundled up their stuff and went up north again. And again came home empty-handed. He was lucky to have come home at all.

Late one night when he was alone in the tent, sound asleep, the camp stove blew up. The fellas came back to find the tent covered with soot and my husband out cold from the fumes. They dragged him outside, gave him artificial respiration and soon brought him to.

You'd think an experience like that would sour a guy on hunting for the rest of his life. Not so!

This year, I didn't say a word; I just waited to see what he'd do. Sure enough, first day of waterfowl season, he shot out of bed at 6:30 a.m., and guess who can't get back to sleep once they've been woke up? Me! And a whole platoon could get dressed more quietly than my husband.

He went hunting in the rain all day long. You wouldn't believe what happened to him this time. My brother shot a duck and it landed right in the middle of a swamp. Why can't a duck have the common decency to land on dry ground?

My husband, who else, went out on a big lily pad to try to retrieve the duck for him and the whole thing collapsed. He really got drenched that time. You'd think a 175-pound, 30-year-old man would know better than to use a lily pad for a stepping stone. However, he was none the worse for his dunking. I would have gotten pneumonia or worse.

So now it's deer season and here we go again. Nothing noteworthy happened to him yet, but you can be sure I'm keeping my fingers crossed.

Deer are such lovely animals. Fellas, how could you look one of those lovely innocent creatures in its soft brown eyes and ever pull that trigger? I couldn't, not for love nor money. My husband argues that if the deer weren't hunted they would multiply out of proportion to the food supply and then starve to death. Shooting them would be much more merciful. Maybe so, but if I were the deer, and had a choice, I think I'd take my chances with the elements, and keep my head on my shoulders where it belongs.

Well, I guess I really can't complain too much. I might have married a sky-diver or a race track driver or a tight-rope walker; then I'd really have something to worry about. Or, I might have gotten stuck with a man who did nothing but sit around all day long watching TV and had no real interest in anything and got no fun and enjoyment out of life.

Come to think of it, I wouldn't change my husband at all! True, he's nuts, but I like him that way.

TO THE EDITOR:

I hope that you will find a place in your paper where I can express my gratitude to those who made my recent visit so pleasant.

Recently I had the great pleasure of visiting old friends in the Britton-Tecumseh area. I have been a resident in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia 24 years.

I would feel negligent in many ways if I did not express myself at this time about a gathering of old school friends of Britton High who were invited by Mrs. Margaret Aebersold to her home the night of November 5. A wonderful and thoughtful lady if there ever was one.

Here I met old friends whom I had not, in some cases, seen in over 50 years, and when they would say, "Don't you know me?" I would sometimes say in embarrassment, "I am sorry that I do not." With each such instance I became more aware of how time flies, and how we sometimes do not use it to the best advantage among our friends. Having old friends say, "Come and stay with us while you are here," revealed the true meaning and intent of friendships.

I can truly and honestly say that this experience has been one of the highlights of my life. To our mutual good friend, Margaret, and others who were instrumental in my wonderful visit, I can only say what my heart tells me to say, "Good bye, good luck and God bless you all."

Sincerely,
Marsh Drury.

Patricia Ann Littrell, Ronald F. Coffelt Wed

CLINTON — Marriage vows were exchanged by Patricia Ann Littrell and Ronald F. Coffelt Saturday evening in the United Church of Christ.

The Rev. Dennis Goodrow, pastor of the Assembly of God performed the 7:30 p.m. ceremony before an altar setting enhanced with pyramid arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums, flanked by branch candelabra trimmed with palm foliage and satin bows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Littrell, 214 W. Church St., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Coffelt, 119 E. Church St.

Carolyn Girbach was the organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Lace appliques accented the bodice of the bride's A-line gown, with a camea neckline and long fitted sleeves. A detachable train was also trimmed with lace applique. A forward headpiece of lace petals, pearls, hand-rolled roses and rhinestones held her fingertip length veil.

Mrs. Thomas Klomp of Clinton was her sister's matron of honor. She wore an empire gown of royal blue velvet brocade and chiffon matching royal blue. Royal blue velvet fruit accented her cascade of white snowdrift pompons and light blue carnations.

Gowned identically to the matron of honor, the bridesmaids were Mrs. Brian Baker, of Tipton, cousin of the bride; Mrs. Richard Faust, Clinton, cousin of the bridegroom; and Linda Coffelt, sister of the groom.

The guests were seated by Thomas Klomp, brother-in-law of the bride, Brian Baker, Tipton, and Warren Starks of Clinton.

The royal blue motif was used to decorate the bride's table at the reception attended by 200 guests in the Tecumseh Products Union Hall. Mrs. Wayne Poore and Mrs. Nick Kaparas poured beverages.

The bride is a 1966 graduate of Clinton High School and is a dental assistant in the office of Murray, Laidlaw and Wolf, Tecumseh.

Mr. Coffelt is a 1963 graduate of Clinton High School and is employed at Ford Motor Company, Ypsilanti.

Upon their return from a two-week wedding trip to Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Coffelt will reside at 113 Bartlett Rd.

Repeat Nuptial Vows At St. Dominic's

CLINTON — Nuptial vows were exchanged by Cynthia Young and Richard Rossow before the Rev. Fr. Joseph Noelke, Saturday at 6 p.m. in St. Dominic's Catholic Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Young, 112 Currier St., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rossow, of Milwaukee, Wis.

Jo Ann Sharpe was the organist.

Vases of white chrysanthemums graced the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin, empire-styled gown. The scooped-neck bodice was accented with lace appliques, pearls and crystals. A small pillbox hat held the bride's lace-edged mantilla. Her bouquet was white roses and chrysanthemums.

Wearing similarly styled gowns of moss green velvet were bridesmaids: Mary Rossow, of Madison, Wis., sister of the groom; Sandy Sadewasser of Ann Arbor; Mary and Teresa Young, sisters of the bride. They carried nosegays of chrysanthemums in shades of gold.

The ushers were Thomas J. Young, brother of the bride; Thomas Jehn, of Madison, Wis., cousin of the groom and Robert Butzloff of Milwaukee.

The wedding cake was served by Bonnie Wyzgowski of Ann Arbor; gifts were opened by Mrs. Thomas Hinterman of Youngstown, N. Y., and May Ellen Adams of Imlay City had charge of the guest book.

The bride is a graduate of Clinton High School and is a licensed practical nurse, formerly employed at St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor.

The groom is a graduate of Carthage College, Kenosha, Wis., earned his master's degree at Eastern Michigan University, is a member of Tau Delta Psi fraternity. He teaches in John Muir Junior High School, Milwaukee.

The couple will reside at 8401 Lynx, Apt. 7, Milwaukee, Wis. 53225.

Social Concerns Told By Salvation Army

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — John E. Werner, Captain of the Adrian Salvation Army Citadel, told of the history and social concerns of the Army to members of the Women's Fellowship of the United Church of Christ and their guests, Mrs. John Monaghan and Mrs. Frank Hahn, Thursday evening.

Capt. Werner was introduced by Mrs. Agnes Geiger, Clinton representative for the Salvation Army.

Founded in 1865 by William Booth in London, England, a former Methodist, this movement spread to every nation in the world.

Now the Salvation Army is in every county in the United States, and the Adrian army serves the entire Lenawee County.

Besides the emergency welfare service for which the Army has become well known, alcoholic rehabilitation centers are maintained and more recently drug centers, homes for unwed mothers, general hospitals and nursing homes, children's homes, and senior citizen's homes.

In some countries the Salvation Army maintains schools and refugee centers.

A day care center is being established in Adrian to provide a service for the children of welfare mothers who must go to work by government directive, in the near future.

"We strive to meet the needs of the people, wherever they arise," Capt. Werner explained.

One graphic illustration, was the report he gave that the Salvation Army provided food for the riot troops brought into Detroit in July, 1967, for a day before the U. S. Army even made arrangements for canteen service.

The Salvation Army is presently building a new citadel in Adrian.

Following the serving of refreshments, the business meeting was held.

The president, Mrs. Robert Vogel, named Mrs. Paul Dunham sunshine chairman. Anyone who knows of someone ill in the congregation is asked to notify Mrs. Dunham.

Mrs. Arthur Hill, material aid chairman, explained the need for used men's white shirts to be made into hospital gowns.

The annual Christmas dress project for the Salvation Army is under way, and additional seamstresses are needed, Mrs. Hill said. This year larger girls' dresses are needed, in sizes 8 to 14. Anyone wishing to donate larger pieces of yard-goods or to sew the dresses may contact Mrs. Edgar Randall who is in charge.

A sum was voted for the purchase of additional clothing to accompany the gift of dresses to be taken to the Salvation Army in December.

The Fellowship will host a family potluck candlelight supper, on Dec. 23, with Mrs. E. John Hoelzer and Mrs. Donald Corwin in charge.

It was voted to give $50 to the parsonage redecorating fund.

Announcement was made of a special open meeting to be sponsored by the Fellowship on Friday, Dec. 6, at 7:30 p.m., when Frank Weaver, regional director of the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) will give a first-hand report of the Middle-Eastern and Greece areas he visited last summer and saw the dispersal of CROP donations to needy people. He will have some colorful films to show of his tour for CROP.

Mr. Weaver, of Boulder, Colo., is the son of Mrs. Linn Weaver.

The next regular meeting of the Women's Fellowship will be Jan. 23.

Detroit Bank Buys Bonds

CLINTON — Bank of the Commonwealth of Detroit, was the successful bidder for the $2,280,000 in building bonds for the new high school and remodeling program at Clinton Community Schools.

Bids were opened at the meeting of the board of education, last Wednesday night. There were two bidders.

The bonds which mature from 1969 to 1998 range in interest from 5.5% to 4.5% with an average interest of 5.1821%.

It was reported that the Clinton School District has received an "A" rating by Standard & Poor's bond rating service and a "BAA" rating from Moody Investment Service.

Richard Wegner states this rating "together with the assistance given the project by Dave Van Tuyle of the State Savings Bank, and Pat Meadows of the United Savings Bank of Tecumseh, expedited the bond sale to a great extent, and both should be commended for their assistance."

Preparation of the bonds and closing of the bond sale will take place in Detroit before Christmas.

It is expected that the architects will have the final drawings of the building for presentation to the board early in December.

The board also took action to institute an elementary basketball program.

A GOOD TIME TO START

If you are not already hooked on the habit, have you ever toyed with the idea of getting a bird feeder and some food just to see what would happen? Well, you can never do it any sooner than right now. This is a good time to initiate a bird-feeding program, too. With you-know-what season headed this way, the business at the free lunch counters will be very good.

Besides being fun to see, the birds often need a helping hand during the rigorous weather and thus a bird feeding hobby is a two-sided affair. You help them and they entertain you.

To start a feeding program can be simplicity itself — or, if you prefer, it can be complicated and quite elaborate. From experience, we have found that our feathered free-loaders seem to care not so much what the feeder looks like as what it contains.

Any kind of a covered feeder affords two distinctive advantages; it keeps the food dry and the diners themselves are protected.

The open tray which serves as the near-my-window feeder is rather wasteful of feed, much blows off and there is spoilage, and occasionally during bad weather the birds desert it in favor of the more sheltered dining room, but because of the camera we stubbornly cling to it. The birds will just have to suffer this slight inconvenience.

AS TO HOW to stock your new feeding station, the choice is almost limitless. Scratch feed or wild bird mix is, of course, the staple food. For special treats and to entice those special birds, such as cardinals and evening grosbeaks, don't forget a plentiful supply of sunflower seeds.

Most birds dearly love them. Fun is also to be had with leftovers — bluejays and tufted titmice do not seem to mind if roasted peanuts are rather stale, chick-a-dees like hard doughnuts (this is reliable hearsay and not first hand knowledge, Our Missie has first claim on old doughnuts), fruit such as apples, raisins and oranges appeal to several birds and, of course, peanut butter always draws a crowd.

By the way, if much peanut butter is fed, it should be well laced with scratch feed so as to eliminate any chance of choking. It is interesting to experiment and see who comes to eat what. Please let me know if you have anything unusual.

Another important staple to offer your birds is suet. All the woodpecker family relishes this as do the chick-a-dees, bluejays and well, it is surprising the number of birds that will drop in for a nip of suet now and then.

A piece of suet laid on the feeder suits many birds but the shyer ones seem to prefer having it hung from a tree limb.

There are no hard or fast rules for placing bird feeders. I am a great advocate of having them in front of a convenient window — after all, when you provide the banquets it seems only fair that you should have the fun of watching your guests. The gang of regulars who keep our bird-watching interesting do not seem a bit afraid to come close to the window, the one feeder is only two and one-half feet away.

If, however, you should encounter some skiddish free-loaders, try placing the feeder well away from the house and, as they become accustomed to it, gradually move it to a more desirable location.

And please, if your first attempts are not all you wish them to be, if you are not immediately overrun with the unusual and exotic, do not become discouraged. Our list of feeding station patrons may be long but, good gracious, we have been at it for years and years.

AND NOW A word of caution. If you do start a feeding program, BE FAITHFUL. Your feathered visitors will become dependent upon your handouts, they will make it a habit to dine with you, and it is therefore most important for the food to always be there.

When the weather is bad, when the snow banks are high and the icy yards slippery, the temptation to wait or put off getting outside to fill empty feeders is great. But these are exactly the times when an easily available food supply is important. Often it is vitally important. So please, if you start feeding the birds, be prepared to continue throughout the winter.

Finally, look out for cats. I have no good advice about how to keep them out of a yard — if I did, I would put into practice here. Shooing away helps, but it is far from really being effective. Look out, Marda, you do not have time for a tirade on cats.

It is heartbreaking, though, to see one of these four-legged murderers slinking through your yard when you have gone to great length to encourage the birds to stop by.

So it is that I wish you luck and remember, if you have wondered about feeding the birds, this is a good time to start!

German Student Finds Most Americans Sane

By BILL WHITING

To Miss Dagmar Schultze, a 16-year-old German exchange student, this startling realization stands out most vividly in her year's American adventure.

Dagmar, who is a senior at THS, came here from Germany this August on a Youth for Understanding flight from Hamburg to Detroit. There, she was met by her sponsoring family, Mr. and Mrs. William Perrow, 7998 E. Monroe Rd., and their two children, Gary, who is attending college, and Audrey, also a senior.

Miss Schultze "enjoys" a hectic class schedule which includes Government and Economics, United States History, American Literature, Sociology, and Physical Education. In addition to this regular classwork, she finds time to become involved in several extra-curricular activities as GAA and Student Council. She has keen interests in reading, sports and drawing.

She has been interested in coming to the United States since her brother came last year. It was his influence and encouragement that enabled her to make the trip.

Before leaving Hamburg, Dagmar and other prospective exchange students attended several preparatory seminars to acquaint themselves with American life. In addition, they reviewed pertinent German facts to help them field the barrage of questions which they frequently run into. Past travelers were on hand to give them a hint of what to expect.

In coming to America, she stated she wanted to become acquainted with the language, which she speaks quite fluently, and study the people and their culture.

In Germany, she pointed out, children take lessons for several years and often attend dances with their parents.

Despite this slight flaw, Dagmar, who is supposed to have an appetite for cookies, is enjoying her new surroundings and all the normal people, "the nice people — they're all so neat and friendly."

Attack Carrier Visits Japan

Airman Larry E. Hartwig, USN, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred R. Hartwig, 115 W. Pottawatamie, visited Yokosuka, Japan, aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Constellation.

Constellation arrived in Yokosuka from conducting combat operations with the Seventh Fleet off the coast of Vietnam.

In addition to sight-seeing in Yokosuka, many crewmen enjoyed tours to Tokyo, Yokohama, Kamakura and Hakone.

The San Diego-based carrier recently spent a 28-day period in the Gulf of Tonkin where Constellation pilots continued to disrupt and impede supplies flowing into North Vietnam. While knocking out nine bridges and destroying 134 trucks and 280 supply barges, they also silenced 56 anti-aircraft gun emplacements and struck four surface-to-air missile sites.

Two Dears Bag Deer

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wagner, 7326 Billmyer Rd., decided to do their hunting close to home for the first time this year.

On nearby property, east of Tecumseh, they both bagged their deer Monday, a 4-pointer about 8 a.m. and a 9-pointer about 4 p.m.

Mr. Wagner reported seeing eight deer since they started hunting last Friday.

Select Student For Who's Who

The selection is based on scholarship, leadership and participation, made by the faculty with the final choosing determined by senior class vote.

Scouts Serve

Ten hours of Community Service was the requirement three Boy Scouts of Troop 73 fulfilled as they assisted in the Community Fund Foundation Drive.

James Crandall, Richard Packard and Robert Meadows helped with Push and Pull stickers and in making up kits for the workers.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITOR:

It's that time again! Hunting season, I mean. A person wouldn't have to be in our house long before he'd realize that fact. My husband's odd assortment of hunting apparel can be seen dripping dry from every available hook and knob in the place. His boots are sitting on a newspaper by the back door. "Kids, don't knock them over, they're still about one-third full of muddy water."

And the aroma of sopping wet gloves drying on the stove fills the air. There's really nothing quite like it. My husband has always liked to hunt but didn't really get serious about it until two years ago.

Then, he and three or four other guys went up north hunting and really did it up right, tenting out in the woods, and all. After three days of sitting out on a stump in the freezing weather, awaiting a deer, he came home empty-handed.

Then he and my brother turned around and bagged a buck about three miles from our house. Everybody said that the deer down here are better and fatter anyway, they're corn-fed, while the less fortunate northern brothers fare on bark and anything else they can scrounge up.

So I thought he'd be reasonable, and thrifty, and hunt around here, the next deer season. Not on your life. Last year the same guys bundled up their stuff and went up north again. And again came home empty-handed. He was lucky to have come home at all.

Late one night when he was alone in the tent, sound asleep, the camp stove blew up. The fellas came back to find the tent covered with soot and my husband out cold from the fumes. They dragged him outside, gave him artificial respiration and soon brought him to.

You'd think an experience like that would sour a guy on hunting for the rest of his life. Not so!

This year, I didn't say a word; I just waited to see what he'd do. Sure enough, first day of waterfowl season, he shot out of bed at 6:30 a.m., and guess who can't get back to sleep once they've been woke up? Me! And a whole platoon could get dressed more quietly than my husband.

He went hunting in the rain all day long. You wouldn't believe what happened to him this time. My brother shot a duck and it landed right in the middle of a swamp. Why can't a duck have the common decency to land on dry ground?

My husband, who else, went out on a big lily pad to try to retrieve the duck for him and the whole thing collapsed. He really got drenched that time. You'd think a 175-pound, 30-year-old man would know better than to use a lily pad for a stepping stone. However, he was none the worse for his dunking. I would have gotten pneumonia or worse.

So now it's deer season and here we go again. Nothing noteworthy happened to him yet, but you can be sure I'm keeping my fingers crossed.

Deer are such lovely animals. Fellas, how could you look one of those lovely innocent creatures in its soft brown eyes and ever pull that trigger? I couldn't, not for love nor money. My husband argues that if the deer weren't hunted they would multiply out of proportion to the food supply and then starve to death. Shooting them would be much more merciful. Maybe so, but if I were the deer, and had a choice, I think I'd take my chances with the elements, and keep my head on my shoulders where it belongs.

Well, I guess I really can't complain too much. I might have married a sky-diver or a race track driver or a tight-rope walker; then I'd really have something to worry about. Or, I might have gotten stuck with a man who did nothing but sit around all day long watching TV and had no real interest in anything and got no fun and enjoyment out of life.

Come to think of it, I wouldn't change my husband at all! True, he's nuts, but I like him that way.

TO THE EDITOR:

I hope that you will find a place in your paper where I can express my gratitude to those who made my recent visit so pleasant.

Recently I had the great pleasure of visiting old friends in the Britton-Tecumseh area. I have been a resident in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia 24 years.

I would feel negligent in many ways if I did not express myself at this time about a gathering of old school friends of Britton High who were invited by Mrs. Margaret Aebersold to her home the night of November 5. A wonderful and thoughtful lady if there ever was one.

Here I met old friends whom I had not, in some cases, seen in over 50 years, and when they would say, "Don't you know me?" I would sometimes say in embarrassment, "I am sorry that I do not." With each such instance I became more aware of how time flies, and how we sometimes do not use it to the best advantage among our friends. Having old friends say, "Come and stay with us while you are here," revealed the true meaning and intent of friendships.

I can truly and honestly say that this experience has been one of the highlights of my life. To our mutual good friend, Margaret, and others who were instrumental in my wonderful visit, I can only say what my heart tells me to say, "Good bye, good luck and God bless you all."

Sincerely,
Marsh Drury.

Sp/4 Leo Gonzales, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gonzales, Sr., 5549 Macon Hwy., returned home to spend a 45-day furlough with his family after one year in Germany. He left Nov. 24 for Ft. Lewis, Wash., and then Fort Ord, Calif., for advanced training before leaving for Vietnam. He works in the field of radio repair.

A GAS INCINERATOR TAKES THE FUN OUT OF LIFE!
NO MORE GARBAGE MAN TO CHASE!

You hate to spoil a dog's fun, but after all you don't want to lead a dog's life either — make daily trips to a smelly, disease-infested garbage can — dashing through foul weather to the outdoor trash can! Not when a Gas Incinerator will do the disagreeable jobs for you . . . indoors. Put a smokeless, odorless Gas Incinerator in your basement, garage or utility room, drop in your garbage and trash, set the timer and walk away. Nasty weather, smoke, odor — forget it — for only pennies a day.

Patricia Ann Littrell, Ronald F. Coffelt Wed

CLINTON — Marriage vows were exchanged by Patricia Ann Littrell and Ronald F. Coffelt Saturday evening in the United Church of Christ.

The Rev. Dennis Goodrow, pastor of the Assembly of God performed the 7:30 p.m. ceremony before an altar setting enhanced with pyramid arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums, flanked by branch candelabra trimmed with palm foliage and satin bows.

MRS. RONALD COFFELT

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Littrell, 214 W. Church St., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Coffelt, 119 E. Church St.

Carolyn Girbach was the organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Lace appliques accented the bodice of the bride's A-line gown, with a camea neckline and long fitted sleeves. A detachable train was also trimmed with lace applique. A forward headpiece of lace petals, pearls, hand-rolled roses and rhinestones held her fingertip length veil.

Mrs. Thomas Klomp of Clinton was her sister's matron of honor. She wore an empire gown of royal blue velvet brocade and chiffon matching royal blue. Royal blue velvet fruit accented her cascade of white snowdrift pompons and light blue carnations.

Gowned identically to the matron of honor, the bridesmaids were Mrs. Brian Baker, of Tipton, cousin of the bride; Mrs. Richard Faust, Clinton, cousin of the bridegroom; and Linda Coffelt, sister of the groom.

The guests were seated by Thomas Klomp, brother-in-law of the bride, Brian Baker, Tipton, and Warren Starks of Clinton.

The bride is a 1966 graduate of Clinton High School and is a dental assistant in the office of Murray, Laidlaw and Wolf, Tecumseh.

Mr. Coffelt is a 1963 graduate of Clinton High School and is employed at Ford Motor Company, Ypsilanti.

Upon their return from a two-week wedding trip to Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Coffelt will reside at 113 Bartlett Rd.

Repeat Nuptial Vows At St. Dominic's

CLINTON — Nuptial vows were exchanged by Cynthia Young and Richard Rossow before the Rev. Fr. Joseph Noelke, Saturday at 6 p.m. in St. Dominic's Catholic Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Young, 112 Currier St., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rossow, of Milwaukee, Wis.

Jo Ann Sharpe was the organist.

Vases of white chrysanthemums graced the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin, empire-styled gown. The scooped-neck bodice was accented with lace appliques, pearls and crystals. A small pillbox hat held the bride's lace-edged mantilla. Her bouquet was white roses and chrysanthemums.

Wearing similarly styled gowns of moss green velvet were bridesmaids: Mary Rossow, of Madison, Wis., sister of the groom; Sandy Sadewasser of Ann Arbor; Mary and Teresa Young, sisters of the bride. They carried nosegays of chrysanthemums in shades of gold.

The ushers were Thomas J. Young, brother of the bride; Thomas Jehn, of Madison, Wis., cousin of the groom and Robert Butzloff of Milwaukee.

The wedding cake was served by Bonnie Wyzgowshki of Ann Arbor; gifts were opened by Mrs. Thomas Hinterman of Youngstown, N. Y., and May Ellen Adams of Imlay City had charge of the guest book.

The bride is a graduate of Clinton High School and is a licensed practical nurse, formerly employed at St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor.

The groom is a graduate of Carthage College, Kenosha, Wis., earned his master's degree at Eastern Michigan University, is a member of Tau Delta Psi fraternity. He teaches in John Muir Junior High School, Milwaukee.

The couple will reside at 8401 Lynx, Apt. 7, Milwaukee, Wis. 53225.

Social Concerns Told By Salvation Army

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — John E. Werner, Captain of the Adrian Salvation Army Citadel, told of the history and social concerns of the Army to members of the Women's Fellowship of the United Church of Christ and their guests, Mrs. John Monaghan and Mrs. Frank Hahn, Thursday evening.

Capt. Werner was introduced by Mrs. Agnes Geiger, Clinton representative for the Salvation Army.

Founded in 1865 by William Booth in London, England, a former Methodist, this movement spread to every nation in the world.

Now the Salvation Armv is in every county in the United States, and the Adrian army serves the entire Lenawee County.

Besides the emergency welfare service for which the Army has become well known, alcoholic rehabilitation centers are maintained and more recently drug centers, homes for unwed mothers, general hospitals and nursing homes, children's homes, and senior citizen's homes.

In some countries the Salvation Army maintains schools and refugee centers.

A day care center is being established in Adrian to provide a service for the children of welfare mothers who must go to work by government directive, in the near future.

"We strive to meet the needs of the people, wherever they arise," Capt. Werner explained.

One graphic illustration, was the report he gave that the Salvation Army provided food for the riot troops brought into Detroit in July, 1967, for a day before the U. S. Army even made arrangements for canteen service.

Following the serving of refreshments, the business meeting was held.

The president, Mrs. Robert Vogel, named Mrs. Paul Dunham sunshine chairman. Anyone who knows of someone ill in the congregation is asked to notify Mrs. Dunham.

Mrs. Arthur Hill, material aid chairman, explained the need for used men's white shirts to be made into hospital gowns.

The annual Christmas dress project for the Salvation Army is under way, and additional seamstresses are needed, Mrs. Hill said. This year larger girls' dresses are needed, in sizes 8 to 14. Anyone wishing to donate larger pieces of yard-goods or to sew the dresses may contact Mrs. Edgar Randall who is in charge.

A sum was voted for the purchase of additional clothing to accompany the gift of dresses to be taken to the Salvation Army in December.

The Fellowship will host a family potluck candlelight supper, on Dec. 23, with Mrs. E. John Hoelzer and Mrs. Donald Corwin in charge.

It was voted to give $50 to the parsonage redecorating fund.

Announcement was made of a special open meeting to be sponsored by the Fellowship on Friday, Dec. 6, at 7:30 p.m., when Frank Weaver. regional director of the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) will give a first-hand report of the Middle-Eastern and Greece areas he visited last summer and saw the dispersal of CROP donations to needy people. He will have some colorful films to show of his tour for CROP.

Mr. Weaver, of Boulder, Colo., is the son of Mrs. Linn Weaver.

The next regular meeting of the Women's Fellowship will be Jan. 23.

Clinton Chatter

Mrs. Lena Stein's four sons and their families will be home for Thanksgiving. Commander and Mrs. Earl Stein and family of Virginia Beach, Va., will remain for the weekend, and coming for dinner on Thursday are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stein of Brighton, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Stein and family of Manchester, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Stein of Tipton, and Mrs. Stein's brother, William Yack, of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stuwe are spending Thanksgiving Day and the weekend with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lothiar Hardesty, at Union Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Van Deusen, of Ontario, Calif., came Thursday to visit for a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Van Deusen. It has been 15 years since Stanley visited his hometown.

Detroit Bank Buys Bonds

CLINTON — Bank of the Commonwealth of Detroit, was the successful bidder for the $2,280,000 in building bonds for the new high school and remodeling program at Clinton Community Schools.

Bids were opened at the meeting of the board of education, last Wednesday night. There were two bidders.

The bonds which mature from 1969 to 1998 range in interest from 5.5% to 4.5% with an average interest of 5.1821%.

It was reported that the Clinton School District has received an "A" rating by Standard & Poor's bond rating service and a "BAA" rating from Moody Investment Service.

Richard Wegner states this rating "together with the assistance given the project by Dave Van Tuyle of the State Savings Bank, and Pat Meadows of the United Savings Bank of Tecumseh, expedited the bond sale to a great extent, and both should be commended for their assistance."

Preparation of the bonds and closing of the bond sale will take place in Detroit before Christmas.

It is expected that the architects will have the final drawings of the building for presentation to the board early in December.

The board also took action to institute an elementary basketball program.

Special Services On Gospel Truth

Special Evangelistic Services will be held at the Iron Creek Community Church from Dec. 1 to 8 at 7:30 p.m., with Evangelist Joe Morone of Ypsilanti and guest minister.

The Rev. Morone will have timely and interesting messages for young and old, preaching the plain and sound Gospel truths for which this nation was founded. "If we are to preserve our country's freedom, we must uphold and embrace the Faith of our Pilgrim fathers," the Rev. Morone stated.

There will be special music in each service.

"All are welcome," the pastor, Ralph Janofski, said.

Rotary Foundation

The Rotary Foundation, sponsored by Rotary International, has an objective of furthering the understanding and friendly relations among peoples of different nations. Included in their projects are Rotary Foundation Awards for International Understanding.

Grants will be given, beginning with the 1969-70 academic year for graduate, undergraduate and technical training. One grant will go to one student in every district every year.

Graduate fellowships are awarded to young men and women, who are qualified for graduate study in a country other than their own.

Undergraduate scholarships are the newest of the foundations activities. They are awarded to students for one year of study abroad.

Technical training awards are made to young technicians or artisans for up to a year of study in a foreign country in a wide variety of technical fields.

Also the foundation sponsors a group study exchange which provides travel grants to a team of six outstanding young men who are engaged in a business or profession. They visit a district outside of their home country, visiting communities, homes, schools businesses and governments.

The local club is seeking candidates for these grants at the present time. Deadline for receipt by the district governor of applications of club-sponsored applicants is April 1, 1969.

God Is My Landlord

A story of Perry Hayden's wheat tithing project of nearly 30 years ago will be published in a series of articles by The Herald. Mr. Hayden, a Quaker miller who died here on March 18, 1954, will always be regarded as one of the community's outstanding citizens. His story was written by Raymond J. Jeffreys and is published in book form.

The mill did not fail in the following months. Instead, within one year they had to build a large addition to the mill to care for the expanding business, although the world was still struggling out of the depression years. When the addition was completed, it was dedicated to the Lord. Mr. R. G. LeTourneau, world-known tither and manufacturer of road - building machinery, came to Tecumseh to speak at this occasion.

"God did just as He said He would in the third chapter of Malachi, and my faith was stronger than ever," assured Perry.

As a result of this conviction, he uses his business as a means of reaching others for the Lord. For instance, a few years ago he went to Chicago to see a big-time buyer of flour — one, who, he says, "could either make you or break you, depending on how you impressed him."

Too busy with negotiations to go out and eat, the buyer had lunch brought to his office . . . Perry debated, but only for a moment, and then bowed his head and silently asked God's blessing on the food. The buyer was uniquely impressed, and his estimation of Perry Hayden skyrocketed.

Hayden had proven that he was not a religious fanatic, but a practical and devout Christian businessman, so now he had no trouble enlisting local interest in his latest unique venture in proving the Lord by planting a grain of wheat.

The first step was to find a piece of land on which to conduct the experiment. His first thought was to see the largest landowner in the community — Henry Ford. When Perry approached Edgar J. Clark, manager of the "9,600-acre Ford farms," he jokingly replied, "I guess we could spare a spot large enough to plant one kernel of wheat."

Perry told Clark about the sermon and his idea of planting a kernel of wheat as an experiment . . . and when it was harvested, to take out 10% as a tithe for the church and replant the remaining 90%. The second year he would do the same, and repeat the process long enough to show how God multiplied His blessings for those who mind Him and share with Him.

It was obvious that such a program would soon grow so large that it would have to stop somewhere. The answer came when Hayden recalled Leviticus 25:3 and 4 — "Six years thou shalt sow thy field, and six years thou shalt prune thy vineyard, and gather in the fruit thereof; But in the seventh year shall be a sabbath of rest unto the land, a sabbath for the Lord: thou shalt neither sow thy field, nor prune thy vineyard."

"So, let's make it a six-year experiment," suggested Perry.

Six, referred to as the number of "man" is found many times in the Bible . . . (Goliath' was 6 cubits tall . . . Bring 6 lambs without blemish . . . 6 cities of refuge . . . 6 steps to Solomon's throne . . . 6 waterpots when Christ performed His first miracle . . . etc.)

"But why don't you start with a larger amount — say a cubic inch," suggested Clark, "so in case something happens to the one grain, you will still have plenty to continue the experiment?"

It was agreed . . . and L. C. House, a teacher in one of the Edison Institute schools at Macon made a cubic metal measure, exactly one inch on all sides.

Hayden then took this little cubic measure to C. D. Finkbeiner, a nearby Christian farmer, who raised a certified Bald Rock soft red winter wheat which produces well in Michigan, and told his story again.

Mr. Finkbeiner enthusiastically responded, "Help yourself to all you want."

Perry dipped the little measure into the granary of wheat, leveled it off, and when the kernels were counted, it was discovered that there were exactly 360 — a number which is said to be symbolic of "completion." This was a good omen for the beginning of the experiment . . . There are 360 degrees in a circle . . . The ancient method of reckoning time was twelve months of thirty days each, making 360 days in a year. Daniel 7:25 referred to it as "time" . . . All of the prophecies in the Bible are based on years with 360 days. In any event Perry believed God's hand was already at work.

CHAPTER 2
The World's Smallest Wheat Field

When Perry Hayden returned to Mr. Clark, Ford's farm manager, he pointed to a little plot nearby. "You may have that spot to start your experiment.

The place that he indicated was just east of the old original historic Hayden mill, built in 1835, later restored and owned by Henry Ford, but now owned by the Universal Button Co.

It was immediately accepted. The cubic inch of wheat was planted in a little plot 4 feet by 8 feet, which was the "world's smallest wheat field," on Thursday afternoon, September 26, 1940.

With the aid of eleven boys from the Ford School and Perry's son, Billy Hayden, the little plot was spaded, leveled and planted. Old-timers who saw the hasty operation shook their heads . . .

"Nothing will grow in that sour clay, and if it did, it would be choked out by the quack grass."

The "twelve boys" planted "twelve rows" of thirty kernels each. A few days later, Roland Mohr of the Hayden Mill put a fence around it and a screen over the top, for protection from animals and birds, and left the rest to God. Those who are interested in Biblical numerology will appreciate the connection between the 12 boys and 12 rows, and the Biblical number "twelve" . . . Twelve disciples Twelve tribes of Israel . . . Twelve baskets of food left over after feeding 5,000 . . . The tree of life had twelve manner of fruit . . . etc.)

Anxious eyes and curious neighbors watched this little plot all through the cold winter, the warm spring and hot summer . . . until harvest time, when it was safely cut with a sickle, as in Biblical days. The heads were carefully cut off with scissors, placed in a flour sack and hung on the back porch of the Hayden home to dry.

On August 18, the sack was taken down and threshed, by giving it a thorough pounding with a carpet beater. This sufficiently loosened the heads of wheat so it could be separated from the chaff by "lung power." The sack was emptied on the Hayden's dining room table. The contents were then lifted into the air, a handful at a time, and dropped in to pie pans, as the family blew the chaff out of the falling wheat. After two and a half hours of strenuous effort and scrupulous care, to see that not a kernel was lost, the harvest netted 18,000 kernels, or 50 cubic inches — enough to almost fill a quart jar . . . This was a fifty-fold yield, which was an unusual harvest for Michigan. On the basis of two bushel of seed per acre, it would have meant a 100 bushel yield per acre. This would make the phenomenal record of 81 bushels more than the state average of Michigan. The state average was only nineteen bushels per acre that year.

Out of the fifty cubic inches from the first harvest, 5 cubic inches were given to the church for the tithe.

Perry smiles as he says, "This first tithe was very religious and went directly into the ministry." Pastor Edward Escolme of the local Quaker church, ate it for breakfast.

The results of the first year were so gratifying that the Haydens plunged into plans for the second year with the feeling that it was going to be an easy demonstration. Quite a number of friends were becoming interested in the project by this time. There promised to be a small group of witnesses to watch the planting of the second year's crop, when Perry announced a little planting ceremony for September 26.

Since his Biblical Wheat experiment was beginning to attract some attention, Perry realized that it needed a popular "designation." He went to Pastor Escolme's study, as he often did when confronted with a problem, and together they hit upon the name "Dynamic Kernels."

The Greek word dunamis, meaning "dynamic," is found 121 times in the New Testament. It is translated to mean "power" in 77 places, "mighty work" in 11 places, "miracle" in 8, "strength" in 7, "might" or mighty" in 8, and in 10 other places with similar meanings. A common word expressing all of these meanings then, is "Dynamic" . . . so the kernels of wheat in the experiment were named "Dynamic Kernels." "Dynamic" has 7 letters, and "Kernels" also has seven letters. Biblical numerologists will again note the appearance of these symbolic figures. Seven is said to be the number of "spiritual perfection" . . . (God rested on the seventh day after creation . . . There are seven days in a week . . . The seven angels with the seven candle-sticks . . . The seven churches of Asia . . . The seven crowns . . . etc.) Seven was a sacred number among the Jews. It indicated perfection. The number seven entered very largely into their religious life and observances. The seventh year is known as the Sabbatical Year, or the year of "rest" . . . We observe one day of seven, as the day of rest.

Second Year Sees 54.4 Fold Yield

The second year started with about three-quarters of a quart 45 cubic inches) of seed to plant, after the tithe of five cubic inches had been deducted. This had grown from the original cubic inch, and required a plot of about 24 feet by 60 feet for planting. The site selected by Mr. Clark, Henry Ford's farm manager, for the second crop was just south of the Old Hayden Mill, across the highway in the flats where the Raisin River frequently overflowed.

Perry was a little concerned for fear his experiment might be destroyed if high water flooded the low lands and drowned out the seed.

Hayden's brother-in-law, Perry Satterthwaite, who had observed the river for twenty years, assured him, "The chances are 9 to 1 that your crop will be safe."

The only other suitable spot, on the Ford farms at that time, was near the old race track and everyone agreed that the land was not so good there, so they decided to proceed in the lowlands.

A small plot was marked off on the edge of a field which the Ford workmen had prepared for their own wheat.

On September 26, a little "planting ceremony" was held. Ernest Robison, of the Ford Farms, and Perry, raked and prepared the ground for sowing the wheat. A Ford wheat drill was used to run over the ground to mark out the rows, so the wheat could be accurately planted by hand.

At about 2:30 in the afternoon, after weather delays, the official planting got started. Superintendent William Berkhof of the Tecumseh schools, dismissed the seventh grade, Class B of the eighth grade, Mary Jane and Martha Hayden, and Winona Waldron, to help in the planting. L. C. House of the Ford School, who had made the original cubic inch measure, also came with nine of his boys. Those who gathered to witness the second planting were the Hayden Family, Arthur Eaton of the Soil Conservation Committee, Jerry Mandigo of the Farm Security Administration, a reporter from the Adrian Telegram and a few other friends.

It had now become apparent that there was going to be considerable future interest in the outcome of this unique experiment — so Ralph Comfort, Mrs. Hayden's brother, was delegated as the official photographer of the project, to preserve it in both still and moving pictures. Fortunately he had already taken movies of the first year's activities.

Perry Hayden had prepared 45 envelopes, each containing one of the cubic inches of seed, for the 45 children who were to plant them. When he lined them up, one was missing. His heart sank . . . One forty-fifth of the crop was gone. Projected into the future, it would mean a shrinkage of the experiment to the extent of many thousands of bushels in the sixth year. After all of the care to preserve every kernel, the experiment now seemed to be frustrated.

A giant radio telescope picked up bursts of static from a galaxy 2000 light years away. In them, scientists discovered these simple words:

"Earthmen, your planet is in danger. As your morals decay, your great cities slowly crumble. You will see wars and civil strife."

"But we offer you hope," the ancient message continued. "A new world. We can give you knowledge and bring you the peace for which you have searched so long . . ."

Science-fiction?

Not entirely.

There is a message that originated in a distant place over 2000 years ago. It describes the world as it is today, and it offers hope for the future.

The Bible, inspired by God, is a very real message, one that you can begin reading today. Then go to church on Sunday and meet the Author there.

'Tis The Season At Siena

By MARILYN LEE
Siena Student

In Holland on the eve of December 6, the children leave their wooden shoes outside the doors of their homes to receive the goodies St. Nicholas leaves them during the night. Not to be outdone, the students at Siena Heights College have adopted this practice, and each year it is a part of the tradition that marks the beginning Christmas celebrations.

In the wee hours of the morn, those whose heads are not filled with 'visions of sugar-plums' are apt to notice strange impersonators, dressed not in red, but in black and white, rambling hither and yon throughout the darkened halls, leaving edibles of good cheer in every shoe, slipper or boot that is met along the way. This is the faculty's way of wishing everyone a very Merry Christmas.

The annual Christmas banquet sponsored by the Junior Class will be held on December 11. They hope to convey a "projection of Christmas" to the faculty and students who will join in the activities. These activities of a Mass in Ledwidge entertainment, and dinner. In the spirit of Christmas, it is hoped everyone participating will add their own thoughts to successfully complete this 'Christmas College.'

√

Fifty women's voices make up the Siena Heights College Chorus. Their 1968 Christmas activities include: a Community Charities Christmas Concert on Sunday, Dec. 8, at Adrian College; singing at a Company Managers Personnel Dinner on Thursday, Dec. 12, at the Tecumseh Country Club; their Annual Christmas Concert on Sunday, Dec. 15, in Walsh Hall; and caroling at the various community hospitals and homes in the area.

√

Competition is motivation and a spirit of competition is developed in the residence hall when the Dorm Decoration Contest is announced. Everyone suddenly takes a great interest in the outside of their doors, and the plain brown portals come alive with bright red and green colors, swinging sayings, and the joy of Christmas. Winners are picked by art majors.

√

Other events at Siena Heights College during this holiday month include a mixer which will be sponsored by the Sophomores on Saturday, Dec. 7. Then on Sunday, Dec. 15 the Cecilian Choristers will perform a Christmas Concert at 7:30 p.m. in Walsh Hall.

√

The inevitable day for the beginning of finals is Monday, Dec. 16. Joy will be evident as all exams, and also the semester, end on Saturday, Dec. 21. Students will return to compare Christmas notes on Sunday, Jan. 12, the start of the second semester.

Extend Offer To Prep Students At Cranbrook

The annual $100,000 scholarship competition at Cranbrook School for boys is announced by the headmaster, Robert M. Sandoe.

Awards for the academic year 1969-70 will be made to outstanding boys who would be unable to attend without financial assistance. Though most of the scholarships provide for only part of the tuition, the school is able to offer several full scholarships through grants from the Independence Foundation of Philadelphia. Amount of the scholarships varies with the financial need of each applicant's family.

Scholarships are offered to boys entering the 9th, 10th and 11th grade next September and may be renewed until graduation.

Applicants should present an above-average academic record, be recommended as constructive school citizens and prove need for financial assistance. Deadline for filing applications is March 1, 1969.

For additional information and application form address Howard M. Wert, Chairman of the Committee for Financial Aid, Cranbrook School, Bloomfield Hills, Michigan 48013.

'Santas' Have 9 to 9 Shopping Hours

Although Christmas shopping has already started in Tecumseh, shoppers will be given extra hours here next week when practically every shop will stay open until 9 p.m.

This weekend, stores will be open until 9 p.m. on Friday and Saturday. Then starting next Monday, Dec. 9, and running through Dec. 23, the stores will hold daily hours of 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

About two weeks ago, some merchants approved Christmas shopping hours and then switched to another, shorter schedule. Problem for some shops is the lack of sales personnel.

However, Tuesday evening, store hours were discussed by the Chamber of Commerce directors, who then went on record by recommending stores staying open, 9 to 9, Dec. 9 through the 23rd. Stores will close Dec. 24 at 5 p.m.

Plans for the holidays are now completed by the Chamber, who with the Jaycees, have even provided Santa Claus with a new "home" while he talks with Tecumseh, Clinton, Britton and area youngsters.

Santa will arrive here Friday afternoon, Dec. 13th.

Shoppers will also have an insight to Tecumseh stores and their gift items in this issue of The Herald. A big, 16-page tab section is included for 24 businesses.

City Council has made it easier and more convenient for folks to shop here by providing free, off-street parking, commencing Dec. 16. Officials also have offered free parking on the streets the last two days before Christmas.

2nd Trial Now Likely For Marsh

By BILL SANFORD

The night of March 19, 1941, is remembered in Lenawee County by many of those who worked and lived in Tecumseh and Adrian. Drums of war beat beyond both shores of the country. Anxious nations sought alliance from fear. In Adrian, Michigan, someone murdered a 69-year-old cigar store employee.

The man, Herman Burger, lived in an apartment at 124 E. Maumee St. He worked at the Chaloner & Co. store, also on Maumee. Working part-time, cleaning floors and doing odd jobs, was a 22-year-old waif of Adrian and Tecumseh who lived wherever he could find a place. Sometimes it was the fire station where the men would offer him food, a clean shirt and once even a pair of thick-lensed glasses.

On that March night someone beat and choked Herman Burger. Someone had pushed a 12-inch ruler down his throat and poured a bottle of ink on his face, and in his mouth. Twenty-four hours later the body was found by a woman living in the same upstairs apartment complex as Burger.

Just what exactly happened that cold, rainy March night is fuzzy in the recollection of some of the "oldtimers" who survived it. Some remember it well. In Easton, Pa., on March 20 police apprehended a former Tecumseh youth, Fred Marsh. Marsh was returned to Adrian and there pleaded guilty to murder in the first degree before Judge G. Arthur Rathbun.

Tuesday the Michigan State Court of Appeals ruled that confessions made by Marsh at the time of his arrest were inadmissable. The confessions had been used in a re-trial in 1966.

He had been granted the 1966 re-trial on the basis that he had not been notified of his rights of counsel as became an issue under a U. S. Supreme Court ruling.

Attorney James Beardsley was the court-appointed counsel for Marsh in the 1966 trial where he was again convicted of murder in the first degree. He was tried before Judge Rex Martin in Lenawee Circuit Court.

Due to the Tuesday ruling, it is quite possible that the cast will be repeated when the chapter to that March night in 1941 will be reopened and examined.

Upset over the court ruling, Prosecuting Attorney Harvey Koselka, who sought the second conviction for the state, is contemplating one of two moves that might overrule the decision of the appellate court.

It is quite probable, according to Koselka, that he will take the ruling to the Michigan Supreme Court. However, one factor is holding back an immediate move in that direction. Thomas C. Kavanagh, a member of the present Circuit Court of Appeals and co-author of the 2-1 majority decision, was elected last month to the State Supreme Court.

Kavanagh's elevation to the high court would mean that Koselka would have to face the justice for a decision which he had helped to write, reducing the chances for a majority opinion.

Also writing the opinion, which gives Marsh the right to re-trial, was Judge Levin. Judge Sullivan wrote the dissenting opinion. Of the three, only Levin will be sitting on the Circuit Court of Ap-

FOOD FOR THE BALL — Mrs. Joseph Galazzi, left, and Mrs. Don Nixon, co-chaired the food committee for the midnight supper to be served Saturday evening at the holiday ball, sponsored by the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary. Lots of interesting goodies have been planned to intersperse the dancing from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m., at the Country Club to the music of the Ray Louis orchestra. Decorations emphasizing the "Peace" theme will be put in place Friday, Mrs. Thomas Rudd, general chairman, said.

Bids for New School Top $900,000 Mark

Bids were opened for a new Sutton Elementary School Tuesday of last week, and somewhat shocked School Board members and the administration.

Total approximate cost is $923,750, about $100,000 more than school architects and officials here had expected.

Sub-bids — plumbing, heating, electrical and equipment — were about as expected, some even less than the architects had predicted. However, the general contractor bids from three Lenawee County companies ran considerably more than planned.

No action was taken at the meeting in order to give the architects an opportunity to investigate the cause of the high bids, and to acquaint themselves with some equipment suppliers.

A meeting is scheduled for next Monday night, according to Supt. James McDowell, with hopes that all bids are let. If they are let, construction could start yet this month or early in January.

Completion of the building is scheduled 360 days after work commences, which would allow the Tecumseh administration to open the new building for the second semester of the 1969-70 school term.

Low bidder for a general contractor was Krieghoff-Lenawee Co. at $582,000. Other two county bidders were MacKinnon-Parker, $597,197, and Goodrich Construction, $630,000.

Mechanical, or plumbing and heating, bid by Young and Ost, was low at $219,323. Five subcontractors bid with the highest bid about $19,000 more than the lowest.

Industrial Electric was low bidder for the electrical work at $81,168. Two other firms bid with a high bid of $89,750 in this category.

Other low and high bids in various departments were:

Folding partitions: $18,350 and $24,396.

Wood cabinets: $17,397 and $28,926.

Library equipment: $5,518 and $8,510.

The 33,000-sq.ft. building figures, according to the low bids submitted, at just over $26 per square foot.

Approximately 30 representatives of companies bidding attended the meeting last week.

Architects will meet with the School Board Monday night and are expected to recommend acceptance of bids, based on their investigation of the companies which were low bidders.

Sales at 600

Sales of Clara Waldron's book, "100 Years — A Country Town," have now topped 600, and a switch in plans to print more hardback copies has lessened the probability of cutting off sales in the near future.

The Herald will continue to take orders at $5.15 per book, including tax. If the books are to be mailed, an additional 30c is required.

Printing of the 224-page volume has been completed and shipped to a bindery company at Springport. Hopes are high that the books will be here within the next 10 days.

When The Herald learns that the books are on their way to Tecumseh, it will make the announcement in the newspaper. All interested parties are hoping that the books will be available in time for Christmas giving.

Many orders have been received from out-of-state residents, including one from Mrs. Eugene Rosacrans, of Santa Monica, Calif. Her order comes from the greatest distance from Tecumseh.

When The Herald first announced that orders were being taken, the office was deluged. First was Mrs. Fred F. Dickinson, who purchased five books.

The next four orders went to Mrs. Percy Bowen, Mrs. Dale Bowen, Dr. E. E. Davis and Roy Cadmus. Since then, orders have been received daily through the mail and from local residents.

No orders are being taken via phone nor through the mail without remittance. Payment must accompany each order.

6 in Chamber Race

Those running are Frank Bock, Tecumseh Products; Charles Buhrman, Faraday, Inc.; David E. Criss, Proctor Funeral Home; Cal Damon, Cal's Tog Shop; Sally Hunt, Don's Beef Buffet; and Delbert King, The Party Shop.

Chamber members received their ballots Tuesday. New directors will take office in January.

Directors continuing on the board are: Mary Bowers, United Savings Bank; Betty Flanders, Flanders Music Co.; Joseph P. Hayden, Hayden Mills, Inc.; and Arnold Sayler, United Savings.

Bands to Play

Tecumseh's cadet and senior bands will hold their annual Christmas Band Concert at the Christmas Band Concerts at the high school gym next Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 11 and 12, at 8 p.m. each evening.

The public is invited to the concerts, the Seniors on Wednesday and the Cadet one the following evening.

The annual junior high band concert, scheduled for a Sunday, has been cancelled because of church programs. Don Johnson, director, says a winter concert will be held in January.

Tecumseh Band Boosters met last week with 44 members present. The David Day Scholarship was explained to the new members, and a March date has been tentatively planned for try-outs.

State Reps. Tout Rotary

State officials turned out last Tuesday evening to honor the local Rotary Club for its third national safety awrd.

He presented a plaque to Charles O. Butler, Rotarian safety chairman, who has headed the project here since it was started here, back in the 1950's.

Officials present included the mayors of Tecumseh and Adrian, county sheriff and Paul R. Miller, GM; Stanley Johnston, GM; Mike LePere, executive secretary of Michigan Auto Safety Foundation; Gerald Shipman, Michigan Safety Commission; Harold Cooper, state director of traffic and safety and Max Hoffman, director of traffic and safety surveillance.

Mr. Shipman presented a congratulatory message from Gov. Romney.

The Chamber is also soliciting membership dues — $25, $50 or $75 a year — and ask that they be sent to the Chamber, Box 265, Tecumseh.

The exact amount of the dues has been left up to the business or individual, depending on his ability or willingness to support the organization.

Teacher Injured In Auto Mishap

Raeola Lasky, third grade teacher at Patterson, suffered broken ribs, bruises and head lacerations in an auto accident Saturday on Rt. 23, near Cone Rd.

She was released from St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor, Monday, but expects to be away from her teaching position for at least two weeks.

Free Parking

Free parking was approved by Council Monday for Christmas shoppers in Tecumseh.

City officials authorized free parking in the off-street lots from Dec. 16 through Dec. 24, and free parking on Chicago Blvd. and side streets on Dec. 23 and 24.

UNUSUAL GIFTS FOR ALL — Mrs. Fred Lewis, left, of Ridge Rd., has spearheaded a Christmas bazaar for St. Peter's Church to be held Thursday at the church with hundreds of articles displayed for sale. Mrs. Kenneth Ross, holding a Christmas Cross made of large matches, Mrs. Charles Mensing behind the unique cylinder for card display and Mrs. Harry Crosby with the angel, assisted in arranging the wares. Cassandra Kureth made Santa Claus puppets that will charm the youngsters who have been provided a room all of their own for Christmas shopping for their parents and brothers and sisters.

BEHIND PAGE ONE

Members of the Tecumseh Service Club spent Tuesday packing Thanksgiving baskets for 17 needy families. "Turkey and all the fixings were included in the donations," Mrs. Albert Caesar said.

All the Christmas decorations made by the Presbyterian Church School children for use in the church, were stolen from Mrs. Carlton Cook's automobile. They mean hours of work for many youngsters. They were in corrugated boxes and plastic sacks. Just drop them off at the church — no questions asked.

Oops! We made an error in identifying the River Raisin All-League players from Britton in last week's paper. Our apologies to Jim Brown who was identified as Jim Skelton.

Oranges — oranges — and rabbits — pre-schoolers and those not in school are welcome at 1:15 p.m., Wednesday, Dec. 11, at the Tecumseh Public Library Story Time.

Mrs. Richard Witt was astonished this week when she arrived at the R-Bon Salon to see their gaily-lighted Christmas tree suspended upside down from the ceiling, complete with packages. Well, that's unusual, Raymond, to say the least. Doesn't take up much floor space either.

Things are getting short, really short, as the navy men say when they're about to be separated from their blue uniforms. Saturday, Dec. 21, will be the shortest day this year, nine hours of daylight and 15 of darkness according to U. of M. astronomer, Hasel M. Losh. She sez — Old Man Winter will officially arrive at 2 p.m. that day when the sun reaches the southern-most position.

MRS. JEFFERY BAKER

Janis Reed and Jeffrey Baker Are Wed by Candlelight

Janis Reed became the bride of Jeffery Baker in a double-ring candlelight ceremony November 30. The Rev. Julian Gresham of the First Presbyterian Church performed the ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Reed, 112 W. Pottawatamie St., was attired in an A-line velvet gown with Venice lace trim at the scoop neckline and long sleeves. The chapel train falling from a large bow was also trimmed with lace. Her fingertip veil attached to a velvet bow accented with seed pearls. She carried a single white rose.

Mrs. Keneth Stough of Maybee, was matron of honor dressed in Royal blue velvet with satin trim and matching headpiece. Gloria Reed, Marsha Richard and Patricia Schwartz and Kathy Kaunisto of Ann Arbor were the bridesmaids, also attired in blue velvet gowns. Each carried a single blue tinted rose.

Gordon Gibson of Ypsilanti served as best man. The ushers were Bob Reed, brother of the bride, and John, Jim and Jack Baker, brothers of the groom. Bill Whiting was soloist.

A reception was held after the wedding in the Fellowship Center of the church. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Baker, 5762 Rogers Hwy., were hosts at a rehearsal dinner Friday evening at Don's Beef Buffet.

The new Mrs. Baker is employed as a dental hygienist for Drs. Laidlaw, Murray and Wolf, and Mr. Baker is employed with Stubnitz Spring Division in Adrian as a computer operator.

The couple will be living at 111½ N. Maiden Lane, after a week honeymoon in the Bahamas.

Cabana Girls Raising Funds For Mexico Trip

Cabana Girl Scouts from Tecumseh, Clinton, Jackson, Albion, Napoleon and Brooklyn, are planning a public Pancake Supper, Saturday, Dec. 14, from 4 to 8 p.m. in the Clinton High School cafeteria.

Proceeds from the event will be used for the proposed trip to the Girl Scout Cabana in Mexico next August.

The dinners will be $1 for adults, 75c for children and a special family rate for 5 or more, $5.

Mrs. George Bancroft, Clinton neighborhood chairman, is in charge of arrangements for the event, hosted by the Clinton Girl Scouts.

Georgia Bancroft is the only Clinton Girl Scout planning to participate in the trip, and the Tecumseh Girl Scouts are: Renee Alpaugh, Ann Beardsley, Sue Beardsley, Jeannie Bowser, Ruth Lavendar, Jera Robison, Pat Robison, Debbie Shelton, and they will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John Robison.

Mike Conducts Music Makers

Mike Bush conducted the meeting of the Tecumseh Music Makers Sunday at the St. Peter's Church when members decided to go carol singing during the holiday season.

Diane Mannino opened the program by presenting Paula and Sam Brantingham singing a duet.

Jamie Danforth led the group in singing the hymn of the month.

Diane gave the history of Madrigal Singing. The members seated around the table participated in a characteristic demonstration of madrigal singing, a form of entertainment following a meal in the homes during the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries. Madrigal Singing was never done in public.

Barbara and Nancy Hamliton and Debbie Williams were the hostesses.

OES Past Matrons Christmas Party

Past Matrons OES held their annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Melvin Ruettinger, Sunday, with husbands and past patrons and their wives as guests.

Worthy matron and patron Mr. and Mrs. Charles Manley were guests also.

The Ruettinger home was decorated with a gold, white and pink Christmas motif.

Guests were greeted by the president, Mrs. Harry Beland. Dinner was served in the family room, where a revolving silver Christmas tree held gifts. Santa distributed a gift to each one.

The evening was spent playing whist, with prizes presented to Mrs. Robert Bonner, Ralph Westgate, Mrs. Ray Schlegel and John Lott.

News For Judoists

A new quarter begins Thursday evening, Dec. 5, for the Tecumseh Judo Club. The Advanced Class for girls and boys will meet from 7 to 8:30 and the Advanced Class for men will meet from 8:30 to 10. Promotions will be announced at this time for those who are to receive their Green Belt.

Shunichi Nambax will continue to serve as instructor of the class. A fifth degree black belt, Mr. Namba also directs the Judo Club at Jackson and works with Tecumseh's parent club at the Ann Arbor Y. During the coming months, those desiring will have opportunity to attend tournaments in Ann Arbor, both for promotion and competition to improve proficiency towards a higher ranking.

The cost of the classes for the coming quarter, will continue to be $8.00 per member, with meetings each Thursday at the high school unless announced otherwise.

MRS. LARRY W. WAYNICK

Thanksgiving Day Nuptials Wed Catherine Maples

Thanksgiving Day nuptials united Catherine Elizabeth Maples and Larry Wade Waynick in marriage at St. Peter's Church with the Rev. Russell Cooper, godfather of the bride, officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Sevedus A. Maples, 607 Herrick Park Drive and Mr. and Mrs. Wade L. Waynick of Detroit.

Bronze and white chrysanthemums were used on the altar and white bows marked the family pews.

Nancy Poland and Douglas Smith, both University of Michigan students, played the organ and the trumpet respectively.

On the arm of her father, the bride entered the sanctuary wearing a full length sheath gown of ivory satin brocade with full train and elbow length sleeves and stand up collar trimmed with pearls.

Her full length veil of illusion was secured to a bow matching her dress. The bridal bouquet was white roses.

Jean DeForest, Jeri Malone and Kathleen Whitivin, also sorority sisters, were the bridesmaids, attired as the maid of honor.

Bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums and yellow tapers were used on the bride's table at the reception in the parish hall.

Sandy Ross, Mrs. Russell Cooper, Mrs. Charles Haughn and Mrs. Anna Haughn served the refreshments.

Mrs. Edna B. Wilcox, grandmother of the bride, of Seal Beach, Calif., and Mrs. C. T. Potts of Slayden, Tenn., grandmother of the groom, were special guests.

The bride is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and attended Central Michigan University. She is affiliated with Omega Chi Sorority.

The groom has a master of arts degree from Central Michigan University in elementary education. He is affiliated with Phi Kappa Tau fraternity.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents Wednesday evening at Don's Beef Buffet.

MARSH

Considering this, Koselka has a second avenue for a move to overrule Tuesday's decision, taking the ruling back to the Court of Appeals. Either way, Koselka feels that the opinion was a "bad one" and will deter law enforcement in the future. The inadmissable confessions would leave police in a bind concerning future cases that might arise.

Judge Martin, whose entire September term in Circuit Court has been loaded with criminal cases, said if the case was returned to Lenawee it would go on the calendar with no indication when it would come before him.

In the meantime, Marsh remains within the grey walls of the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson, where he has been since April of 1941 with one exception. A few years ago he was given parole. Freddie Marsh's freedom was short-lived. He was arrested for a minor offense, charged with violation of parole and returned to his cell in Jackson. He came back in 1966 and the chances are good he will return again in 1969 for the third and perhaps the last time.

Champ Gone

CLINTON — Mr. and Mrs. Ted Kiebler were saddened early Sunday, when their little silver poodle, Gaye Haze, was struck and killed instantly by an automobile in front of their home on Jackson St.

Taken out for a 1:30 a.m. stroll, the spritely puppy dashed into the path of the passing vehicle, while his master, Ted, was still at the rear of the house.

The poodle, daughter of an illustrious father, Gray Haze, had already earned a phenomenal record, and would not be two years old until February.

Winner of the Dog World award for "outstanding achievement", Gaye appeared in competition with several hundred dogs in the biggest obedience trials ever held in Michigan Sept. 28-29, where she won best of trial, Saturday, and tied for highest scoring dog in trial on Sunday, at the Michigan State Fairgrounds, Detroit. She earned more than $200 and several trophies at that event.

Deming-Goodacre Vows Are Spoken

Mr. and Mrs. Ely Deming, 3820 Kaiser Rd., are the parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Goodacre, 405 Herrick Park Dr., are parents of the groom.

On the arm of her father, the bride approached the altar in a floor length gown with empire waist and long tapered sleeves trimmed with lace. She carried a bouquet of white glamellias.

Jean Deming, sister of the bride, was maid of honor in a pink dress and carrying green carnations.

Tammy Deming, sister of the bride, serving as bridesmaid, wore a green dress and carried green and white baby carnations.

Harley Rhodes was best man and the ushers were Mark Goodacre and David Joslin.

A reception was in the church hall immediately after the ceremony.

Mrs. Goodacre is a student in the Lois School of Cosmetology, Adrian, and her husband is employed at the Peerless Gear Co., Clinton. They will live at 1801 Tecumseh-Clinton Rd.

MRS. THEODORE GOODACRE

Church Family Festive Feast

The Presbyterian Church is planning an evening of feasting, fellowship and entertainment for the whole church family, member and non-member, young and old.

A potluck supper will be served at 6 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 6, in the Fellowship Center.

Those attending will bring food to pass and their own table service. Rolls, butter, milk and coffee will be furnished.

Following the supper, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gorton of Macon will present Christian symbols that they have made, said to be enjoyable for young and old.

Gem Society Elects Dick, Too

The Gem and Mineral Society elected Richard De Yarmond of Adrian president at the special pre-Christmas meeting Sunday afternoon, at the Tecumseh Community Center.

Other officers elected were:

Vice-president — Roy Dalke

Secretary — Mary Conner, Adrian

Treasurer — Elwood Caanan, Adrian

Director — Arlie Baron

Santa Claus visited with gifts for each one of rock specimens.

Mrs. Fred Southworth and Mrs. Richard DeYarmond served homemade cookies and coffee.

The next meeting will be Jan. 5.

Offer Treasures At St. Peter's

Tonight at St. Peter's Episcopal Church Bazaar and Supper numerous treasures will be on sale, including exotic old jewelry, lovely handicraft, practical children's gifts, used books and inexpensive gift items.

We even have corn on the cob to keep your birds and squirrels fat during the snowy season. The children will enjoy Santa's work shop, children's shopping center, and the fish pond.

Young people who have been working every week in preparation for tonight include: Andrea Phillips, Larry Bird, Karen Bird, Dan Adams, Elizabeth Shelton, Margaret Keeney, Kim Montague, Leslie Montague, Jennifer Gentz, Larry Getz, Beth Curtiss, Jack Curtis, Randa Jennings, Jackee Jennings, Cassandra Kureth, Dawn Sisson, Rusty Brady, Evelyn Brady and Debbie Shelton.

Girls Go To A-Caroling

The GAA girls will be going Christmas caroling again this year on Dec. 16. If anyone has a suggestion of a place they would like the girls to sing, please contact Mrs. Charles Gross at 423-2383 or Betsy Bock at 423-4780 by Dec. 12.

Old Brownville School Becomes Luther Hall

The historic Brownville School, now the Luther Hall, will be dedicated Sunday, Dec. 8, at 2:30 p.m.

The afternoon service will include Scripture readings by the representatives of the Council, Lutheran Church Women, Sunday School staff and the Junior Choir, and a general prayer will be given by Norman Bless, lay-president of the congregation.

The short dedication itself will be conducted by Pastor Laszlo Gero, in the Luther Hall with the participation of the Planning Committee, children and guests.

The history of the building will be demonstrated in slides, pictures and articles, at the exhibition hall. A friendly coffee-hour will close the festivities, sponsored by the ladies of the congregation who invite members of the community to attend.

The school at the corner of W. Brown and S. Evans Streets changed its mission after it became the "first" church of the Gloria Dei Ev. Lutheran congregation.

Many of Tecumseh's young people have been baptized, confirmed or gave their vows in marriage and every Sunday the Gospel of Christ is preached there.

A few years ago, the new building was completed and the school became a place of learning again. This time boys and girls studied the Word of God and praised Him with prayers and song.

The pastor states the dedication of the Luther Hall will be a Christmas gift of the congregation from the Lord whose faithful people serve the community.

Last Sunday, Mark Lloyd, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Wagner was received into God's family through Baptism in the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church. Jane Rodesiler of Kalamazoo was godmother.

The meaning of Advent and of the Advent wreath was explained by Pastor Gero to the Presbyterian Sunday School children and teachers last Sunday.

An exchange student from Germany, Dagmar Schultze, will be the guest speaker for the LCW at the Christmas Holiday Tea Sunday, Dec. 8 at 7:30 p.m.

Varsity Letter For Anderson

Chamber of Commerce in Big Rapids honored the first undefeated football team in the history of Ferris State College recently. Tom Anderson, freshman player and graduate of Tecumseh High School, received a varsity letter for his year of gridiron activities.

Twenty-one members of the 38 varsity athletes were freshmen, giving Ferris a chance to repeat its 7-0-1 record next year.

TORIES '68-'69 — The Britton Tories, who will open the coming basketball season on the Sand Creek High School Court Friday, have seven members of the squad over six feet in height. Hopes are high this year that the Tories can regain some of the basketball fortunes they enjoyed earlier in the '60's. Members of the squad are: Jim Lister, Jim Brown, Bill Tuberville, Bob Webb, Jim Skelton, Dave Fairbanks, Bob Warren, Rick Maska, Mark Hetrick and Rick Brown. Kneeling are: Chuck Moore, Coach Jim Landfair and Gary Judkins.

Tall Timber to Tell Britton Fortunes

BRITTON — The Tories will open the 1968-69 basketball season this weekend.

Friday night they travel to Sand Creek to open River Raisin League action for both teams. Saturday night will find them in action on the home court, hosting Waldron, and sporting new white home uniforms.

With three lettermen back, and a starting lineup averaging well over 6', Coach Jim Landfair is hoping to better the 9-11 mark posted last season.

Returning starters are Dave Fairbanks, 6'6" center; Jim Skelton, 6'3" forward, and junior Jim Brown, 6' guard. Juniors Jim Lister at guard and Bill Tuberville at forward, both 6', are the other probable starters.

The squad will also include seniors Chuck Moore and Bob Warren, and juniors Rick Maska, Rick Brown, Mark Hetrick, Bob Webb and Gary Judkins.

Scouting Phases Explained to Cubs

BRITTON — Cub Scout Pack 23 held their regular Pack Night at Grace United Methodist Church Nov. 25. Members of Den One opened the meeting with the Pledge to the Flag and questions and answers on requirements of Cub Scouting.

George Brady, neighborhood commissioner, was introduced by Cubmaster William Gorton and he explained different phases of Scouting to the new members and their parents. He also discussed the proper wearing of the uniform and conducted a Bobcat ceremony for six new members. They were: Steve Svihl, Scott Niblack, Kenneth Plank, Robert Irwin, Mike Lidster and Terry Gibbs. Jim Frayer was awarded the Bear Badge and gold and silver arrows.

For the monthly theme of "Showmanship," the Webelos pantomimed "The Fastest Gun in the West," with home-made instruments. Den Two presented a puppet pantomime to barbershop harmony. Den One played home-made instruments while singing "Oh, Suzanna."

Mrs. William Gorton showed a film entitled, "Toro, Boy of Japan," showing the life of Japanese children. Den Two gave the closing, and the Webelos served refreshments.

The next meeting will be Dec. 16, which is a week earlier than usual because of the Christmas holiday. All children attending this meeting are asked to bring a 50-cent gift marked for a girl or boy. New members can be accepted at any Pack meeting.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN L. KERAN

Celebrate 25 Years

BRITTON — Mr. and Mrs. John L. Keran, 329 North Main Street, Britton, will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary at an open house on Sunday, December 8, from 2-6 p.m. at their home. Neighbors, friends and relatives are invited. The couple request no gifts.

Hosts for the event will be their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul (Kathryn) Cook.

Geraldine Craig and John Keran were married Dec. 11, 1943, at the home of his parents, Harlan Keran and the late Imo Keran, by the Rev. Clarence B. Gould, pastor of the Britton Congregational Christian Church.

They have lived in the Britton area all their lives, and at their present home 18 years. Mr. Keran is a foreman at Dundee Products.

Stork's Visit Is Honored

BRITTON — Mrs. Neil Benedict of Toledo, O., was the guest of honor at a cradle shower Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Lee Benedict. The hostesses were Mrs. Charles Patterson, Mrs. Jerry Benedict, Mrs. Charles Benedict, Mrs. Phil Benedict and Mrs. Ron Mastie.

Forty guests were present to play Stork Bingo. A miniature tree trimmed with pastel Christmas decorations centered the gift table, and the game winners were awarded the decorations as prizes.

Mrs. Benedict was presented with a corsage of rose buds and carnations. She opened many beautiful gifts.

Off The Top

By CHRISTINE FAIRBANKS

The Christmas shopping season is upon us once again, with all the accompanying hustle and bustle, hurrying and juggling, picking and choosing, which makes it both an exciting and an exhausting time.

I planned to get started early this year, but the spirit hadn't touched me yet, and I only had three or four items packed away in the closet before Thanksgiving.

"I thought you had already been Christmas shopping — where's the loot?" Hubby complained.

He just doesn't understand that it takes a certain amount of just looking and shopping around before you can make the final decisions. And like most males, he much prefers to stay home and earn the shopping money, and let me do all the traipsing around the stores.

So the day after Thanksgiving, I decided to take Miss Ten Christmas shopping with me, therein making my first two mistakes. Shopping? The day after Thanksgiving? It was more like running an obstacle course at Fort Knox, only with more elbows. I'm sure there was no one left at home that day — everyone had the same idea, to go Christmas shopping. Probably wanted to walk off that huge turkey dinner.

And secondly, I disregarded my own rule, which states that you never take children shopping with you if it is at all avoidable. I kept seeing delightful items I would like to purchase for her, and of course, I couldn't buy them, with her standing right at my side.

But she had a list, too, so we started out enthusiastically.

With such a chatter-box talking to me, however, I kept forgetting what it was I went into each store for, and would wander aimlessly up and down the aisles trying to remember. And there were so many distractions: the crowds, the confusing array of tempting items, the brightness of the store decorations. And I kept spotting things I "needed" for myself, such as some stockings, and a new scarf, and some snow boots. Might as well buy them while I was right there, but it all seemed to take a lot of time. And the clerks I got were all just hired that very day, I believe, and I had the nagging feeling I could wait on myself faster than they could locate items for me.

The multitude of "things" other than gifts offered for sale at the holiday season is truly overwhelming — there are real trees, artificial trees, wreaths, wrapping paper, ribbon, tinsel, window decorations, table decorations, candles, tree ornaments, lights and manger scenes. There are decorations for the door, for the yard, and even for the bathroom. I really got carried away in one store we ventured into, and waltzed through the check-out counter with $14.37 worth of paper, ribbon, plastic and tinsel, plus one 59c gift for the school party. Now this is ridiculous, I told myself — at this rate, I won't have any money left for gifts.

Midway in the day, we treated ourselves to lunch in a downtown restaurant. This is one time we both really look forward to, when we can have a quiet lunch together, with none of those bothersome brothers or other males around, and we order just what we like, and talk girl-talk.

Then, back to the searching. We looked in store windows, dreamed a bit in the toy departments, put money in the Salvation Army kettle, and spent a bit too much on Dad's gift, but finally decided to call it a day and go home.

"You must have gotten lots of Christmas shopping done, from the looks of those sacks," said Dad, when we arrived home.

"Well," I hedged, "I had to buy some new decorations for the house, and I saw these boots like I've been looking for, so I bought them, and some stockings for myself, and I needed a scarf, and we didn't have any paper or ribbon left from last year —-"

"Did you get any gifts at all?" asked long-suffering Dad.

"Well, yes, I got a couple."

"A couple! You mean you spent the whole day in town, and only come home with a couple of gifts? I don't know how you can do it!"

Daughter and I winked at each other, and I sighed; because I know he never will!

Bush Dozen Is Chicago Bound

The Elwood Bush family, 12 of them, left Wednesday morning in two cars headed for Chicago and the National 4-H Congress at the Conrad-Hilton Hotel.

The Bushes and the Donald Secord family of Monroe County will represent the two counties at the national event.

They will present the pilot program of family involvement in 4-H as it has been currently running in Lenawee and Monroe counties this past year.

Some of the topics that the families will report of to 4-H leaders and agents in Chicago will be:

Operation Get Acquainted.

Family Group Counseling.

Community Service.

Inner City Project of starting 4-H groups in low income family areas.

Share the Fun in Family Groups.

Future 4-H projects.

Mrs. Bush stated Tuesday that she had been "sewing like mad" to get every last little dress in readiness for the trip.

She also said that Dr. Gordon Beckstrand of Lansing is the person responsible for the pilot program started here in Michigan. About 225 are expected to attend the Congress, 12 of them will be Peggy and Elwood Bush and their talented youngsters.

Herrick Hospital Heart Sessions

The Herrick Memorial Hospital in cooperation with its medical staff and the Michigan Heart Association is offering an opportunity to review or brush up on "What to do in case of Cardiac Arrest" to all medical, nursing, dental, personal, fireman, policemen and to all interested persons in the area. Assisting the local personnel will be Matthew Maxon, head of the Michigan Heart Association's Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation training program.

Three sessions are planned for Thursday, Dec. 12, at the hospital at 9 a.m., 1 p.m., and 7 p.m., approximately three hours in length.

Classes on two levels are being held simultaneously, one for the inexperienced and an advanced review for doctors, nurses and others with prior experience.

Movies, slide-lectures, followed by small group discussions and practice sessions on manikins being supplied by the Michigan Heart Association, will be given during each session.

Coffee and refreshments will be handled by the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary members acting as hostesses for the day. This organization has furnished much of the cardiac equipment for the hospital and the Intensive Coronary Care Unit through numerous projects and the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary Heart Fund contributions.

A continuing "in-service" program on Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation with teaching of physicians, nurses and aides has been carried out since before the Intensive Coronary Care Unit opened at Herrick Hospital. However, this is the first time this teaching and learning program has been extended to persons outside the hospital.

Film Is Shown To Tipton PTO

The fourth grade won the attendance count at the November meeting of the Tipton PTO Monday evening. The membership committee reported there are now 84 members.

The group voted to furnish two benches to be placed in the school hall for the children to sit on to put on their boots.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 27.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

The day of Thanks was really Saturday at the Wilbur Boyce farm home north and west of Tecumseh. At 3 a.m. that morning, Elizabeth and Wilbur greeted their son, John, a Vietnam veteran whom they had not seen for 14 months.

What is he going to do now that he is home? Just stay there; taking up where he left off in the partnership he had with his father before he was called to serve his country, yes, but more importantly, ours.

Thank God for bringing one more of our young men home safely and may there be many more to follow soon in his footsteps.

It's up to the American people to make their wishes known in Washington. Let's stop pussyfooting around and as General Curtis LeMay has stated so many times, "Let's win this war and stop tying our boys' hands behind their backs."

√

Sunday, Nov. 24, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howell attended a pre-Thanksgiving dinner at the home of their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jones, at Metamora, O. Mr. and Mrs. Dearrel Jenkins and daughters, Kathy and Sue, of Adrian, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Howell and daughter, Julie Ann, of Pleasant Lake, were also guests.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Williams and family of Bel Air, Md., spent the Thanksgiving holidays visiting their respective families here, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Williams and Mr. and Mrs. David Younglove.

√

On Thanksgiving Day, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Williams hosted a dinner for both families. Special occasions observed were the 39th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Williams and the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Robert Rutherford. Those attending were the Rev. and Mrs. Gary Williams of Dover; Mr. and Mrs. David Younglove; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Judkins and family of Britton; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rutherford of Manchester; and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gatt of Tecumseh.

√

Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Williams and the Glenn Williams family traveled to Dover, for the weekend to visit the Rev. and Mrs. Gary Williams, where he recently accepted the call as pastor of Dover Baptist Church.

√

Tuesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. David Younglove entertained at their home in honor of Rita Ann Williams, who will observe her second birthday anniversary on Dec. 9. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Williams; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Williams, Tim and Dale.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Williams flew home to Bel Air, Md., on Thursday.

√

John F. Spreeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Spreeman, was among six from Lenawee County who have been assigned to go to the Army Training Center at Ft. Knox, Ky., for basic training as members of Company B, 19th Battalion, 5th Brigade.

√

Capt. and Mrs. Greg Mason and baby son, James Berkley, of Ft. Hood, Tex., spent last week with Capt. Mason's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Mason.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. James C. Mason attended the baptism of their grandson in the Bethlehem Lutheran Church in Lansing.

Mr. and Mrs. William Schooley and daughters, Helen and Diane, spent the weekend visiting his relatives in Batavia and Amelia, O., returning home Sunday evening.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Farnsel of Adrian and Mrs. Andrew Fisher spent Thanksgiving weekend in Memphis, Tenn., with Mrs. Fisher's son, A. A. Barry, at the Naval Air Base. Mrs. Barry, daughter of the Farnsels, accompanied the couples and the group toured Tennessee, Mississippi, Kentucky and Arkansas and the Smoky Mountains before coming home.

√

Mrs. Robert Laidlaw returned last week from Glen Dale, W. Va., with her mother, Mrs. Anthony Kutis, who Mrs. Laidlaw had been visiting for two weeks. They arrived here in time to prepare a sumptuous Thanksgiving dinner for the family, glad to have grandma with them.

Mrs. Kenneth Munson of Seattle, Wash., arrived Thursday to be with her father, Perry Satterthwaite, who is recuperating slowly at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Woodward and Mrs. Perry Hayden were Thanksgiving Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Woodward and family in Lansing. Mrs. Hayden was pleased to have a phone call via Telstar from her son, John, in Bangkok, Thailand, Sunday afternoon at 4:30. It was 4:30 a.m. in the morning and John was to go to work in a couple of hours, he told his Mom. Another Hayden son, Bill, underwent back surgery for a ruptured disk Monday at the New York Orthopedic Hospital in New York City. His address is 622 West 168th St., New York City, N. Y. 10032. Bill expects to be hospitalized for three weeks, just about Christmas.

Clock Beats Tribe

Three seconds and a tip-in spelled defeat for the Tecumseh Indian basketball team last Friday when Ann Arbor Huron stifled the local team's hopes for an opening win, 56-54.

Going into the last seconds of the final period the stage was set for a repeat of the action last year when it was the Tribe that spelled out heartbreak for Huron. In the final seconds of the opener a year ago, Tecumseh eked out a 40-38 win in similar fashion.

Six-foot-two Pete Jamison rammed home a tip-in at the buzzer. An offensive foul called on Tecumseh with three seconds left and Huron had the ball for the shot, it was passed the distance of the court to Jamison, who arched a 20-footer toward forward came into tip the basket and cap the win.

The teams stayed close throughout the contest with the score at half-time 28-27 in favor the hoop, it missed but the big of Huron.

Tecumseh trailed by four going into the final stanza. With 23 seconds left on the clock, John Kennedy canned a field goal to put the Indians ahead by one. Two free throws by Huron regained the lead for the home team. Kennedy had a chance to push Tecumseh back in the lead with 10 seconds left with two free throws. He missed on one, made the other to knot the score and set the stage for the fatal tip-in.

Steve Dalton led the Indian attack with 18 points. Kennedy dropped in 11 and Jim Hunt put 9 through the nets.

Indian Trails

The Tecumseh Indians basketball team will travel to Monroe to face Monroe Jefferson in the second tilt of the young season. Injun hopes go above the last second loss last week to Ann Arbor Huron.

The Adrian Maples will provide the action for the Tribe next Tuesday when the Indians travel to their arch-foe's court. The first home game of the new season is Dec. 13, when they take on Blissfield in a Huron League tilt at the high school gym.

3 Accidents

Only three minor accidents were investigated here by the Tecumseh police during the past week — and none during the first three days of December.

A resume is:

Nov. 27 — Joan E. Langham, 21, of 706 Outer Dr., was cited for driving with vision obscured. She was headed north on N. Maumee St. and ran into a car driven by Reta Marie Luce, 43, of Tipton.

Nov. 29 — James B. Whitney, 17, of 315 S. Union, was charged with failure to yield the right of way after being hit by John E. Shorkey, of 504 Stacy St., in the intersection of W. Chicago and Pearl St.

Nov. 29 — Janet K. Iffland, 24, of 119 W. Brown, was cited for failure to stop within an assured clear distance after running into the rear of a car operated by David Slusher, 17, of Clinton. Young Slusher was ticketed for no registration on person. Mishap occurred on N. Evans St.

Two For The Gym

The Adrian Recreation Department is sponsoring adult co-ed recreation each Thursday evening beginning Dec. 12 from 7 to 9:30 p.m., in the Alexander School Gym.

Calisthenics, volleyball, badminton and many more activities are scheduled for husbands, wives or couples.

Registration may be made the first night or by calling 263-2161 ext. 55. There is no charge.

Gambles To Rent For $40 Month

Councilmen approved renting the rear of the Lenawee Glass building, behind Adrian Federal, to Gambles as a warehouse for $40 a month Monday night.

The area, approximately 50x30 feet, is presently used by the local business for storage. The city negotiated for the property at the time that Gambles planned its recent expansion.

The rental will be effective Jan. 15.

Musings

by Bill Sanford

The Spiritual Anarchists

Writers are by nature spiritual anarchists. They live by no other rules than the anarchy that makes them write in the first place. Living too hard and too fast toward a death they do not fear doesn't weaken them, on the contrary where the ordinary fall, the spiritual anarchronisms of the writer thrive and his soul supplements menial tasks of his will.

Writers die like everybody else, they even go to the grave and stay there, but where they have lived, their lives still go on. Life breathes in the pockets of their imaginations, humility sways when it sees them coming, but wants no part of the inquisitive and child-like nature of that confounded animal that is bent on learning of the ticking of the human psyche.

The reason they are the most maligned of all creatures is that they surpass a point in their lives where public opinion and they are four letters at odds.

Decidedly above and beyond the point of more stoic human endurance the writer crashes headlong into a maze. Disgustedly he will bash his brains out on rocks of age old dissent and still conjure up the courage to be himself in quiet moments when no one is looking.

In the writer's life there isn't any place for sanity or insanity, they are mixed and mingled beyond his comprehension. That is his life.

Writers are the most ridiculed, cursed, put up as bad examples, laughed down, put out, and cussed upon of all segments of society as a modern world recognizes it, but then modern man doesn't recognize much of anything anymore.

The reason writers are put up as such bad examples and as the cursed of society, ridiculed and put upon is that within them lies man and what man is. The same character that will put down in words just exactly what he is and what he believes in gives up something of himself.

Modern man in his garb pressed by scroll upon scroll of graffitti finds himself insecure, his only security is recognition in others, corresponding with others, association with others who are unashamed of what they are. Writers are not born nor taught, all men within themselves are writers.

College degrees to writers are as useless as a comb to bald headed men or women (must add that, discrimination, you know). They learn through their own ways, they grow and shrink through their own ways and manners.

There are so many things about a writer people do not understand and this is where his spiritual anarchy is truly in fashion. Maybe if the average person rattled their souls now and then it would be great fun.

Big Goal Set For Cadettes

With their thoughts on a long-range goal, a trip to Switzerland in 1972, Cadette Girl Scouts, Troop 329, are having a holiday bazaar and bake sale, Saturday, beginning at 9 a.m. in the Gambles Store.

Hand-made gift items which the girls will display, are candle-holders, baby beds, and poinsettia plaques. They'll also have some of their best baked goodies available Saturday.

Mrs. John Robinson and Mrs. Harold Iffland are leaders of the group of 10 girls.

Meet For Christmas

Mrs. Perry Hayden opened the program by reading appropriate poetry.

Besides carol singing by the members, Miss Whelan presented a candle lighting ceremony symbolizing customs adopted here from other countries.

The Rev. Brantingham gave the Christmas message with Mrs. Whelan, Mrs. Martin Halley and Earl Greene assisting.

Hard of Hearing?

remarkable new invention helps restore your ability to hear more clearly

If you have a hearing problem, you want to know all about an important new device developed by a Texas inventor.

This new idea is not only surprisingly uncomplicated—it is amazingly inexpensive. Yet it is so remarkable, a patent has been applied for.

It may do much more than merely help you hear. It may help you hear more clearly— even in crowded noisy rooms or out in the open!

Called NORMEAR (Pat. Pending), this scientific invention is now being offered exclusively in combination with the Beltone Andante hearing aid. You'll be thrilled with Andante's small size —amazed it's so inconspicuous.

FREE HEARING TEST

Even if you've been told a hearing aid won't help ...or that efficient hearing aids must be large and bulky to give you the help you need . . . you owe it to yourself to investigate Normear and the Beltone Andante. Bring in this ad, or call today. Have a FREE electronic hearing test, using the precision Beltone audiometer.

You may have your FREE test in our office, or in the privacy of your own home. No cost. Naturally, no obligation.

Churches Entertain

Friends and relatives of patients at the Herrick Memorial Hospital Nursing Home were entertained at a Thanksgiving open house Sunday afternoon.

The Rev. Paul Brantingham of Friends Church was the speaker for the event, and the Cherub Choir from the Presbyterian Church, under the direction of Mrs. Albert Merz, offered the Thanksgiving hymns, "God Is Love" and "Children's Thanksgiving". The choir is made up of 12 members from kindergarten through the second grade.

In charge of the tea were Mrs. Robert Sage and Mrs. Helen Sisson, co-chairmen of the Auxiliary Nursing Home Committee. Mrs. Stella Hubbard, vice-president of the Auxiliary, presided at the tea table.

Two Tecumsehs In Meaning Only

W. O. Denton of Cudahy, Calif., who collects Michigan Indian lore wrote Chamber of Commerce Secretary Don Moffatt last week to ask just what the word, Tecumseh, means.

After considerable checking, Mr. Moffatt came up with the answer through the help of Tecumseh attorney, James C. Beardsley.

In Moffatt's reply to Mr. Denton, he said that the name of the city is a Shawnee Indian word having two meanings, arc and shooting star.

Legend has it that the Chief Tecumseh, for whom the city was named, was perhaps born on a night when Halley's comet was visible, therefore the Shawnee baby was called Tecumseh or Shooting Star.

It is also thought that perhaps Tecumseh's mother was frightened by a mountain lion ready to leap or spring. In a cat's spring, his body forms an arc, as witnessed by anyone's eyes. Hmm.

Pack 73 Cub Scout Awards

The Nov. 19 meeting of Pack 73 Tecumseh Cub Scouts was opened with the presentation of the flags by Brian Bird and Stephen Crabtree. Mr. Wonderly conducted the pledge to the Flag.

The new parents and cubs of Pack 73 inducted were Randy Mueller, Doug and Joel Wood. Mrs. Wood (who will be the assistant den mother of Den 5), Mike Ery and Mike's mother.

Brian Bird and Mark Oliver were transferred into Pack 73.

The following awards were presented:

Billy Gray — Wolf Badge and a gold arrow;

Randy Meadows—Wolf Badge, a gold arrow and three silver arrows;

Mark Mann — Wolf Badge, a gold arrow and two silver arrows;

Brian Knight — gold arrow;

Stephen Crabtree—sportsman, showman badges;

Lynford Beard — showman badge;

Ronnie Birchfield and Arthur Snyder were awarded their year pins. Randy Knight was awarded his three year pin.

Round-up patches were awarded to Greg Forsthoefel, Ronnie Birchfield and Tim Packard.

Neckerchief slides were awarded to Tim Sandhoff, Joel Wood, Doug Wood, Randy Mueller and Tim Belcher.

The Goodwill bags which were distributed by Pack 73 on November 16th will be gathered at the cabin on Saturday, November 23rd. The bags will be taken to Adrian and given to Goodwill Industries.

The activity chairman, Carl Rumpf, announced a light bulb sale will start on Nov. 25 and end on Dec. 7. The bulbs will be of various sizes and will sell for 25c each, available at Mr. Rumpf's house at 307 South Union.

The showboat theme of November was well portrayed through the skits of the Dens. Den Five presented a two-act play: Colonel Saunders vs. Simon Lagree (with songs during intermission); Den One displayed great pride in their den singing (as a take-off of the Gillette razor song) praise of their den; Den Three presented a three-act showboat "Starring Pogo the Juggler" (with acrobatics), a vaudeville — "Mr. Bones" — joke fest, and a live dixie-land band. Den Two closed the skits as Indians singing Thanksgiving songs.

Walt Wonderly, cub master, was given an inspection, at the conclusion of the skits, by Mr. Packard and District Representative. Mr. Wonderly received only 99% (he was not wearing his badge of office!) The District Representative assured a 100% rating for Mr. Wonderly in the future as he promised Walt his badge of office.

The canned goods collected by Pack 73 for needy families on Thanksgiving were gathered before the end of the meeting.

The meeting was closed as the colors were retired.

Gifts For Pets

Identification tags for dogs and cats are being sold by the Petwatchers. The tags sell for $1.75, and list name of pet, together with the name of the owner, street address and telephone number. The tags are attractive and very durable being made of heavy chrome plated brass. They will not tarnish, stain or rust.

This is a money-making project for the Petwatchers, and it is their aim to have every dog in Tecumseh protected with this quick positive identification.

Tags may be ordered by calling 423-7228, or 423-3637.

Dynamic Kernels Shown On Dec. 8

The Dynamic Kernels film, "God Is My Landlord", will be shown Sunday, Dec. 8, at 7:45 p.m. at the Britton Congregational Church.

The pastor, the Rev. Gustav Hannevik, invites anyone interested to come and see the spectacular harvest perpetrated by the late Perry Hayden.

The engagement of Diana Lynne Holcomb to Thomas L. Velandra is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Holcomb. Miss Holcomb attends Michigan State University. Mr. Velandra is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Velandra, 2857 Russell Rd. He is employed at Ford Motor Company, Saline, and attends State Data Systems Institute in Lansing. A May wedding is planned.

Tecumseh People Help

How shall I answer the question, "Just what does Tecumseh Service Club do for Tecumseh?" The Tecumseh Service Club was formed many years ago to procure and receive information concerning the needs of persons and families in the Tecumseh School District and to render aid.

The Club helped one family not too long ago. This story might give some understanding of how it finds out about those in need and what is done to ease the situation as soon as possible.

T C F F

One noon the phone rang and when it was answered, one of the teachers wanted to tell the listener about her unhappy first-grader. Could the Club help the family? The little girl had told her that morning that her mommy cried because daddy went to the hospital and wouldn't be home for a long time and that the grocery money was all gone. The teacher gave the child's name and address and thanked the Club for offering to help at once.

Before another Club member could be called to aid in the investigation of the situation, two of the neighbors called to tell the Club about the family and ask the Service Club to help this mother and her four children. Of course, the Club could!

Members went to the home which was very neat and clean. The three pre-schoolers were just ready for a nap and the Club members waited until the mother had put them in bed and then they asked how the Service Club could help.

"Oh, if only you could buy some groceries for us. We will have money in about 10 days. The rent is paid, and we have plenty of fuel. It is feeding the children that worries me. Both of our parents live in other states and they have helped us all that they can. We have no other relatives," she stated.

Then the mother began to cry softly with big tears rolling down her cheeks. The strain of trying to carry on all alone with no help had been too much for this young mother.

"We have lived in Tecumseh for a long time and I never really knew this town," she told us. "We lived in a larger town when Bob was sick before, and no one ever cared how we got along or even asked how or where he was. It is such a wonderful feeling to know that people in Tecumseh do care about their fellowman."

The Service Club bought groceries enough to help her get through until the time her check would arrive. The members made certain that she had heat and lights and then called to make sure that her check had arrived. It had!

This is the really busy time of the year for the Service Club members. There are Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets to deliver, clothes are collected and distributed along with shoes and boots. All year long the Club answers many individual needs — gym shoes for needy children, help for the elderly when they are in dire need, many solutions to problems that sometimes seem unsurmountable.

The Tecumseh Service Club is aided in its personal and rewarding work by your gifts through the Tecumseh Community Foundation. Your gift does work many wonders!

Santa Coming To Clinton Saturday, Dec. 14

This year she's the one who is coordinating efforts to make Santa's annual visit to Clinton a reality.

The Jolly red-suited fellow will come zooming into town on a fire truck at 7 p.m., Dec. 14, to the high school cafeteria.

Before that time, Mrs. Bancroft and her assistants expect to have some 1,500 stockings filled with goodies — they're about half way through the task now.

Mrs. Bancroft is Neighborhood Chairman of the Clinton Girl Scouts, co-sponsors of the Santa visit, along with the Clinton Chapter FFA, Chamber of Commerce, Clinton Rotary Club, and Clinton Community Fund.

The FFA boys are popping all the popcorn and Mrs. Charles Escott is furnishing the honey for the popcorn balls, which are being made this week.

Cadette Girl Scouts will fill the stockings on Dec. 12.

Father Noelke Goes To Saline

CLINTON — The Rev. Fr. Joseph Noelke left Wednesday for a new assignment to St. Andrew's Church, Saline. St. Andrew's will soon undertake a building program of a new church and rectory at a 20-acre site on Austin Rd., west of Saline, just off Michigan Ave.

Fr. Noelke has served at St. Dominic's and at St. Andrew's for two years while residing here. During that time, alterations were made in the chancel and a new altar installed at St. Dominic's.

The new parish priest at St. Dominic's will be the Rev. Fr. Leon Kennedy, who took up his residence here Wednesday. He was the resident chaplain and professor of philosophy at Madonna College, Livonia.

A much-traveled man, skilled in many languages, Fr. Kennedy was the founder of the St. Francis parish in Ann Arbor, and St Andrew's parish in Saline. He was a professor in Sacred Heart Seminary, Detroit, and the Rev Fr. Noelke was his student several years ago.

Halladay Farm Trotting Track Is Being Built

CLINTON — Mrs. Vivian Kendall recently sold her farm on W. Michigan Ave., formerly known as the Cebert Halladay farm, to Donald Bidwell of Ann Arbor.

Mr. Bidwell is already building a large cement block horse barn and practice track for his stable of trotting horses.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Bruter and family are residing in the house.

Mrs. Kendall moved some months ago to Adrian where she resides at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Gerald Morgenthaler.

'68 School Tax Upped Six Mills

CLINTON — Taxpayers in the Clinton Community School district will soon be receiving their 1968 tax assessment, which includes an increase of six mills for the new school building program approved by voters last June.

By taking action prior to Sept. 1, the district was able to have the assessments placed on this year's tax roll.

The new school building bonds, in the amount of $2,280,000, were sold recently to the Bank of the Commonwealth, Detroit, for an average interest rate of 5.1821%.

In August, the board of education determined that it would require 8 mills levied on the state equalized valuation of the school district, $19,861,149, to pay for a new high school building and remodeling program.

Eight mills represents an increase of six mills, since two mills was previously collected for a building and site fund, which was allowed to expire last year.

The first principal and interest payment on the bonds is due in May 1969, and the funds received from taxes will earn interest for the district for several months before contracts will have to be honored.

Each year in August, the school board will have to determine the amount of millage required to meet the interest and principal payments in the coming year, under guidelines established by the Board of Education of the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission.

Any change in state equalized valuation in subsequent years would make it possible for the school board to set a varying amount of millage as necessary to raise the sum needed for debt retirement.

It is expected that it will be possible to let contracts for the new school building construction late in the winter.

Interfaith Caroling

Rehearsals are held at 7 p.m. each Tuesday at St. Dominic's Catholic Church.

Besides the traditional caroling for shut-ins about the village, the group plans to sing for the patients at Herrick Nursing Home before Christmas.

Pastor Resigns

CLINTON — The Rev. Dennis Goodrow has resigned as pastor of the Assembly of God, effective Dec. 29. He has served here for three years.

He will move with his wife, and two children, Debbie, 7, and Joel, 4, to Harrison, where he will become pastor of the Assembly of God.

CROP Study Speaker Here

CLINTON — A program of community-wide interest will be presented Friday, at 7:30 p.m., in the United Church of Christ, featuring Frank L. Weaver of Greeley, Colo.

Mr. Weaver is the Rocky Mountain Area director of Church World Service Community Appeals, and a career fieldman for Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP).

During the past summer, Mr. Weaver undertook a work-survey trip to the Middle East and Greece for a first-hand view of the needs and uses of CROP foods overseas.

He will tell of his findings there and will illustrate his talk with colored slides. Frank is the son of Mrs. Linn Weaver of 135 E. Church St., and spent his youth in Clinton, graduating from Clinton High School.

Invitations to the program were read in local churches, Sunday, and anyone in the community is welcome to attend.

Arrangements for the program are being made by the Women's Fellowship.

Through My Window

GRAY BUT ALSO VERY, VERY GRAY

They are here, and they are here in full force. The gray days blew in with a massive weather front and, for a while, we thought perhaps the strong winds had blown the sun out. Day after day it stayed hidden behind the dark, gloomy clouds. Finally the barometer rose, the storm passed and there were even a few days of bright sunshine and unusually warm weather.

But the trend is set, from now on there will be more gray days than sunny ones and we will see much more heavy overcast sky than the clear, sparkling, blue kind.

I'm not complaining, though — at least not yet — because, so far at least, the sunless days have been busy bird-watching days. Ordinarily I do not accept the phasing out of fall so graciously.

Who could use the words gloomy and dismal and dreary about a day which sees a flock of chick-a-dees playing their exciting games of follow-the-leader? Or how about a day which shows us a cocky little goldfinch all dressed up in his dull winter garb?

★

THIS STARTS out to be a good season for chick-a-dees. Usually there are three of the cute, little black-capped characters, occasionally they invite friends to come over for a short visit.

It is all 'fun and games', and the serious business of feeder eating will wait until the snow piles high and buries the plentiful supply of weed seeds across the creek.

Other non-bright days are enlivened by the juncos. Never the completely carefree souls that the chick-a-dees are, the juncs are lining up and cataloguing where the best dining spots are.

I am sure the near-my-window feeder ranks high and only slightly below the pile of scratch feed which we put on the ground near the top of the creek bank. The black-hooded, gray vested juncos do some playing though and, when not scratching at the scratch feed, they imitate the chick-a-dees' games.

The sun does not hide all of the time, once in a while and probably just out of curiosity, he pokes his head out for a quick look at what is happening down here.

Several weeks ago we had sunshine for three days in a row and this in itself was cause for great rejoicing but, as a bonus, these sunny days were also when the flicker decided to re-introduce himself.

Either event would have been noteworthy but to have both things happen at once — wow! At first, the flicker contented himself with some 'fly throughs'. As he flew back and forth, going from one tree to another, the sunlight caught the underpart of his wings, lower tummy and tail, and you cannot imagine a bright-yellow.

Actually it was more than just bright, there was a richness which almost bordered on a polished gold. Once satisfied that we were fully impressed with his beauty when in flight, he zoomed down for a lunch of scratch feed. What an appetite! He ate and ate and ate.

Most of the time when eating, he was backing up — many birds do not stand still to eat but few of them hunch along backwards. Perhaps our handsome flicker visited us by way of celebrating the sunshine because when it left, so did he. We have not seen him since.

★

THE NEXT DAY had us worried, if the birds were not going to show off, I was on the verge of losing 'my stiff upper lip' about the gloomy weather.

In mid-afternoon though something flew into the small maple — well no, it did not fly into the tree, it flew to a small limb of the tree and sat down. A song sparrow.

Gertie T. and I were about to take turns with the binoculars, close-up looks at the cuddly little bird's dotted, striped front and his stickpin marking would be fun, but something else attracted our attention.

A yellow-bellied sapsucker was climbing up the trunk of a nearby tree and surprise, surprise, this was a neat, well-groomed sapsucker. Usually they are unkempt looking characters whom I have often described as being a ragged bunch of black and white feathers loosely tied together.

This bird, though, was trim and almost dapper. Hope he likes the neighborhood and will become a regular.

So it is that good bird business has counteracted the glum weather and thus, in all truth and not a bit complainingly, I describe our days as gray but also very very gay.

NEXT WEEK:
"Just Plain Obstinate, Ornery and Stubborn."

Christmas Star

All groups interested in seeing the story of the Christmas star are advised to make reservations at their earliest convenience with the Adrian College Planetarium, Joseph Noffsinger, director.

Each year during the Christmas season programs related to the story of the three wise men and the Star of Bethlehem are given at the Robinson Planetarium. Groups of 20 or more persons may make reservations with Mr. Noffsinger.

A showing, open to the public is scheduled Dec. 18, at 8 p.m. No reservations are necessary and persons not members of any group planning to attend are urged to do so.

The projection system at the Planetarium permits the viewer to go back in time to the time of Christ and to see the stars and the planets as they were at that time. The varying ideas related to the Star of Bethlehem are then presented.

The engagement of Doris Snyder to Richard L. Anspach is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Snyder of Laingsburg. Mr. Anspach is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anspach of Britton. The wedding date is May 24, 1969.

Handicrafts For Special Ed

Working with mentally retarded young people is a new project planned by the Little Garden Club of Tecumseh.

Members voted at their November meeting to undertake a limited program of handicraft sessions in January, February and March, to see how interest is sustained. They will be working with a class of severely retarded pupils at Lenawee Institute.

George W. Eidson, coordinator of special education for the county, spoke to the club members, illustrating incidents which would demonstrate how the pupils might react. The work could be frustrating, but it could also be richly satisfying, his remarks indicated.

Fiercely protective when he feels these handicapped children are being abused by an indifferent world, he asked for more tolerant attitudes, whether the handicaps are mental, physical, emotional or social.

Mr. Eidson also noted that even when the pupils aren't capable of learning much, they are capable of great affection to anyone who is kind and thoughtful to them.

A slide talk by Mrs. James Vanzo on her year in Alaska, with comments by Mrs. Robert Murray on her recent trip there, held some surprises for club members.

Warm ocean currents mean abundant rainfall and moderate temperatures in Ketchikan, where the Vanzos spent a year teaching school. The Christmas season was greeted with roses, and little snow, Mrs. Vanzo noted.

Mrs. Murray, delighted with vast areas of wild flowers she found in Alaska, urged club members to work to preserve open lands and forests here, as well.

New members welcomed to the club were Mrs. Nelson C. Hipchee, Mrs. Charles M. Cook and Mrs. Roger Kapp. Guests present were Mrs. Glenn Breckenridge, Mrs. Charles Coffey and Mrs. Richard Meyers.

Mrs. George Stewart was hostess, assisted by Mrs. William Holmes and Mrs. Carson House Jr.

The December meeting will be a social evening including husbands of club members.

Homes Pass State Inspection

The homes under construction by students in the building trades program conducted by the Lenawee Vocational Office were recently inspected and approved by the Federal Housing Administration. Samuel Dasher, FHA inspector from Detroit gave instructors Ray Kopp at the Hudson site and Arden Sager of the Tecumseh-Adrian site approval to begin the final construction phase.

The home construction program of the Lenawee area is the only training program in the State of Michigan approved by the Federal Housing Administration.

Homes constructed under the FHA program must be inspected during three phases of the building operation. The first inspection is made after the foundation and back-filling is completed. The second inspection is made of the rough wiring and plumbing layout and the framing of the house. The third inspection is made after the finish carpentry is completed and after the home is ready for occupancy.

Combat Ready

Army Pvt. David A. Lips, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Lips, 10124 Ford Hwy., completed nine weeks of advanced infantry training Nov. 15 at Ft. Polk, La. His last week of training was spent in guerrilla warfare exercises.

During his guerrilla training, he lived under simulated Vietnam conditions for five days, fighting off night attacks and conducting raids on "enemy" villages. He was taught methods of removing booby traps, setting ambushes and avoiding enemy ambushes.

Other specialized training included small unit tactics, map reading, land mine warfare, communications and firing the M-16 rifle, M-60 machine gun and the 3.5-inch rocket.

Brighten Lives Of Orphans

Mrs. Ric Creswell, chairman of the MEDCAP project for the Jaycee Auxiliary, voiced the gratitude of the group to the organizations and individuals who helped to fill and send 15 packages to Tecumseh's Russell Slick in Vietnam for use in an orphanage there.

Mrs. Creswell said recently another five or six packages are ready for shipment but postage money is not available to get them on the way.

Those mailed used up $57.30 of the $59.55 donated and it will take about $20 to complete the project.

Among those contributing articles or money are:

United Church of Christ Mission Circle, (Mrs. Alva Hageman, Sidney, O.) Church of Christ (Mrs. William Groover, Mrs. Noreen Blatcher).

Mrs. John Kopka.
Mrs. Walter Elwartowski.
Mrs. Charles Latham.

Mrs. Robert Cheers.
Mrs. Lyle Grigg.
Mrs. John Slick.
Mrs. Roy T. Beasley.
Mrs. Karl Schneider.

All-American Girls

Local high school senior girls took a unique test Dec. 3 — one on homemaking, the only one of its type exclusively designed for girls at that educational level.

This written knowledge and attitude test on all facets of homemaking was given simultaneously that day to more than a million girls representing some 15,000 high schools in the nation.

Scholarships to colleges of their choice will be awarded to both state and national winners. The highest ranking girl in each state will receive a $1,500 scholarship and a chance to win one of four national scholarships. These range from $5,000 for the girl chosen Betty Crocker All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow, to $4,000, $3,000, and $2,000 respectively for second, third and fourth place winners.

Runners-up in each state will receive $500 grants with the first ranked girl in each school receiving a specially designed silver charm from General Mills, Inc., which inaugurated the Betty Crocker Search in 1954-55 and has sponsored it every year since then.

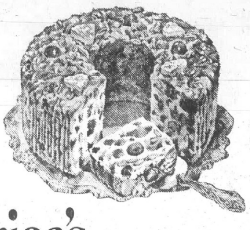
A&P



It's America's most popular! Why?

We think it's excellence of product.
Years and years ago, when we decided to bake
Jane Parker Fruit Cake, we also decided to bake the best.
That's why Jane Parker Fruit Cake was then and is today over 2/3 fruits and nuts.

Just enough cake to hold together the bounty of imported and domestic cherries, pineapple from the Far East, citron from the Caribbean, sun-drenched raisins from California and meaty pecans from the South.

We think, too, that value has made it popular.
IMAGINE, THE 5-LB. CAKE COSTS ONLY $4.59.
That's dollars less than you might expect to pay for such a fine fruit cake.

Now you know why Jane Parker Fruit Cake is America's most popular.
One other thing you should know: You can buy it only at A&P.

P.S. Wouldn't it make a great gift for someone?

Cub Scouts Hold Yule Log Hunt

Cub Scouts and Webelos of Pack 72 will hold a Yule Log Hunt Dec. 9 with the families of the boys invited to join them at 7:45 p.m. at the Community Center.

The boys will dress warmly, wear boots and carry a flashlight when they meet at the Community Center at 7 p.m.

When they return to the Center and join their families, refreshments will be served and a collection of 50c per family will be taken to defray the costs.

The Yule Log Hunt was started in pagan times, when men honored Thor, their God of War, by burning a log with great ceremony during the Christmas season.

A swimming party is scheduled Feb. 22 at the YMCA in Adrian from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m., at a cost of 50c per person.

Country Club Buffet Luncheon

A Christmas luncheon will be held Wednesday, Dec. 11, at the Country Club with a planned buffet at 1:30 p.m.

An egg nog bowl at 1 p.m. in the lounge will start the festivities. Door prizes will be awarded and each guest will bring a gift for exchange.

Bridge with table prizes will be played in the afternoon by members and their guests.

Mrs. W. E. Haselwood is chairman, assisted by Mrs. Donald Cobb, Mrs. Paul Ammer and Mrs. Howard Furry.

Tough, patented rubber track with nylon reinforcement will take any punishment you can give it

KEYED TO QUALITY — Engineered and fabricated in the province of Quebec, Sno-Jet engineers take pride in their craftsmanship, a pride that is evident in the finished product a solid, reliable machine, constantly chosen by the thousands of people who rely on snowmobiles for lifelines of transportation.

Observe, compare Sno-Jet noted on the North American continent for its maneuverability. Pull the starter handle and your Sno-Jet will snap to life with very little travel of the handle. This new starting ease is due to *arco-lite spark intensifier, a first on the market. Push the accelerator, your Sno-Jet will snap to life from the powerful engine and an engineered traction belt. Feel the new ease of comfortable "people engineered" pleated and rolled upholstery. Go into sharp turns, twist, make figure 8's, you'll know why Sno-Jet is famous for maneuverability. Stop and look at your Sno-Jet, it's lean, trim, uncluttered, a tough dark Parisian blue color, a bit of French Canada in each machine.

Man Charged with Negligence after Killing 7-Year-Old Boy

Four youngsters were sitting around a family TV, and moments later, one was dying.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at Hudson for Rick D. L. Koontz, seven-year-old second grader at Patterson, who was killed Wednesday afternoon of last week in the living room at his home.

Charged with killing by negligent discharge of firearm is Philip G. Beemer, 22, of 1331 E. Valley Rd. He waived examination before Justice Ernest Oliver and appeared before Judge Rex Martin in Circuit Court Tuesday morning.

When Beemer appeared before Judge Martin without an attorney, the jurist rescheduled the court date to Dec. 31, and if Beemer is unsuccessful in retaining a lawyer, the court would consider appointing one.

County Prosecutor requested a bond for Beemer, due to his past record. About four years ago he was convicted of armed robbery in Toledo and was on probation for three years. On leaving court Tuesday morning, he was taken to the county jail.

Negligent discharge of a firearm carries a maximum penalty of two years in prison in Michigan.

RICK KOONTZ

According to the police, Beemer and Gerald Ferguson, step-father of Rick, returned to Ferguson's home at 213 E. Pottawatamie St., late Wednesday afternoon from Adrian, where Beemer had taken out a .38 caliber revolver on a trial basis.

He and Ferguson had planned a trip to California on Friday, and Beemer was considering the gun for his wife while he was away.

After arriving at the Ferguson home, Rick, accompanied his step-father to a local store for some soft drinks. When they returned, Beemer was sitting in the living room with one of the youngsters on his lap. Rick joined the others at the TV.

Ferguson asked Beemer if his gun was loaded, and then asked him to unload it with the child on his lap and others in the room. At this time Ferguson brought out a gun, which he had recently purchased, and started to clean it.

Beemer had supposedly emptied his gun, but when Rick playfully pointed a ball bat at him — in cops and robbers fashion — the youth reportedly went along with the fun and pointed his revolver—and pulled the trigger.

The shot, which police call a wad cutter or target round, struck Rick in the head, rolling him over on the floor. Neighbors called the police at 5:25 p.m.

The Lenawee County sheriff ambulance was in the west section of town, but the fatally-wounded boy was taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital in the patrol car. He was pronounced dead there at 5:55.

Rick was born in Hudson on Feb. 6, 1961. He was a member of the Friends Church.

Survivors, besides his mother and step-father, are three sisters, Penny, Wendy and Jody, all at home.

2 Shoplifters Hit Clothing Shop

Two shoplifters, traced to a Detroit address through an auto license number, made off with two $90 dresses from Cal's Tog Shop shortly before closing time Monday night.

The local ladies' clothing shop, owned by Cal and Helen Damon, was victimized when two women showed interest in some robes, and then one reportedly smuggled the two dresses out of the shop under her coat.

Mrs. Damon and Mrs. John Anderson were alone in the shop. Mr. Damon was out of town at the time.

When one was in a fitting room, Mrs. Damon became leary of their intentions and went next door to Baldwin Hardware.

Earl Baldwin and Don Smith, owner of Don's Beef Buffet, were present and left for the clothing shop, with Mr. Baldwin coming in by the back door and Mr. Smith from the street.

As they were entering, the two women left. Mr. Baldwin followed them out and caught the license number of their car.

Both suspects are Negroes.

Yule Home Contest

A savings bond and two gift certificates will be the prizes in the Home Decorating and Lighting contest conducted in the City of Tecumseh and sponsored by the Parks and Recreation Department.

First prize is a $25 savings bond; second, a $15 gift certificate; and third, a $5 gift certificate.

The savings bond is being donated by the United Savings Bank and the certificates by the Chamber of Commerce.

Both lighting and general decorations will be judged on the basis of originality, artistic merit, lighting technique and general composition.

Elaborateness and expense of materials will not be taken into consideration. The contest is designed to encourage greater spirit of the season and goodwill.

Deadline for entries is Dec. 17 and judging will take place Dec. 18 and 19. Entrants are asked to have their displays lighted from 6:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. for the judging.

Robideau New Box President

James Robideau, one of the original incorporators of Tecumseh Corrugated Box back in February, 1963, has been elected president of the company.

He succeeds Fred Attwood, who had been president since the founding. Mr. Attwood will continue as chairman of the board.

Mr. Robideau has held one of the top offices of Tecumseh Box from the beginning. He was first a vice-president in charge of sales, and two years ago he was promoted to executive vice-president.

JAMES ROBIDEAU

For the past year he has been responsible for all phases of the company's divisions, which includes three expansions by Tecumseh Box in Ohio.

The local company has enjoyed nothing but success since its founding and has gradually increased its production facilities, not only through additional and improved operations and equipment here, but through the three new divisions.

Mr. Attwood, at the recent stockholders meeting, reported sales increases of 61% over a comparable period of a year ago. Earnings were reported satisfactory and forecasted a further 30% sales increase for the next fiscal year, ending October, 1969.

No further plant expansions are contemplated at this time.

$45,000 Mark for Fund Drive

Industry has given the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation drive a tremendous shot in the arm with donations from the local and area plants boosting total contributions to $45,000.

However, for the first time since the Foundation's beginning, the goal — $58,700 — will probably not be reached, due to several contributing factors. Last year's goal was $55,000.00.

Some divisions have yet to report and drive co-chairmen, Kaye Steele and Dyke Helms, are hoping their returns will push the total figure over $50,000, still short of the goal.

Tecumseh Products continued to set the pace for donations and again has made up about half of the $45,000.

Stu Costigan, industrial drive chairman, has nearly completed his division campaign. Foundation leaders are hoping that the entire drive will be wrapped up within another week.

At the present, industry has raised about $32,000, about $7,000 less than last year.

A sizeable personal gift also has been greatly appreciated by the Foundation directors.

Failure to reach this year's goal will undoubtedly be attributed to the six-week strike at the Products and postponement of the annual drive from October to late November and December.

Local Businessman Still A Patient

James Barton, local distributor for Standard Oil products who was stricken two weeks ago with a reported cerebral hemorrhage, did not suffer such an attack, but is still a patient at University Hospital in Ann Arbor.

According to the family, doctors have decided that his body has healed itself and after two more weeks of rest, he will be released to come home.

His room number is 9611 West.

Santa Here in Town on Friday

Santa Claus in sleigh and reindeer will arrive here in downtown Tecumseh Friday afternon at 4:30 and urges all mommies to have their youngsters here to greet him.

Friday, he will meet the young folks till 6:00 and then later in the evening. His hours will be posted at a new Santa Claus house, just built by the Jaycees and financed by the Chamber of Commerce.

Don Moffatt, city recreation director and Chamber official, in charge of his visit here, says Santa has an important meeting with his elves Saturday and will not be in Tecumseh — but Merry Christmas will be here and she will take his place.

Santa's hours next week, starting Monday, will be 10 a.m. to noon, 1:00 to 3:00, and then 6:00 to 9:00 p.m. On Dec. 24, he will leave his place in downtown Tecumseh to get ready for "comin' down the chimney."

Trash Pickup Starts Today

Trash pickup, community-wide, will start this Thursday and run through next Tuesday, Dec. 17.

The city will pick up all trash — appliances, furniture, tree limbs and other large items — which will not go into a refuse bag, Cal Zorn city manager, explained.

The city's annual pickup of Christmas trees will be made from Jan. 2 to Jan. 8.

Clara's Tecumseh Book Will Be Released Here Friday and Saturday

A 25-year task is done.

Clara Waldron's narrative history of Tecumseh is being released Friday.

A public book autograph party will be held in Don's Beef Buffet that afternoon, 2:30 to 4, to celebrate the occasion.

In addition, a 16x20" oil painting of Chief Tecumseh, which was done by Russell Steinke, for the volume, is going to be unveiled.

Coffee will be furnished free by Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith, owners of the restaurant.

Cookies, baked by the Wit and Wisdom Club in honor of Miss Waldron's accomplishment, are being served.

Persons who have ordered her work, "100 Years — A Country Town", may pick up their autographed copies at Don's. Books also will be available at The Herald office beginning Friday afternoon.

Those unable to attend the party and wish a personal inscription in their books may take them to Miss Waldron's home at 601 W. Pottawatamie St.

More than 600 reservations for books were taken during the past five weeks by Herald personnel. Nearly one-third of that number is being mailed to people all over the United States.

Copies for sale, at $5.95, plus tax, will be available during the autograph party Friday.

Miss Waldron's expert history of Tecumseh's first century, 1824 to 1924, is fascinating reading, according to people who have had an opportunity to view it.

She began the task 25 years ago, spending weeks to research even the smallest points. Her family lineage in the community goes back to 1825, when her great-grandfather, William Tilton, a long-time friend of Musgrove Evans, arrived in the pioneer settlement.

Miss Waldron was born on Nov. 27, 1889, the daughter of Charles and Josephine Colvin Waldron.

A 1913 graduate of Tecumseh High School, she earned a degree from Michigan State University four years later.

Her historical column in The Herald on early Tecumseh drew wide readership. Called "Is That So" it was never flippantly written, in fact just the opposite. What Clara wrote was fact. If a story had been passed down by word of mouth — often with tongue in cheek — she'd label this information as such.

Putting together her book was a monumental task, mainly because she demanded of herself complete authenticity.

No point was too minor to be tracked down from library to research book to private collection.

More than 30 illustrations and photographs are included.

WORK COMPLETED — Sheet steel, nearly 30 feet in length, has been driven into the western bank of the River Raisin bridge approach. Officials believe the $7,000 project will now prevent any further damage which occurred in the June flood.

BEHIND PAGE ONE

A note to the small fry of Tecumseh. Come to the public library on Wednesday, Dec. 18, at 1:15 p.m. Hear about the Grinch and Santa Mouse. They will be looking for you!!!

Sir James Barrie wrote for a distinct line protecting man's consistency, "You see my dear, it is not true that woman was made from man's rib; she was really made from his funny bone." Perhaps that is why Christmas shopping time is open season on bachelors, but thep all men, single or not, know that women are just one of nature's agreeable blunders.

Some Tecumsehites will remember the Bill Hazzards, especially members of the choir of the First Baptist Church. William Hazzard was their director several years ago and his wife, Marilyn, sang a lovely soprano. News from the International Institute of Toledo at the Zoo states that he will direct "The Toledo Civic Centers" in concert at 3:40 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 22. The Institute presents a year round program for all nationalities, an especially nice one during the holidays. More information by contacting The Herald.

The Herald received their first Christmas present Tuesday morning, two batches of home-made Christmas Cookies. We would like to thank The Rev. Laszlo Gero and the Baptist ladies for the delicious cookies. (Memo from the composing room—PLEASE don't put the next batch in Bill Sanford's desk!!!) ?!xz ?!xz!

The Herald staff is proud of one of the co-op students who worked in the office during the summer. David Bush recently did the photography and other work on the fall college book at Concordia College where he is a freshman. He photographed over five-hundred student and faculty individually as well as other shots of the campus. The college was also convinced of his work giving him an "A" in journalism for the semester. David was back in our town over the Thanksgiving holiday and stopped by the office to heckle some of the employees, especially his old nemises Lonal Bishop, boss of the back shop.

The staff at the Herald does know how to spell! The staff at the Herald does know how to spell! That is not a recorded message but it is one conveyed to many a person. The phone rings concerning the spelling of "Noel" on our front window, which was painted by Karen Bishop. The little scene depicts four little angels in the guises of little girls. The little girl holding "E" is being prodded to join in the establishment, so to speak. Ah ha, you see we do know how to spell. And goodnight Mrs. Esvzhtlerliterbilinderknowish wherever you are.

"In any town there should be Christmas music played at Christmas time," pretty Shirley Lawson said Monday as we sought out the source of the beautiful carols emanating from a loud speaker in front of the Lawson TV and Appliance Store. It was coming from a large Philco stereophonic high fidelity set, teamed up with television and an AM-FM radio. Whowee! What gorgeous sound.

The Tecumseh Service Club would appreciate any organization helping an individual family to report the name to the Service Club to avoid a duplication of assistance for the Christmas holidays. Call 423-4158, Mrs. Robert Cheers; or Mrs. Charles Irelan 423-3087.

3 Drivers Are Cited

Three accidents investigated by the Tecumseh police during the past week involved property damage but no personal injury to drivers or to their passengers.

A resume is:

Dec. 4 — Ann H. Ammer, 67, of 707 W. Pottawatamie St., was cited for failure to yield the right of way after she made a left turn into the path of an oncoming car. Other driver was Gordon D. Barth, 29, of 11105 Pocklington Rd. Mishap occurred at S. Maumee St. and E. Pottawatamie.

Dec. 6 — Riley L. Koertge, 59, Adrian, was arrested for failure to yield the right of way after an accident with Carl W. Crawford, 23, of 206 N. Maumee, at Rogers Hwy. and Blood Rd.

Dec. 7 — Charles E. Mills, 17, of 2239 Occidental Rd., was cited for failure to stop for a traffic light after an accident with Daniel W. Carpenter, 25, of 1079 Alamo Court, at the intersection of Chicago Blvd. and Evans St.

Five Families

CLINTON — Five families of the Northline Farm Bureau attended a Christmas potluck supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vogel, Tuesday evening.

The Jan. 14 meeting will be held with Mr. and Mrs. George Heimerdinger.

Sermon Message Is "What's in a Name"

BRITTON — "What's In A NAME?" An answer will be given Sunday morning at the 11 a.m. worship service of the Bethel Baptist Church when the Rev. Duane McNeil delivers the message.

Sunday School classes meet at 10 a.m., with something for everyone.

"Heart Failure" is Pastor McNeil's subject for the 7:30 p.m. worship service.

Adult Bible study and youth groups meet at 6:30 p.m.

Practice for the Christmas program "Who Is This Babe?" is Saturday at 1 p.m.

Quarterly meeting is this Friday at 7:30 p.m., at which time plans for the construction of a new sanctuary will be presented to the members.

A farewell party for the Paul Bishop family, who is moving from the area, is scheduled for Dec. 18. Those attending are to bring cookies, sandwiches or chips.

The Christmas program will be presented Dec. 22 at 7:30 p.m.

Pastor McNeil extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend.

Post Office Open Sat.

Postmaster Jack Metcalf announced Monday that the windows at the Post Office will be open Saturdays, Dec. 14 and 21, from 8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m., for the sale of stamps and mailing of packages.

Lost Car Comes Home

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wilson, 203 E. Kilbuck, were happy Dec. 6 to be notified by the Saline Police that their 1965 red Buick had been found in Detroit after it had been stolen four weeks ago from the parking lot of the Ford Motor Co. in Saline.

Only damage was to the ignition switch which must be replaced and also their son, Tom, lost his casting rod, from the trunk.

Police finally deduced that the car which had been double parked and hauled in from Detroit streets was the stolen vehicle.

Fortunately, the Wilsons had removed about $400 worth of fishing tackle from the car just before it was taken.

COMPLEXION

Soft water and your favorite soap create gently-caressing sudsy bubbles that help give your skin and complexion the smooth fresh look of health and beauty. No more hard water curd to cause roughness, redness, or blemishes.

SHAMPOOING

All the silky, lustrous natural lovelliness of your hair is strikingly and dramatically revealed. No more dingy film to make it feel stringy — no hard water elements to dull its soft, shimmering color. And hair is easier to manage.

LAUNDRY

Clothes wash whiter, softer, cleaner — free of bacteria-laden, fibre-weakening hard water curd. All washables look better, wear up to 33% longer. And soft water can save up to 70% on soaps and detergents!

DISHES

If you hand-wash dishes, rinse in hot-soft water and place in drying rack. Dishes, glassware, silver dry to a spot-free sparkle — without towelling. Automatic dishwashers operate more efficiently, too!

BATHING

SHAVING

DRINKING

Fresh, icy-cold soft water is delightful to drink. Keep a decanter in your refrigerator. It's better, too, in cocktails, lemonade, and other iced beverages.

COOKING

Vegetables stay tender, retain their garden-fresh flavors and appetizing colors. You'll especially notice how beans and peas respond to soft water cooking.

COFFEE-TEA

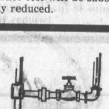
Your filtered, conditionad water will bring out all the full-bodied flavor and aroma of your favorite brands. There's nothing like soft water coffee!

WATER HEATER

With soft water, no rock-like scale can form. Heaters last longer, operate more efficiently. And your water heating fuel cost will be substantially reduced.

APPLIANCES

Washing machines, dishwashers, and garbage disposers work better because there's no hard water curd, scale, or sediment to clog valves, pipes, moving parts.



PLUMBING

Soft water helps to avoid plumbing sale; in older homes it may remove existing scale. Drains and piping will stay open and trouble-free.

CLARA WALDRON DAY

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS this City has for many years been graced with the presence of Clara Waldron, a person of whom any municipality would be proud to claim as a resident; and

WHEREAS said Clara Waldron has further endeared herself to this Community by her persistent and painstaking reconstruction of the history of this area, in which research she has been intensely occupied for the past quarter century; and

WHEREAS the ancestors of said Clara Waldron first arrived in this area in 1825 and have always distinguished themselves in local civic affairs with Miss Waldron's book "100 YEARS — A COUNTRY TOWN" coming as a fitting capstone to the achievements of a century and a half,

NOW, THEREFORE, by the authority vested in me by the Charter of the City of Tecumseh and by Act 279 of Public Acts of Michigan of 1909, I do hereby proclaim and establish Friday, December 13, 1968 as Clara Waldron Day and all citizens of Tecumseh and surrounding areas are invited and requested to recognize, on that date, the debt of gratitude which each of us owes to those persons who sacrifice so much of their lives to make our Community a better place in which to live.

Harold Easton, Mayor

Festival of the Lights Time for Dedication

"Merry Christmas" for some is "Happy Hanukkah" for others.

The origin is religious in both cases. The Christmas season, when Christians celebrate the birth of Christ, generally coincides with the Hanukkah season, which is the Jewish Feast of Lights or Feast of Dedication.

Hanukkah, also spelled Chanukah, is a Hebrew word which means dedication. It begins on the eve of the 25th day of the Hebrew month of Kisley, and lasts eight days. This year it begins Monday, Dec. 16.

During Hanukkah, World Book Encyclopedia explains, gifts are exchanged. Each evening one additional candle is lighted on the Hanukkah menora (candelabra). By the last evening eight lighted candles stand together.

The Apocryphal books of the Maccabees tell the story of Hanukkah. In 165 B.C., after a three-year struggle, the Jews in Judea defeated the Syrian tyrant Antiochus. They held festivities in the Temple in Jerusalem, and rededicated it to God.

After cleansing the Temple of Syrian idols, they found only one small cruse of oil to light their holy lamps. But miraculously, the cruse provided oil for eight days.

Judas Maccabeus, the Jewish leader, then proclaimed a festival to be observed by Jews. It is still being observed.

Here Comes Da Judges' Helpers

Appointments of magistrates for the newly-formed District Courts in Lenawee County has become official with an announcement from Yale L. Kerby and Kenneth B. Glaser, judges-elect. The recently-elected judges met with county law enforcement officers and justices of the peace to confirm appointments.

Some of the present justices were not selected due to geographical consideration.

Ernest Oliver was selected for Tecumseh, Leon J. VanDusenin, Clinton, and Mrs. Norman Glancy, in Onsted, to serve the northern half of the county. County Clerk Patricia Johnston will serve as the chief magistrate of the court.

Another appointment approved for the new courts was that of Alex Payne as probation officer. Payne is presently serving as the probation officer for Lenawee County Probate Court.

Chamber Has 18 Members

Although Chamber of Commerce letters for 1969 dues have been out for just over a week, 18 have already remitted and joined for next year.

Current membership list includes:

Gambles
Ed's Standard Service
Van's Bakery
Tecumseh Corrugated Box
Avling-Cunningham Asphalt Paving Co.
Tecumseh Herald
James C. Butterfield

Mary Sanchez Beauty Salon

Dues are $25, $50 or $75 per year with the amount depending on the ability and willingness of a business or individual to support the Chamber.

The engagement of Fawn Theresa Choske to James Bernard Kopas is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Choske, 707 Wenonah St. Mr. Kopas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Kopas of Redford Township. Miss Choske was graduated from Tecumseh High School and holds a bachelor of science degree from Michigan State University in physics. She is teaching in Adrian. Her fiance was graduated from Thurston High School and is a senior at Michigan State University, majoring in math. The couple plan to be married at St. Elizabeth Church in August.

Bride-To-Be Is Honored By Bridal Shower

Christine Finnegan of Ann Arbor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cadmus, was honored at a bridal shower Friday evening, at the home of Mrs. Marron Smith in Saline.

Twenty-five friends from the secretarial staff of the Veterans' Hospital in Ann Arbor, where Christine is employed, came to play games and have a pleasant evening.

Co-hostesses were Sally Shirley, who will be maid of honor, and Mrs. Marvin Bacon, sister of the bride-elect.

Christine opened many beautiful and useful gifts. A beautifully-decorated green and white cake was a special feature of the refreshment table.

The mothers of the bride and groom were guests. The groom is Henry Beckwith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Beckwith of Niles.

The wedding will be Sunday, Dec. 15, at 5 p.m., at the Holloway Presbyterian Church.

Lenape Scouts Charter Session

The Boy Scouts of Lenape District will have a charter clearance at 7 p.m., Thursday, Dec. 19, at 7 p.m., at the Associated Charities in Adrian.

Unit Personnel of Pack and Troop 17, Tipton; Pack 23, Britton; and Troop 102, Tecumseh; will be present to complete their charter and pay fees for the year.

Harmony Club Christmastime

Mrs. Claude Sebring will host the annual Christmas meeting of the Harmony Homemakers Club Wednesday, Dec. 18, at her home.

The 12:30 potluck dinner will be followed by a gift exchange of items costing from 50c to $1.

DOWNTOWN TECUMSEH

Publisher Says "Thank You"

Clara Waldron's tremendous undertaking found many persons making vital contributions once the manuscript cleared her typewriter.

They get my eternal thanks.

► Mrs. John Howell, now of Pleasantville, N. Y., did the original editing, an enormous undertaking. She spent many hours going over various points with the author.

► The entire staff of The Herald pitched in with countless hours. Mrs. Robert Hunt, Mrs. Lyle Grigg and Mrs. Harold Calhoun accepted prepublication orders. Mrs. Hunt kept meticulous records and was never without a grin and cheery word, even when cash flowed so fast she could hardly count it — let alone do her Herald bookkeeping chores.

► Russell Steinke, an expert at the easel, readily agreed to research and paint an authentic oil of Chief Tecumseh — at no fee. This truly enhanced Miss Waldron's history.

► Robert Tuttle of Swenk-Tuttle Printing Co. in Adrian, was a constant guide as his firm did the presswork.

► Hoag & Son Bindery in Springport was the final link — and a vital one. This firm took over for an Indiana company, which couldn't meet the pre-Christmas delivery date. Hoag rushed the job through in 10 days' time, nearly unheard of in the trade.

► Finally, there are the wonderful people, who so love and admire Clara Waldron, and have ordered copies.

You may be interested to learn that the entire project, from writing and layout to composition, through paste-up, onto the presses and into the bindery, is costing approximately $4,900.

There will be no profit on the 1,000 copies run. This was Clara's wish and it is mine.

Board Recommends Site for Center

The school in search of a site has finally come close to the end of its search. The advisory board of the Lenawee Area Vocational Technical Area Center has recommended a site north of Adrian adjacent to the State Industrial Home for Girls. Slightly over 40 acres are involved in the transaction.

A total of nine sites were suggested as possible locations for the area center. The board was requested to reduce the number to two and then offer what it considered the prime location. The state land opposite the girls' home was deemed the most logical.

The fact that land is owned by the State of Michigan might cause possible complications. A resolution is necessary from the legislature to authorize the sale of state land.

A few years ago the Board of Supervisors sought to purchase the land, difficulties arose in the resolution and the action was stopped. Whether or not opposition to the site arises from other sources insofar as the Intermediate School District purchasing the land is at a point of conjecture at present. Local representatives in the Senate and the house have started drawing up a resolution to present at the opening sessions in January.

Adrian School District is also involved in the proposed site purchase, in that it will be the operating district of the new center upon completion and also owns approximately 11 acres of the land which the intermediate district wishes to purchase for the school.

The county district oversees the purchase and construction of the center but does not have authority to operate it, this authorization dwells with the largest district in the county or as otherwise agreed upon.

Adrian School District is asking $1,000 per acre for their parcel of land and the administrators of the new center are hoping that the state will also ask a like amount for the needed land.

If the purchase is made, hopes are that construction will begin next July with classes starting in 1970.

A Little Goes a LONG way...

Today's wonder drugs are so effective, they are prescribed in small doses. A little medicine goes a long way to restore you to good health — to get you back on your feet faster. Medical bills are smaller — loss of income is less. Nothing else worth so much to you costs so little.

City Directory Completed Soon

Mrs. Ted Todd, Mrs. Ric Creswell, Mrs. Robert Cheers and Mrs. Howard Kronberg are completing the enumerating for the Robinson City Directory this week.

Anyone who has been missed and would like to turn in information or order one of the books may call Mrs. Todd 423-4056.

Mrs. Elmer Wilt is doing the work beyond the city limits in Tecumseh Township.

Army Pvt. 1/c, Jimmy W. Brown, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Brown, 424 N. Evans St., was assigned Nov. 21 to the 1st Infantry Division near Di An, Vietnam, as a pay disbursing specialist.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Home for Christmas. This should be everyone's right but there are many again this year who will spend the holidays far, far away, only dreaming of the nice smells, sounds and pretty lights of the season they remember from past years.

Our hearts are filled with gratitude as we read the addresses of the servicemen of this area printed on Page 1, Section C, who will be in this category. Certainly a little note of thanks for all they are giving up to protect the Republic in which we live will not be out of order and there is time if we make it.

Jack Metcalf and the Post Office crew stand ready to speed the letters on the way, even opening the windows for stamps and mailing the next two Saturdays.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Robison entertained Sunday at a family dinner honoring the baptism of their grandson, Micah Ries Robison, during the morning worship service at the Grace United Methodist Church, Ridgeway. Micah is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Robison of Santa Ana, Calif. There were 15 guests. The baby and his parents are spending two weeks here with the Robisons and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Aibert Bailey.

Cpl. James Wallace finally arrived at Metropolitan Airport Friday at 12:35 a.m., and was greeted by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wallace. His last day was to have been Oct. 31 in Vietnam but it has taken him a long time to reach home. He did, however, spend Thanksgiving with family friends in Mill Valley, Calif., after reaching Treasure Island at San Francisco, Nov. 23. He learned that his former outfit on the airstrip at Danang had been hit hard soon after he left it. Jimmy is planning to go back to his job at the Ford Motor Co. He worked in the Rewsonville plant before he served in the army.

√

√

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Holdridge returned Sunday from a 3,000-mile tour down the east coast of the states to Jacksonville, N. C., where they spent Thanksgiving with their son, Jerry, and his wife, Dianne. Then on the Holdridges went clear to Miami, Fla., and back up the west coast of that state from Fort Meyers, traveling Route 75 back to Tecumseh. Jerry expects to be out of the Marines by Jan. 5.

√

√

Deborah Purkey is expected home Saturday from Michigan State University to spend the Christmas recess with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Purkey, and family. Donna Purkey will accompany Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Gallant to Dayton, O., over the weekend to visit their son, Tom.

√

Perry Satterthwaite is recuperating slowly at home following surgery at Herrick Memorial Hospital. Visitors are still limited and his daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Munson, is still with him.

Bids Let

Bids were let Monday night by the School Board for a new $805,237 Sutton Elementary School, to be located on Sutton Rd., just east of Occidental.

General contractor bid went to Krieghoff-Lenawee Construction, the low bidder at $557,325. Young & Ost received the plumbing and heating contract for $219,193, and Industrial Electric, $79,393 for electrical work.

Total cost of the building, including site, site development, equipping of building and classrooms, architectural fees and other related incidentals, is $1,012,792.

Architects have figured the cost at $24.04 per square fot for 33,500-sq.-ft. building.

Unless there's a hitch in plans, construction work will start next week with a completion date scheduled for about one year hence. Tecumseh hopes to have students in the building for the second semester of the 1969-70 school year.

Musings

G.I.'s Know About Peace and Care

Christmas time is a time when the world falls in love. What a strange conglomeration of emotions make that love the architect of worthwhile and lasting peace. Whenever and wherever it may come, perhaps we will be intelligent enough to accept it for what it is.

No definition is available to or toward any love man feels, however, love of mankind and compassion within the brotherhood of man will be tools for that architect.

Love is a selfish and selfless emotion, one that controls moments as well as discards them.

In a tiny nation that went unobserved 10 years ago, young men are fighting for a purpose that has never been clearly defined. While they are anonymous in the everyday existence of Mr. In and Mr. Out, these men will come to be better than we had dreamed.

A former commander of the Marine Corps in Vietnam a week or so ago said that they will come home after it is all over as better men and better citizens. People who seek peace at any cost wondered how that could be so, that men who had to kill could possibly be better men and citizens.

But it is quite true, take a young man from Tecumseh, Russell Slick, he saw a group of youngsters in an orphanage lacking in food and clothing, in what ways he could he reached out to help them. He was involved in a war, a game that is the art of self-survival, but he didn't think just of self-survival, but of someone else.

There are people back home living off the fruits of that uncommon war who talk a good game but do less. The Russell Slicks are better men and who knows, when this is all over and the bearded, protected "intellectuals" who stink with the stench of fear, meet up with those who did what nobody wanted to do, a new theatre of intellectual activity will arise.

I firmly believe that our young men in America who will lead us in the future are sleeping in mudholes and living with a common enemy. They are the choice of the lot. The peaceniks are quick to call them sheep because they face the draft and enlistment without question, but simply as a matter of duty.

Duty is necessary in the brotherhood of man if it is at all to survive. Russell Slick in noticing a bunch of hungry, unclothed children and a few nuns trying to accomplish the impossible, gives more bright hope to the world than the rhetoric of a Kennedy, the semantics of a McCarthy, the logic of a McNamara or the personal appetites of other politicians.

They, those young men and some not so young, will be coming home someday, except those who died dreaming of things you and I are presently enjoying, without the slightest indication that they will be sheep. And what of those who protest, defy, seek out frustrations just to be frustrated and sympathized with, they will be the sheep.

The young men in Vietnam today are going to come home and among them are the future leaders of you and I. They just might try to find peace in this world, they just might try to understand an enemy and why wars are fought. Because they don't want their sons to go through the agony that was theirs. Lessons learned from the lips of widowed mothers are hard to deny. And there's another reason that the multiude of problems facing us might be surpassed by this new breed of young men, they may seek peace because they don't know any better than to hope for it.

Open letter to a plain girl — There is no such thing as a plain girl. Sometimes they give off lights from the inside that shine very brightly and beautifully. At times the "plain girl" finds that shy men are wary of her, bright men frightened of her, the rest hers by natural prerogative.

Young People Sing Message Of Christmas

"It's Christmas," a composite program of song and seasonal messages, will be presented by the church school of the Tecumseh United Methodist Church this Sunday evening in the sanctuary beginning at 7 p.m.

The children in the nursery through the junior high school age will participate in this presentation under the direction of Harry Stanifer, church school superintendent, and assisted by each of the 10 teachers staffing this area of the department.

Members of the youth choir will also offer musical selections under the direction of Mrs. James Danforth.

Tribe Splits Pair

Tecumseh Indians face another up and down season. After the end of the first three games their record stands at 1-2. Last Friday the Tribe won easily over Monroe Jefferson by the score of 74-48. On Tuesday the local team traveled to Adrian and a stiffer foe in the Maples, dropping the decision, 90-83.

In the Jefferson game, nine players figured in the scoring with Steve Dalton posting 17 to lead both teams. Jim Hunt countered with 13. Bill Puffer, Ken Pieh and John Kennedy all tallied 8. Dave Lord came off the bench in the fourth quarter to add six. Dalton dumped in 11 of his points in the second quarter as the Indians pulled away with a 39-19 advantage going back to the locker rooms at half-time.

The Tribe came out to take the floor in the third period and held their opponents without a field goal as defense and some hot shoting saw them take a 58-34 lead at the end of the period. Jefferson recouped their forces against the Tecumseh bench in the final stanza but were still outshot, 16-14, to make the final score 74-48.

The story at the Maple gym on Tuesday was different as guard Lewis dumped in 27 points and his backcourt teammate, Carlson, was close behind with 23 to overpower their county rival.

Tecumseh stayed in the game for the first period, leaving the floor at the buzzer trailing by four, 20-16. The second period Adrian dominated action, scoring 21 points while the Indians could only manage four field goals for eight, the score at half-time stood at 41-24.

Center Bill Puffer dumped in all six of his points in an attempt at resurgence by the Indians in the third period, but Lewis, after a nine-point second quarter, came back with 10 in the third period to keep the Maples in the lead at the end of three periods of play, 63-63.

The fourth period of play had Wally Quinn getting the hot hand and ripping eight points through the nets. Adrian outscored the Tribe in the fourth period, 24-20, making the final tally on the scoreboard 90-83.

Wally Quinn dumped in 15 points to lead the Tecumseh team with Dalton adding 14 and Hunt 12. Four players for Adrian scored in the double figures.

The Indians will be hoping to bring their won-lost percentage back up to the .500 mark this Friday when they tangle with the Blissfield Royals at the high school gym. It is the first home game of the season for the Indians who have been on the road for the first three games.

Soccer Rooed By Susie Ques

Volley ball and soccer have taken over a role in the extra curricular lives of the Tecumseh High School Junior High GAA. Teams were drawn from among the members of the GAA in their competition in soccer.

The young ladies who survived the rough and tumble statistics of soccer as winners were Susie Que's Soccer Roos. Members of the team were Susie Platt, Pam Steadly, Laura Hughes, Dawn Daniels, Melinda Church, Jill Feight, Evelyn Williams, Teresa Rupuert, Norma Williams, Debbie Gooding and Carol Freeman.

Another of the activities which the girls have been taking part in since the beginning of the school year was a skating party last month at the Adrian Roller Skating Rink. Races were held with Darlene Osburn of the tenth grade and Jody Bennington of the seventh grade the winners. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kiebler and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Todd chaperoned the event for the GAA.

The girls have held their annual initiation for all of the seventh grade girls who wished to join the club. The initiation was held on Dec. 10. The ceremony is necessary if the girls wish to join the club.

Big Year For Imperial Julie

Paragon Dora Imperial Julie 6261135, a two-year-old owned by Richard W. Platt, Paragon Farms, Tipton, produced 17,980 lbs. of milk and 559 lbs. of butterfat in 365 days.

These new production figures may be compared to the estimated annual output of 8,513 lbs. (3,959 quarts) of milk and 315 lbs. of butterfat by the average U.S. dairy cow, notes the National Holstein Association.

Michigan State University supervised the sampling, weighing and testing operations in cooperation with the Holstein Association through breed improvement programs.

Celebrate Christmas

Mrs. Glenn Driscoll was the hostess Dec. 3 for the Christmas party for 15 members of the Daughters of St. Peter's Church.

Mrs. Arch Wray presented the religious though reading from the 90th Psalm and a Christmas philosophy.

Group singing of Christmas carols was followed by an exchange of gifts.

Mrs. Orville Laidlaw sent greetings from Florida and cards were signed by the members to send to those absent.

Christmas cookies and ice cream were served by the officers.

The group will recess until Jan. 7, 1969.

Child Study Club Has New Members

Mrs. Mike Osburn, Mrs. Mike Blumerick, Mrs. Joe Rockwell, Mrs. Charles McLoughlin and Mrs. Dale Monagin were welcomed as new members.

James Beardsley spoke on various legal matters of importance to families.

Mrs. Wayne Kaiser was cohostess and snowmen favors were provided by Mrs. Dale Spohr and Mrs. Kaiser.

God-Mother Has Cradle Shower

BRITTON — Mrs. James Conrad of Victorville, Calif., was the guest of honor in absentia at a cradle shower Sunday afternoon, given for her by her god-mother, Mrs. Andrew Grimm, in Detroit.

As Mrs. Conrad was unable to be present, her mother, Mrs. Robert Billau, of Britton opened the gifts, which were later sent on to California.

Twenty-five relatives enjoyed an afternoon of games, with the prizes also being sent to the guest of honor.

Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by her daughters, Mrs. William Brown and Mrs. Michael Isler.

Sgt. and Mrs. Conrad are residing in Victorville while Sgt. Conrad is stationed at George Air Base with the 434th Tactical Fighter Squadron.

Gloria Dei Lutherans To Discuss Finances

At year's-end, the Gloria Dei Evangelical Lutheran Church is to have a special congregational meeting for the financial business of the church. Sunday, Dec. 15, the worship service will be followed by such a meeting.

Members of the Junior Choir will also have a busy day. Twenty members will sing carols for the patients of the Herrick Nursing Home. Mrs. Earl Mason, choir director, will lead the singing, and the pastor of the congregation, will conduct the special service at 2 p.m.

The yearly Christmas presentation of the Sunday School and the Junior Choir is a program of spiritual beauty with carols and recitations. Nearly 100 youngsters will participate.

Richard Gentz, superintendent, cordially invites parents as well as children of the community to attend. It starts at 7 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 15.

Aid Veterans in Selecting Gifts For Christmas

Six members of the Underwood-Orr Unit No. 34 of the American Legion Auxiliary spent the weekend of Nov. 30, Dec. 2 and 3 at the annual gift shop at the Veterans' Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Robert Smith, rehabilitation chairman, Mrs. R. C. Osburn, Mrs. Truman Rentschler, Mrs. Robert Koffron and Mrs. Harold Osterhout helped veterans select gifts for members of their families and then gift and mail wrapped them for the patients.

The 39 gifts the local group supplied were purchased with monies from the Poppy Fund, donated by Tecumseh area residents at Poppy time in May.

Seventy-five volunteer workers from 32 Auxiliary Units in the state provide free service for the program, including ward service for those men unable to visit the gift shop.

There is no charge made for the gifts or for the service.

The hospitalized veterans enjoy choosing from the wide variety of gifts for their loved ones.

Dial 423-7447 For Santa Claus

"Hello, Santa Claus."

The Jaycees, under the chairmanship of Dennis Avery, are again providing telephone service to Santa Claus for children of the area.

Little ones may call the jolly old man from 7 to 10 p.m., Dec. 18, 19, 20 and 23, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and the following Monday.

The number is 423-7447.

Kids Join Dads

Thirty-seven fathers, sons and daughters enjoyed the annual Exchange Club Christmas Party Monday evening at the Odd Fellow Hall on Green Hwy. A ham dinner was served to the group by the Tecumseh Rebekahs.

Gunnell Berstrand and Dagmar Schultze were guests for the evening and spoke of Christmas customs in their native lands. They are exchange students at Tecumseh High School from Sweden and Germany, respectively.

Barbara Schremp presented her fifth hour speech class in a delightful thought - provoking Christmas skit entitled, "Christmas—Thought—1968."

Harrison Gonser, president of the Club, announced the upcoming Michigan District Exchange Club mid-Winter Conference in Lansing, Jan. 11, and that the Dec. 23 meeting of the Tecumseh Exchange Club has been cancelled by the Board of Directors.

Ed's Standard Is Franchised By Association

Ed's Standard, N. Evans at Herrick Park Dr., has been franchised by the Mid-West Truckers Association as an authorized towing and service center for Tecumseh and surrounding area.

Formal presentation of the franchise will be made in the near future by Charles A. Rexroad, Jr., association president.

Second Fall

In spite of losing their opening two matches of the season, Tecumseh High School wrestlers feel prospects are brighter for the season ahead.

On Tuesday the matmen suffered their second defeat after losing to Chelsea, at the hands of Willow Run. The first home match of the season again proved that the Indians have strength in the lighter divisions but lack the heavyweight contention that was one of the bright spots in wrestling's return to Tecumseh High School last year.

Other starters for the varsity were Steve Ford in the 75-pound division, Abel Valdez at 112, Ralph Miller at 120, Marv Maynard at 127, Dave Ward at 133, Bill Grover at 145 and Bill Gibson at 165.

League competition for the matmen begins on Dec. 17 with a match with Grosse Ile. The next home meet will be against Adrian on Dec. 19.

Bazaar Nets $624

The Christmas bazaar at St. Peter's Church brought nearly $624 to the ladies' treasury counting monies from the dinner. Mrs. Fred Lewis and her committees were well pleased with the results of their efforts.

White elephants and Christmas handicraft left from the sale will be sold Saturday, Dec. 14, at 10 a.m., at Flanders Service Center on East Chicago Blvd.

Give To Life

Recent contributions to Church World Service have included a $10 contribution from "one who cares," another $2 was signed by "an eighth grader." Another check for $25 was given by a "business man." The service has sought contributions through Food for Biafra in an account established with the United Savings Bank.

Abra Kadab Ra For Kids Only

A magician, John Moranville, of Saline, will be a special attraction at the American Legion children's birthday party, Sunday, Dec. 15, from 4 to 6 p.m.

Mrs. Hal Bates has made arrangements for the party especially for youngsters of the Underwood-Orr Unit and the Auxiliary.

Obituaries

● Mrs. MARY F. CAMBURN

Services were held Sunday at the Proctor Funeral Home for Mrs. Mary Camburn, 61, of Clinton-Macon Rd., who died Thursday at 8:45 p.m. at her home.

She had been in declining health for six months but her death was unexpected.

Mrs. Camburn was born Aug. 4, 1907, in Carleton. She was employed at the Budd Co. in Clinton for approximately three years until her health failed this summer.

Her marriage to Lamont Camburn occurred in August, 1927. He preceded her in death in 1955.

Mrs. Camburn attended the Macon United Methodist Church.

Survivors include a son, Mas L. Camburn of Grand Blanc; a daughter, Beulah Camburn of Macon, who lived with her mother; a brother, William Schoolmaster, 6903 Green Hwy.; and one grandchild.

The Rev. Thomas Badley officiated and burial was in the Macon Cemetery.

● IRA SINCLAIR

Services were held Monday in Blissfield for Ira Sinclair, 67, who died at Bixby Hospital Saturday at 2:30 a.m. where he had been admitted only a few hours before.

He had been in ill health for eight months.

As a young man he came to Lenawee County from Illinois and was employed as an auto salesman. Since 1941, he had been employed at the Tecumseh Products Co.

He is survived by his wife, one daughter and five sons.

● GEORGE SMITH

Services were held Monday in Morenci for George H. Smith, 60, who died Friday evening at the Morenci Area Hospital where he had been a patient for six days.

Survivors include his wife, a son, Pearl, of Tecumseh, a daughter, three brothers including Chester, 123½ S. Ottawa St., two sisters and eight grandchildren.

Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery.

● ALAN SCHOONOVER

Services were held Monday in Adrian for Alan Schoonover, 19, of Adrian who died at his home there Saturday at 4 a.m.

Born Oct. 31, 1949, he was the son of Norman and Gwendolyn Dietrich Schoonover.

Surviving are his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Wily Raper of Adrian; his father, Norman Schoonover of Los Angeles, Calif.; two brothers, Douglas and Dennis, both at home; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dietrich of Bowling Green, O., and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Schoonover of Morenci.

Alan was a graduate of Tecumseh High School and a member of the National Honor Society.

He had suffered from muscular dystrophy.

The Rev. Vernon Black officiated and burial was in Lenawee Hills Memorial Park.

CINEMA 1—Clinton
FRIDAY, SATURDAY, SUNDAY EVENINGS AT 7:30 & 9:30
M-G-M presents A DOUGLAS LAURENCE PRODUCTION starring ELVIS PRESLEY shows you how to LIVE A LITTLE LOVE A LITTLE
PANAVISION and METROCOLOR

Top Hustlers Honored

Gregg Williams and Sherry Richardson were tied for "Top member Award" of the N. Franklin Hustlers. Mrs. Claude Creger, Club leader, presented a large 4-H Memory Scrap Book to the winners, at the Fall Achievement program Nov. 24, at the Tipton Grange Hall. Attending were 60 persons, including members, parents and new members.

Lynn Winzeler was toastmistress for the program. Flag Pledges were led by Carl Aebersold and Kim Hartung.

Barbara Vincent introduced and welcomed all new members and parents. Each member was given a new member pin and fun initiation was held by teen leaders, Jim Woodward, Barbara Vincent, Pat Aebersold and Lynn Winzeler.

New members initiated were Danny and Barry McKeen, Beverly Williams, Susan Vogel, Donna Freeburn, Jeff Young, Kay Jenkins, Gail and Jim Christian.

The Most Improved Member Award, based on records and club participation, was presented by Parent Advisor, Mrs. Donald Richardson, to Lynn Winzeler and Joyce Richardson.

Eighteen perfect attendance certificates were presented by Parent Advisors, Mrs. James Winzeler and Mrs. Richard Wegner, to: Pat and Carl Aebersold, Kim and Cathy Hartung, Charles and Kathy Munger, Joyce, Susan and Sherry Richardson, Barbara, John and Ruth Vincent, Carla Wegner, Greg Williams, Lynn and Robert Winzeler, James and Jane Woodward.

The county award medals were presented by leaders to:

John Vincent — Achievement.
Gregg Williams — Agriculture and Vet. Science.
Joyce Richardson — Horticulture.
Sherry Richardson — Photography.
Cathy Hartung — Horse.
Kim Hartung — Sheep.
Ruth Vincent — Swine.
Lynne Winzeler — Clothing, Home Economics.

To conclude the program, David Reichhardt, who is currently teaching chemistry and physics in Clinton High School, and is a former Hillsdale County 4-H member for nine years, gave a most informative and interesting talk on his experiences in India working with the Peace Corps for two years.

The parent advisors served coffee, punch and cookies.

District Nurses Meet In Hudson

Lenawee District Nurses Association members met at Thorn Hospital, Hudson, recently.

The program featured a report of the 61st annual Michigan Nurses Association convention held recently in Detroit. Mrs. Hazel Giddings, and Mrs. Ruth Goosell, delegates from Lenawee reported on the convention which had the theme, "Nursing's Quest for Excellence."

Refreshments were served by the Hudson Hospital nurses. There will be no meeting in December. The next regular meeting will be Jan. 16, at Maple Lane Manor, Adrian. Leslie Froman will be the guest speaker. Meeting time will be 7 p.m. in order to allow time for a tour of the facilities before the regular business meeting and program.

Wrestlers Lose Season Opener

Tecumseh wrestlers found a tough foe in Chelsea last Thursday, but managed to put up a respectable showing in losing, 34-16. Tecumseh, hurt by the loss of Jim Parros and Carlo Mobley, in the heavyweight divisions, dimmed this year's outlook on the wrestling schedule.

Returning to the mats for the first time last year after a layoff of a few years, the Indian grapplers put together a squad that was able to challenge many of their opponents. With less depth in the heavy divisions this could be a dismal season for the wrestlers.

Winners in last Thursday's meet were Merv Maynard at 103 with a decision, Able Valdez picked up a decision at 112 while Marv Maynard at 127 and Gary Jones at 138 pinned their opponents to pick up points for the Tribe.

In the JV match Dave Frownfelder and Jim Groover took decisions and Tom Huber a pin for wins. Denny Puffer also pinned for the losers against a rugged Chelsea team.

Coach Pat Connors said that his team wrestled very well and that they had gotten a lot of good out of the match, though losing.

He also said that many of the matches were closer than the score indicated, that they could have gone either way. He was especially enthused about his newcomers, saying, "the younger kids looked good, there's a lot of potential there."

Connors praised the Chelsea team, calling it "excellent and they have a good chance to finish high in the state championships. They had several boys finish right up there last year."

The matmen met Willow Run Tuesday and travel to Saline tonight in their third match of the season.

JIM LAWSON

Lawson Back In Action

Jim Lawson, former standout on the basketball teams of Tecumseh, is a member of the 1968-69 varsity at Alma College. A graduate of Tecumseh, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lawson, 503 Cairns St.

Lawson spent last year with his leg in a cast after an operation on his knee.

Alma's cagers opened their season Dec. 6 against Simpson College of Iowa. The game was the first competition in the new Physical Education Center on the college campus.

On Dec. 10 the Scots traveled to California for two games before playing in the California Western Tournament at San Diego.

Judges To Use Council Room

Rental of the Council room each Wednesday for a six-month period was authorized by Councilmen Monday for the new district judges.

In a letter to the city, the judges — Yale Leland Kerby and Kenneth Glaser — sought permission to use the Council room for their trials one day a week.

They said that four microphones would be installed and shelves built for law books, all at their expense.

City charges for use of the room will be fixed at a later date.

Officials OK New Fire Hose

City officials approved purchasing 1,000 feet of new fire hose at the Council meeting Monday night for the sewer and water department.

The new hose will actually go to the fire department with the sewer and water department acquiring 1,000 feet of hose currently used by the firemen.

Low bidder for the hose was W. E. Barton at $1.60 per foot, less 2% for payment in 30 days.

JERRY HALE

USCG Cadets Hail Hale

Jerry Hale has won his second varsity football letter at Coast Guard Academy and has closed his collegiate gridiron career. And he did it in luxury last Saturday.

The Cadets played PMC Colleges at Atlantic City's Convention Hall, site of President Johnsons nomination in 1964. The weather inside was 70 degrees—pretty good for a Nov. 30 game in windy Atlantic City.

Hale played both ways a year ago, but this season was used strictly on offense, where he played quick tackle. He started several games after being a first line reserve for the early part of the campaign.

Hale, a graduate of Tecumseh High where he played football, basketball and baseball, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hale, 108 Evans Creek Dr.

Minor Mishaps

A rear-end collision occurred at 12:10 p.m. Friday on US-12, just east of N. Adrian Hwy. Charles A. Kotts, 58, of 10608 N. Adrian Hwy., had slowed for a left turn with his signal on when his car was struck from behind by James A. LeVeck, 33, of 9441 N. Tipton Hwy., Tipton.

LeVeck was given a summons by Clinton State Police for failure to stop.

Mr. Kotts complained of back pain, but sought his own treatment.

Robert L. Brooks, 53, of 3060 Pleasant Dr., was given a summons for failure to yield when his car pulled into the path of Lester E. Anderson, 53, of Detroit, on US-12 at Matthews Hwy.

JUST PLAIN OBSTINATE, ORNERY AND STUBBORN

Such ingrates. The squirrels in this neighborhood simply do not play fair. They are the most uncooperative freeloaders ever. We try so hard to make them happy — corn and scratchfeed are always available, there are few complaints when they monopolize the feeder and eat the precious sunflower seeds which are earmarked for the cardinals. Big sprawling trees here and across the creek are perfect for their every purpose.

An appreciative audience is always available when they have an urge to show off, there is even a big black dog in the back yard when they feel like teasing. Yes, we bend over backward trying to please our squirrels.

It would seem that the least they could do would be to return the courtesy, be just a tiny bit cooperative, show just a smiggen of appreciation.

It all started several weeks ago when our article about not getting a picture of the black squirrel prompted a telephone call from Clinton. Would we like a squirrel feeder? Indeed we would.

The corn tree, which served so long and faithfully, gave up the ghost a year or so ago and had really never been replaced. Ears of corn were always fastened to the near-my-window feeder and on the post near the top of the creek bank but neither quite filled the bill of a just-for-them feeder. We were excited about having a Wilson Special—we knew the squirrels would be, too.

★

BY NOON Saturday the feeder was fastened to the small mulberry tree in back of the white end-of-the-street barrier. A perfect position, the tree, itself, is a major squirrel highway and I have an excellent vantage point for viewing all that goes on. The only trouble was that from Saturday until noontime Tuesday nothing went on.

Oh, the bluejays discovered the new bonanza of corn right away, they thought it great. But this was a squirrel feeder, bluejay customers don't count. Where were the stupid squirrels?

They visited the bird feeders, they played in the trees and they scurried about the yard so we knew that there was no hunger strike nor had they suddenly gone away on vacation.

In desperation we finally even resorted to letting the other feeders go empty. Still the squirrels ignored the new lunch counter. The five big beautiful ears of corn were going begging.

It was a ridiculous situation — what do you do with stubborn squirrels who are apparently bent on being uncooperative? A one last check of the feeder reassured us that everything was all right—the bluejays were eating the corn so it must be quite tasty, the feeder was positioned so that they must have seen it, the flat tray holding five ears of corn was nothing to be afraid of and surely they must recognize the red floor of the feeder as being a red carpet of welcome.

We had almost reached the stage of taking the advice to make a sign telling the squirrels that the new feeder was theirs.

★

ABOUT TEN o'clock Tuesday morning everything changed. The squirrels were beginning to take note of the 'something' on the trunk of the mulberry tree. One was observing from high in the tree itself and another was catching a ground level look.

Cautiously the one in the tree inched his way down but, on the first few attempts, could not bring himself to stopping or even getting too near.

Meanwhile, his friend was summoning up his courage on the bottom rail of the fence. He would run toward the tree, stop, cock his head towards the feeder, swish his tail then back away. We enjoyed several hours of this action.

As the hands of the clock moved toward 12, the more adventuresome squirrel abrubtly decided it was time for lunch. He just suddenly quit stalking the new feeder and scrambled on the red carpet just as though he had been doing it for years.

He hunched up to an ear of corn and, in typical squirrel fashion, ate as if there were no tomorrow. Since the first luncheon, the whole neighborhood of squirrels has been freeloading, somebody is there almost any time we look.

So it is that the Wilson Special is very popular now and the squirrels are once again in our good graces but, for a few days, the nicest thing we could say about them was that they were "just plain obstinate, ornery and stubborn."

New Garage Is Planned

A new city garage is apt to be more than a dream after Council authorized Cal Zorn, city manager, December 2, to employ an architect for its design.

City officials have planned for several years to replace the dilapidated barn, just south of the hospital. Usually, lack of funds caused postponement of new construction.

Mr. Zorn told Councilmen that plans also should be started for a new fire station, which will probably be built at the city hall site, next to the police station.

New city garage construction is planned to start in the spring.

Are Initiated

Loretta Schlegel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Schlegel, and Linda Wetzel, daughter of Mrs. Sam Fagan, were initiated into the Order of the Rainbow for Girls recently at the Masonic Temple in Adrian.

Mrs. Stanley Miller is the mother-advisor of the group. Mr. and Mrs. W. Van Orden, state officials, were honored during the evening.

Construction Over $70,000

Street, storm sewer and curb and gutter construction, amounting to $70,050 for 1969, was presented to Council by City Manager Cal Zorn December 2.

The proposal for curb and gutter was:

Portions of Burt, Pearl and Evans Sts., 8,310 feet at an estimated cost of $18,700.

Storm sewer, portion of Burt, Pearl and Evans Sts., cost, $20,010.

Bituminous paving, portions of Burt, S. Evans, Maiden Lane, Red Mill and S. Ottawa, estimated cost at $31,340.

The construction program, as presented to Council by the city manger, did not include streets which will probably be seal coated.

Alaskan Visitor Is Club Guest

Mrs. Eleanora Hulichan of Alaska was a guest Nov. 26 at the meeting of the Northeast Tecumseh Extension Club when the eight members met at the home of Mrs. Clifford Southard.

Mrs. Hulieman is the sister-in-law of one of the new members, Mrs. Edward Stoelt.

Drain problems were used to answer the roll call.

Members decided to invite Mrs. Truman Rentschler to be a guest at the January meeting. They also decided to have a Christmas party and gift exchange with each member presenting some type of entertainment at the next meeting at the home of Mrs. Fred Helms.

Mrs. Raymond Bird showed slides on Water Pollution with a question and answer period following. Mrs. Southard presented the lesson on Pollution.

Little Gallery Offers Artwork

Active members and faculty of Studio Angelico will present for exhibition and sale original works of Art. The pieces will include drawings, paintings, prints, sculptures, metalwork and ceramics.

The show will be held in the Little Gallery in its new location directly behind Ledwidge Hall on the campus of Siena Heights College. Signs will be posted for your convenience. The show will be open to the public, Tuesday, Dec. 10 thru Friday, Dec. 20. The gallery will be open weekdays 6 to 9 p.m., and week-ends from 1 to 5 p.m. and 6 to 9 p.m.

The engagement of Sharon Joyce Sword to Paul Roy Rodriquez is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon C. Sword of Clayton. Mr. Rodriguez is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Rodriguez of 5510 N. Raisin Center Hwy. Miss Sword is a 1965 graduate of Adrian High School and is employed at the Aget Manufacturing Co. Her fiance is a 1962 graduate of Tecumseh High School and is a foreman at the Ervin Foundry in Adrian. The couple plan to be married Feb. 14 at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Adrian.

Mrs. Bonner's Impressions of Latin America

Impressions of Mexico and S. America were given by Mrs. Robert Bonner for the meeting of the Monday Club, Dec. 2, at the Baptist Youth House. Mrs. Bonner found the Easter season an especially interesting time to visit there.

Mrs. Floyd Bryan presented a devotional message, "Christmas Thoughts."

The next meeting will be the annual Holly and Tinsel Breakfast, Dec. 16.

No Bunny Like A Snow Bunny

By BILL SANFORD

What is a snow bunny? To some of the less-educated in the sport of skiing, meaning those who have not swooped down the slopes of the Bavarian Alps, yodeled their way through Switzerland or breathed the light air of Sun Valley, a snow bunny might be a female rabbit that likes snow, or a lazy snowshoe rabbit that rides chair lifts.

At any rate, to the novice or the more experienced, who know what a snow bunny is, the Irish Hills Sports Park is open for another season of skiing, tobogganing and skating. New work has been added to the winter and summer recreation area including a snowmobile trail for fanciers of the speedy motorized sleds.

The ski park has opened under new management from Toledo, O., and offer the opportunity for ski lessons from senior ski instructor, Henry B. Lancz. He is a certified ski instructor in the United States and Canada and is also certified in his native Germany.

Most notable of the new additions and re-built areas of the ski park will be a new 2,400-foot slope for skiers up to the intermediate level. The vertical drop of the slope is 200 feet.

For the advanced skiers, those who like a maximum of excitement and challenge from a slope, a new advanced run has been completed. This slope has a vertical drop of 250 feet over a length of 700 feet. This run is not considered for the faint of heart or those less confident than they might be.

Another addition to the ski area is a 7/8 double chair lift on the long 2,4400-foot slope.

Six of the other slopes have also been rebuilt in preparation for this year's adventure of the skier. In back of the improvements is the new management group, led by its president, William H. Cook, Toledo, O., real estate developer and non-skier.

Mr. Lancz serves in the capacity of vice-president of the group as well as supervisor of the instructor corps which will include a team of 20 persons from this country, Canada, Austria, Germany and Italy. All are countries where many children learn to ski when they learn to walk.

Diane Carter, who has wheeled many a race car, is included in the staff of instructors. She is one of the few women instructors in the downhill way of things in the area. Miss Carter is also public relations director for Michigan International Speedway, located just west of Irish Hills Sports Park. The distaff driver may be seen occasionally on the snowmobile trail.

The snowmobile course is laid out over 2.7 miles through tree-covered hills of Irish fame. The course begins and ends at the lodge. Mr. Lancz announced that the national snowmobile competition will be held in the Irish Hills in 1969-70. The snow buggies will be available for rental purposes at the lodge this year.

The lodge itself has been expanded and refurbished to greet the new season of skiers. There are a number of people who go to ski lodges and never hit the slopes. Not overlooking this segment of the population, the upper level bar and dining area have been gone over to give the bystander a relaxed atmosphere while overlooking the snowy, chilly slopes in warm comfort, aided by two circular fireplaces. (Maybe snow bunnies are by the fireplace.)

The dining room also offers banquet facilities for up to 400. It is open seven days a week to accommodate anyone at any time.

Back to snow bunnies once more, they might be seen at any time, anywhere, maybe they are girl skiers. According to Irish Hills Sports Park they exist right after the first snowfall of winter and stay till spring.

One of the many hats of Consumers Power CUSTOMER-MINDED PEOPLE

Many a housewife is happier today because of this lady from Consumers Power. She's a home service adviser. She's a wizard with appliances. A whiz at the range. A fount of know-how on work-saving, time-saving, wife-saving ways to run a home.

An expert in home economics, she puts on demonstrations for women's groups in the Consumers Power kitchens, explains the newest cooking and cleaning tricks, instructs on home safety. She visits schools to tell girls how to care for home appliances.

The services of our home service adviser are free. We look at it this way. If our experts can save you time and effort, if they can help you become a more effective homemaker, you'll continue to think of us (we hope) as a helpful neighbor, whose energy lightens housework and gives you more free hours for other things.

Customer-minded people. That's what we try to be at Consumers Power.

Pupils To Fill the Air With Joyous Carols

BRITTON — Over 300 pupils will be singing and playing joyous carols as the Britton-Macon Music Department presents its Christmas concert Tuesday, December 17, at 7:30 p.m. in the school gym.

The vocal and instrumental participants work hard so that parents and friends in the community can forget the hustle and bustle of the season for a short time and hear enthusiastic young people perform traditional and new Christmas music.

Featured in this year's concert is a junior chorus composed of selected fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth graders. Another highlight will be the singing of the high school choir and the girls' ensemble. All elementary children (grades one through six) have prepared special vocal music, and the fifth and sixth grade bands will perform as well.

Variety will be the contribution from the junior high and senior high bands as each group will play a medley of familiar Christmas songs, some sacred and some secular.

Songs about Christmas bells will be sung by the male quartet, composed of Jim Brown, Bob Downing, Mark Hetrick and Jim Lister.

Directors of the program, Mrs. Richard Alexander, Mrs. Donald Bush, and Mr. Don Zimmerman invite all interested persons to attend. There is no admission charge.

BRITTON BRIEFS

Born Dec. 1, to Roger and Anne Bortel, a daughter, Robin Renee. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Bortel of Milwaukee Rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Fairbanks Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fairbanks and Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Fairbanks attended a dinner party Sunday at the home of their sister, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Arft of Tecumseh. Other guests were sisters, Mr. and Mrs. Dorothy Mull and Mrs. Clarence Hilgeneck.

Christmas gift projects and party plans were reviewed at the Camp Fire Leaders' Association meeting last Tuesday afternoon. The final candy sale report was given. Mrs. Gerald Price's fourth grade group and Mrs. Robert Osterhout's fifth grade group earned the trip to Bob-Lo because their groups averaged over 36 boxes sold per girl.

The Rev. and Mrs. Darwin Warner entertained the Church of the Nazarene district ministers and their wives at a dinner party Friday evening. Twenty-three guests were present.

Members and friends of Grace United Methodist Church are invited to a Christmas Open House at the Methodist parsonage, 136 Church Street, Britton, by the Rev. and Mrs. Lohn Lover and family, on Sunday, Dec. 15, from 4 to 9 p.m.

Families Need A Second Look

BRITTON — Mr. and Mrs. Allen Bower were hosts to the Young Adult class of Grace United Methodist Church Saturday evening.

Following a short business meeting, a family life skit was read by members of the class.

The play, entitled "The Second Look," dealt with the pressure of time; and also the fact that with so many projects and groups demanding leadership, the Christian family must choose their groups with care. "The Second Look" dealt with parents who were so busy in so many groups and activities that they lost sight of the most important things.

Following the play, Mrs. Bower led the group in devotions, and served ice cream, cake and beverage. Some of the couple brought Christmas slides of family celebrations of previous years, and they were shown.

The group will go Christmas caroling Dec. 3, and everyone who is interested in going will meet at the church at 7 p.m.

The next meeting will be January 11, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith.

Ho Ho Ho Kiddies It's Santa Claus

BRITTON — Santa Claus will make his annual appearance in Britton Saturday, Dec. 21. He will be in the downtown area from 2 to 6 p.m., with a surprise and a chat for each good boy and girl.

The members of the Britton Businessmen's Association arranged for Santa's visit when they met last week. Officers for the coming year are: president, Forrest Weichner; vice-president, Clare Griffin; and secretary-treasurer, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bryan.

The next meeting of the group will be June 10.

Sunshine Circle Hosts Women's Fellowship

BRITTON — Members of the Sunshine Circle were hosts and planned the program for the Women's Fellowship meeting held at the Congregational Christian Church last Wednesday. A cooperative dinner was served at noon.

Mrs. Lawrence Ash gave the devotions, on the Christmas theme.

Mrs. William Raeburn prepared program. A ladies' trio, including Mrs. John Buckles, Mrs. Keith Swain, and Mrs. Joseph Hall, sang two selections: and also sang "Birthday of a King," with the Rev. Gustav Hannevik.

Mrs. Raeburn gave a Christmas acrostic.

At the business meeting, it was voted to hold the annual Church Supper on Feb. 13. The Priscilla and Sunshine Circles will be in charge of the kitchen, and the Mary-Martha and Golden Rule in the dining room.

Ladies are reminded to check the lists on the bulletin board to find their new circle.

Officers re-elected for another two-year term were president, Mrs. Gerald Benedict; secretary, Mrs. John Keran; and treasurer, Mrs. Lawrence Ash.

Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt requested Christmas gifts for the girls at the Lenawee Youth Center.

Names were given out of patients at Ypsilanti State Hospital for whom members are asked to pack Christmas boxes. Mrs. John Keran, secretary, still has some names for distribution. Boxes are to be taken to Gripton's store by Dec. 16.

After the meeting adjourned, boxes were packed and sent to nine servicemen.

Ten Candles For Mankind

BRITTON—Twenty-two members of the W.S.C.S. of Grace Methodist Church were present for the Dec. 5 meeting at the home of Mrs. Julian Strong.

Mrs. Allen Bower led in the program entitled, "The Light Is Come." Ten women assisted by lighting candles representing faith, joy, peace, goodwill, forgiveness, prayer, friendship, service, brotherhood and love.

It was suggested that those wishing to furnish cookies, candies and fruit for the shut-in boxes may do so by taking them to the United Worker's class meeting Dec. 16.

Prayer books for servicemen have been purchased and will be sent to them.

The January meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Charles Bishop Jan. 2, with Mrs. Julian Strong program chairman.

A roast beef supper will be held Jan. 29.

Yuletide Fest

BRITTON — The Emmanuel Lutheran Guild met at the church last week for their Christmas party. It was decided to give a Christmas party for a choir group from the State Hospital Thursday evening, Dec. 19.

Mrs. Leon Squires gave a talk on Jewish holiday customs. Games were played and gifts exchanged. Mrs. Edwin Mueckler and Mrs. Otto Miller served refreshments.

125 Guests For Kerans

BRITTON — One hundred and twenty-five guests attended the open house in celebration of the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John Keran Sunday afternon. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cook were hosts.

Assisting with the serving were Mrs. Isabelle Stasko, Mrs. Floyd Spence, Mrs. Lamont Simmons, Mrs. Charles Patterson, Mrs. Kenneth Perry, Mrs. Robert Gentz, Mrs. LeRoy Porterfield, Mrs. Charles Freshcorn, Mrs. Edward Brockman, Mrs. Milton Wells and Mrs. Dorothy Waldron. Mrs. Clyde Brown and Mrs. LaVern Russell were in charge of the guest book, and Mrs. Robert Osterhout and Mrs. Oliver Craig opened the gifts.

A surprise visitor was Mrs. Keran's father, Harold Craig, who arrived from St. Petersburg, Fla. He will be visiting relatives in the area until after the holidays.

The honored couple received many lovely gifts.

MYF Discuss Bible Concepts

BRITTON — Members of the junior high MYF of Grace United Methodist Church met at the church Sunday, Dec. 8. A discussion was held on the Biblical concept of creation and the universe.

The group then dismissed, and at the invitation of Julian Strong, looked through his telescope at the planet Saturn. It was the first time most of the young people had looked through a big telescope, and they thoroughly enjoyed it.

Following refreshments, the group was dismissed with a benediction.

Christmas Tea For Ladies' Club

BRITTON—The Britton Woman's Club will meet Tuesday, Dec. 17, at 2 p.m., at the home of Mrs. John Lover for the annual Christmas Tea. Mrs. G. Hannevik will be co-hostess.

Members are asked to take Christmas cookies to pass and to pack in boxes for shut-ins. Also, please bring a staple food item for a needy person in the community.

Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt and Mrs. John Costello will be in charge of the musical program for the afternoon.

Tories Notch Pair of Wins

BRITTON — The Tory basketball team got off to a good start last weekend as they notched a pair of wins, taking a league game from Sand Creek Friday night in an important early-season encounter, 85-82; and then beating Waldron on the home court Saturday night, 62-56.

In Friday night's contest, the Tories jumped off to a quick lead, scoring 13 points before the Aggies tallied midway through the first quarter. Then the Aggies began hitting, and trailed by only six at the end of the first period.

The pace was fast and furious in Sand Creek's cramped little gym, and the Tories widened their lead to 45-34 at the halftime break.

The Tories placed four starters in double figures, led by senior center Dave Fairbanks, who scored 20 points while pulling down 15 rebounds. Junior Jim Lister, playing his first varsity game, was close behind with 19, while teammates Jim Brown and Jim Skelton added 17 and 12, respectively.

Paul Bailey topped all scorers with 29 for Sand Creek, while Haroid Bailey added 21 and Charlie Risner, 20.

"Teamwork was the key to their win," felt Coach Jim Landfair. The balance and hustle displayed by the boys was also essential to their over-all performance.

BRITTON 85

Fairbanks 9-2-20; Skelton 6-0-12; Brown 7-3-17; Tuberville 2-4-8; Lister 5-9-19; Maska 3-1-7; Judkins 1-0-2.

SAND CREEK 82

P. Bailey 11-7-29; H. Bailey 7-7-21; Risner 6-8-20; Tirb 1-0-2; Gira 2-1-5; L. Bill 2-1-5.

Junior guard Jim Brown led the way in Saturday's tilt with the Waldron Spartans, scoring 18 points for the Tories. Dave Fairbanks added 15 and Jim Skelton 13. Skelton suffered an eye injury in the third quarter and his condition is uncertain.

Bill Klinger was high for Waldron with 16.

"Our bench strength is one of our best assets," commented Landfair.

Britton led throughout most of the game, but sloppy play characterized both teams in the non-league encounter. "They played just good enough to win," was Landfair's remark.

The win puts Britton 2-0 in the young season.

This coming weekend they face two River Raisin League contests, hosting Boysville Friday night, and traveling to Summerfield Saturday.

Ladies Meet

BRITTON — The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Bethel Baptist Church met Thursday at the Church for a Christmas carry-in dinner.

In lieu of a gift exchange, $26 was designated to send to the Rendel children, whose parents are missionaries to Nigeria.

A love offering of $12.94 was received.

Food for the boxes for the shut-ins is to be at the church by Dec. 18.

Mrs. Stella Gamboe led in the devotions using Christ in Christmas as her subject. "The word divided, Christ meaning God's anointed and mas meaning ritual", she said.

Mrs. Lyle Hayford gave two readings, "One Solitary Life" and "Only Borrowed." Mrs. Robert Hunt sang "Star Carol" after which the 14 present joined with Mrs. Hunt and Mrs. Alva Clark at the piano in a medley of Christmas carols.

The next meeting will be Jan. 2 at which time a film of the Shepherd Home will be shown.

'Skins Score O-T Victory

By GINA GREEN

Clinton's varsity basketballers fought their way out of foul trouble and an early scoring deficit to a thrilling overtime victory over Madison, 69-67. Both teams started with a pressing defense and balanced offenses, but by the end of the first half the Trojans held a 42-33 lead.

All five Clinton starters accumulated fouls early in the contest and Madison capitalized on Clinton mistakes, scoring 24 of their first half points from the charity line.

Coach Doug Decker's squad came back after intermission with a tight zone defense, forcing the Madison sharpshooters to take outside shots and allowing the Redskins to grab valuable rebounds which they converted into quick points, cutting the lead at the end of the third stanza to just three points.

In an exciting fourth quarter, the Redskins knotted the score on a bucket by Tim Merritt, but the Trojans retaliated with their own two points.

With only four seconds showing on the clock, senior forward Ron Hintz sank a 20-ft. jumper and then stifled a frantic Madison attempt with a pass interception, forcing the game into a three-minute overtime.

Hintz went on to tally four points in the extra frame, aided by senior Ron Rynd, junior Jim Claus, and junior guard Eric Sparks, who scored what proved to be the game-winning basket on an outside jump shot.

Depth was the deciding factor in the Redskins' first cake victory of the season, as three starters left the game on fouls and players came off the bench to keep Clinton in the game with clutch shooting and key defensive plays.

Hintz led the balanced Redskin offense with 12 points while Tom Hoelzer added 11. Senior guard Jerry Porter and Junior Jim Claus marked up 10 points each. Don Beach and Dave Huff paced the Trojans with 21 points each.

The junior varsity enjoyed a romp over the Madison reserves by notching 85 points to 46 for the junior Trojans. Bruce Carlton and Bari Campbell dumped in 17 and 16 points respectively as the Redskins converted 50 percent of their floor shots in the first half. Campbell did a fine job on rebounds and assists, as did teammate Jim Sharpe, who also added 11 points.

Both Clinton teams evened their season records at 1-1 after opening game losses to Hudson, while the Madison varsity was handed its first defeat after two wins. This Friday the Redskins will take on the Morenci Bulldogs on the home court with the JV game beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Varsity score by quarters:

Clinton	15	18	14	14	8—69
Madison	16	26	8	11	6—67

Prepare Family Christmas Party

CLINTON — Edward M. Germain, of Monroe, associate grand patron, and Mrs. Germain, were guests of the Golden Rod Chapter OES, Thursday evening.

A cooperative supper arranged by Mrs. George Heimerdinger and Mrs. Walter Zick preceded the meeting.

Mrs. Homer Larrabee and Herman Green welcomed the visitors.

Plans were completed for the annual OES-Masonic family Christmas dinner and party, Dec. 15, at 1 p.m. in the United Church of Christ. Provision has been made for meat and potatoes and members are asked to bring other food to pass.

The officers extended an invitation to any new residents of the area who are members of the OES or Masons to attend the party Sunday. If they will call Mrs. Roscoe Parker, Mrs. Larrabee or Mr. Green, with the ages of their children, Santa's pack will have a gift in it for the newcomers.

Mr. Germain made a presentation of mallets, emblems of the Mallet Club for Past Patrons to Delmar Manchester, Delbert Tallman, Jr., and Herman Green.

Farewell Party For Fr. Noelke

CLINTON — Friends and parishioners of St. Dominic's Church are invited to a farewell reception for the Rev. Fr. Joseph P. Noelke, Sunday, Dec. 15, from 2 to 5 p.m., in the cafeteria of the Clinton High School.

Fr. Noelke has assumed the full-time pastorate of St. Andrew's Church in Saline.

The open house also presents an opportunity for friends and parishioners to meet the new pastor of St. Dominic's, the Rev. Leon O. Kennedy, former chaplain and teacher at Madonna College, Livonia.

Taxpayers Given Chance To Save

CLINTON — Taxpaying residents of Clinton Township will be given an opportunity to save a total sum of $5,365 on their taxes this year, it was decided by the Township Board at their meeting last week.

The move was made possible because of two existing conditions: first that the township is nearing the end of its fiscal year in a sound financial condition; secondly, a considerable amount of money has been saved through various economy measures.

Consequently, the tax statements to be sent out soon, will provide that the usual one per cent collection fee will not be charged if the taxes are paid on or before Jan. 15. After this date the usual collection fee will be necessary.

According to Township Clerk, Ben Mahrle, the board felt this was an equitable way to benefit all the township taxpayers, without retarding the progressive program trend of the township in any way.

Home Wedding

CLINTON — Mrs. Ellen Hazen and John M. Knight were united in marriage, Nov. 30, at an afternoon ceremony performed by the Rev. David Liscomb, pastor of the Clinton United Methodist Church at the home of Mr. Knight's son and daughter-in-law, 210 Sunset Dr.

Mr. and Mrs. David Knight and children, Kimberly and David, Jr., were attendants and other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wyatt and son, Glenn, of Onsted.

A daughter, Margaret Knight, served the dessert luncheon and a handsome wedding cake centered the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Knight are residing at 114 W. Franklin St.

Rural Crossroad Is Crash Scene

CLINTON — Mrs. Ed Anglemyre, of Lima Center Rd., was admitted to Herrick Memorial Hospital last Tuesday afternoon with head injuries and a deep gash on the forehead. She was injured in an automobile accident on Sharon-Hollow Rd. while returning from Grass Lake, where she had been to visit her sister.

Another vehicle crossed an intersection striking the Anglemyre car, shoving it into a tree and extensively damaging her car.

United Church Of Christ Has Guest Pastors

CLINTON — Guest pastors who will speak at the United Church of Christ the next three Sundays are supplied by Adrian College. They are:

Dec. 15 — Dr. Joseph Perez of the Sociology Department.

Dec. 22 — Communion Sunday, with Dr. Lester Scherer of the Religion Department.

Dec. 29 — Dr. Lester Scherer.

Project In Greece Proves Big Success

CLINTON — The successful initiation of a large poultry-raising industry, among the low income farmers of northern Greece, was described by Frank Weaver for a group meeting in the United Church of Christ, Friday evening.

Mr. Weaver, of Greeley, Colo., as a director of the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP), spent eight weeks in May and June touring areas in the Middle East and Greece, where CROP has extensive programs.

His talk was illustrated with beautiful color slides and with a dozen enlarged photographs taken by a famous Greek photographer, of antiquities of the country.

One of the first self-help programs began in Greece 15 years ago, when it was learned by workers for CROP that the residents of that particular area were slowly deteriorating from a serious lack of protein in their diet. It was decided to get them started raising chickens in sufficient quantities to provide a greater protein consumption.

Since then several small farmers have been trained to produce the eggs for hatcheries; to operate the hatcheries, and to process the fowl for sale.

With the assistance of considerable funds from German and Dutch churches and CROP's contribution of personnel training, the project was culminated this summer. Mr. Weaver was able to attend the dedication of the $1 million, completely modern, automated, processing plant, which can handle 500 chickens per hour, under the most sanitary conditions imaginable.

The entire project will be able to function entirely without CROP assistance from now on—and as a result, hundreds of Greeks have a new source of employment and a dietary supplement not possible before.

The Greek government cooperated in the project by contributing power lines, sewer and water facilities. The present military regime in Greece is continuing to cooperate with the project, Mr. Weaver said.

He told how villagers trudged many miles to attend the opening day ceremonies and to express their gratitude to the churches of the world who had made the project possible.

The program was arranged by the Mission Committee of the Women's Fellowship, and was attended by 30 members and guests.

A greens and holly bouquet with red carnations and white chrysanthemums, centered the buffet table. Mrs. William Shelley poured coffee and Mrs. Harold Calhoun served holiday cookies.

Revenue Bonds Of $5 Million OK'd By Council

CLINTON—The Village Council meeting Wednesday largely concerned the execution of the resolution authorizing the issuance and sale of $5,000,000 principal amount of Industrial Development Revenue Bonds Series 1968 of the Village to finance acquisition of additional industrial machinery and equipment for the manufacture of disc brake assemblies and components to be installed in the plant owned by the Village and leased to The Budd Company.

Among the building permits approved was one to Peerless Gear Division to build an addition to the plant in Clinton.

Russell H. Miller was given a permit to tear down the building on E. Michigan Ave., recently sold by Mrs. Glen Randall to Gulf Oil Corp.

God Is My Landlord

Mary Jane Hayden, who had become so impressed with this living demonstration of God's laws that she was preparing to give her life to Christ as a Foreign Missionary, was the most disappointed of all. She finally discovered that one of the boys had made chewing gum from his wheat and later swallowed it. Those present then unanimously agreed that Perry should drive 15 miles to the farm of C. D. Finkbeiner for another cubic inch of the same kind of seed.

With this problem solved, the planting of the 44 rows proceeded. Each kernel of wheat was placed in the rows by hand, two inches apart, carefully covered and "patted down."

Anxious eyes again watched the little field every day. The weather was unusually dry. On the third of October, a light shower brought up the Ford wheat surrounding Hayden's plot, but no Biblical Wheat was in sight.

"The Ford wheat had been drilled-in and uniformly covered," Perry explained, "while the youngsters probably packed theirs pretty tightly and walked over it a number of times . . . At least we will hope and pray that it will come up soon."

A few days later, everyone breathed a deep sigh of relief — the Dynamic Kernels were breaking through the ground . . .

This worry had no more than vanished when a new one appeared. The State Highway Department started to build a new bridge in front of the old mill next to the little wheat field, which was right along the road. They were throwing dirt down over the side of the road and encroaching upon the large wheat field, out of which a niche for the Biblical Wheat plot was staked off. The dirt rolled over much of the Ford wheat next to the road, came right up to within a few inches of the Biblical Wheat . . . and stopped!

It was again almost uncanny, when the protecting blanket of snow fell later in the season, to see how conspicuously it appeared heavier on the Hayden plot than on the Ford wheat all around it. That might have been due to the fact that the Ford wheat was planted thicker and showed darker through the snow.

Hayden agreed, but remarked, "I cannot help but feel also, that the Lord is working with us to make a good showing. As long as we are sincere in carrying on the test to prove that the Lord will bless the person who sets aside a tithe for Him, He will be with us in this experiment."

The wheat grew rather spotty during April and May. Some places it was tall, strong and healthy; while in others it was short and spindly. However in June it seemed to be protected by the surrounding strong "stand" of Ford wheat, and picked up rapidly . When the birds, storms and wind attacked the surrounding wheat, the small sheltered plot was spared.

The Second Harvest

It was announced that the cutting of the second crop of Biblical Wheat would take place on Saturday, July 4. On the designated day, about 250 people gathered to watch the event.

A short program was held before the wheat was cut. Perry Hayden read part of Chapin and Page's History of Tecumseh, telling about the first wheat harvested by the settlers of the village, back in 1826.

Pastor Edward Escolme then reviewed the story of the Biblical Wheat and Rev. James Cameron Murdoch of the Presbyterian church offered a prayer of thanks for this year's crop.

The first year's crop was cut with a sickle, as in Biblical days, and this year's was to be cut with "cradles," as in our early history. A cradling contest had been arranged, with the honors to be awarded to the oldest contestant who showed up for the occasion. Two old-timers appeared with cradles. They were Harmon Russ (92) of Adrian and Emmett McCollum (73) of Clinton. Francis Stone (52) of Tecumseh also volunteered to do some cradling. There were about a dozen others in the crowd who had "swung a cradle" in their earlier days. Among the observers at the festivities were Louis G. Hall, County Agricultural Agent, "Al" Johnson of the Michigan Crop Improvement Association, Everett Swingle of the Extension Division of Michigan State College, newspaper reporters and photographers.

When the cradlers were finished, the wheat was stacked in two large piles, but a tremendous amount was tramped down by the crowd. Many heads were also broken from stems and scattered around over the field. Perry and Mrs. Hayden returned to the field after lunch and for nearly six hours they vigilantly gleaned every possible head of wheat. When one realizes that over a period of four years each head would multiply into a bushel, one can see the importance of gathering every kernel during the first years of the project. It was a "red letter" July Fourth for the Haydens.

Rather than take any further chance with the weather, birds or other hazards, Perry loaded the entire harvest into a Ford "pick up" truck and drove it into his barn . . . and the next day it rained.

Perry looked happy as he reminded his friends, "The Lord is pleased with our efforts and will continue to be with us all the way through."

On August 13, Prof. Howard Rather of Michigan State College called Perry by telephone and suggested that if he could bring the wheat to Lansing, they would thresh it in a special small machine which they were using that day. Mr. and Mrs. Hayden immediately packed the bundles of wheat into burlap sacks and rushed them to Lansing, where it was expertly threshed without the unnecessary loss of a single kernel.

To the utter amazement of everyone, when the college weighed the grain after the threshing, there were 70 pounds of wheat . . . or 54.4 fold yield. That was 4.4 better than the first year—surely God was blessing this unusual experiment. This was 1.16 bushels of wheat from the original cubic inch, in two years . . . or 2,448.6 cubic inches — 881,499 kernels from the original 360.

On the following Sunday, 10% of the 70 pounds — or 7 lbs. were taken to the church as the tithe. The remaining 63 pounds were cleaned, treated and prepared for the next planting in the fall.

CHAPTER 4

Henry Ford Becomes Interested

On September 11, Ed Clark and Perry Hayden walked over a piece of ground east of the Tecumseh Hospital, within the village of Tecumseh, where it was decided to plant the third crop of Biblical wheat with the 63 pounds of seed. After the Ford people plowed the land, Leslie "Red" Becker, a colorful descendent of four generations of Lenawee County wheat growers, disced and prepared it for planting.

Before planting the seed this year, Perry felt that nothing should be left to chance.

"God's experiment must not fail."

George Parsons, the agriculture teacher in the Tecumseh Schools, was asked to test the soil. He reported, "Your soil contains an adequate supply of nitrogen and potash, but is low in phosphorus. This can be remedied by the addition of 250 to 300 pounds of '0-20-0' analysis fertilizer per acre. Since this is a test plot, I would add 125 pounds of '2-12-6,' or 75 pounds of '4-16-4.' In case you add these nitrogen fertilizers, then use only 200 pounds of '0-20-0'."

It was first decided to sow the next plot, which had now grown to .77 of an acre, on September 26; but George Parsons warned, "I'm not sure whether it is wise to plant so early this season, because of the Hessian Fly."

The planting was then put off until the first of October. Leroy Matthews, Tecumseh farmer, drilled the 63 pounds of wheat into the .77 of acre tract, which was in the ratio of 1½ bushels per acre. Most farmers locally sowed two bushels per acre.

The story of the Tecumseh Experiment was now attracting wider and wider attention. Many notables were present for the Third Planting. Among them being Sam Rice, President of the Grain Dealers National Association, and a well-known grain man in the United States; L. O. Bracy, President of the Michigan Millers Association; Milton Faulring, President of the Toledo Board of Trade; Leroy Titley, County Supervisor, and many others who should be mentioned if space permitted.

A few days after the wheat was planted, Gale Hooton, whose home adjoined the wheat field, reported to Perry that the pheasants were eating the wheat all along the rows.

Perry recalled the promise in Malachi 3:11, which says, "And I will rebuke the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not destroy the fruits of your ground."

"The Lord will take care of the pheasants. Hunting season opens in five days."

The first day of the hunting season, Gale Hooton called again. "Come down to my gas station and I'll show you one pheasant that won't devour any more of your wheat."

When Perry arrived, Hooton had taken a cubic inch of wheat from the craw of a pheasant which he had shot near the wheat field.

"This isn't our wheat!" exclaimed Perry. "This is white wheat and we planted red wheat!"

Once more, by some miracle — explain it in any way you wish — the Lord's Biblical wheat was spared.

On Saturday, February 17, after the Biblical Wheat project had been developing for three years on his farm, Henry Ford read a story in the Country Gentleman magazine telling about it. He mentioned the article to Edgar Clark, his farm manager, and asked, "Do you know anything about this?"

"Yes, I'm familiar with it."

"Where is he going to get enough land to see it through?"

Ed assured him that he had not figured any further ahead than each year's requirements.

Mr. Ford appeared very much interested. He remarked as he was leaving, "I guess we have enough land for it, haven't we, Ed?"

Mr. Ford voluntarily expressed to others that he was genuinely pleased with the whole matter, and was especially happy that his own Edison Institute schoolboys had played such an important part in the planting.

Perry always felt confident that, with the help of the Lord, all major problems in connection with this project would be taken care of, since it was designed to honor Him . . . And here surely was an answer to prayer!

One of the many growing problems in connection with the Dynamic Kernels project, as the harvests grew larger, was the governmental restriction on wheat production. As a matter of precaution and form, Perry had taken out a "wheat marketing card" (No 1254371). He fully expected that if production of wheat was still restricted when he reached the final harvest in 1946, it might require an act of Congress to sell the wheat. He was thrilled to pick up a radio broadcast while driving along the road in his car one day, stating that the Secretary of Agriculture had lifted the restrictions on wheat production . . . Another hurdle cleared!

That winter was hard on wheat in Michigan. Besides being extremely cold, there was very little snow as a protective blanket. Wheat all through that part of the country was "heaving" from frozen ground. Damage was heavy.

When spring came, "Red" Becker who planted both the Biblical wheat and a large field for himself, could only shake his head when he saw how much better Perry's wheat came through the hard winter than his own. It was generally reported that wheat was not so good anywhere in southern Michigan that year.

While patiently waiting for his wheat to grow during the spring months, Perry had a personal experience which further convinced him of the practical dramatic value of his experiment. He was at the Walbert Grain Elevator in Britton, Michigan, when Francis Stone, a farmer, asked about the progress of his experiment and commended Perry on the idea.

"I believe in the Bible, but some of the lessons are hard to understand. You are the first person who has taken the trouble to illustrate them in a practical way so we farmers can understand them."

As the warm summer rolled around, the third year's field of Biblical Wheat seemed to jump out of the ground. By July the first, all plans were completed for the harvest. Saturday, July tenth was set as "the day," because it was hoped that Henry Ford could be there at that time to witness the ceremonies.

The Third Harvest

Perry was up long before daybreak on the tenth of July. He walked to the mill before going out to the field to help with the preliminary arrangements, eagerly scanning the eastern horizon to see whether the day was going to be clear. The prospects did not look too bright. The sky was streaked with red, but the clouds were hanging dangerously low. He slipped back home to have morning devotions with the family.

When it came time for the daily reading, Mrs. Hayden handed him the devotional book. Perry started to read a passage but was interrupted . . . "We read that a day or so ago," one of the family reminded him.

Perry turned over to the following day's reading, but was told that in his absence the day before they had read that also.

On the third trial, Perry took up the book. (Was it by a strange coincidence?) and read, "And another angel came out of the temple, crying with a loud voice to him that sat on the cloud, Thrust in thy sickle, and reap: for the time is come for thee to reap; for the harvest of the earth is ripe" (Rev. 14:15)!

One of the Hayden children spoke up after the reading, "That's God speaking to us . . . let's go ahead with the harvest."

Ed Clark had arranged with Mr. Ford to secure an old Champion Self-rake Reaper from the Edison Institute for the Third Harvest . . . a sickle was used for the first harvest, cradles for the second, and now an old-fashioned Self-rake reaper for the third . . .

This third crop seemed to be plagued from the very day it was planted, and it continued through the harvest. Rain threatened throughout the morning but held off long enough for the ceremonies . . . then soaked the wheat later in the afternoon while most of it was still on the ground, before it could be tied into bundles and "set up" in shocks.

"You Should See The Other Guy!"

As a boy it was so easy to justify a fight. Publicly you gloated over your opponent's bloody nose (and privately you wished that his had been the black eye with its more-lasting embarrassment). But, somehow, the victory alone excused the battle.

As an adult how do you view the matter? Would the possibility of bloody victory be sufficient justification for attempting to beat the tar out of some irritating neighbor? You might be arrested for disturbing the peace . . . assault and battery!

But that is not the real reason we control brutal impulses. The real reason lies deep in our Christian heritage:
—a sense of human dignity . . .
—respect for fairness and justice regardless of might . . .
—the belief that peace can be a blessing for weak and strong alike . . .
—that patient understanding can enrich life.

Rooted in the same Christian faith are other great principles of life which challenge men's hearts and minds. We seek to understand and apply them as we worship God in our churches. They are essential in a world still threatened with a return to the black eye and bloody nose . . . or something worse.

New Books

New books ready and waiting for you at your public library:

MURDER HAS NO FRIENDS, a mystery by Bradshaw Jones.

VENDOR OF SWEETS, a kindly and beguiling comedy by R. K. Narayan.

A FAN'S NOTES, a fictional memoir. Frederick Exley.

COME ALONG WITH ME, part of a novel, sixteen stories and three lectures, edited by Stanley Hyman.

NINE LIVES OF ALPHONSE. Sebastian's back. Caught in a cross fire between Castro's forces, American intelligence, the U. S. Navy and the Miami Free Cubans, he makes a daring attempt to rescue Cuban defectors. J. L. Johnson.

SPIRAL PENDULUM, by W. B. Levenson. The transition of America's educational system from rural to urban.

ETERNAL FRANCE, a chronicle of France from 1789 to 1944. Norah Lofts.

SEND DOWN A DOVE. The submarine, Scorpion, was on its last mission, a routine patrol of German-held waters. However, it turned into a nightmare voyage as friends became enemies, nerves are bared and tempers boil. A Charles MacHardy thriller.

CHANCE TO KILL, by Dell Shannon. Another Lt. Mendoza mystery, the 13th in the series.

SONG OF THE SIRENS, is Ernest Gann's most enthralling work. We go sailing with him through all climates and in all manner of crafts and we learn the joy and peace of the sea.

SENATOR, by Drew Pearson. As you might expect, this is a political story dealing with the blackmail and bribes, the hopes and fears of the men and women who make the city of Washington the world's most important city.

MAN ON THE BALCONY, by Maj. Sjowall. Martin Beck is a superintendent now, still the dedicated and ruthless policeman. He is also a worried man for Stockholm has become the scene of a rash of brutal muggings and murders. You may follow the methods and problems of the police in a large city.

LAST DAY THE DOGBUSHES BLOOMED, by this day, nine year old Susan's life had changed, her strange summer is over and she has grown just a little older. Another excellent book by Lee Smith.

THE MOVE. Emile turns into an avid eavesdropper on the strange nocturnal doings of his neighbors. He is carried away from his humdrum existence into very troubled waters indeed. Georges Simenon.

DEAD CENTER. David Jones was the star center on the varsity basketball team, but during the team's big game, he became a "dead center" and murder was the verdict. Lee Langley.

VIVERO LETTER, here is the search for the lost city of the Mayans in the deadly jungle of Yucatan. Here the violent conflicts of man against man and against nature take place. Desmond Bagley.

WINE AND THE MUSIC, a novel about a priest who falls in love and who faces a soul-shattering decision — whether to remain with the Church he loves so deeply or to marry. William E. Barrett.

UNIVERSAL BASEBALL ASSOCIATION, INC., this is not a book about a conventional game of baseball for this game is played with dice. The star is an accountant who drinks, picks up B-girls and likes country music. Robert Coover.

LUCITE FLOOR PAINT makes hard floors a soft touch!

A real Work Skipper. Just pour it on and roll it out. Dries in an hour. Tools clean up in soap and water. Ideal for concrete basements, patios and porches. Quarts and gallons.

Two-Fold Rewards To City Programs

By KAY STEELE

Many offerings come out of the Parks and Recreation programs provided by the City of Tecumseh, and when the summer playgrounds are considered grade school children come to mind first. However, in seeking some insight into the offerings of this area, a worker last summer showed this writer that the program is two-fold. Listen to her story:

"Being a student at a local university, studying to be a teacher, I have recently received a form to be filled out to apply for a student teaching position. On the form are many questions that ask you to reflect on your youth, etc., regarding things that have influenced you in your choice to become a teacher.

As I was sitting over the typewriter, all I could think of was my four years as a playground director for the city of Tecumseh. It was always so much fun for me to spend three hours a day with the kids. The age groups were varied, and the kids were individuals, but really they were the same. They all came to have something to do, to have fun.

The city spent a lot of money to get new equipment each year for the kids to play with. It wasn't always easy to find enough activities to occupy 40 kids at one time, but it was a challenge. We had bicycle safety weeks, pet weeks, physical fitness weeks, checker tournaments, picnics, hobo days, treasure hunts, mock track meets, etc.

We all had a lot of fun — I as much or more than the children. But there's one incident that sticks out in mind.

The Friday before Father's Day, three years ago, the playground's project was to make Father's Day cards. Everyone was busy at work and spent most of the morning cutting and coloring to make cards that were just right for each father.

As the kids were going home, one little seven year old boy named Mark handed me a very neat-looking card and said, "I made this for your daddy 'cause I don't have one. Tell him I hope he has a happy Father's Day." I was touched by this, and it made me feel that my 25c store-bought-en card was a little inadequate."

Tecumseh is fortunate to have a recreation program which offers such a wide variety of activities for the youngsters in this community. Likewise it is fortunate that such vital and interested young people offer their time in the summer to staff them. It is because of the Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation that each child — yours, mine, and the child across the street — can enjoy fun-filled hours free from harm!

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:

Will you, please, help us find our daughter? My wife, Ruth, and I are directing this plea to you and to the ten thousand other newspapers in the cities, towns, and hamlets of this country.

Our daughter, Elizabeth Lurene (Liz) Ernstein, was just two months short of her fifteenth birthday when she vanished without a trace last March 18.

She was last seen walking home from school along a lonely tree-lined street amid the orange groves of suburban Redlands. In her arms, she carried a blue notebook and a red algebra textbook.

Since then, law enforcement agencies, family members, and friends have spent countless hours tracking down hundreds of tentative leads. But to no avail. Not one single, slender clue has brightened all our efforts. Seemingly, Liz has disappeared like a breath of air on a winter's day.

But, surely there is a simple explanation. Was she abducted? Did she run away from home? Is she dead? Or is she alive and, perhaps, in your town?

You can help us, Ruth and I are begging you to help us find an answer to our torment — to help us end the long nightmare of these past eight months — by releasing our story and Liz's picture in your paper.

The Lord willing, someone in your area may have seen her.

Please, help us.

With sincere gratitude,
Norman and Ruth Ernstein
Redlands, Calif.

Editor's Note: Any information concerning young Liz Ernstein should be reported promptly to this newspaper or to Capt. Charles Callahan, San Bernardino County Sheriff's Office, San Bernardino, California, phone (714) 889-0111.

TO THE EDITOR:

My very special "thanks" to The Tecumseh Herald and the "bird gal" for promoting a birthday card shower. Many, many thanks to members of the Herrick Memorial Hospital Staff, relatives and friends for all of those nice cards. It was most enjoyable hearing from all of you nice people. There is a card for each year of my life, if my counting is correct. I can't help but wonder if The Herald didn't mail my paper a day or two late, so I wouldn't see the paragraph about my birthday, as it didn't arrive until Nov. 30.

On Nov. 23rd, I was out in the yard, trying to make it look better when I casually noticed the mailman and spoke to him. Then Marjorie appeared with an astonished look on her face. She told me that I had some reading to do, as she handed me a large handful of mail and this went on all week long, excepting on the 25th, the shower became a "deluge". I said "Goodbye" to the lawn and settled down to reading greeting cards.

A special thanks also to those very good friends, who sent a beautiful bouquet of flowers, which arrived on my birthday!

Altogether, we had a very busy week, birthday on the 25th, then Robert and family arrived on Thanksgiving Day and stayed until the 30th, so it was a most enjoyable week as we renewed our acquaintance with the grandchildren again. I expect to see them again at Christmas, at Aspen.

Our dog, Duke, is still struggling along; like I am. He is unable to take long walks now, as his hind legs give out. After all, in dog years, he is much older than I am!

Best regards to all!

Sincerely,
R. G. B. Marsh, M.D.

To The Editor:

I would like to tell you how much I enjoy The Herald every week here in Vietnam. It is a great newspaper and it is sure wonderful to read about what is going on around home. Thank you very much for sending it to me and have a very Merry Christmas.

Give Gifts To Children At Villa

Mrs. Kenneth Fields, superintendent of the Eastern Star Villa, and two boys, Ralph Erickson and Gary Pyle, sponsored by the local Chapter, were guests of the Chapter Thursday evening for a Christmas party.

A Christmas tree with gifts for the children of the Villa was featured in the dining room decorations where 56 members and the guests were seated for dinner preceding the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Manley presented at the meeting and welcomed all with a Christmas reading. Mrs. Ray Schlegel and Harry Beland were introduced as installing officer and installing marshal.

Mrs. Stanley Miller was installed as Marshal of the Chapter for the ensuing year.

The Charter was draped in memory of Edward Leighton, a life member, who passed away Nov. 15. Mrs. Manley read an appropriate memorial verse.

The Christmas message from the worthy grand matron and worthy grand patron was read, as were Christmas messages from the Villa Committee, and Mrs. Clare Morse.

Mrs. Roger Butler was presented her proficiency card and a gift from Mr. and Mrs. Manley.

Three 50-year membership pins were presented to Mrs. Bessie Rector and Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Sturtevant, at their homes.

Members having birthdays in November and December were honored. Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus sitting in rockers was the door prize won by Donald La-Bounty. It was made by Mrs. Stanley Miller.

The Chapter room was decorated with a silver and blue tree and lighted candles. Santa Claus gave candy to all members. Santa was portrayed by Clayton Heiss of Monroe and an honorary member of Tecumseh Chapter. All members joined in singing "O Come All Ye Faithful."

Refreshments were served in the dining room, decorated by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Beland, Mrs. Edward Beal, Mrs. William Wright and Mrs. Glenn Driscoll.

The School of Instruction will be Dec. 1 at 7:30 p.m., for all officers exceupt secretary and treasurer, who will meet at the Temple at 6:45 p.m.

Is a suspended ceiling "just the thing" for your home?
Armstrong
Why Not Armstrong?
What types of suspended ceilings does Armstrong make?
There are three basic types of Armstrong Suspended Ceilings:
1. Temlok—embossed or decorated wood fiber panels.
2 Cushiontone—genuine acoustical ceiling panels.
3. Fashiontone—incombustible panels made of mineral fiber.
They are made in panel form, in nominal two-by-two and two-by-four sizes, one-half inch thick. The painted surfaces are light reflective and are readily washable with warm water, soap or mild detergent, and a sponge. They can be repainted, too, if necessary.
A wide selection of decorative surface treatments are available in regular Temlok, noise-quieting Cushiontone, and incombustible Fashiontone types.

$100,000 Blaze Rips Tuttle Plant; Suspected Employee in County Jail

A fire, from a yet undetermined origin, ravished a rear section of the H. W. Tuttle Co. plant early Sunday morning with estimates of damages running as high as $100,000.

A 23-year-old Adrian youth, David G. Wood, has been questioned regarding the fire but has reportedly denied any connections, although admitting to breaking and entering charges and theft of a company truck shortly before the fire was discovered.

Tecumseh police officer Don Rodehaver, patrolling the area about 1:45 a.m. Sunday morning, discovered the fire and sounded the alarm at the local fire station. The local fire department immediately called Clinton for help.

Both departments battled the blaze for over an hour before making much headway. One big factor was the steel and concrete roof which prevented firemen from getting to the source of the fire.

Clinton firemen were at the scene until after 4 o'clock and the last piece of Tecumseh's equipment did not return to the station until 7:30, nearly six hours after the alarm.

Harold Tuttle, company president, said Monday afternoon that damages could easily run as high as $100,000.

A large office section, located in a new addition constructed in 1966 and next to the shipping department, was completely gutted, including destruction of company records, office equipment and furniture.

Smoke and water damage were extensive, practically throughout the rest of the plant, although the blaze was pretty well contained in the office and receiving and shipping section.

Mr. Tuttle has nothing but praise for the two fire departments, adding "it could have been much worse. They did a wonderful job and we're very appreciative."

The acid-type smoke blanketed the interior of the plant, and tar from the roof dripped on some machinery and materials. Ray materials in the shipping and receiving department were coated with smoke and much was drenched by firemen fighting the fire. Temperature outside was 10 above zero.

Finished products, heating elements and related items, also were smoke damaged.

After Officer Rodehaver turned in the alarm and returned to the scene, he and a company employee found a rear door window broken and keys to an automobile. The keys and part of an auto jack were found on the ground just outside the plant, and were apparently dropped.

The keys fit the ignition of a car, parked near the shipping section, and the auto was then traced to Wood. Burglar tools were found inside the car and later inside the plant.

About 4 a.m., when firemen were able to enter the plant after getting much of the smoke out, they discovered a money-changing vending machine had been broken into and burglar tools nearby in the plant's cafeteria.

After searching for money—Wood told officers Tuesday that he stole just $14 — he apparently fled. Unable to find his keys, he then stole a company truck.

Wood then returned briefly to a company party and dance, being held in the United Products Workers Union Hall. He had been at the dance earlier, then believed to have left to burglarize the company plant.

On his return, it was noticed that he had injured his hand.

He told officers that his hand was cut when he broke a door window to get into the cafeteria. He had used part of the jack to smash the outside window, which had wire re-inforcement imbeded in the glass.

Although he told his questioners that he broke into the plant about midnight, he denied setting it on fire.

The company truck was discovered Sunday near the intersection of Treat and Beecher Sts. in Adrian. A surveillance was made, hoping that Wood would return. However, he and a friend had gone to Manitou Beach, and then to Ohio, before returning to Adrian Monday.

About 2:30 Tuesday morning, the Lenawee County Sheriff department learned that he was intoxicated and in the Campus Grill, an Adrian tavern. Two deputy sheriffs asked him to come outside for questioning, and he then attempted to run away.

After being apprehended, he was booked for drunk and disorderly.

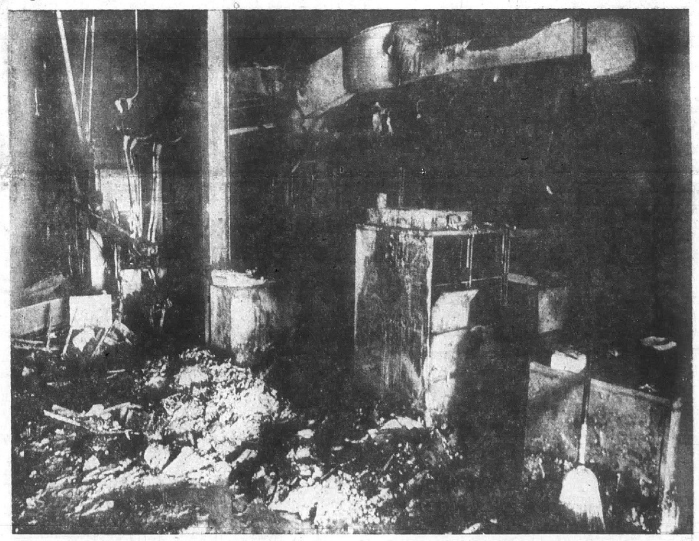
Tuesday morning, Rodehaver and Detective Dave Snyder of the sheriff's department questioned him and took statements. Late Tuesday afternoon at the county jail, he waived examination before Justice Ernest Oliver and was slated to appear before Judge Rex Martin in Circuit Court on Friday.

Wood, who was on probation from a previous breaking and entering charge, has a police record and has appeared three times in the past before Justice Oliver.

He was an employee at Tuttle since October 1 and was a forklift truck driver there.

DAVID WOOD

Wood is in Lenawee County jail under $10,000 bond, $5,000 for breaking and entering and $5,000 for theft of the Tuttle truck. His past record includes a breaking and entering, auto theft and drunk driving. He told officers that he burglarized the plant about midnight. The fire was discovered at 1:45 Sunday morning.



EARLY SUNDAY MORNING FIRE STARTED HERE IN TUTTLE COMPANY'S PERSONNEL OFFICES.

'Yule Church Services

Many special services and programs will be held this weekend at the local churches to celebrate the birth of Christ. Following is a list of churches and their schedules:

United Methodist Church

"The Beauty and Meaning of the Christmas Carols" will be the thoughtful meditation of the Christmas Eve service at the Tecumseh United Methodist Church. The Rev. Donald Porteous will awaken new horizons on the season at this service at 9 p.m. in the church sanctuary.

Special Christmas music will be provided.

Friends Church

Children of the Primary and Junior Departments of the Sunday School of the Friends Church will present a Christmas program Friday at 7:30 p.m.

Music will be under the direction of Mrs. Clarence Randolph and Mrs. Paul Brantingham with Mrs. Avery Pool as accompanist.

A short play, "Rueben's Stable", will be presented by sixth grade students.

Those in the cast are Larry Hollis, Becky Stormes, Allan Smith, James Vaughn, Mark Pearson and Delores Righter.

Church of God

A Christmas play, "From the Manger to the Cross", will be presented Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at the Church of God, 605 S. Pearl St., with Mrs. Woodrow Sessoms and Mrs. Elmer Adams as co-directors.

Those in the cast are the Rev. Alfred Sheley, Sandy Watkins, Virginia Gilbert, Virginia Watkins, James Sessoms and Laverna Hemphill, assisted by others of the church school.

The regular prayer and Bible study will be held as usual Christmas evening at 7:30 p.m.

Missionary Baptist

A Christmas program entitled "The Savior Is Born" will be presented at the Missionary Baptist Church Sunday at 7 p.m., featuring a play by the Sunday School children, under the direction of Mrs. Denny Richmond, Mrs. Lonnie Stalls and Mrs. Lloyd Smith, also the accompanist.

The Dundee Choir will present a cantata at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 18.

Assembly of God

A program of recitations and a gospel film will be shown Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at the Assembly of God Church in observance of Christmas.

Lower Light Mission

The Christian Youth Academy group of the Lower Light Mission will present a play, "The Road to Bethlehem", Friday at 7:30 p.m., under the direction of Mrs. Herman Murphy.

Grace Ev. Lutheran

"Children Tell of Christ" is the name of the service to be presented Sunday at 10:45 a.m. by the primary through third grade students at the Grace Ev. Lutheran Church.

Sunday at 7 p.m., fourth thru eighth grade students will present a program entitled, "Behold the Light".

A Congregational candlelight service will be held at 7 p.m. Christmas Eve with the choir providing special music.

The service Christmas Day will be held at 10 a.m.

First Baptist Church

The Primary Department of the First Baptist Church will present a Christmas program Sunday, Dec. 22, at 4 p.m.

"Festival of Christmas" is the name of the cantata to be presented by the Senior Choir during the candlelight service Christmas Eve from 11 p.m. until midnight.

Mrs. John Westgate, Mrs. William Rader and Dr. Richard Lewis will be the soloists.

Communion and baptism will follow the special music.

The sermon Sunday by the Rev. Blair Bashore will be "The Man Who Owned the Stable" with Dr. Richard Lewis assisting with a vocal solo.

St. Elizabeth Catholic

The midnight mass will begin with carols at 11:30 p.m. at St. Elizabeth Church Christmas Eve. The mass schedule for Christmas Day will be the same as on Sunday — 6, 8:30 and 10:30 a.m.

The Rev. Fr. Robert Handley will hear confessions:

Dec. 21 from 4 to 5:30 p.m.

Dec. 22 from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. and 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Dec. 23 from 4 to 5:30 p.m. and from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

Dec. 24 from 11 a.m. to noon and 3 to 6 p.m.

Presbyterian Church

The traditional Christmas Eve service will be held at the Presbyterian Church again this year at 11 p.m. All persons are invited to the one-hour meeting which begins Christmas Day, sharing in worship and communion as a fitting prelude to the observance of the day.

Begun a number of years ago, the service of familiar anthems and scripture speak of the hope of man and the fulfillment of that hope in the beginning moments of the life of Jesus.

The service is concluded with the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

CLARA WALDRON DAY — Friday was Clara Waldron's Day here in Tecumseh when the local historian spent a busy afternoon autographing her book — "100 Years — A Country Town" — at Don's Beef Buffet. Approximately 250 folks paid a special visit to see Clara and have her personally sign her name on what is a treasured record of our community. Artist Russell Steinke unveiled his painting — Chief Tecumseh who adorns the book jacket — and later sold it in the afternoon to the Tecumseh Products. Robert H. Moore presented Clara with a memento for the day as did Mayor Harold Easton. Wit and Wisdom Club members served coffee and cookies. Books are now available at Ken-Ray's and Jean Colgrove's.

COMPANY SWITCHES SITE PLANS

Township Criticized for Delays

Failure of Raisin Township officials to reach any decision — yes or no for a zoning change — has resulted in the Hughes Chemical Company to locate in Adrian.

Robert T. Hughes, president of the company which just recently merged with Gero Manufacturing of Deerfield, said Tuesday afternoon that he and Al Finn, head of Gero, were "put off" by the township's zoning board at a recent meeting, due to a technicality in advertising a zoning change.

He said that a request for commitment — would the area be re-zoned or not — was not forthcoming. Another delay was eminent.

"We had the feeling of many hurdles in the township," Mr. Hughes explained. He said the present Hughes plant had to be vacated by next November, and there were no assurances from township officials of a decision even before next summer.

On Sept. 16, Mr. Hughes and Mr. Finn approached City Council about their plans to locate a 20,000 to 30,000-sq.-ft. plant just south of Russell Rd., and in the north edge of Raisin Township.

City officials approved a request for sewer and water lines, and offered financial assistance. He told officials here they were suppliers of the Tecumseh Fisher Body plant and wanted to locate in Tecumseh.

In Tuesday's discussion, Mr. Hughes praised Council for its "nice attitude" and willingness to cooperate.

Prior to approaching Council, the two men had met with the township officials, and felt there would be no difficulties. Unfortunately, problems did develop, and it was learned that one top township official did not like the prospect of city sewer and water lines in the township, although such lines would have extended only a couple hundred feet. The township is not able to provide either sewer or water.

The plant needed city water for pressure and a sprinkler system as the company's products were highly inflammable. City fire protection also would have been sought.

Mr. Hughes said the property in Adrian was available immediately and there were no problems.

If the plant had come here, it would have employed between 50 and 100. Operations would have produced industrial coatings and adhesives.

Water Everywhere

Vandalism resulted in extensive damages to the former Joseph Rockwell home in Tipton last week.

The two-story house, now owned by Osburn Real Estate and Insurance, was coated with ice and flooded with water when discovered Saturday morning.

An upstairs bathroom sink had been ripped from the wall and the bathroom window knocked out. When the sink was broken loose, it also broke a water line.

Water had dripped through the house to the basement where the depth measured over two feet. Icicles of two and three feet hung from ceilings, and the ceiling in the kitchen had fallen in.

Kitchen cabinets, ceilings and possibly some walls will have to be replaced.

Since the home had been vacated over a month, damages were not covered by insurance.

City May Tax Land Owners For New Dam

Possibility of financing a new dam at Globe Mill Pond through special assessment of adjoining property owners was discussed by Council Monday night.

Officials asked Cal Zorn, city manager, to continue investigating such a possibility and report back.

Mr. Zorn presented cost figures for a new dam with a low estimate of $65,000 from Louis E. Winkelhaus of Ann Arbor. He said that he was not sure what the estimate included and would check with the company.

Other estimates, $84,000 from Fargo Engineering Co. of Jackson, and $175,000 from McNamee,

ACCIDENTS

Two Tecumseh High School students were injured Saturday when their car slid off icy Rogers Hwy., just north of Blood Rd., and came to rest against a tree stump.

Injured and taken to Herrick Hospital were the driver, Robert J. Moore, 17, of 5912 Rogers Hwy., and his passenger, Larry E. Cote, Jr., 18, of 4391 Comfort Rd.

Young Moore suffered a broken nose and facial lacerations. He smashed the windshield and was then thrown out of the car. Cote suffered bruises and has returned to school. Moore is still out.

According to the police, they were traveling north and were rounding the curve at the Robert Bonner residence when they slipped off the west side of the road.

Police issued a citation for violation of the basic speed law. The automobile was extensively damaged.

A resume of three other car mishaps is:

Dec. 11 — William F. White, 18, of 313 W. Logan St., was arrested for failure to yield the right of way after an accident with Francis J. Packard, 55, of 511 S. Evans. It occurred at the intersection of N. Maumee and Logan Sts.

Dec. 12 — Johnny R. Osenko, 45, Blissfield, was cited for failure to yield the right of way when he ran into Floyd Bus, 50, Dundee. Mishap occurred at S. Maumee and Pottawatamie Sts.

Dec. 14 — Lee R. Cheever, 17, of 9350 River Acres Court, slid on the ice on N. Evans and struck a mail box at the street's intersection with Chicago Blvd.

Dec. 15 — Ruth Ann Warner, 18, of 303 Herrick Park Dr., was driving her brother on his paper route when she backed into a telephone pole.

$100 Rental Fee Set by Council

Council approved renting its chamber at city hall for one day a week for use by the newly-elected district court judges.

Kenneth Glaser, new judge, told city officials that the judges would like to use the council room on Wednesdays. He said the state would install recording equipment and shelves for approximately 40 volumes of legal books.

Council authorized renting the room for $100 a month on a one-year experimental basis. Officials were informed that if the city would require the room on a Wednesday, the judges would probably be able to re-schedule their cases.

Fire Wednesday

Tecumseh firemen answered an alarm about 4:45 a.m., Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Francis Yoder, 8244 Macon Rd.

A blower motor on the furnace had caused some smoke. Little or no damage was reported.

Country Club's Christmas Party

The Tecumseh Country Club's annual children's Christmas Party will be held Dec. 21, from 2-4 p.m., for the children and grandchildren of members and their guests. The special feature of the afternoon is a balloon man from Kalamazoo. He will make animals and other figures from the balloons and give them to the children. There will be special music for teenagers' entertainment. Refreshments will be served.

The committee in charge of the party is Mrs. Gertrude Schneider, chairman; Mrs. Willian Holmes, Mrs. William Macbeth and Mrs. Jack Whelan.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Gratitude and joy abound this Christmas time at the James Barton residence. Jean said Wednesday morning that she expects her husband to come home Saturday from the University Medical Center where he has been a patient since before Thanksgiving, in serious condition.

Quite possibly Glenn Barton, from New Jersey, will join brother, Tom, and the rest of the family in the reception committee before Dad gets home, as well as a friend of Tom's, Bob Martin, from Green Bay, Wis.

√

The Jens Touborgs, just back Friday night from a trip around the world, have happy news to report. Another little girl, Sarah Friis, was born Dec. 15 to their son and wife, Dr. and Mrs. Jens N. F. Touborg of Weston, Mass., in the Boston Lying-in Hospital. Dr. Touborg is the senior resident doctor in internal medicine at the Deaconess Hospital. The couple have two other girls, Margaret, 5, and Anne, 2.

The two and one-half month trip, the Tecumseh Touborgs took, covered the countries of Denmark, Greece, India, Thailand, Australia, New Zealand and the islands of Fiji, Samoa and Tahiti.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beasley left for Dania, Fla., to spend the Christmas holiday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Myer. They will be away for three weeks.

√

Larry Sebring, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Sebring, left Monday for Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, after enlisting for four years last summer. A family pre-Christmas and going-away party was held at the Sebrings Sunday. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Baily, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Puffer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Murphy and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Crawford and family of Otisville and Rebecca Baily of Adrian.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cook, Stephen, David and Robert will leave Saturday morning for Bradenton, Fla., where they will spend Christmas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Cook.

√

Mrs. James Wolf returned to work Tuesday after a shattering experience when her automobile slid off from the road into a drainage ditch on US-23, just over the Ohio line to Toledo.

SERVICES

Gloria Dei Evangelical Lutheran Church

The inner beauty of the Christmas spirit will be demonstrated at the Gloria Dei Evangelical Lutheran Church Sunday, Dec. 22, when the Holy Communion will be administered during the worship service. The Junior Choir will sing "Glory to God" under the leadership of Mrs. Earl Mason. At 7 p.m. the Chancel Choir will participate in the Community Caroling with the Episcopal and the Methodist Church Choirs in the United Methodist Church.

The Christmas Eve Candlelight Service is a traditional event of the church at 11:30 p.m. when members and friends of the congregation will greet the Christ-child in a special way of singing, praying for love and peace.

The Chancel Choir will beautify the service with two anthems: "Lo, How A Rose" and "O Holy Night."

To this candlelight service the public is cordially invited.

During the week Christmas Carols will sound from the chimes of the church.

St. Peter's Episcopal

The First Communion of Christmas at St. Peter's Church will begin with carol singing at 11 p.m., Dec. 24, followed by the Christmas Eucharist at 11:30 when all of the Christmas hymns will be sung.

Children's service will be held at 4 p.m. that afternoon and the service on Wednesday, Christmas Day, will be at 10 a.m.

PLEASE NOTICE

The Tecumseh Public Library will be closed all day, Dec. 24, 25, 31 and Jan. 1.

2 School Boards In Joint Session

Britton and Tecumseh School Boards met Monday evening for a general discussion of mutual problems.

Much of the discussion centered on qualifications required of students to enroll in the new county vocational school.

The Clinton Board also was invited to attend but declined.

Finnegan-Beckwith Nuptials Spoken

Dr. Howard C. Emrick, professor of religion at Adrian College, officiated Sunday afternoon when Christine Finnegan of Ann Arbor became the bride of Henry A. Beckwith at the Holloway Presbyterian Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cadmus, 5920 Centennial Rd., are parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Beckwith of Niles, are parents of the groom.

A large pyramid arrangement of white gladioli and pompons with candelabra on either side of the altar formed the setting for the wedding.

Mrs. Roger Richards of Adrian played nuptial music on the organ.

On the arm of her step-father, Mr. Cadmus, the bride entered the sanctuary in a street length dress of cut velvet with fitted bodice and bell skirt.

A Dior bow held her shoulder length veil in place and she carried an old fashioned colonial bouquet of white Snowflake pompons centered with Snow Song roses.

Sally Shirley of Ann Arbor was maid of honor in an apple green novelty crepe dress with A-line skirt and Dior bow in her hair. She carried a crescent of pale yellow Fuji chrysanthemums with variegated holly.

Richard Roslien of Ann Arbor served as best man and the immediate families were seated by Ricky and Randy Bacon of Tipton.

A white linen cloth hand embroidered in blue, covered the table, centered with a tiered cake topped with white doves, at the reception. A small blue net tree with blue balls also accented the cake table.

Sharon Kruger and Paula Gaughler assisted with the serving.

A graduate of Tecumseh High School, the bride has been a secretary at the Veterans' Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Her husband is a graduate of the high school at Niles and holds an associate degree in science from the Lake Michigan College at Benton Harbor.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents in the Birch Room of the Big Boy Restaurant.

The newly-married couple will live in Long Island, N. Y., where he has accepted a position as manager of the Fox Theatre.

NEW DAM

Porter and Seeley, Ann Arbor, also were discussed.

The city manager told Council that Dr. Merwyn Blanden does not wish to sell some adjoining property, next to the pond and M-50. City officials at one time had considered a new dike near the highway which would have enabled flooding a greater portion of the River Raisin basin there.

If the special assessment project is realized, greatest portion of the cost will be charged against Dr. Blanden, the city and local schools, the three largest property owners on the pond.

Help Wanted Say Players

The Tecumseh Players have found themselves sending out emergency calls for a director, technical director and musical director for "Oklahoma", the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical that the group has scheduled to go before the footlights the latter part of February.

Ron Wisner, president of the group, has sent out a request for anyone who might be interested in these capacities to contact him at once.

On a happier note, the Players announced that the children's play, "Elves and the Shoemaker", was a resounding success, being sold out for every performance. Bouquets were handed out by the Players to Judy Vanzo, who directed the play.

City Closing Offices Here, Dec. 24 and 31

City hall offices will be closed the day before Christmas and New Years, Dec. 24 and Dec. 31.

Council approved City Manager's recommendation Monday night.

Folks who wish to pay their taxes or utility bills may use the night depository, located at the rear of building near the doorway.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Thank You, Clara

"100 Years — A Country Town."

Folks who have started reading Clara Waldron's book about the first 100 years of Tecumseh may well overlook the importance of her labor, and none of us can possibly realize the energy put forth in its 240 pages.

It is the first, and probably the last, volume ever to be published about our community in its early days. The book will not only be treasured, but it will also be a source of information for youngsters and students, not only today but a hundred and two hundred years hence.

Many of us have written term papers, research papers or essays requiring hours of research, usually in a library. When our papers were finished and sources properly credited, we could always breathe a sigh of relief, patting ourselves on the back for the hard hours spent in research and actually putting our information together on paper.

Clara did not have this ready source. She had papers and background information gathered many years ago, some before most of us were even born. Her late, good friend, Edith Ingersoll, to whom she dedicated her book, undoubtedly provided some information and admittedly, the encouragement to write such a book.

Clara's book should be a must for every Tecumsehite, present and past residents. Every student should read it.

Thanks to Clara Waldron, we have a history of our community now and for our future.

Tecumseh owes the lady a big thanks and enough recognition for her endeavor is not possible!

Raisin Township "Bungled"

For three months, Raisin Township officials have known of the Hughes Chemical Company's intentions to locate a new plant in their township.

To put it mildly, the job was "bungled" and the township and city have lost the plant, the 50 to 100 employment, the tax benefits and a newcomer among our midst.

Tecumseh officials cooperated fully, township officials did not.

The city offered sewer and water lines. One township official questioned the "infringement" in township property, although the township is unable to offer either service.

The old fear of annexation cropped up — and this is a known fact — and probably led to the township's "lukewarm" feelings, possibly its delays in aiding the company to locate here.

The question comes up: what can we do to improve relations between Raisin Township and Tecumseh?

If these relations are not improved and a cooperative attitude developed, will the township and city lose future plants?

Relations between the two deteriorated over a fire protection pact and hit its peak over the founding of the Tecumseh Fisher Body Plant on Occidental Rd.

Raisin's cancellation of its fire agreement with the city eventually led township officials this year to spend some $75,000 on an improved department, including a station at Occidental and Gady. This costly sum would have paid for fire protection for the next 25 years, not including the maintenance and capital expenditures which will now be necessary.

What can we do to improve relations? We're not voters in Raisin Township, so there is little that we can do.

However, we would like to see some Raisin officials take into consideration that they have neighbors — and a community which would like to get along with them if they would only let us.

Auxiliary Sends Greetings

Approximately 200 Tecumseh area servicemen will receive a Christmas greeting from the American Legion Auxiliary thru space purchased in The Tecumseh Herald this year. The arrangements were made by Mrs. Robert Smith, rehabilitation chairman.

Mrs. Smith has also been busy purchasing 39 gifts, unit quota, and getting the necessary help to make the Gift Shop effort at the V. A. Hospital in Ann Arbor, a success. The following people, along with Mr. and Mrs. Smith, gave time on Nov. 30, Dec. 1, 2 or 3: Mrs. Truman Rentschler, Mrs. Kenneth Herrick, Mrs. Charles Osburn, Mr. and Mrs. Yale Kerby, Mrs. Harold Osterhout, Britton; and Mrs. Robert Koffron.

Through the efforts of all the Units in Second District, every hospitalized veteran is able to send a gift to members of his immediate family each year. The ladies in the units purchased the gifts and then help the veteran select, wrap and see that the gifts are properly mailed. Both of the above projects are possible because of Poppy Days in May.

During the meeting it was decided to contribute $5 to "Food for Biafra" campaign. Holiday greetings will be sent to 17 Gold Star Mothers. A copy of "The American Legion Story" will be a gift to the Tecumseh Public Library and members decided to again send three girls to Girls' State. "The Top to Toe" Style Show was discussed and members concluded it successful with a profit of $160.

A visit from the 2nd District President, Mrs. Larry Disbrow, is anticipated at the January meeting when initiation of all new members of the past few years will be conducted.

● MRS. JOHN COFFELT

Services were held Wednesday at the United Church of Christ, Clinton, for Mrs. John Coffelt, Jr., 44, of Clinton, who died at the University Medical Center Sunday morning where she had been admitted Dec. 9.

Mrs. Coffelt had suffered a heart condition for two or three years.

She was born in Clinton Jan. 27, 1924, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Escott.

Mrs. Coffelt attended Clinton High School.

She was a member of the United Church of Christ and lived most of her life in the Clinton area.

She married John F. Coffelt, Jr., Aug. 8, 1942.

Besides her husband, she is survived by one son, Ronald, of Clinton; and one daughter, Linda, at home; three brothers, Laverne, of Saline; John, 5517 Billmyer Hwy, and Charles Escott, 8443 Matthews Hwy.; five sisters Mrs. Kenneth (Iva) Eves of Romulus, Mrs. Herbert (Dorothy) Sackett of Clinton, Mrs. William (Betty) Kukral of Tipton, Mrs. Lester (Madalyn) Kidd of Adrian and Mrs. Robert (Pearl) Mangus of Onsted.

The Rev. Dennis Goodrow officiated and burial was in Riverside Cemetery. Arrangements were made by the Proctor Funeral Home.

● LAWRENCE CAMERON

Services will be held Thursday at 3:30 p.m. at the Proctor Funeral Home for Lawrence Cameron, 76, who died at 3:30 a.m., Dec. 16, at the Hi and Dri Trailer Court in Zephyrhills, Fla., where he and Mrs. Cameron spent the winters.

They lived on an island in Evans Lake during the summer.

Born Dec. 16, 1892, in Rush County, Ind., he was graduated from Rushville High School and attended the University of Illinois and the Engineer College of Iowa.

He married Jessie Holdaway in Indianapolis Feb. 14, 1924. She survives.

Mr. Cameron was an engineer at the Deusenburg Automobile Factory in Indianapolis in the late 1920's and 30's. He was an engineer for Stinson Aircraft Corp., in Wayne from 1934 to 1947.

The couple moved to the Irish Hills in 1945 and 1949 opened the Glocca Morra Dairy Bar, operating it for 12 years.

A veteran of World War I, he was a lieutenant in the cavalry.

A member of the Tipton Community Church, he was transferred from Wayne Methodist Church. He was active in Wayne civic affairs.

Other survivors are four daughters, Mrs. Glen (Patricia) Jones, Tipton, Mrs. Wayne (Jessie) Beckley of Fenton, Mrs. Arnold (Phyllis) Wilson, Clinton and Mrs. Larry (Shirley) Drewyor of Ortonville.

One brother, Frank, of Milroy, Ind., and one sister, Mrs. Nellie Sampson, of Indianapolis, also survive.

Two brothers and one sister preceded him in death.

The body will lie in state Wednesday evening and burial will be in Tipton Cemetery. The Rev. Max Bailey will officiate.

● RUDOLPH E. KLANKE

Services will be held Thursday at 1:30 at the Assembly of God Church for Rudolph E. Klanke, 65, who died Monday at 4:40 p.m. at Herrick Memorial Hospital where he was admitted Oct. 30. He had been in failing health for one year.

He had lived at the same address on Townline Hwy., R 3, Adrian, for the past 25 years.

Employed for the past two years as a night watchman for the Gray-Faraday Corp., he was, prior to that time, a die cast operator for Clinton Engines.

Born in Germany Nov. 2, 1903, he received a PhD degree in philosophy from Berlin University and taught at many universities including Harvard and the University of Michigan.

Mr. Klanke's father was president of the Berlin University but was removed from that position by Adolph Hitler who would tolerate no one who offered resistance to a dictatorial form of government.

Rudolph Klanke came to this country in 1922. He was a veteran of World War I with the German army, only 14 years old when he served.

He married Mary E. Spangler Dec. 25, 1931, in Bridgewater.

He was a member of the Church of God.

Surviving besides his wife are four sons, Ralph and John of Clinton, Paul, 211 N. Maiden Lane and David, 507 S. Maumee S t.; three daughters, Mrs. William (Mary) Prong of Clinton, Mrs. Linford (Lela) Gilbert of Adrian and Mrs. Noah (Gloria) Gregory of Ingleside, Il.; and 17 grandchildren.

One brother, two sisters and one grandson preceded him in death.

The Rev. Harold Speer and the Rev. Dennis Goodrow will officiate with interment at Ridgeway Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Proctor Funeral Home.

OFF the TOP

Every year the weeks between Thanksgiving and Christmas get busier and busier, and even though two of our three children are pretty well grown now, there seems to be no let-up in the pre-Christmas activities around our household.

There's still shopping to do, and it's really more difficult now that the boys have outgrown the toy train and tractor stage. Our daughter is still delighted with toys and games under the tree, but even her outlook is changing, as she nears her 11th birthday anniversary.

Her note this year was addressed "To Santa Claus, or whoever it may concern." And although she did ask for a certain doll, she also listed a birthstone ring and some "see through" stockings. I'm afraid our little girl is growing up.

And our oldest made off with a whole box of Christmas cookies I had already prepared for a party, saying, "The guys at the dorm will really like these;" okay, fellas, but now I'll have to bake more.

I get kind of frantic the last few days, what with baking cookies, Christmas programs and rehearsals at school and church, making candy, addressing cards, wrapping gifts, last-minute shopping, planning the Camp Fire Girls' party, putting up decorations, and trying to keep up the daily routine as well.

Dad is complaining about the hurry-up meals we've been getting, and Miss Ten is so restless she gets on my nerves, although I know she's just excited about the impending parties, programs, etc.

Then, just when I'm about ready to tear my hair out at the frantic pace, and I wonder if perhaps Scrooge had the right idea, there comes a quiet moment when the true spirit of Christmas prevails, and we remember what we're celebrating.

It has always been our custom, the first night the tree is up and decorated, to just relax after the house is quiet, absorbing the sight and scent of the pine tree in the house; and so this evening, after the youngsters were off to bed, we sat as we had many other years, just enjoying the decorated tree. The lights cast a soft glow around the living room, and the manger scene seemed to come alive.

"This is the 21st Christmas tree we've put up together," I observed to Hubby.

"Twenty-one? It can't be!" was his astonished reply.

"Well of course it is; we were married 21 years last September."

Then we recounted the Christmases we've shared, beginning with our first, when we were still newlyweds, and that first little tree. Then the second, when we were anxiously awaiting the arrival of our first offspring (he arrived six weeks after Christmas. By the third Christmas, our first-born was a toddler, and we remembered the joy we felt now that we had a real family, and how we excitedly shopped for bright toys for him.

The next year, our baby was almost two years old; but by the Christmas following, we had added another son, and had double reasons to be thankful at Christmastime.

The years flew by, and the boys grew. We remembered the year we bought them an electric train, and Dad and an uncle set it up around 10 p.m. after the boys were put to bed Christmas Eve, and the men played trainmen until after midnight. Much later, the boys told us that they had not been asleep, and they had heard Dad and Uncle Holden playing with the train that night!

There were years which found toy trains and tractors, cars and airplanes under the tree every Christmas morning. Then it was ice skates and basketballs; bicycles; games; and later, golf clubs.

Then a little sister was added to the family circle around the yearly Christmas tree, which seemed to make our joy complete. Now, dolls and doll houses, carriages and dainty dresses joined the baseball gloves and sleds under the tree. Dressing a doll became a yearly ritual.

The years continue to fly by, and our oldest will soon be 20. Tall sons replace the little boys of years ago, and a growing daughter will soon slip out of childhood forever; but, God willing, we will always meet at Christmas, and always have a tree.

Christmas Eve Service of Music

BRITTON — A candlelight processional will begin the Christmas Eve service of music and meditation in the Congregational Christian Church Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m.

The three choirs under the direction of Mrs. William Raeburn, will sing "No Room in the Inn", and "O Holy Night", by the High School and Adult choirs, "Glory and Praise to God on High", by the Junior Choir, and "Sing and Rejoice", by all choirs.

The Rev. Gustav Hannevik will be the soloist with the combined choirs for "The Birthday of a King".

The pastor will lead the congregation in worship on the theme "The Wonders of His Love".

* * *

The Sunday morning sermon subject will be "The Calendar of God". The Junior Choir will sing "Noel! Sing We Now of Christmas", while the High School and Adult Choirs will combine in the anthem "Glory to God".

Events All Set For Holidays

BRITTON — Coming holiday events at Grace United Methodist Church were announced by the pastor, John Lover.

Sunday, Dec. 22, at the morning worship service, the theme will be the words of the Magi, "We have come to worship him". Sunday School is at 9:45 a.m. and the worship service at 11 a.m.

Sunday, evening, Dec. 22, at 7 p.m., is the annual Church Christmas program and candle-lighting service, sponsored by the Commission on Education. The church will provide treats for the children. Each family is asked to bring cookies.

The title of the program is "Keeping Christmas Today". It will consist of children and adult choral singing and reading. Part of the program will include a living Christmas tree.

The entire program will last around one hour and 15 minutes. The public is invited.

On Monday, Dec. 23, the Young Adult class will go Christmas caroling, meeting first at the church at 7 p.m. Other interested persons, not in the class, are welcome to carol with this group.

Tuesday evening at 8 p.m., Christmas Eve, there will be a service of scripture, carol singing and meditation. Many families have family celebrations and family worship services at this time, but those who would like to worship in the church at this time are invited to do so.

New Addition Plans Outlined

BRITTON — The quarterly meeting of the Bethel Baptist Church was held Friday evening at the church.

Tentative plans for building a new sanctuary were accepted by the church.

The new facilities will contain a fellowship hall to accommodate 300 to 400 persons.

The seating capacity of the new sanctuary is 450.

The new addition would be built north of the present church structure with a large entrance hall joining the two. Sunday School class rooms will be tripled.

Included in the plans will be the enlarging of the pastor's study and office, the rest rooms, nursery and class rooms.

Other business transacted was the transfer of a monthly stipend to the Arthur Mann family, home missionaries, from Jack Frankhouse, who has resigned from the Cadmus Church due to health problems.

Special Pageant For Christmas

BRITTON — A special Christmas pageant, "Who Is This Babe" will be presented Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m., by the members of the Bethel Baptist Church. Pastor Duane McNeil extends a cordial welcome to all in the community to attend.

In the morning service, the Rev. Duane McNeil will speak on "Seeing Christ".

Due to the evening program there will be no adult Bible study group or young peoples meeting.

The mid-week prayer meeting usually held Wednesday will be held Thursday due to Christmas falling on Wednesday.

Tom Yarckow Is Instructor

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Tom Yarckow, GMG, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Yarckow of Britton, has been appointed a certified rifle, pistol and shotgun instructor, by the National Rifle Association of America.

A petty officer with the Navy, the new instructor was appointed on the basis of experience and the successful completion of an extensive examination. He is now qualified to conduct classes in basic marksmanship and safe gun handling.

Petty Officer Yarckow joins the ranks of selected volunteer instructors throughout the country who donate many hours in the NRA small arms education program. The program has been in operation since 1876; since that time many millions of people have been taught to handle and enjoy firearms safely and effectively.

A Britton High School graduate, Petty Officer Yarckow enlisted for four years and has about 1½ years to go. He will leave before Jan. 1 on a trip around the world, stopping for a safari in Africa first, his mother said.

Petty Officer Yarckow returned, after a year in Vietnam, last June. He was also in Cuba and Puerto Rico.

Santa Claus Comes Early

BRITTON — Santa Claus arrived early at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Verl Sanch, Sr., this year. The Sanch's were hosts to a pre-Christmas family gathering Saturday evening.

Guests included their children and grandchildren; Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Sanch and family of Brighton; Mr. and Mrs. Merl Sanch and daughters of Ida; and Mr. and Mrs. Verl (Chip) Sanch, Jr., of Jonesville; also an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Snyder of Romulus.

Verl, Jr., who is in the sea bees, will be leaving Friday for California. In February, he will be leaving for a year's tour of duty in Vietnam.

Troop 23 Holds Court of Honor

BRITTON—Members of Troop 23 of the Britton Boy Scouts held their annual Christmas supper and Court of Honor last Wednesday evening in the school cafeteria.

Mrs. Wilmer Lorenz, chairman of the Boy Scout Mothers' Club, was in charge of the potluck dinner which was attended by over 100 boys and family members.

Committee chairman Stewart Niblack presented Jim Rayburn with his Star award. The boys then presented their mothers with a replica of the pin which they had received.

Receiving patrol leader awards were Ron Maschino, patrol leader of the Road Runner Patrol; Gary Geigler, patrol leader, and Bruce Sommers, assistant patrol leader of the Moose Patrol; John Lorenz, patrol leader and Steve Sommers, assistant patrol leader of the Red Baron Patrol.

The Court of Honor closed with the benediction by Scoutmaster Neal Judkins.

Children To Present "and There Was Light"

BRITTON — The Congregational Christian Church Sunday School Department will present over 100 children in the Christmas program entitled "And There Was Light" Sunday evening, Dec. 22, at 7:30 p.m. Co-chairmen of the event are Mrs. Keith Swain and Mrs. Lowell Bush.

The program will open with the Nursery and Primary Departments giving Christmas recitations and singing "Jesus Had a Birthday", and "Away In A Manger".

The Primary 11 Department will present a Christmas Sudegraph as the class recites the ever-new Christmas story of Luke 2:8-20, followed by the singing of "The Baby King" and "Long Ago".

The Junior Department Carolers will sing familiar "Joy To The World", "Silent Night", "The First Noel", and other favorites.

Following the caroling, the audience will be taken back to the very beginning, to hear the story of how Christ the Light came. While the High School Speaking Choir tells the story, the Junior Department will present a tableau. Participants are Abel, Jim Arft; Noah, David Olds; Abraham, Jim Frayer; Isaac, Jeff Brown; Moses, Don Francoeur; David, Dan Exelby; Prophet, Mark Bush; Mary, Kathy Morse; Joseph, Kevin Beal; Shepherds, Mike Taylor and James Reeck; Angel, Kathy Arft, and Narrator, Richard Bruce.

Included will be music by the Men's Quartet: the Rev. Gustav Hannevik, Lowell Bush, Richard Bruce and William Raeburn. A ladies' trio will also sing. Members are Mrs. John Buckles, Mrs. Joseph Hall and Mrs. Keith Swain.

Following the closing songs, the annual church Christmas party with refreshments, will be held in the Fellowship Center. Everyone is invited to attend.

Washingtonian Visits Sister

BRITTON — Mrs. Larry Thompson and son, Jeff, of Tacoma, Wash., arrived at Metropolitan Airport Saturday for a visit with her twin sister, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bruce and family, of Palmer Rd.

Mrs. Thompson will be joined by her husband this weekend, and they will be visiting other relatives in the area until January 12.

Tories Tumble Bulldogs

BRITTON — The Britton cagers pushed their undefeated streak to four Saturday night at Petersburg with a thrilling 70-67 win over Summerfield. The win puts Coach Jim Landfair's team on top of the league at 3-0, and 4-0 overall.

Britton got the tip-off and scored the first two baskets. Summerfield soon found the range, however, and led at the end of the first period, 18-17.

The game continued at the fast pace set at the beginning, and Britton outscored the Bulldogs, 20-8, in the second quarter, lead by scrambling Jim Lister's 11 points, and the Tories led, 37-26, at the half.

The two teams traded baskets in the third period. Both teams were forced into many fouls and turnovers, and the fans were wild in the cracker-box gym.

The Bulldogs staged a come-back in the fourth quarter, tying the score at one point at 65-65, before the Tories finally put it away.

Lister was the game's leading scorer with 22 counters. He was followed by Dave Fairbanks with 17, who also grabbed 28 rebounds for the Tories. Junior Rick Maska added 14 points, six of them in the final stanza when they were really needed to stave of Summerfield's rally.

Summerfield's scoring was well-balanced, as their starters all hit in double figures, but they couldn't overcome the Tory lead. Bulldog freshman Ted Tibbetts got 15 points.

"It's great to be 4-0, but it's early in the season, and Erie-Mason will be tough Friday night," commented Coach Landfair. The Erie-Mason Eagles, new to the league this year, racked up convincing 104-66 and 85-80 wins over Deerfield and Whiteford earlier, but they were shot down by Ida Saturday night, 63-39.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL ELECTION AND OF REGISTRATION OF VOTERS

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE VILLAGE OF BRITTON:

NOTICE is hereby given that a special Village election will be held at County Library Branch Bldg., Britton, Michigan, in the said Village, upon Monday, February 3, 1969, at which there will be submitted to the vote of the electors of the Village, the question of ratifying a certain public utility franchise contained in an ordinance adopted by the Village Council at its meeting held upon the 16th day of December, 1968, which said ordinance is entitled as follows:

AN ORDINANCE, granting to CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY, its successors and assigns, the right, power and authority to construct, maintain and use electric lines consisting of poles, masts, towers, crossarms, guys, braces, feeders, transmission and distribution wires, transformers and other electrical appliances on, along and across the highways, streets, alleys, bridges and other public places in the VILLAGE OF BRITTON, LENAWEE COUNTY, MICHIGAN, and to do a local electric business therein, for a period of thirty years.

On the date of said election, the polls will be open at 7 o'clock in the forenoon, or as soon thereafter as may be, and will be kept open until 8 o'clock in the afternoon, Eastern Standard Time, when they will be finally closed.

The Village Clerk will be in her office on the 28th day of December, 1968, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, said date being the first Saturday preceding the closing of registration for said election which is not a legal holiday, and on the 3rd day of January, 1969, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 8 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, said date being the fifth Friday, as determined by statute, preceding the date of said election, for the purpose of reviewing the registration and registering such of the qualified electors of the Village as shall appear and apply therefor. In the event such fifth Friday shall fall on a legal holiday, registration shall be accepted during the same hours on the following day.

Friday 13th Bad Day For Tribe

Two overtimes and bad luck on Friday, the 13th, caused the Tecumseh Indians to go down to their third defeat in four games. The Blissfield Royals downed the Tribe in double overtime, 69-67.

Blissfield roared in the game's first quarter, leading, 22-10 at the buzzer. Things looked bad for the Tribe and their shooting was matched with the 15 degrees outside of the gymnasium. But the hometown fans were given a shot in the arm during the second period as the Tribe, led by Steve Dalton, came back to outscore the Royals, 23-14, in the second stanza. Dalton dumped in 14 of the Indians' points. As the teams left the floor at halftime, the score stood, 36-33.

The two teams matched efforts in the third period, each garnering 15 points. The end of the period had Blissfield on top, 51-48.

Tecumseh made up the three-point deficit in the fourth period, outscoring the Royals, 14-11. With less than a minute to go in the fourth period, the Indians held a 62-61 lead. Denny Thompson hit on a foul shot for Blissfield to knot the core. He missed on the second shot and the rebound went to the Royals who held on for a final shot at the basket. Thompson tried for the hero's role but the shot missed and the first overtime was played.

Both teams had victory in their clutches in the final seconds of the overtime. With 17 seconds on the clock Doug Bateson, Blissfield guard pumped in a shot to put his team ahead, 67-66. After losing the ball on a turnover, Tecumseh's Wally Quinn was awarded a foul. He dumped in the first shot and followed up with another which also went through the hoop but Dave Laidlaw had stepped back from the free throw lane and the shot was nullified. There four seconds remaining. Hunt scored four of the five points for Tecumseh in the first overtime.

In the second overtime both teams played control ball and waited for the last second shot. With 15 seconds remaining Bateson charged in for a layup that canned the victory for the Royals.

The 5'10" Bateson led all scorers in the game with 39. Steve Dalton dumped in 29 for the Tribe. Hunt added 17 for the losers and Bill Puffer another 12.

The Indians take on the Airport Jets in a league tilt here on Friday in hopes of putting another game in the win column.

Wrestlers Split

Tecumseh High School wrestlers won their first league meet of the season Tuesday night against Grosse Ile. Last Thursday they dropped a match with Saline.

Against Saline Merv Maynard at 103, Able Valdez at 120 and Marv Maynard at 127, picked up wins with decisions. Dan Anderson pinned his opponent at 175. Bill Groover at 145 and Bob Hackett at 165, wrestled to draws.

Tecumseh forfeited the heavyweight match, losing five points, making the match closer than the score indicated, final score, 24-18.

JV winners were Henry Jones, Denny Puffer and Bill Groover with pins. Lazaro Olaniz, Jim Groover, Bill Gibson, Steve Tilton and Tom Huber with decisions. Lee Dollison and his opponent wrestled to a draw.

Against Grosse Ile the score was 34-13 with Valdez, Hackett and Anderson winning on pins. Ralph Miller, Marv Maynard, Bill Groover and Steve Hinkleman all took decisions in the meet. Mark Brown wound up with a draw in the heavyweight division. Steve Ford was given a decision on a forfeit at 95.

Grosse Ile stands at 2-1 in league play and the local matmen are at 1-0.

Tecumseh winners in the JV contests were Mike Tilton, Joe Bazby, Jim Kane, Dan Brooks and Denny Puffer with pins. Steve Tilton, Joe Bailey, Jim Groover and Tom Huber with decisions and Rich Roost picked up a draw.

Thursday the matmen take on Adrian at the high school gymnasium. It will be the second home match of the season and the Indian wrestlers are hopeful of a strong showing against the Maples.

Rotarians, Kiwanians Man Kettles

Members of the Rotary Club and the Kiwanis Club will man the Salvation Army kettles in the downtown section of Tecumseh Saturday, ringing bells and seeking contributions for the annual dinners for needy families and indigent children.

This will be the first venture of this kind in Tecumseh in the annual countywide effort to supply food for Dec. 25 for needy throughout Lenawee.

Carl Lamb, chairman for Kiwanis, met with Captain John Woerner of the Army and the directors of the Tecumseh Service Club to offer assistance.

It was decided that the Salvation Army would provide food and the local Service Club, clothing and toys for the Tecumseh area.

Clayton Greenwald is chairman for the Rotary.

Anyone knowing of needy families may call the Salvation Army in Adrian, members of the Kiwanis or Rotary, Mr. Lamb 423-2421 at the Pharmacy or Mr. Greenwald at the Cleaners 423-2353.

Christmas Ball

BRITTON — The Junior Class of Britton High School will sponsor a Christmas Ball on December 21, from 9 to 12.

Music for dancing will be provided by the "Soul Reaction", a well-known rock group.

Dress will be semi-formal, and the dance will be held in the study hall, which will be gaily decorated in a Christmas motif.

Students not from Britton who would like to attend, contact any Britton student and arrangements will be made.

Admission prices are $2 per couple, or $1.25 single. Tickets may be purchased prior to the dance or at the door.

Refreshments will be served.

Weyher-Eash Wedding

BRITTON — Sandra Arlene Weyher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LaVern Weyher of Britton, and Samuel Harvey Eash, son of Mrs. Wilbur Eash and the late Mr. Eash of Centreville, were united in marriage Saturday, December 14.

The afternoon ceremony was performed in the Ninth Street Methodist Church in Three Rivers, by the Rev. Eugene Moore.

The young couple will make their home in Centreville.

Maconettes' Christmas

BRITTON — Mrs. Robert Bush was hostess for the Maconettes' Extension Study Club Christmas party last Thursday evening. Members gathered at her home for a potluck supper and Secret Sister gift exchange. Games were played.

The group will meet next month on January 9 at the home of Mrs. Louis Loesch. There will be a White Elephant auction.

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

I would like to add the name of one more good colored citizen to those Clara mentioned in her book.

We had a neighbor in the Billington Corners area who was a Civil War veteran and owned his own home near Evans Creek north of M-50.

He is buried in the Civil War plot in Brookside and his name on the marker is Corporal Patrick Blair, 13th U. S. Colored Infantry.

He was very well accepted and liked in the community.

Sincerely,
W. G. Waldron.

Complete Loan

BRITTON — Forms were completed for borrowing $60,000 from the United Savings Bank in Tecumseh at the Board of Education meeting Thursday night in the Superintendent's office.

Plans are underway to hire a girl's physical education teacher for the second semester.

The board members reviewed the policy for pheasant hunting and deer hunting by students.

Routine monthly bills in the amount of $2,560.06 were voted paid.

The purchase of a new school bus was discussed.

Hospital Visits Are Limited Now To Family Only

William Groover, hospital administrator, says the new regulation was put into effect Saturday and will continue indefinitely.

Purpose of the restriction is to reduce the chances of influenza and other contagious diseases from spreading to patients and hospital personnel.

Britton Downs Boysville

BRITTON —A fourth quarter rally in which the Tories scored 24 points while holding the Knights of Boysville to only 6, gave Britton it's third straight win Friday night.

The Tories were cold in the first half, shooting a poor 25 per cent from the floor, while the Knights maintained a fast pace. Boysville relied on Elbert Neal's outside shots to keep them in the lead, and were quick to capitalize on Britton's carelessness with the ball.

Boysville outscored Britton in each of the first three quarters, and Tory fans were silent as Britton fell behind.

When the last quarter began, however, the Tories had made up their minds to win. Down by 10 points, 41-31, they began pressing to break the Knight's attack.

A three-point play by junior Mark Hetrick started the Tory rally. Quick baskets by Dave Fairbanks and Jim Lister brought the Tories to within three points of the Knights, 41-38, with 5:41 to go in the game. A free throw by Lister, followed by a basket by Fairbanks tied it up at 41-all at 4:29 to go.

The fans came to life as Britton went ahead on Jim Brown's basket; then 2 free throws by Hetrick and another bucket by Fairbanks brought the score to 47-41 before Boysville knew what hit them.

A driving lay-up by Brown, plus baskets by Lister and Rick Maska and 2 more free throws by Hetrick, put the game away for the Tories. The final tally was Britton 55, Boysville 47.

Britton's big center, 6'6" Dave Fairbanks, led all scorers with 17 points. Junior guard Jim Brown chipped in 14, while team mates Mark Hetrick and Jim Lister each added 7. Elbert Neal led Boysville's scoring with 14.

The Tories were without the services of veteran forward Jim Skelton, who suffered an eye injury in last Saturday's game with Waldron, but juniors Maska and Hetrick stepped in to take up the slack for Britton.

BRITTON 55

Fairbanks 8-1-17; J. Brown 7-0-14; Lister 3-1-7; Tuberville 2-0-4; Maska 3-0-6; Hetrick 1-5-7.

BOYSVILLE 47

Neal 5-4-14; Carter 3-1-7; Jones 2-3-7; Sacks 2-1-5; Hurford 6-2-14.

SING FOLK-ROCK MASS — These three young musicians created a new sound Wednesday. They wrote the lyrics and composed the music for a special Mass at the St. Elizabeth Catholic Church, which concluded the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine's "Awareness of Self", part one of the three-part study program. They label their sound as a "religious folk-rock". Left to right, they are: Pat Wanzeck, Mark Roberts and Dean Finnegan.

Santa Takes To Wheels

Seventy boys and girls were guests of the Underwood-Orr Unit No. 34, American Legion Auxiliary, at a Christmas Party in the Legion Home Sunday afternoon. President Mrs. T. Rentschler gave words of welcome to the group and then introduced Jack Moranville of Saline who entertained with sleight of hand tricks to the delight of the adults as well as the children.

Singing of Christmas songs, accompanied by Mrs. Moranville filled the time while waiting for Santa Claus to arrive.

Since there was no snow in this area, he claimed that he had to put wheels on his sleigh and that procedure delayed him.

The line of children was long but he had enough presents for all and promised to have more for them on Christmas Eve provided that their behavior was good.

Refreshments were served from a table appropriately decorated for the holiday season.

Mrs. Hal Bates, chairman of Junior Activities, planned the party. Her mother wrapped all of the gifts for Santa. Others who helped were Mrs. Dorman Vescelius, Mrs. Charles Houghby, Mrs. LaMar Rufner, Hal, Mike and Chris Bates.

Slippery Roads Are Blamed For Minor Accidents

Mark Wegner, 17, of Clinton-Manchester Rd., was given a summons when he failed to stop behind a car driven by Vivian Powell, 63, waiting at the stoplight on Jackson St. Damage to the cars was minor.

At 1:45 p.m. Terrel Green 16, of Hillsdale, was eastbound on Michigan Ave., and slowed for the stoplight, skidding into the side of a parked car owned by Donald Meyers.

Green then drove his vehicle into the space ahead of the Meyers' car and parked, whereupon another car, driven by Philip Blom, also slowing for the stoplight, skidded into the parked Green vehicle.

Damage to all three vehicles was minor and no summons were issued.

Mrs. Leon Van Deusen presented the devotions on "The Birth of Christ."

"The Magi" was read by Mrs. Smith for the program.

The members exchanged gifts and addressed greeting cards to absent members.

Mrs. Van Deusen will host the next dessert luncheon meeting on Jan. 9.

'Skins Bite the Dust

By GINA GREEN

Last week it was a last-minute burst that sent the Clinton basketball squad to an overtime victory but this Friday the tables turned and it was the Morenci Bulldogs who came out on top of a close contest, 55-51.

Neither team was able to put an effective offense in gear as the hoop proved an elusive goal for both teams early in the game.

The Redskins managed a 26-25 halftime lead but a low field goal percentage caused the lead to dwindle quickly. However, the Redskins fought back from a seven-point deficit in the final quarter to tie the game at 51-51 with 54 seconds remaining.

The Bulldogs came back quickly to find Jack Valentine all alone under the basket for the go-ahead score. Clinton got off a quick jump shot but lost the board control offensively as they had all evening to Bulldog center Larry Place.

Valentine again worked around his defender for a layup to put the game on ice as a last-ditch Redskin effort fell flat.

Senior Ron Hintz again led Clinton scorers with 16 points and junior guard Lon Schneider added 13. Place matched Hintz with 16 points, Paul Lamb hit for 13, and Valentine notched 11 points for Morenci.

The junior Redskins made up for the varsity loss in part with their second victory of over 20 points by defeating the Little Bulldogs, 57-35, despite a somewhat ragged offensive attack. Pete Schneider dumped in 18 points for Clinton and Terry Bellmore turned in a fine second-half effort.

Varsity score by quarters:

Clinton	13	13	11	14—51
Morenci	10	15	16	14—55

Christmas In Other Lands Shown WCTU

Mrs. Marion Whelan presented a program of Christmas customs around the world for members of the WCTU Dec. 10 at the Friends Church.

The candle light ceremony showed traditions in six countries, Italy, China, Germany, France, England and the United States.

She used one large candle representing Christ, the Light of the World, and lighted six smaller candles for each country.

Carols characteristic of each country were sung by the group.

Mrs. Lillian Hoagland and Mabel Lockwood each gave readings.

A potluck supper preceded the Christmas meeting when members voted to give $10 for the "Spotter," a temperance announcement on radio station WPAG in Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Dennis Bowman Graduates with Honor

Mrs. Dennis Bowman, nee Paula McKenna, will graduate Magna Cum Laude, Dec. 21, from Western Michigan University. Mrs. Bowman will receive a bachelor's degree in secondary education with a major in English.

She was accepted for inclusion in the 1968-69 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." Students are selected for this honor whose academic standing, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and future potential are decidedly above average.

She is a member of the Mortar Board, which is a national honor society for college women, and a member of the Kappa Delta Pi, a national education honorary society.

Mrs. Bowman plans to teach English and history at the Portage Junior High School, near Kalamazoo. Her husband, Dennis, will continue his education at WMU, and will graduate in June. They reside at 810 Clinton Ave., Kalamazoo.

The Rev. and Mrs. Paul McKenna of Clinton are Paula's parents.

MRS. DENNIS BOWMAN

They Give Blood To Others Lives

There were 106 pints of blood donated at the Bloodmobile last Thursday at Tecumseh Products. There were 14 volunteers who were not accepted.

Tim Neill was chairman of the Bloodmobile.

Kenneth Lathrop, 3970 Kaiser Rd., became a 3-gallon donor.

Two-gallon donors are: Carl P. Duda, 203 Clinton-Macon Rd., Clinton; Dale K. Gubbe, Britton; Paul Laslo, Britton, and Lester Randolph, 301 S. Adrian St.

Special Meeting For Tecumseh OES

Tecumseh Chapter OES held a special meeting Thursday evening for the School of Instruction. Mrs. Frances Strand, Grand Ruth of the Grand Chapter of Michigan was introduced and welcomed as the Instructor of the evening.

Mrs. Strand was presented a gift from the Chapter by Mrs. Charles Manley, worthy matron.

Refreshments were served in the dining room from attractively-decorated tables in keeping with the Christmas season, by Sally Hunt and Cynthia Frayer.

The next meeting will be January 2.

File Petitions As Candidates By December 20

CLINTON — Candidates desiring to run for village offices must file petitions as Republicans or Democrats at the Village office by 5 p.m. Dec. 30.

Officers to be elected include: president, one-year; clerk, one-year; and treasurer, one-year; and three trustees for three-year terms.

If a slate of officers files, which is unopposed, it will not be necessary to have an election.

Smith-Kimball Opening Soon

CLINTON — Mr. and Mrs. Harry Werth, caretakers of the Smith-Kimball Community Center, who have been living with relatives since the fire destroyed the apartment in the center last February, are expected to be able to move back into the rebuilt apartment this weekend.

Village President John Truesdale announced an open house is planned Jan. 15 for the completely rebuilt and restored landmark which was almost totally damaged in the fire.

Changes include an enlarged ballroom area upstairs with a new kitchenette attached.

The game room is newly-paneled and the wide open stairway from the main floor is to be carpeted with indoor-outdoor carpeting.

The woodwork is to be refinished in the natural wood tones as previously and the downstairs rooms are retained in their former arrangement.

Much of the original furnishings were salvaged, including the television set, folding tables and chairs, leather chairs and the Woman's Club piano.

Drop ceilings both upstairs and down have changed the appearance of the mansion.

Arrangements for the open house are being made by the Smith-Kimball Community Center Board.

Ronald Sturgeon, nee Ruth Ann Coates, and son, Craig, arrived Sunday from Topeka, Kan., to spend a month with her parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Hearold Coates and Larry, while her husband is in Vietnam.

20th Century Reaches County

By BILL SANFORD

After 68 years Lenawee County has been forced into the enigma that is the 20th Century. It was not by mutual consent that the advent of governmental changes came about for the denizens of Lenawee. Through court rulings and constitutional change, revamping of local courts as well as the Board of Supervisors has become necessary. While the changes will appear to have a streamlined pragmatism in their effect on the people, it is still apt to chug with the efficiency of a steam locomotive.

One new phase will take effect on January 1. The county conceded that the Board of Supervisors needed reapportioning, that is with the help of the supreme court. At last month's general election a new board was elected. Twenty-one in nature compared to the present set-up of 35, the new board replaces the township supervisors and city officials who have sat on the board during its over 140-year history.

Rank confusion erupted over the reapportioning of the local lawmaking body. The confusion began in the United States Supreme Court and the circus route of incomprehensibility ran to the local courthouses of Michigan, and Lenawee was no exception.

By law, a reapportionment commission was assigned. The members had few guidlines in which to use. The one most confusing was that counties were directed to use figures from the 1960 census in figuring the population basis for the new districts.

The Michigan State Legislature, another body which never fails to enter confusing schemes, romped into the race for the title of the year's "Contributing the most to confusion" award. Bills were passed, supposedly to aid the counties in the transition from the old to the new. But being the bridesmaids that they are, the issue came to the counties with something old, something borrowed and something blue.

The something old was that counties could maintain approximately the same style of board of supervisors, with one exception, the number and a limit of 21 was set. The something borrowed turned out in some instances as programs that had been tried elsewhere and failed to work. The something blue was the air which permeated the rooms where reapportionment commissions met to decipher the laws.

Confusion reigned, one word contradicted the other. No one seemed to know just exactly how the whole operation was to come about. To what extent do we revamp the board? To what areas and what boundaries? How many and what's going to happen when it is all over?

Voters in the general election, along with the city clerks and County Clerk Patricia Johnston all shared in the utter confusion. Faced with less than 30 days to propose an acceptable solution, the commission picked 21 supervisors and areas that were hoped to be equitable, but the 1960 census figures are out of line with local population shifts.

The voters' confusion came with questions like, "Who do we vote for and from where?" "What are they going to do after we have elected them?" And "What in the world do we need a new board for when we already have one that doesn't do anything anyway."

These running questions haunted many voters on Nov. 5. It was their first real battle with the fine art of bureaucracy. They were the tiny David attempting to do in the mighty Goliath with a sling shot. But unlike the story of old, mighty Goliath brushed off the stones with a gesture of annoyance.

The real drama of the entrance of Lenawee County into the 20th Century is still to unfold. The new board of supervisors had not been elected when the questions of the townships started to caress the ears of the present board members who preferred the township post to the county post.

What are we going to do about assessment of taxes? The question popped and another shadow of dissidence crept over the horizon of Lenawee's new day. If all indications are correct Lenawee County's belated bar mitzvah is still to take place.

The township supervisors are already wary of the new supervisors. The problem which is facing them at present is that they will still maintain their assessing powers within their own townships. However, the county board will have the ruling powers on whether or not the township supervisors have assessed properly and according to state law.

If, for instance, a township's evulation is lower than what the county board thinks it should be, the county board cannot raise the assessments but the Goliath does have the power to turn loose his pet ogre, the tax factor, and apply it to the assessments, in essence, raising the evaluation.

The townships, being responsible for the neat little statements mailed to their constituents each December, are afraid that the other tiny Davids in their communities will turn their slingshots on them instead of the county board. An organization is being sought by township supervisors to give them a voice in county affairs.

The last two months of the present board's activities saw some interesting developments. The board tabled a decision on a city-county building which has been studied for over three years. In the opinion of most this move was the end of the discussion, however, contrary to this belief is the fact the county formed a corporation with the City of Adrian to study and prepare evidence that a combined office facility would be to the best advantage of all concerned. The county wished to relinquish their role in the study but Adrian had different ideas. The question as it now stands, is that the present supervisors swept it under the red carpet that will greet the newcomers after the first of the year.

On December 30 or 31 when the new board members are sworn in they will find that when that red carpet is rolled up, lying in wait will be such stimulating problems as a deficit budget, orders for a larger supply of red ink in the future, $2½ million dollar airport, a new medical care facility and other problems incorporated into Lenawee County's advance from the past.

Many of their inevitable failings concerning financial matters during their first year in office will not be of their own making. The county supervisors are faced with a stringent deficit county budget. The usually tory conservatives went on a spending spree during the past year which has thrown the county budget out of fiscal whack.

The new supervisors in all probability sooner or later must learn to don the armor of Goliath to combat the cudgels of dissent from a tiny David.

Millstone In Judiciary

Judge Roy Bean from Zane Grey's "Law West of the Pecos" was perhaps the most famous of all justices of the peace. Like Judge Bean, Michigan's justices of the peace have gone by the wayside into history.

In a dignified ceremony Saturday morning Kenneth B. Glaser, Jr., and Yale L. Kerby were administered the oath of office of district judge. The office was called for by the 1963 Michigan Constitution.

The ceremony took place in the Lenawee County Circuit Court room. Judge Rex Martin introduced the Second District judges which included Kenneth Huggett from Hillsdale.

Justice Dethmers spoke on the new courts, calling them a "milestone in Michigan judiciary." He reminded the over 150 persons who attended that judges were human beings with frailties not unlike those of other men. He called upon the people to support the new courts, several times using the phrase "public opinion" as a good basis for sound judgments.

The American Legion Posts from Morenci and Blissfield presented flags for the courtrooms of the newly-elected judges. Kerby is most recently from Morenci and Glaser is from Blissfield.

Among those who attended the swearing-in ceremony were a cross-section of the county legal and political circles including Sister Anne Joachim, political science professor and attorney from the Siena Heights College. The celebrated member of the Dominican order was less than two months ago in critical condition resulting from an auto accident near Saline.

Also in attendance was the former State Senator Elmer Porter of Blissfield. Justice Dethmers and Sen. Porter met briefly at the ceremony and discussed present as well as past political happenings.

The new judges will officially take office on Jan. 1. Their court rooms will be located in the former Miller Ice Cream parlor at the corner of W. Maple and N. Main in Adrian.

Christmas Joy Sung By Choirs

The sun shone through the stained glass windows of the Adrian College Chapel Sunday afternoon, Dec. 8, when annual Associated Charities Christmas Concert was held. The voices of the singing choirs combined to provide the success of the annual project to raise money for the underprivileged.

Eight vocal congregations took part in the singing of the hymns of Christmas. Included in the aggregations were the Tecumseh Chapter S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A., who sang "Cantique de Noel" and a medley of favorites. The Irish Hills Chapter Sweet Adelines also sang two selections for the capacity audience.

Other participating choirs and groups were the First United Presbyterian Church Choir, West Adrian United Church of Christ Men's Quartet, and First United Methodist Church Choir.

The Cecilian Choristers, of Siena Heights College sang three selections and the Adrian College Choir sang two hymns of the season.

Paul Rainier directed a choir composed of all singers in the late afternoon concert in the singing of "Thou Must Leave Thy Lowly Dwelling" and "To Shepherds Fast Asleep." Both were fitting messages to a world celebrating an event whereby it was said "and a child shall come to lead thee."

Aids Villagers In Phu Yen

Air Force S/Sgt. Leroy W. King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman R. Radant of 210 Iroquois Dr., supports a civic action program at Tuy Hoa ir Base that provides assistance for Vietnamese villagers in Phu Yen Province.

Sergeant King is a flight engineer with the 38th Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Squadron deteachment at Tuy Hoa that flies HH-43 Huskie helicopters. As part of their community service program, the sergeant and detachment personnel have undertaken a series of humanitarian projects.

Four times each week, detachment air crews fly medical teams to 10 different locations ranging from 15 to 30 miles from Tuy Hoa. Once on the ground, Air Force doctors, dentists and medical technicians treat Vietnamese for a multitude of ailments. For many of the residents of the area it is the first time they have ever seen an American; the first medical attention they have ever received.

During off-time duty time, Detachment 11 personnel gather and distribute clothing to needy Vietnamese. Over 1,000 pounds of all-sized clothes have been distributed throughout the province.

Commemorations At Boysville

The Feast of the Immaculate Conception was observed with the campus chaplain, Fr. Clifford Ruskowski, Fr. Joseph Noelke of Saline and Bishop Breitenbeck celebrating the mass.

It was Boysville's 20th anniversary and a fellowship hour was held in the library after mass and preceding dinner.

The Glee Club, Senior Chorus and the Senior Quartet concluded the day's activities with a concert.

$50 Fine Levied Against Club

Tecumseh Country Club has been fined $50 by the Michigan Liquor Control Commission for having gambling devices on its premises.

The fine resulted from an inspection of the Club's facilities on Sept. 3. At the time, golf merchandise was displayed for a raffle for members.

Touch of Past

By MAXINE CALHOUN

1858

We have about a foot of beautiful snow.

A letter from Pittsford, Hillsdale County, dated Dec. 20, states the thermometer stood at 32 below zero this week.

1878

The church building opposite the residence of Cyrus Mead in Macon has been bought by the Reformed Church and repaired and beautified and services are held regularly Sunday afternoon.

Dr. E. Hause has invented a light whereby he can do dental work at night.

Jehiel Davidson has rented the room in Swan's new block next to The Herald counting room and will use it for a confectionery, cigar and variety store.

1888

The fourth annual Christmas party will be held Dec. 25 with Wolf's orchestra of Toledo furnishing the music.

Will Ingersoll has taken a clerkship at the post office.

Marks & Russell have dissolved partnership in the drug business, W. F. Marks buying his partner's interest.

W. A. Brown of this village is selling a new cough syrup of his own manufacture.

Levi Hayden entertained men employees of the Hayden Milling Co., last evening honoring James Pocklington, an employee of the company for over 50 years.

Ione Sisson and Ethel Emerson are learning to become telephone operators.

H. Brewer & Co. celebrated the opening of their new foundry last night with a banquet and dance.

Perry Satterthwaite is working at the laundry in place of Lynn Hoag who has chicken pox.

The Independent Compound Co., manufacturers of a welding compound, are moving machinery from Ft. Wayne, Ind., to the Century Post building, where a plant will be opened in charge of Will and Perry Pangborn.

The Adrian Press, founded in 1873, has suspended operations.

1918

The electrical storm Dec. 10, caused serious damage, blowing out fuse boards at both telegraph offices.

The new instruments for the ladies' band have arrived.

Lt. Dale Hodges has arrived home from Camp Hancock, Ga., and has received an honorable discharge. He is on the reserve list for five years and has been commissioned second lieutenant at the officer training camp.

A new fire truck arrived yesterday after the Council decided to cancel it.

When before have we had such an open fall that farmers could plow until Christmas?

1928

Tecumseh schools have been closed on account of the flu epidemic raging the country over.

The Rev. C. D. Finch and family are the proud possessors of a new Ford automobile, a gift from friends and former parishioners.

Tecumseh resembles a young spruce grove since the placing of small Christmas trees at the curb by the American Legion, each merchant paying for his tree. A little snow is all that is needed.

Dec. 26 will mark the grand opening of Sutton's Opera House, now know as the Strand. The Adah Crah Co. played "Betrayed," "Camille," and "East Lynne" for the opening three nights.

Mrs. M. E. Bice, 82 years old, former Tecumseh resident, now living in Grand Ledge, is probably the oldest woman to make a hunting trip into the north woods, where she is spending a few weeks with her son, hunting on Drummond Island.

In NATO Exercise

Army Sp/4 Ronald V. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George V. Anderson, 420 N. Evans, recently participated in Exercise Golden Rod, an annual NATO fall training exercise in Germany.

His unit, Headquarters, V Corps, participated with approximately 50,000 Army, Air Force and other NATO combat troops in the 10-day exercise.

The training was designed to test routing coordination between major NATO commanders and defense ministries.

Assigned to the Headquarters, Spec. Anderson entered the Army in January, 1966, and arrived in Germany in May, 1966.

The 22-year-old soldier graduated from high school in Tecumseh in 1965.

Pythian Grand Chief Pays Official Visit

The Grand Chief, Mrs. Ethel Richardson of Charlotte made her official visit and Mrs. Lyle Whelan, Grand Guard and District Deputy was a guest at the Minnehaha Temple of Pythian Sisters of Tipton Dec. 2.

A potluck dinner was served before the meeting. The tables were decorated with Christmas candles and greens. An antique buggy lantern, surrounded with a wreath, was placed on the head table.

A 50-year certificate and pin was sent to Mrs. Zora Case of Jackson and 25-year certificates were sent to Mrs. Neoma Wilson of Tucson, Ariz., and Mrs. Richard Dewey of Tipton, who were unable to attend. Two 35-year certificates were presented to Mrs. Dwight Service of Clinton and Mrs. Howard Kronberg of Tipton by the Grand Chief.

Four visitors from Ypsilanti attended, Mrs. Irma Tefft, past grand chief; Most Excellent Chief, Mrs. Eva Rusk; Mrs. Helen Tooze and Mrs. Marjorie Trymuth.

The committee for the occasion was Mrs. Richard Van Sickle, Mrs. Richard Platt, Mrs. Merrick Dibble and Mrs. Garrett Linger.

Mrs. Dale Cook had charge of the decorating and assisted in the dining room.

What's New On Sycamore Lane?
ELECTRIC HEAT

"What's new" that's happening on Sycamore Lane, is happening all over America. Happy home owners report that despite the age and architecture of their home, it's fast and easy to convert to electric heat. With a choice of four basic types of electric heating equipment, there's no problem in finding the right type for any conversion situation.

Investigate the advantages of electric heat. You, too, will find that however old your house is, and however it is heated now, modern electric heating can give it - and your family - a new lease on life.

P.S. And when you talk with your Electric Heating Dealer, ask him about the SPECIAL ALLOWANCE for increasing your service entrance capacity.

SOME CHRISTMAS THOUGHTS

I am truly sorry to send you the same Christmas article year after year. But some things don't change much and my mood at Christmas time is one of them. So, if you will please forgive the repetition . . .

"This is a time of special meaning. At Christmastime it seems as if we see with clearer vision, as if we look at the world with more love, as if we look at other persons with more understanding, as if we believe in and expect miracles, as if we feel Christ nearer, closer, more immediate than at other times."

So says Martha Smook in an old issue of Daily Word. Oh, sure, there is utter frustration at the over-commercialization of the season, there is the near exhaustion of trying to do everything and be every place at once and there is the absolute confusion of noise and haranguing, but, nevertheless, there will still be the quiet moments when the true magic of Christmas comes alive. These are the times to do a bit of re-examining and reaffirming of faith.

"Each day I look out on the wonderful world here along the edge of Evans Creek and have no trouble at all believing, to borrow a phrase, in a 'Power greater than myself'. His miracles are all around and are mine for the looking.

"A scarlet cardinal sitting in freshly-fallen snow, the breath-taking beauty of a winter sunrise, the yellow explosion of spring blooming forsythia bushes, the loud serenading of tiny wrens, a jewel hummingbird hovering over a red flower, the brilliance of the fall color spectacular, the gray days when we receive much-needed rain and the yearly cycle returns to winter.

★

"WHY, THEN, does such a wise Creator, who can be so lavish with love and beauty, allow 'things' to happen? Cruel, tragic and seemingly senseless things.

"Well, a long time ago, after the car in which I was riding came out second best in an encounter with a tree, I decided that perhaps it is not meant for us to know all the answers, all the whys.

"There may be no logical explanation but things do happen for a purpose — even though we do not always see right away what that purpose is.

"One of my favorite thoughts is taken from Peter Marshall, that famous Scot who spoke so eloquently from a Presbyterian pulpit. He believed that God never closes one door without opening another. So, then, it is our job to find the other door.

"The search may be a long difficult one — certainly it is a full-time task and one which leaves no time for bitterness or self-pity.

"Oh, of course, there are dark moods and moments of discouragement but, when faith falters, a look outside quickly sets us back on the right track.

"The world I see through my window, the wonderful world of nature, is a continual testimony to the existence of our all-powerful Father.

"Just think about the beauty of a bird, the perfection of a single feather, the fascinating parade of clouds across the sky, the miracle of trees and grass and flowers, the fury of a strong wind, the flash and crash of a thunderstorm, the soft quietness of a gentle snowfall, the bright warmth of sunshine, the muted stillness of heavy fog.

"Because most of my time is spent in a hospital-type bed, which is positioned in front of lovely large windows, I have time to look out, to see, to enjoy and to marvel at all of these constant reminders of Him whose Son's birthday we are about to celebrate.

★

"A GREAT deal of the celebration will be wild and hectic fun; this is the season of presents and parties, of dressing up and calling on friends. It is a warm and sentimental season; it is a time for reminiscing; it is a time for appreciating.

I always am hesitant about making a personal list of 'I am thankful fors' — they are apt to sound glib and Pollyannaish and besides, everyday is so full of blessings that a complete list would run from now 'till then.

"Let us not confine our thankfulness to any one special season. But there is something special about the holidays and I cannot help saying a little extra thank you for a marvelous family and a host of fine friends.

"Because of them my life is full and rich. I am also fortunate in that, even though paralyzed from the neck down, I can, with the help of full length body braces, sit comfortably for a while in a wheel chair or a car.

"When warm weather permits, I love to get outside, closer to the world I see through my window.

"And so it is that as the glorious Day draws near, may I wish you all the very merriest of Christmases and the happiest of New Years, may you find many presents beneath your Christmas tree and a full measure of peace and joy in your heart!"

Progress Report For Center

A meeting of the occupational advisory committees for the Lenawee Area Vocational-Technical Education Center was held on Nov. 26 at Adrian College. The purpose of the occupational advisory committee is to advise the school architect, vocational office staff and representatives from the operating-district on the plant development, equipment selection, and training program needed to provide area business and industry with vocationally trained personnel.

The meeting was attended by 180 people representing area business and industry, local school districts, and the Lenawee Vocational Office. The occupational areas represented included automobile mechanics, farm mechanics, materials fabrication, machine shop, building trades, electricity and electronics, appliance repair, graphic arts, drafting, business occupations, distributive education, horticulture and landscaping, paramedical, food services and wage-earning home economics.

The group was welcomed by Milton C. Porter, Intermediate Superintendent of Schools, and William Ross, Lenawee Vocational Director at a general session. Howard White, assistant to the President of Adrian College, welcomed the group to the College. Carlo Heikkinen, Superintendent of the Adrian-Operating District clarified the role that the intermediate school district and the operating school district will take in the management of the new vocational-technical facility. Although the intermediate district will own the site, building and equipment, the operating-district will manage the funds and program of the school.

The Adrian Public Schools was designated the operating district upon agreement of the Lenawee County Superintendents of Schools and approved by the Michigan State Board of Education. Gordon Lewis, of the architectural firm of Samborn, Steketee, Otis and Evans of Toledo, O., concluded the general session by briefing the group on the architectural progress of the facility.

Following the general session, the representatives attended the area occupational advisory committee meetings. Discussion centered around the tentative building and equipment plans submitted by the architect and the training program recommendations. Each committee will be meeting again at a later date.

Among those attending from the Tecumseh area were:

Ronald Alberts, Everett Baker, Mary Ann Berry, Paul Burns, Donald Clark, Larry Coscarelli, Richard Creswell, Jack Curtiss, G. R. Deyoung, Diana Dunbar, Chris Finnegan, Ruth Hall, Neville Hart and Dyke Helms.

Welcome Wagon Meets

Twelve members were present for the November meeting of the Welcome Wagon Club in St. Peter's Episcopal Church Parish Hall when Jean Colgrove provided a display of useful, inexpensive gifts available at her gift shop.

President Vicki Ford led the business session, among other matters, into launching plans for a fashion show in March as the club's annual money-making project.

The funds raised from this event will be donated to the Hospital Auxiliary for the Heart Unit.

A bake sale among the members followed the business meeting. Kathy Kees won the centerpiece adorning the refreshment table.

Hostesses Joy Harness and Marge Forsthoefel served pumpkin pie and coffee or tea. Husbands joined their wives for the annual Christmas festivities of the club, Dec. 14, at St. Peter's Parish Hall.

The Welcome Wagon Club is open to any woman new in the city of Tecumseh and who has been visited by Welcome Wagon Hostess, Mrs. Dwight Helms.

"If there is a new family in your neighborhood, Mrs. Helms would appreciate your contacting her at 423-4458," Mrs. Kenneth Rokn, reporter, said.

New officers are:
President — Robert Osburn.
Vice-president — Gregg Smith.
Secretary — Jill Feight.
Treasurer — Mike Feight.

Preceding the installation of officers the new members were initiated along with the new officers.

The new members include Richard Mukensturm, Benjamin Osburn, Randy Bolz, Bradley Becker, Sandra Hunt, Rebecca Buell, Lonnie Heistand, Robert Lawson, Shelly Thompson, David Bale, Beth Tuckerman, Bradley Williams, Gary Allen and Darlene Whelan.

Christmas gifts were distributed among members. Santa Claus made a surprise appearance.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Murphy and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ries.

Grandson Awarded Eagle Scout Honor

Paul Allen, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Allen, and Mrs. Mae Dickinson, received his Eagle Court of Honor on Dec. 9. Paul belongs to Troop 63 in New Providence, N. J.

He was born in Boulder City, Nev., Sept. 30, 1954, and lived in Philadelphia, Pa.; Montreal, Canada; St. Louis, Mo.; and Tecumseh, before moving to New Providence, N. J., in 1959.

He attended Lincoln School for seven years, Allen W. Roberts School for two years and is presently a freshman at New Providence High School, where he is an honor student.

He went to Camp Sabattis in New York state for three summers and attends the Presbyterian Church at New Providence.

Sports in which Paul has participated include Recreation Commission baseball, Pop Warner football and freshman football.

Scout ranks that Paul has held are: Den Chief, Ass't. Patrol Leader, Patrol Leader, Senior Patrol Leader and Jr. Ass't. Scoutmaster. His Scout Awards include Jockey Hollow Trail and Mile Swim.

Visitors Restricted

The visiting of patients at Bixby Hospital has been restricted to members of the immediate family only, because of the high incidence of influenza.

The restriction will last until further notice or a minimum of two weeks, John C. Bay, administrator, said.

The move is a precautionary measure to help protect patients from exposure to the flu.

The "immediate family" is generally limited to only those living in the same household, Mr. Bay said.

God Is My Landlord

A crowd of about 350 assembled by mid-morning. Henry Ford accompanied by his secretary, Frank Campsall, came soon afterward. As each person arrived he was handed a souvenir program printed by Earl Wickwire of The Tecumseh Herald. Everyone was asked to register and enter his estimate as to the number of bushels of wheat expected from the Third Harvest.

A loudspeaker had been installed on the Hayden white Ford car for the out-door program, but something went wrong with it that morning. Mrs. Hayden saved the day by making an all-too-hasty trip to Adrian for repairs. She came dashing back just in time to start the short exercises prior to the cutting of the wheat. As she entered the field she saw a four leaf clover . . . she stopped to pick it . . . Surely it was a good omen for the harvest.

Perry grabbed the microphone, and jumping to the top of the truck, called the Ford school children to an improvised platform on one of the Ford "six-wheeler" semi-flat trucks, used to haul machinery around the farm. Glenn Driscoll, one of the Ford teachers, led them in singing "America the Beautiful" and "Bringing in the Sheaves." Pastor Edward Escolme and Rev. James Murdoch of the Presbyterian church conducted devotions. The whole assembled group sang "America." Following a benediction by Rev. O. V. Robison, of the Tecumseh Baptist church, 93-year old Harmon Russ of Adrian, hopped onto the old horse-drawn reaper and started the harvest.

Misfortune again hounded the "Third Crop." The guide-horse of Leroy Matthews' team, which had been loaned for the occasion, ate so much of the wheat as to cause a loss calculated by The Detroit Free Press to reduce the final crop a thousand bushels at the end of the six-year project.

Several men followed the ancient reaper for a while and bound the wheat into sheaves by hand. However, they soon quit and when the reaper had finished, most of the wheat was lying loose on the ground.

Henry Ford enthusiastically watched the whole program — then pulled a New Testament from his pocket and read John 12:24, which was the text that inspired Perry Hayden to start this famous project. He said, "Here's the Word — there's the wheat." When he had finished, he presented the Testament to Marilyn Lindsley, a school girl who was standing nearby. Later, Mr. Ford realized that he had given away a Testament which had been presented to him by an old friend, and which he had carried for many years, so he sent Edgar Clark to the Lindsley home that evening to offer in exchange, a new one just like it. He also gave her an illustrated book of Bible stories.

The Biblical wheat experiment was gathering momentum and attracting new interest with each ceremony. Among the new faces attending the big events taking place in Tecumseh, was Charles Figy, State Commissioner of Agriculture. (Charles Figy was named in 1953: Ezra Taft Benson, National Sec'y of Agriculture as his assistant.) He cancelled a speaking engagement to attend this harvest. The registrations showed that people were present from 23 different towns, 4 states and one foreign country.

During the afternoon, Roland Mohr, Fred Morhardt and Perry started binding and shocking the wheat which had been left on the ground by the reaper. About 4:30 a heavy rain drove them out of the field, leaving much of the wheat on the ground over Sunday.

On Monday morning Eugene "Spooks" Harris and Pastor Edward Escolme went with Perry to the field, finished binding the wheat into bundles and stacked the sheaves in small shocks so it could dry out. Another hard rain in the afternoon blew much of it down and soaked it once more. The combination of dead ripe wheat, warm weather and moisture was a dangerous threat to the whole crop.

On Tuesday morning, Melburn Partridge, Perry and a group of helpers returned to the field again. This time they decided to stack the wheat in larger bundles at the north end of the field where it could be protected from the birds. Before they finished, another heavy storm came. After the wheat was finally stacked, the birds swarmed over it until it looked as though there would be nothing left for the threshers.

Perry suggested, "There must have been an International Convention of Birds called at Tecumseh during our harvest . . . surely there couldn't have been that many birds in any one country."

Trusting God for deliverance, Perry and Pastor Escolme quietly knelt in the field and prayed — letting it be known that they were willing to accept His will, no matter what the fate should be for the experiment.

This was the greatest crisis confronted so far, and the prospects for ultimate success certainly were at a low ebb.

Pastor Escolme suggested that they use a shotgun to scare away the birds. Police Captain, William Hanna, quickly gave them permission to do so within the corporation limits. Don Wright went to the field in the morning prepared to give the birds a real scare, but the nearness of the Hospital made it necessary to reconsider that idea.

Scarecrows, tin cans and moving strings were tried, but they merely provided entertainment for the hungry fowl. In fact, they enjoyed it so much that they become quite friendly with the scarecrows.

Later, an examination disclosed that the wheat inside the shocks was still wet. Someone suggested that it be taken inside a barn and spread out where it would be safe, but it had already started to sprout and needed the sunshine and air. It was then decided to scatter the wheat at one end of the field, so the sun and wind could get to it, and someone be hired to watch it.

The sun came out on July 15 and the warm breezes soon dried the wet wheat. The worst problem now was the birds. The only answer to that seemed to be a "watchman," so Perry hired Alonzo Sisson to sit in the center of the shocks which had all been assembled at the north end of the field. Armed with an air rifle, he stayed on guard all day Thursday and Friday. Eighty-seven-year-old John Orr relieved him on Saturday. They shot many times, but never hit a bird.

Mrs. Hayden, her daughters, Martha and Betty, together with Mary Brown, went to the field that Saturday morning, and picked up over a thousand heads of wheat which had broken off in the many handlings. It was estimated that this would swell the final crop by many hundreds of bushels in the sixth and final year.

The question arose as to whether a guard should be paid to stay in the field on Sunday. The wheat could be stacked and covered, hauled to a barn, or left to stand in the field trusting God to take care of His wheat over the Day of Rest. After seeking Divine guidance, it was elected to follow the latter course.

The metropolitan newspapers and national magazines were now beginning to see the making of a big story in Tecumseh. The New York Times of July 17 carried a complete story under the heading, "Wheat Multiplies in Church Tithing." Time magazine also asked for a story on the Threshing Ceremony which was set for Saturday, July 24.

CHAPTER 5.
Dynamic Kernel Foundation Is Born

Several days later, Perry was in the office at the mill, when Henry Ford dropped around to see how plans were shaping up for the threshing.

Perry was so excited that all he could say afterwards was, "Oh boy, what a thrill!"

Edgar Clark had driven Mr. Ford over from the farm in his special "Ford job" which was equipped with a two-way radio, so he could constantly keep in touch with his offices in Detroit.

When Perry came out of the mill, Mr. Ford was standing beside his car and asked, "How are you getting along with the wheat and plans for the threshing?"

Hayden then explained the "bad luck," caused by his negligence in arranging for men to follow the reaper, to bind and shock the wheat as it was cut the previous Saturday.

"I certainly appreciate your interest in this affair," Perry said.

"Not at all. You are doing a fine thing and I am very much interested in it. I am having a little booklet printed myself on tithing. I'm also framing a slogan that you gave me and am having it hung in my office."

His curiosity aroused, Ed Clark asked Perry, "How are you going to thresh the grain?"

"We are taking each step as it comes and haven't planned anything definite yet."

"How would you like to have it threshed by the 5-team horsepower thresher from the Edison Institute?" asked Mr. Ford. It was evident that he had already visualized the novelty of this idea and talked it over with Ed Clark.

Perry "jumped at the offer," and they agreed to have the machine on the job the following Saturday morning.

The next problem was to find 5 teams of horses for the circular "sweep" which operated the old separator.

Again Mr. Ford volunteered a solution. To Ed Clark he suggested, "Ray Dollinger, manager of our Dearborn farms, has horses."

"Ed," he continued, "you be down to my office on Monday, and we'll line this up then!"

As Mr. Ford was leaving, he turned to Hayden, "You started this great experiment. You're the only man who can finish it. By all means, keep it up!"

"People keep asking me where I am going to get all of the land to finish it," put in Perry.

Mr. Ford laughed as he drove away. "There's plenty of land around here," he called back.

The following day Perry sat next to Charles Figy, Commissioner of Agriculture, at a dinner meeting in Morenci, Michigan. Figy could not restrain his enthusiasm as he said, "This is going to be one of the biggest things in the country within a few years and I predict that it will reach 100,000 bushels. There are plenty of people who will gladly furnish labor, tractors and other equipment to help complete a project of such far-reaching community value. Possibly if you would form a non-profit corporation, you might enlist state aid to finish the last three big years of your project. If I am still Commissioner of Agriculture at that time, I certainly will be glad to help you get it."

The birth of The Dynamic Kernels Foundation probably could be traced to the suggestion of Mr. Figy, because it was a thought left at this informal conversation that started Perry to thinking of a permanent organization to carry on the work for many years to come.

Mrs. Bernice M. Curtiss, of Charlotte, Michigan, state Chaplain of the farmers' Grange, was also at the meeting and was enthused over the far-reaching possibilities of the Dynamic Kernels idea. "The Grange is becoming very much interested in your wheat project and will undoubtedly be glad to have a share in helping to see it through."

As the Dynamic Kernels project grew larger and larger, and the costs and problems increased, William Beardsley, Perry's manager of the Hayden Flour Mills, expressed his conviction that the "wheat project" was becoming a burden to the business. Perry was giving less time to the mill and adding more expenses to its overhead.

One day Perry casually suggested to Bill that they enter on the balance sheet of the mill, for the month of June, an asset item of "One acre of Wheat."

This set Bill to thinking. He was not particularly interested in this outside activity and was afraid that the final obligations were going to become so large that they would swamp the mill.

A few days later Bill suggested that Perry, Mrs. Hayden and himself get together to discuss the situation, and work out future plans regarding the Dynamic Kernels proposition. Mrs. Hayden was in the midst of a washing, but suggested that they gather around the tub and hold a "board meeting." While one batch of clothes was in the washer, they adjourned to the living room to talk it over.

Bill took the position, "I am hired to run the mill and show a profit. The Dynamic Kernels project is going to require more money than the milling business can afford, to complete the final three years. I feel as though it should be divorced from the mill."

The final decision was that the Dynamic Kernels project should be a personal matter of Perry and Elizabeth Hayden.

This separation further cleared the way for the formation of an individual corporation for the sole purpose of handling this growing project.

In February of 1944, the state of Michigan granted the Dynamic Kernels Foundation a charter for a non-profit corporation, organized principally to carry the message of this demonstration to the far corners of the world. The original incorporators were Perry Hayden, Elizabeth Hayden and Edward Escolme.

To help earn money for the Foundation, one of the products of the Hayden Mill was turned over to the new organization, a new and favorite product of Perry's — The Hayden Wheat Germ. Perry was interested in both spiritual and physical health. Wheat germ is known as one of nature's most health-giving products, so it was natural that it should be his favorite. All the profits from the sale of Hayden's Wheat Germ were to go to the Dynamic Kernels Foundation for Christian Work.

Interest in the Dynamic Kernels experiment was growing rapidly throughout the whole country, and it was being estimated that there would be at least a thousand people attending the next ceremony — threshing of the third harvest.

Excitement around Tecumseh was running high the day before the Third Threshing. The Chicago Tribune had called to ask for an immediate report when the exact yield of the Third Crop was known. The Toledo Blade carried a half page advance story and all three Detroit papers promised to have photographers on the job.

Perry drove out to the wheat field to get away from the confusion around both his office and home. There he quietly knelt in the back seat of his prominent white Ford and prayed for the success of the threshing the next day. He then looked around over the site of the activities and found that Ed Clark had already set up the old H. & M. Birdsall separator, built in 1863, and erected a fence around it to protect the public.

Christmas Reverie

Copyright 1948 Keister Advertising Service, Inc., Strasburg, Va.

Christmas—and we crunch along the rutted lane to the house where Grandpa waits, white hair shining in the candlelight, to throw open the door before the biggest tree a child has ever seen.

Christmas—and I cry as I unpack the cardboard manger scene I made as a child, that Mother had set up every year 'till now.

Christmas—and our little girl kneels tenderly beside a homemade manger. Two brothers flank her, their shepherd hats askew, as Daddy reads by firelight, "And there were in the same country shepherds. . ."

Christmas—and in a world that knows war, bitterness, and pain, I praise God for the Babe who "grew in grace" and demonstrated perfect Love.

Christmas—and candlelight gleams on the altar of your church and mine as we thank God for the birthday of a King.

ORVILLE BISHOP

Death Takes Leader, Pilot

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon in the First Baptist Church for Orville Bishop, 47, well-known Tecumseh resident and chief pilot for the Tecumseh Products Co. for the past 18 years.

He died last Thursday morning in Ford Hospital, Detroit, after two years of failing health. Last year, he underwent treatments at a hospital in Buffalo, N. Y., and had been in and out of Ford Hospital several times this year.

Mr. Bishop was currently secretary of the School Board, a position he had held since 1963. He was first elected to the Board in 1962.

A past president of the Exchange Club, he was the service organization's secretary at the time of his death. He was also a past president of the local Parent-Teacher Association.

Mr. Bishop was a member of the First Baptist Church, a former president of the Board of Trustees, a past deacon of the church, a choir member and a Sunday School teacher.

He was a member of the Masonic Lodge and the Order of Eastern Star.

The Bishops came to Tecumseh in 1950 when he accepted a position as pilot during World War II and also was a flight instructor.

He was born on May 1, 1921, at Baldwyn, Miss.

Mr. Bishop married Ruth Daniel on June 29, 1942, at Starkville, Miss.

Survivors, besides the widow, are daughters, Betty Jean Bishop, Ann Arbor and Marv Kathryn, at home; two sons, William Orville and Augusta Lee, at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luther J. Bishop, Baldwyn, Miss.; and three brothers, Horace, Halbert and Ellis, all of Baldwyn.

The Rev. Blair O. Bashore officiated at the services, of which the Dunn Funeral Home was in charge.

Services also will be held Tuesday at Starkville, where interment was made.

Pleads Guilty Before Martin

David G. Wood, 23, charged with breaking and entering the H. W. Tuttle Co. plant on Dec. 14 and stealing a company truck plead guilty to both offenses before Judge Rex Martin in Circuit Court Friday.

He was remanded to the county jail for sentencing, probably within the next week or 10 days.

Wood has denied setting a $100,000 fire at the S. Evans St. plant.

Offices Closing Dec. 31, Jan. 1

City Hall offices, which closed Dec. 24-25 for Christmas, will be closed Dec. 31 and Jan. 1. Residents wishing to pay taxes may use the night depository box at the rear of the building.

Health Study Keeping Track of Hong Kong Flu Cases

Community Health Study officials report it is still too early to determine if the mass inoculation of 3,000 Tecumseh pupils has prevented a Hong Kong flu epidemic here.

Officials do know, however, that school absenteeism is considerably less in the Tecumseh schools than at Adrian.

For example, last week Adrian High School had an approximate 25% absenteeism, while the overall absent record here has wavered around 7½%, which is about normal for this time of year.

Health Study officials were alarmed recently when the Herrick Park Elementary School reported 18% absent. A check showed a rash of chicken pox had accounted for most of it.

Laboratory tests are currently being made on numerous sick cases, but it takes about 10 days to isolate the virus and to determine if it is the Hong Kong flu. When such data is made available, it will be fed into a computer for an analysis.

A telephone survey by the Health Study shows the normal rate of illness increase for December. Of approximately 350 families checked, most would include youngsters vaccinated here in November.

Authorities expect the Hong Kong flu to peak in this area in the next week to 10 days. First case identified and attributed to the Hong Kong virus was a young boy on the Tecumseh-Clinton Rd. However, he lives in the Clinton School District and did not receive the vaccine.

Whether the attendance record of teachers in the Tecumseh schools is significant or not, the record for the past few weeks shows an improvement in comparison to recent years, according to one school official.

Office Closing

Unless there's an appointment within the next couple of days, Tecumseh, Clinton and nearby folks will be without a Secretary of State office at which to buy their license plates.

Mrs. Ethel Hammack, who has held the office here since June 1, 1959, has resigned. Last day which she will hold the office open here is Saturday, Dec. 28.

Ernest Oliver, present Justice of Peace and recently appointed magistrate here for the district judges, has applied for the office but has received no information as to whether he will receive it or not.

Information has leaked back from the regional office in Detroit and the state office in Lansing that officials want to consolidate and merge the Tecumseh office with the office in Adrian.

Main users of the office throughout the year are the automobile agencies — Bailey Oldsmobile, Les Dallas, Inc., and Schneider Chevrolet-Buick in Tecumseh and Underwood Chevrolet- Pontiac, Driscoll Bros. and George Underwood Motor Sales in Clinton.

Other principal users include Long Motor Sales and T. J. Wagner, used car dealers.

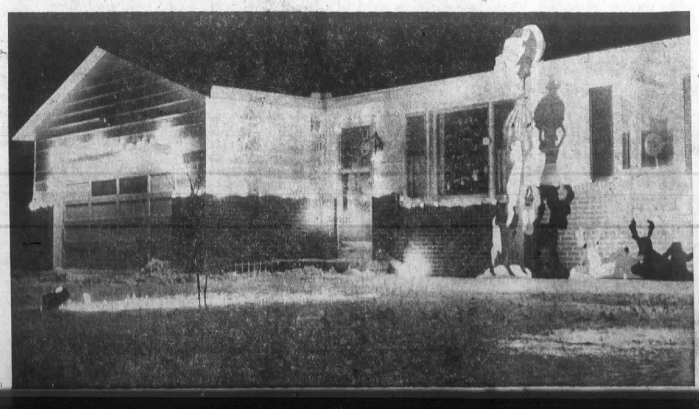
IT'S BEGINNING TO LOOK A LOT LIKE CHRISTMAS — As the line in the song says, so look the houses decorated in Tecumseh. The Parks and Recreation Department sponsored a home decorating contest and last Thursday the senior citizens toured the city and selected the winners. The first place home was the residence of Richard P. Clute and family, (top) of 104 Pine St. The Clute family received a $25 savings bond donated by United Savings Bank. The second place winners, Daniel Bush and family, (bottom) received a $15 gift certificate good at any Tecumseh merchant. A $5 gift certificate was awarded to the David Hough family of 4259 Dillingham Dr. for third place in the contest. The city department has sponsored the contest here for a number of years with the Bank, Chamber of Commerce and merchants offering prizes to the winners. Since the beginning of the contest, senior citizens have been the judges.



HUNDREDS GREET SANTA — Santa's arrival here brought hundreds of Tecumseh and area youngsters to downtown. He arrived in a sleigh and reindeer and was dropped off at his new home — compliments of the high school shop classes. And is Santa for real? — Just ask these two young lads who summed up their courage for a visit!

County Boasting 'Hidden Money'

By BILL SANFORD

The Lenawee County money tree and its chief horticulturalist, Fairfield supervisor, John H. Keller, received a slight pruning at the final meeting of the present board of supervisors.

The occasion arose when Sheriff Richard Germond submitted a proposal for new radio equipment for the sheriff's office. The sum total for the new radio was $37,128. When Arthur Twiss asked that the measure to purchase the equipment pass, the question of finances available arose. According to some supervisors, due to a deficit budget for the county, immediate purchase would be impossible.

Tecumseh Township supervisor Art Eaton rose to his feet and said, "There is hidden money in Lenawee County and John Keller knows where it is." Keller remained in his seat without answering other jibes that "money was available". Some referred to it later as "squirreling" away funds.

Two plans for installing the radio equipment, which Germond said would greatly increase the efficiency of the office, were open to debate. The outright purchase of the radio or a leasing plan.

Some argued that a purchase, paying part of the cost now and leaving the remainder of the cost to the newly-elected county board would be unjust.

The leasing plan it was agreed upon would cost more in the long run due to the amount of interest. The final plan called for a lease the first year with the new board having the final say on purchase in 1970.

The new radio will centralize the radio and phone messages received by the county. Several of the county fire departments use the office for receiving calls. Other departments have an agreement with the sheriff for mutual assistance in cases of emergency.

All calls on phone or radio will be recorded and the calls received by cars on patrol will be recorded on cards so that the sheriff's office will know at all times the exact location of all vehicles in service.

Increased responsibilities of the office were the basis for the improvements in communications.

Keller at the conclusion of the meeting said that the first year's cost for the equipment were included in the sheriff's budget passed in October.

After the township supervisors and city officials had shaken the county money tree for the last time, a celebration was held with a great deal of nostalgia. A change had hit the county and it would not be the same, the money tree or the Neanderthal men of the Board of Supervisors.

Ice and Snow Jump Accident Rate Here

Annually, the first real snow and ice equal accidents — and the elements were the cause of several mishaps investigated by the Tecumseh police here during th past week.

Fortunately, none involved personal injury, as is the case in most fender-benders.

A resume of the accidents is:

Dec. 19 — Vicki Mackey, 16, of 903 River Acres Dr., was cited for failure to stop within an assured clear distance after running into the rear of a car driven by Mike C. Raymond, 17, of 10878 Wisner Hwy. Accident occurred in front of Greenwald Cleaners on W. Chicago Blvd.

Dec. 19 — Robert J. Heidenescher, Adrian, reported his auto damaged while parked in the city lot behind the fire department station. Other motorist is unknown.

Dec. 20 — David Moore, Occidental Rd., and Esther Kiser, Tipton, bumped at the intersection of W. Chicago Blvd. and Occidental Rd. Neither were cited.

Dec 20—Gertrude Golat, 51, of 222 Herrick Park Dr., backed out of a drive into an auto driven by Zina H. Opel, 48, of 909 Murray Dr. Mishap happened on Murray Dr.

Dec. 20—Anne L. Curran, 17, of 9531 Newburg Rd., slid into a parked car, owned by William Frownfelder, 809 River Acres Dr. Accident occurred on N. Union when Miss Curran allowed an oncoming vehicle to pass be-

Area Youths Win "I Dare You" Award

Susan Ries of Tipton and Meryl Eaton were presented special "I Dare You" awards Dec. 18 at the 4-H Teen Leader Recognition dinner at the Rock Inn, Adrian.

The awards sponsored by the Danforth Foundation of St. Louis, Mo., are based on all-around leadership excellence throughout the 4-H program years.

Fifty other teen leaders were present and honored for their outstanding contributions.

Ed Kayser, state police patrolman from Jackson, presented a slide resume of dog obedience training techniques carried out by the State Police.

Curtis-Freeman Vows Spoken Amidst A Theme of Yuletide

The pine green velvet of the attendants' dresses and the red carnations of their bouquets carried out the Christmas color theme used in the candle light wedding ceremony uniting Marilyn L. Curtis and Fred W. Freeman, II, in marriage Saturday afternoon at the First Baptist Church.

Baskets of cut flowers were used at the altar.

Mr. and Mrs. Almond S. Curtis, 509 Nokomis St., and Dr. and Mrs. Fred W. Freeman of Hidden Lake Gardens, Tipton, are parents of the couple.

The bride selected an A-line empire gown of satin with crystal and pearl beading accenting the Alencon lace appliques on the bodice. Matching lace extended to the hemline giving a redingote effect and she wore a cathedral mantilla train with lace border. She carried white carnations edged with greens and centered with a white orchid.

Jorja J. Goodman, roommate of the bride from Port Huron, was the maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. John Clark, Carol and Cynthia Freeman, sisters of the groom.

All were attired in green velvet floor length dresses in empire style with high ruffled neckline and long sleeves ending at the ruffled cuff. Green wedding bells centered the matching headpieces and they carried red carnations tied with red velvet streamers.

Douglas Miller of Niles was best man and the 200 guests were seated by the bride's brother. Spencer Curtis, G. Kingsley Dunn and Harold Ferry of Litchfield, roommate of the groom.

Linda Miller registered the guests at the reception in the Youth House and Julie Ann Case, Nancy Miller, Janis Linger and Mrs. Ned Tucker assisted with the serving.

Both young people are students at Michigan State University, the bride is majoring in elementary education and the groom in communication arts. He is employed by Station WKAR, East Lansing.

The couple will live there following a wedding trip of one week to Kentucky.

The rehearsal dinner at Bauer Manor was hosted by the groom's parents.

Water Water Everywhere

"Even his lunch box was filled with water," Mrs. Clarence Conklin remarked when she spoke of the incident which happened to her husband at the Tecumseh Products Co. last week that resulted in a thorough drenching but no injuries to him.

As Mr. Conklin was watching the bubble test tank, checking the refrigerator units, the glass, one-half inch thick, gave way allowing 800 to 1,000 gallons of luke warm water to escape.

Mr. Conklin is a relief man for some 18 different jobs and had been on the bubble test only a few minutes when the glass shattered.

Area Obituaries

● MRS. DONNA ELLIOTT

Services were held Saturday at St. Peter's Episcopal Church for Mrs. Donna Elliott, 50, of 105 E. Pottawatamie St., who died Thursday at 9 a.m. at Herrick Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient this last time for only a week.

Mrs. Elliott was born Dec. 11, 1918, in Tecumseh. She was the daughter of Donald and Cecile Smith. She graduated from Tecumseh High School and was employed as a secretary at the Tecumseh Products.

She was a member of the St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Eastern Star Chapter 51, the Abi-Evans DAR, Business and Professional Women and the Hospital Auxiliary.

The Rev. Russell Cooper and the Rev. Francis Outram officiated.

Burial was in Brookside Cemetery. Arrangements were made by the Dunn Funeral Home.

● JOHN H. F. MARINE

Services were held Sunday at the Tagsold Funeral Home and Immanuel Lutheran Church, in Blissfield, for John H. F. Marine, 85, who died at 10:30 a.m., Thursday in Herrick Memorial Hospital where he had been a patient since Monday.

He was born in Ida and moved to Ridgeway Township when a small child.

Mr. Marine was a farmer and for over 30 years was employed at the Ervin Foundry in Adrian.

He was a member of the Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church of North Blissfield.

VOICE of THE HERALD

One of the Best

Tecumseh lost a well-known and well-liked citizen last week when Orville Bishop passed away in Ford Hospital in Detroit.

Cap or Orville or Bish — he was known by all three names — was a public servant to the congregation of his church.

He leaned towards the quiet side and many of his good deeds went unnoticed by the public. It was only fitting Sunday morning that the Rev. Blair Bashore dedicated the Baptist Church's worship service to him.

At the afternoon funeral service, many for the first time learned of church and civic projects which Mr. Bishop had personally carried out with the help of his family and others for the betterment of the community.

Orville was an excellent School Board member, and the Board will find it nearimpossible to replace him with an individual as familiar with the school's problems and functions and as dedicated. We are certain that the church and its officials will equally miss him.

There are few men who reach the age of 47 and attain the number of friends he possessed. His profession was flying, and he had distinguished himself as a pilot among pilots.

Orville Bishop was one of the best.

PFC. FAIRBANKS

Monthly Honor To Local G. I.

Pfc. Rodney Lee Fairbanks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis H. Fairbanks, of Ridge Rd., has been selected Soldier of the Month for both the United States Army Finance School and Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind. He is a member of Headquarters and Headquarters Co. USAFS.

Songs of Christmas Are Played, Sung

A vocal duet, "Wha'cha Gonna Call Your Pretty Little Baby", was sung by Paula and Sam Brantingham, accompanied by Mrs. Paul Brantingham.

An organ solo, "God Reigneth" and "Sleigh Ride" was played by Carol Ann Cristman.

A vocal solo, "Jesus, Jesus, Rest Your Head", by Jamie Danforth, accompanied by Mrs. James Danforth and two piano duets, "O St. Thissima" and "We Three Kings", by Diane and Patty Mannio were presented.

An instrumental duet, "Santa Claus is Coming to Town", by Jim and Mary Ann Bush, accompanied by Mrs. Elwood Bush, was played.

An instrumental ensemble played "O, Come All Ye Faithful", "Once In Royal David's City" and "Silent Night". Members of the group are Jim, Mary Ann and Dan Bush, Ken Prill, Patty Mannino, Barry Mull, Debbie Williams, Jamie Danforth, Sam and Paula Brantingham.

Mrs. Francis Outrum gave an impromptu talk on customs of caroling in England.

The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Owen Merrill with Mrs. Elwood Bush assisting. The program will be "Beethoven, The Genius" with Mrs. Fred Oberlin as leader.

Council To Hear

City Council will learn Monday, Jan. 6, about the dam construction proposed by Louis E. Winkelaus for Globe Mill Pond.

The engineering firm from Ann Arbor gave the city an estimate of $65,000 at its Dec. 16th session. Other estimates were $84,000 and $175,000.

"Gee, I enjoyed that—I can hardly wait to see it on television."

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

"And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed . . . . Thus begins the Christmas story, according to St. Luke.

Across the centuries other would-be Caesars have enslaved nations and societies which forgot the meaning of Christmas. This is a threat this Christmas, too. False prophets seek to trick free men into slavery to government — to make them servants of a system rather than sons of God.

The Apostle Paul foresaw this eternal assault on free men. His words to Galatians stand as a lesson of Christmas for this and every future year of our Lord: "Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free and not be entangled again with the yoke of bondage."

This excerpt from the editorial released by the U. S. Press Association seems to have a special thought for people of this country even though it has been translated into five languages other than English.

As each individual does his best to keep the true meaning of Christmas bright in his heart, may the Good Lord bless and keep you.

√

The return home of her daughter, Mrs. James Kirk, from Wurzburg, Germany, Sunday at 2 a.m., helped to bring a glow of Christmas for Mrs. Ernest Hammack and her family. Waiting at the airport through the early morning hours to greet Mrs. Kirk were her mother and sister, Kathy, who is home from Eastern Michigan University, Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Creger and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Creger. Sue expects to live in Saline and return to her former employment with the Parks and Recreation office for the Federal government. Her husband, Sp/4 James Kirk, is expected home in February.

The Dow Bilby family, 25, including the little tykes, had a pre-Christmas dinner at the Bilby residence Sunday. All were home except son-in-law, Ken Nazorsen, of Mt. Clemens who was ill.

Mrs. Nagorsen and Karen and David were overnight guests. Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wonderly, Gary, Glenn and baby Janelle, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bilby and his two children, Brenda and Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wilt, Carla and Chuckie of Bellvue, O., Dick Bilby and Mr. and Mrs. Clark Nichols, Mike and Mandy of Detroit.

"My Three Sons" is the theme at the Don Moffatt home. Stephen Edwin, 6 lbs., 12 oz., arrived Dec. 14 to round the trio of boys. "He is a dark-eyed blonde," said the proud father of Stephen, Mike, 10, and Kevin, 4. Kevin was anxious for his Dad to come and get him last Friday at his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Moffatt, in Grand Rapids. It is, after all, quite a chance — perhaps Santa couldn't find him if he was away from home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Crosier and Lisa Rae of Shavertown, Pa., arrived Monday to spend two weeks here visiting the Neville Harts and his family in Detroit. Grandma Lucille has been busy, busy getting that cookie jar filled.

Mrs. Harley McConnell has been ill of the flu at her home for several weeks and was unable to start her new duties at Herrick Memorial Hospital Thursday. She expects to report there Dec. 26. Her daughter and husband, Diann and David Shaffer, returned Sunday by plane to New London, Conn., after a few days at home.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Copeland and son, Alan, of Latham, N. Y., surprised her parents last week by coming for a holiday visit.

√

Fred Withrow will be home from an army base in Mississippi until Dec. 29. He has been in Vietnam and will return there in April.

√

Gun Control Is Topic of Film

Members of the Rifle and Pistol Club invite all persons interested in the controversial "Gun Control" to attend a showing of a half hour film strip on the subject Monday evening.

The club meets each Monday evening at 7:30 in the Community Center.

Musings

by Bill Sanford

The Cradle Songs of All Time

All of the cradle songs of mothers are sung at this one time of year. Though the singers sing not with great voices, there is a majesty in them. Agony and happiness, torment and jubilation, pain and feelings of great joy, tears and smiles, laughter and silence. Each in their own song, sung by one cradle for all time.

The whole of human spirit is different because of what those songs meant to each generation as it progressed through the natural evolution of time.

Napoleon, and Alexander, designed and sought great empires. In modern times man seeks his empire in different ways yet much the same, only time changes his weapons. But once there was another empire built upon another thesis, a thesis owned in common and yet uncommon to its beholder, love.

While thousands would die for a Caesar, millions upon millions would have died for that other empire, that one founded on love. Even though the years are nearing two thousand, millions still would die for the domain of a child born of the common cradle.

Like the evergreens and their promise of eternal life and a new rebirth, the world rejoices in that uncommon belief that life is immortal. The child born two thousand years ago, grew to be mortal, to die as a mortal dies, but to be reborn, to live again. And because of him, the world would never be the same.

At his cradle the world came to rejoice in great songs, sung from hearts weary of oppression and empty of sound belief. The world still returns to his cradle one day each year to sing.

Written on the face of every child of every nation in the world is the strength and the immortality of Mankind. In his most dark moments, even then, man does not fear giving to the world another being.

Whenever a child is born, his ancestors huddle around his cradle depositing their gifts; the gift to raise an arm, to scale mountains, the consonants and vowels to form words, all of the great wealth that only years of trial and despair can bring. No gold nor silver nor diamonds nor rubies can compare with the gifts of the ancestors who suffered to bring him these trappings of time.

And there huddled with his ancestors is still another, a child like himself. He brings too a gift, his own special cradle song, the gift of love.

Brown Scores 24 In Winning Fifth Game

BRITTON — Led by junior guard Jim Brown, who ripped the nets for 24 points, the Tories rolled to their fifth straight victory Friday at Erie-Mason, downing the Eagles, 75-69.

The win keeps Coach Jim Landfair's crew on top of the River Raisin league at 4-0, and 5-0 overall, the only undefeated team in the R R conference.

Four Tories scored in double figures in nailing the win. Paced by Brown's 24 counters, Dave Fairbanks added 14; Rick Maska, 13; and Jim Skelton, 11. Mark Hetrick contributed 8.

High for the Eagles was Greg Scott with 20.

The contest led off at a leisurely pace by both teams. The score was tied at 14-14 with 46 seconds remaining in the first period, when the Eagles scored three to go ahead, 17-14.

Senior Jim Skelton, sidelined the last two games with an eye injury, was inserted into the lineup at the beginning of the second quarter, and responded with five straight buckets. The lead changed hands several times as the two teams traded baskets, but the Eagles still edged the Tories at the halftime break, 34-33.

Balanced scoring gave Britton the lead in the third quarter, and they were never headed after that, although the Eagles closed to within four, 56-52, with 5:16 to go in the game. Both teams hit for 25 points in the closing stanza.

BRITTON 75

Brown, 9-6-24; Fairbanks, 6-2-14; Lister, 0-1-1; Tuberville, 2-0-4; Maska, 6-1-13; Skelton, 5-1-11; Hetrick, 3-2-8.

ERIE-MASON 69

Ellerbrock, 5-3-13; Vollmar, 7-4-18; Cousino, 3-4-10; Arcuri, 3-2-8; Scott, 8-4-20.

The next encounter for the Tories will be against Ida Jan. 3, at Britton.

Woman's Club Christmas Tea

BRITTON — Mrs. John Lover, assisted by Mrs. Gustav Hannevik, entertained the Britton Woman's Club with a Christmas Tea Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 17.

Twelve members enjoyed a program of group carol singing, followed by a recorded story of the birth of Jesus.

Jeanette Miller and Mary Shepherd gave several vocal and guitar selections.

An illustrated Christmas story was presented by Mrs. William Raeburn.

Members brought gifts to be taken to the Lenawee County Youth Center, including eight pairs of bed socks, four pairs of gloves, 15 pounds of assorted Christmas cookies, fruit cake and jewelry. Also, various items wer brought for a box to be given to a needy person in the community.

Refreshments of salad, assorted cookies, tea, coffee and punch were served by the hostesses.

The next meeting will be Jan. 21, at the home of Mrs. J. V. Ferman, with Mrs. Truman Rentschler of Tecumseh as the speaker.

"Who is This Babe," Story of Ages

BRITTON — A capacity audience filled the sanctuary of the Bethel Baptist Church Sunday evening to hear the age-old story of the birth of Jesus Christ as narrated by the pastor, Duane McNeil.

The play, "Who Is This Babe", was directed by Mrs. Alva Clark with Mrs. Paul Bishop at the piano.

Characters portrayed were:

Joseph — Robert Wolf.

Mary — Charlene Roggerman.

Angel — Charlene Grounds.

Herald — Eddie Philo

Host of Angel — pre-schoolers and kindergartners singing "Little Baby Jesus" and "Lullaby".

Shepherds—Allen Hintz, Steve Svihl, Dennis Caswell, joined by the primary department singing "Away In A Manger".

Scribe — Ron Williams.

Voice — Loren Gall.

"The Light of the World is Jesus" — Jeff Parker, David McNeil and Tom Grounds.

"I Am the Way" — Debbie Grounds, Shelly Mosher, Cheryl Hintz, Vonda Piercy and Theresa Philo.

"I Am the Truth" — Earl Roggerman, Mike Hayford, David Kurowicki, Mike Ragsdale and Doug Shiels.

"I Am the Life" — Kim Gall, Debbie Williams with the fourth graders singing "Jesus Calls I Am the Way".

"I Am the Door" — Lucy Barber—good works; Sandra Mcneil—fearful; Gwen Mann—feelings; Donna Piercy—easily led; LuAnn Rhora—sincerity; Jackie Randolph—church membership; Barbara Kemp—Safe in Jesus.

The third graders sang, "I Am the Door" and "A Little Child May Enter". "I Am the Good Shepherd", portrayed by the Paul Bishop family singing "Jesus Tender Shepherd Hear Me".

"I Am the Bread of Life"—Jamie Squires, Loretta Mann, Lori Monagin, Linda Anderson, Teresa Mosher, Diane Caswell and Elizabeth Wolf.

"I Am the Vine"—Byron Gall, Mike Bishop, Francis Bishop.

Leo Bishop — a reading.

"I Am the Resurrection and the Life"—Bobby McNeil and Jimmy Squires.

A quartet, Donna Piercy, Barbara Kemp, Lucy Barber and Sandra McNeil sang "The Grave Could Not Hold Him".

The Adult Choir interspersed the play with several numbers including the theme "Who Is This Babe Of Bethlehem" and "Rise Up Shepherd and Follow".

Also included in the program were the Junior and Senior High School classes with a Christmas Carol and others.

The lighting effects were in charge of Bernard Bishop.

Warm Response Bids Bishop Family Adieu

BRITTON — "If there is any good in us or our family, I give my God the glory," said Paul Bishop in response to the warm wishes of the members of the Bethel Baptist Church to the Bishop family as they take up residence at Lake Odessa.

The farewell party was held following the mid-week prayer service at the church. Sons, Warren and Danny Bishop played "He's Everything To Me" on their trumpets during the service.

To open the program for the honored guests, Howard Bishop and Bernard Bishop sang a parody to "Ole Black Joe", accompanied by Mrs. Alva Clark at the piano.

Mrs. Robert Hunt gave a recitation, "Striking The Boss".

Then the pastor, Duane McNeil, led in a simulated push-button radio fun skit looking for his favorite program. Those assisting in this were Mrs. McNeil, Mrs. Melburn Preston, Ronald Goodacre, Mark Goodacre, and Bernard Bishop.

Mrs. Arthur Mann read an open letter of appreciation to the family for their devotion to the Bishop family as they take up residence at Lake Odessa.

The family was presented with a picture "On the Road To Emmaus" and a Bible dictionary, concordance and handbook from the church. The presentation was given by Mr. McNeil.

Mrs. Margaret VanVorst gave a monologue, "Sleepy Time".

Webelos Den Take Charge

Calvin Irwin was received as a new member and given his Bobcat pin and Bear book. Boys receiving Membership patches for enrolling new boys were: Jon Hintz, Donald Moore, Allen Thigpen, David Stewlow, Randy Smith, Scott Niblack, and Jim Geigler.

The meeting was then turned over to George Brady, Neighborhood Commissioner, who, in turn, introduced Mr. Packard of Troop 73, Tecumseh, and Roger Knapp, District Scout Executive. They explained the necessity of adult leadership, and later answered questions of parents.

Cubmaster Gorton presided over a Candlelight service of rededication for all Cubscouts.

Gifts were exchanged, and refreshments served by Den Two.

The next Pack meeting will be Jan. 27.

As there will be no more Den meetings in December because of the holidays and the rearranging of the Dens and Leaders, the boys will be notified when and where their next meeting will be.

Machinest Mate Is Back for Holidays

Machinist Mate 3/C Thomas D. Meyers, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michard J. Meyers, 1008 Red Mill Dr., will return to Long Beach, Calif., in time for the Christmas Holidays.

He is serving aboard the destroyer USS Maddox en route home after six months of operations with the U. S. Seventh Fleet in the Gulf of Tonkin and off the coast of South Vietnam.

Maddox returned to the Gulf of Tonkin four years, to the day, after it was attacked by enemy patrol boats on Aug. 2, 1964.

During the development the destroyer operated with units of operation "Sea Dragon", firing at enemy targets and destroying lines of communication, stopping the flow of troops and supplies from north to south.

While with "Sea Dragon" forces, Maddox was fired on twice by enemy shore batteries. On each occasion Maddox returned fire, one time destroying the enemy gun site.

Greetings and "Thank You . . ."

Card of Thanks

Our sincere appreciation and gratitude to the many friends for their acts of loving kindness during the past year. Special mention to Drs. Dustin, Cook and Phelan and the nurses and nurses' aides who so lovingly assisted in the care at the hospital. To the Rev. Frank Hawthorne, the Rev. Russell Cooper and the Rev. Francis Outram for their comforting words to both Donna and her family. For the prayers, gifts and the hundreds of cards sent to cheer and make her suffering a little more bearable. And to Mrs. Jerry Eggleston and Mrs. Thomas Fagan for the care given to her while at home. Again may we say thank you with full and grateful hearts.

The family of Donna B. Elliott

Tribe Loses Third Heartbreaker; Are Hard-luck Club Of The Year

Tecumseh's 1968-69 basketball team may well go down as the hard-luck club of the year.

Friday night, the Indians bowed to a visiting Airport five in the final two seconds. The week before, a questionable officiating call took away an apparent victory over Blissfield. According to the rule book, the officials goofed.

Against the Jets, a desperate shot from the corner by Chuck Malone gave his teammates a 70-68 win. Just one second remained on the clock when Malone's looping shot swished the nets.

With a little luck, Coach Vic Lawson's team could be 4-1 for the season instead of just the reverse.

For over three and a half quarters, Tecumseh was headed for its second win of the season and second victory in the Huron League. At one time in the third period, behind Bill Puffer, the Indians boasted an eight-point lead.

However, they were winning on the floor and losing at the free throw line. The Jets managed only three goals in the third stanza to Tecumseh's seven, but Airport picked up nine points from the foul line to just three for the Indians.

The game started off with the Jets running up a six-point lead midway through the quarter. Jim Hunt and Puffer, who came off the bench to evntually lead all scorers with 18, combined to close the gap to one point.

Airport held the lead through most of the second period with a last second bucket by Hunt, giving Tecumseh a 7-6 halftime lead.

After the intermission, the Indians came on strong only to have the Jets gradually whittle down an eight-point margin from the foul line.

Lawson's club continued to lead until the 5:06 mark when Hunt fouled out. The score was tied four times in the last quarter, including the final 13 seconds when the Jets took the ball out of bounds, only to kick it out again under Tecumseh's basket.

Tecumseh took less than five seconds to work the ball to John Kennedy who flipped in a 15-footer to knot the count at 68-68. With the score clock working, the Jets whipped the ball down court in two passes with Malone then whirling and hitting from the corner for the winning two points.

Overall, the Indians outplayed the visitors who actually won the game from the free throw line, hitting 80 percent for 24 out of 30 attempts. Tecumseh managed just 10 of 18. Tecumseh also picked up 19 infractions to 16 for Airport.

The Jets were winning on the one-and-one situation in the third quarter while the Indians did not reach the bonus toss until after the fourth period started.

Steve Dalton collected 13 points, and with the 6'3" Puffer, prevented the taller Jet forwards from completely dominating the boards.

Fine Art Objects Offered For Sale

The newly-formed Lenawee Fine Arts Association met in a joint meeting on December 9, with the American Association of University Women in Ledwidge Hall on the campus of Siena Heights College.

During the course of the well-attended meeting Donald Nelson, president of the fine arts association, explained project "Outreach" which is a three-year program subsidized by the National Endowments for the Arts.

This pilot program is the only one of its nature in the United States. The association meeting on Monday was to encourage new members into participating in fine arts for the county.

Following the program an art exhibition was opened for the group in the Little Gallery which has been relocated in Archangelus Hall. The exhibition included drawings, paintings, prints, sculptures, metalworking and ceramics by students and faculty of the Studio Angelico. The original works of art are offered for sale.

Tipton Church School Gives Fruit Baskets

The Tipton Community Church held their annual Christmas program and party Sunday, Dec. 22, at 8 p.m. Eighty children and teen-agers participated.

Recitations, skits and carols were presented by the Nursery, Primary and Intermediate Departments.

A pageant was given by the sixth grade boys, junior and senior high classes. The cast was: Simon, the inn keeper — Bill Bailey; Lydia, his wife — Darlene Daniels; Sara, his niece — Dawn Daniels; Abner, a jewel merchant — David Allen; Abigail and Rachel, wealthy guests — Cindy Jackson and Rosalie Spycher; Shepherds — Greg Buell, Roger Cook, Cory Cox, Robert Fritz, David Fritz, Owen Bailey and Kenneth Eisenminger; Wives of Shepherds — Ginger Bailey and Jan Wilkin; Mary — Shirley Fritz; Joseph — Richard Fritz; pianist — Shirley Allen and the announcer — Meredith Greene.

After the program a party was held in the Fellowship Room. Ray Jackson was Santa Claus.

The Sunday School presented each child with a bag of fruit and candy. Alice Whelan, Helen Allen, Norma Every and Alice Platt served punch, coffee and Christmas cookies from a gaily decorated table.

A mitten tree placed in the Narthex of the Church will be presented to the school in January.

The Sunday School presented baskets of fruit to the Rev. Max Bailey and his family, and to Latham Dewey in the University of Michigan Hospital. Several baskets of food, fruit, cookies, candy and toys will be given to help bring a happier Christmas to three local families.

Visits Husband In Honolulu

Mrs. William Starkey arrived at Metropolitan Airport early Monday morning after spending several days with her husband, S/Sgt. William Starkey in Honolulu, Hawaii. S/Sgt. Starkey was on a rest and recreation leave after spending the last 8 months in Vietnam.

While there they rented a car and toured the island. Sp/4 William Kukral, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kukral of Nortley Hwy., met Mrs. Starkey's plane when she arrived. On Wednesday evening Sp/4 Kukral and the Starkeys enjoyed dinner together. Sp/4 Kukral also took S/Sgt. and Mrs. Starkey to their respective planes for the return to Vietnam and home.

COMBINED CHOIRS CAROL — Three Tecumseh church choirs combined to present a Christmas concert Sunday evening at the United Methodist Church. "The Festival of Carols" was sung under the direction of Mrs. Earl Mason of the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church and Mrs. James Danforth of the Methodist Church with Nancy Poland of the St. Peter's Episcopal Church at the organ. The three ministers of the churches are pictured in front from the left, the Rev. Donald Porteous, the Rev. Francis Outram and the Rev. Laszlo Gero followed by Miss Poland, Mrs. Mason and Mrs. Danforth. Dan Bush, not pictured was the trumpeter and the soloists were Warren Peck, Mrs. Warren Duckworth and Jamie Danforth. About 300 persons attended.

Speech Winners Are Announced

The Hall-Slater Post No. 4187 Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Ladies' Auxiliary announce the winners of the Voice of Democracy contest, the topic, "Freedom's Challenge". Ninety children from the 10th, 11th and 12th grades of the speech class in the Tecumseh High School participated. Their teacher is Barbara Schremp. The judges were the Rev. Donald Porteous, Mrs. William Macbeth and Mrs. John Raymond, WABJ and WLEN Radio.

The winners are:

1st place — Robert Laidlaw, $50 bond.

2nd place — Lesley Otter, $25 bond.

3rd place — Edward Pope, $25 bond.

4th place — Jan Snyder, $10 cash.

5th place — Carlo Mobley, $5 cash.

The awards will be presented to the winners at the Past Presidents and Past Commanders banquet in January at the Post Home.

All the winners, Miss Schremp and the judges will be special guests.

First place winning tape was sent to district for judging Dec. 15.

The VFW Post Chairman, Lloyd Stites, and the Auxiliary Chairman, Mrs. William Flanders, wish to thank all those who participated and do hope that this will inspire a greater number for the contest another year.

1968 IN REVIEW

Good gracious, Christmas is over and the new year is practically upon us. Where does the time go? — it just doesn't seem possible that it was 12 months ago when we checked a bird calendar to write "'67 In Review". Now it is time for a quick run-through of this year's bird and squirrel happenings.

JANUARY started off well but wound up on the dull side. Snow and cold for the first half of the month but our typical January thaw started on the 18th with 40-degree readings and, from the 28th on, we were fog-bound.

Bluejays, male cardinals and mourning doves were outclassed on the 2nd by our first chick-a-dee. The 4th was very busy with usual winter regulars and squirrels.

A pretty hairy woodpecker showed up on the 5th and on the 9th there was a red-bellied woodpecker as well as the airys and downy's, a chick-a-dee, juncos and flickers.

Five squirrels, including Cassius, showed up the 11th as well as a big mourning dove flock, the whole woodpecker gang, tufted titmice and millions of sparrows.

The next day we laughed at a wet all-over squirrel who apparently fell into the creek. The black squirrel was back again on the 15th, six cardinals highlighted the 18th, and the 21st saw the ice go out of the creek (the first of 3 break-ups).

★

FEBRUARY started where January quit, rain and fog. The unseasonable spring-like temperatures pulled the crocus leaves up, little green spears were showing on the 4th. By the 10th winter had returned, cold and windy.

Two bluejays, who showed up on the 1st, were not indictive, it was a poor bluejay month.

However, a large flock of mourning doves was in permanent residance, juncos graced the 13th, Valentine's Day was a good woodpecker day and on the 16th we shouted encouragement to a big squirrel who was chasing Little Red.

Chick-a-dees were with us this day also. A mesh bag full of peanuts drew titmice, nuthatches and woodpeckers. A pair of chick-a-dees showed up on the 26th as did a brown creeper.

★

MARCH was her usual fickle self. Hordes of starlings invaded the neighborhood on the 1st; three bluejays visited us on the 7th and 8th; Mr. and Mrs. Hairy Woodpecker were also busy on the 8th and the 9th a noisy flicker laughed at us from across the creek.

Robins started showing up on the weekend of the 9th, Mom and Dad heard them; the 11th one appeared in Clara's yard, Meadows and Damons saw them later in the week and on St. Patrick's Day our yard was full.

The 13th was exciting — cardinals, bluejays and juncos busy, sparrows started building a nest in the wren house and a squirrel had trouble washing his face with his tail.

The 17th started quite a week; bees and butterflies at full bloom crocuses, a fat woodchuck waddled along the creek bank on the 20th, a muskrat on the 21st, a rabbit the 22nd, and the worst blizzard of the year on the 23rd.

By the 28th spring here again, temperatures in the 70's and on a beautiful Saturday we took our first ride of the year.

APRIL was busy but, as we feared, the pair of chick-a-dees who visited us the last of March did not return.

Hordes of grackles made this their invasion month. The 3rd was a good bluejay day and the 4th was red with cardinals, a female hairy woodpecker visited on the 5th and the 6th was for flickers.

Bluebirds at Damon's the 8th and Agatha's martins returned the 11th. We had robins the 8th and kingfishers the 13th.

Many laughs the 17th as squirrels came up to dry off after apparently falling in the creek; white-throated sparrows arrived the 18th, two bright yellow goldfinches flitted by on the 20th; robin's nest in Dorothy U.'s garage the 28th and the yellow-bellied sapsucker showed up the 29th.

Crazy weather; creek flooded the 4th, strong winds the 8th; forsythia and magnolias out the 11th; trillium blossoming the 18th and snow the 24th and 25th.

★

MAY was wild! On the 2nd we started a whole season of rabbit fun. The third brought a red-headed woodpecker and many bluejays and cardinals; goldfinches were everywhere from the 6th on through the end of the month, wrens sang on the 7th and Baltimore orioles flashed by.

The 8th was confusing with warblers and exciting with two scarlet tanagers, the 9th a pair of mallards floated by, female oriole collected nesting material from mulberry tree and a squirrel picked green maple leaves.

Cassius Clay made brief appearance on the 10th and perhaps there was a crested flycatcher. Baby squirrels out of nest on the 14th.

Veery at Gertie T's the 15th and a bluebird thrilled us the 16th. Many days of Papa Cardinal courting his lady-love, handsome Baltimore orioles eating oranges, bluejays fighting and red-headed woodpecker eating suet and corn.

Wrens started building house the 18th but went on strike the 21st. Baby squirrels found feeder the 28th, our veery of the 18th still here the 30th.

★

JUNE is always wonderfully hectic. Marvelous woodpecker action at swinging suet feeder; daily visits by hairys, downys and red-heads.

Also good squirrel month; baby squirrel having orange juice on 3rd, visiting feeder the 4th and both baby and adult shared feeder the 6th.

Wrens busy 7th and 9th but nothing again until next weekend. Two red-heads shared the feeder the 10th, two flycatchers busy the 12th, red-head eating orange the 13th and Papa Cardinal dining late, 9:00 p.m.

The 14th gave a positive fly-catcher - identification, downy woodpeckers feeding young the 15th, baby flickers on the 16th plus young squirrels eating together and a Baltimore oriole fighting with a bluejay.

Young cardinal was on his own the 19th and by the 21st, the mulberry-eating derby was starting. On the 29th Lord Baltimore Oriole was feeding youngster and the hummingbird's bergamot was open.

So it is that the first half of '68 was busy. Next week we shall wind up our '68 in review.

You've Gotta Have Heart

By MARIE YOUNG

"Dr. Heart Day" at Herrick Memorial Hospital was another successful event through many efforts and much cooperation. The registry was signed by 208 people, not including the physicians and participating personnel.

Mathew Maxon, head of the Michigan Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation training program, and his wife, who assisted the local personnel, highly commended the local program and the splendid participation.

All three sessions were well attended. Hospital and Nursing Home personnel were, as to be expected, greatest in number but it is interesting to note various other participants. Namely, the Lenawee County Sheriff Department were well represented, numbering 18. Dentists, dentists' office personnel and doctors' office personnel numbered 35. The Tecumseh Fire Department numbered 11 with representatives from the Clinton, Deerfield, Manchester and Irish Hills Fire Departments also present.

There were representatives from the Recreation Department, City of Tecumseh, Tecumseh and Adrian Public Schools, Funeral Homes, the Tecumseh Products, Stubnitz, Fisher Body, Budd Co., Tuttles, Hospital Auxiliary members and some interested individuals.

The program was most interesting, informative and certainly beneficial to all attending, and the practice sessions were an added aid to those who haven't had the opportunity to actually practice the techniques. Each session being three hours long, a coffee break was provided. Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary donated doughnuts and cookies, plus hostesses, and coffee was donated for the day by Kroger, Vescio and A & P stores.

Another successful community project has once again shown that interest, work and effort are worth while. A special acknowledgement should go to the hospital doctors, Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Maxon, nurses and all personnel and workers who helped make this day possible.

Visit Parents In Oklahoma

Mr. and Mrs. John Seay and three children, and his brother, Sammy, left Friday to spend the holiday week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Seay in Miami, Okla. They expect to return in time for a late observance of the holady Sunday, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Calhoun and family.

Gala Christmas for Scouts

Gala Christmas decorations adorned the Conservation Clubhouse Tuesday evening as the Birdsill Cub Pack 32 celebrated Christmas.

Den 2 led the opening and closing ceremonies. Cubmaster Chuck Skinner gave 1-year pins to Marty Perkins, Larry Trull, Jeff Shroup, Mike Cook, Walter Case, John Gardner and Roger Pryor.

Wolf badges were presented to Marty Perkins and Larry Trull. Bobcat induction for Ken Barry was performed.

Christmas songs were sung by the group, led by Mr. Skinner. As the boys sang "Here Comes Santa Claus", Santa, himself, appeared jovially greeting all of the children and passing out gifts to all Cubs, Den Chief and Leaders.

Mrs. Jerry Dillon, den mother, announced it was "Sock it to Mr. Skinner" time and the cubmaster was showered with a new pair of socks from each boy.

January 21 was chosen for Pinewood Derby night and the party concluded with the serving of delicious Christmas cookies, coffee and hot chocolate.

Appreciation for a fine performance as Santa Claus was extended to Donald Koons of Adrian.

The Christmas Story Is Told Once More

The Christmas story according to St. Luke and St. Matthew was related to the members of the Friendly Class by Mrs. Oscar Mead.

The group met for a Christmas party at the Friends church parsonage Dec. 3 with 15 in attendance.

Mrs. Roland Mohr presided at the business meeting.

Mrs. Naomi Sallows had charge of the program. She and Mrs. Perry Hayden gave readings pertaining to the season.

Mrs. Paul Brantingham accompanied the group in singing of familiar Christmas carols.

Christmas games were played and a gift exchange held.

A greeting card was signed for Mrs. Howard Everhart, who is hospitalized.

A pantry shower was held for the Brantinghams and a pink and white poinsettia presented to them.

Plum pudding was served to the members with Mabel Lockwood as co-hostess.

Make Christmas More Meaningful

Making Christmas more meaningful for someone else was the emphasis of the December meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the United Methodist Church when they met at the parsonage.

Following a Christmas devotional the members packaged 30 gift boxes for the ladies in residence at the Methodist home for the Aged in Chelsea. The items brought by the members were displayed on tables and each woman present was able to select whatever she chose to fill her gift box. Following this, each box was wrapped and prepared for delivery to the home.

This past week several carloads of ladies journeyed to the home to present the gifts and to personally meet the nine guests of the home who are honorary members of this Society.

Mrs. Donald Porteous, the pastor's wife, was the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Harry Farley and Mrs. William Davis. Devotions were given by Mrs. Herbert Dillon and Mrs. Raymond Hatch. Mrs. Clifford Deaner was the greeter. Musical background for the evening was provided by Mrs. Carl Meyer.

MRS. MARGARET FROST

Ninety-Two Years of Christmas Joy

Christmas comes but once a year.

And for Mrs. Margaret Frost, 92 Christmases have proven to be full of joy and goodwill as this lively lady hustles and bustles around the kitchen making goodies for her family and friends to enjoy.

Mrs. Frost was honored with a birthday party Dec. 18 at the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Bugbee, 8126 Short St., Macon, where she resides.

"She's 92 years young and still happily exercising her outstanding quality of doing things for others in her quiet, thoughtful way," Mrs. Bugbee said.

Mrs. Frost specializes in pies and cookies, "nothing too fussy," she says.

"I didn't begin to bake until I was married and living in Macon," she said. She was born one mile north of this southern Michigan community.

Christmas is a time for good food and Mrs. Frost delights in baking her Christmas cookies, lebkuchen. The Yule treat is enjoyed by both family and friends and their fondness for her baked goods is surpassed only by Mrs. Frost's fondness for making them.

Mrs. Frost enjoys her weekly baking which sometimes extends to as many as three outings per day in her kitchen. She has also made fruit cakes and "snowball" fried cakes for the holidays.

She has always had a keen interest in young people and their doings and enjoys a quiet life and the beauty of nature.

"It's been a good life," Mrs. Frost said. "Ninety-two years is a long time and if it wasn't for the fact that I was born during the Centennial Year, (when the United States celebrated its 100th anniversary) I'd probably have forgotten my birthyear by now."

And so, on a cold winter's day, one need only drive by the cheery house in Macon and the warmth from the kitchen will cut through the chilled air and warm the heart.

Monday Club Has A Musical Note

Nearly 70 attended the annual Monday Club Christmas breakfast when the tables were attractively decorated with holly and tinsel. Colorful small felt Christmas trees marked each place setting. Mrs. Lynn Hubbard gave the invocation and Mrs. Roland Mohr, president, welcomed the members.

Mrs. Perry Hayden presented the program consisting of vocal selections by Mrs. James Danforth, Mrs. Earl Mason and Mrs. Leland Fogelsong, a trio number by Mrs. Ashley Chase, Mrs. Lee Spohr and Mrs. Danforth.

A narration, "Christmas Has Two Faces", by Mrs. Carlton Cushing presented the accumulation of joy and reverence as well as the frustrations, fatigue and anxieties.

Mrs. Danforth and Mrs. Mason sang "Hark Now, O Shepherds".

Mrs. Fred Oberlin was the accompanist.

JUNGLE-BOUND — Cpl. Kenneth Bagby, right, shows his brother, Pfc. Herbert, the jungle boots he wore when stationed as a Marine in Vietnam. Herb will head for Vietnam after he returns to his base following the Christmas holidays. Ken will return to duty at El Toro, Calif., to complete his remaining two years in the states.

The Bagby Leathernecks Pay Visit To Home Town

By DENICE ANDERSON

For some, happiness is having your son home for the Christmas holidays. And for Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Bagby, that happiness has come double as they have two sons, Kenneth and Herbert, both home on leave from the U. S. Marine Corps.

Ken, 20, is a corporal who completed his tour in Vietnam Nov. 22, and Herb, 18, will be heading there after he reports back to duty.

A 1966 graduate of Detroit's Sacred Heart Seminary High School, Ken was in charge of the communications section with the 1st provisional 155 Howitzer battery.

Ken, trained in San Diego, cared for the unit's communications system and was a radio operator and repairman.

The Marine is visiting his family for 25 days and will return to El Toro, Calif., to the 3rd Marine airwing.

Ken's artillery unit was honored for its support of a 26 Marine regiment which was awarded the Presidential Unit Citation in Khe Sahn.

"Vietnam was a good experience. I saw different countries and realized just how good the United States is. We take things for granted here that we soon miss over there, such as electricity and hot water," Ken said.

The Marine corporal is unsure of his immediate future when he is released from the service in 1970.

Herb, a 1968 graduate of Tecumseh High School, entered boot camp at San Diego that same year. The two brothers did not see each other at the base because Ken was in Vietnam.

"I am to report back to Camp Pendleton Dec. 23, where I am a first replacement draft for Vietnam," Pfc. Bagby said.

"Herb is a 'gunt', the Marine term for the infantry," Ken said.

What does Herb think of his upcoming journey to Vietnam?

"It's a job," he said. "If it wasn't Vietnam, it would be someplace else."

Both Ken and Herb were privates first class when they left boot camp, an honor usually bestowed upon no more than 10 per cent of the men.

Ken received his promotion to corporal in 1967 for his proficiency, conduct marks and time in the service.

It looks like the whole family is getting into the act, and as Ken said, "Come back next year. My brother, Joe, 18, will probably be in the service, too."

Leathernecks, be proud. The Bagby family is behind you.

State Halts Further Plat Approvals

By BILL SANFORD

The State of Michigan brought a frown to the face of the Loch Erin leprechaun Dec. 16 in Lansing. Various state and county agencies, interested in the lake development in Cambridge Township, met to discuss future plans for the developers, Loch Erin, Inc., and president, William Waara.

The lake, which is presently under construction, has approved 295 lots to be sold. Some 100 lots have already been purchased. The original plots approved by the county did not involve a sewage or water system. According to the county plat board, the approved lots could be serviced by septic tanks.

However, percolation tests by the highway commission have indicated that approximately one-third of the lots would be condemned for construction purposes due to soil conditions for septic tanks.

At the recent meeting the state treasurer's office, who passes on land and plats such as Loch Erin, indicated that no further approval for lots would be forthcoming until a sewage system had been approved by the state.

The state can only approve disposal plants which have been constructed by municipalities or other units of government. A private investor cannot construct and maintain a sewage plant.

The burden of petitioning the county and state for approval of the construction of a sewage disposal plant to serve Loch Erin must come from the Townships of Cambridge and Franklin, also the Village of Onsted. The county must then form an authority to oversee the project to its completion.

The costs of any such construction would be spread across these three units of government. Loch Erin, as the development progresses, would pay a larger part, presumably in the overall expense of maintenance.

No plans have been provided as yet concerning what the townships have in mind. Petitions and contracts with a bonding company are presently being drawn up in a step to push for the servicing of a sewer system to Loch Erin.

Cambridge Township board which approved the original plat did so without any definite plans from Loch Erin for a water or sewer system. This was considered a mistake on the part of many persons in the county agencies involved.

The township board was approached with the idea of the large plot of newly-constructed homes on a lake. The addition to the township would add considerably to the township tax rolls. Seeing this, the township approved the Loch Erin plats which involve the lots presently for sale.

State Sen. Coleman Young, Detroit Democrat, wrote to county officials over a year ago to apply pressure to allow the development to proceed even though several issues were still at stake. It wasn't until this past summer that Loch Erin produced for the county the necessary corporation papers.

The agreement reached with the county plat board was that for each lot sold, $700 would be placed in escrow at the Adrian State Savings Bank in Adrian for future development of a water and sewer system. The escrow fee, however, does not guarantee the purchaser of the lot that he will not receive other bills for being tied in to sewer or water lines after his home is built.

During the latter part of the summer Loch Erin approached the county health department and other agencies including the township board with a proposition that a plot of lots, varying in number be sold with only one fee of $700 being placed in escrow. The purchasers would then collect the escrow fee as they sold the lots. The developers told, according to informed sources, the township board that the health department had approved the agreement. Without contacting the health department to confirm the matter, the township agreed. The agreement did not hold up because of objections from other agencies, primarily because collection of the fees on a block of lots was unenforceable.

At the same county plat board meetings no concrete evidence was produced by the county, the developers or the townships that a sewer system was in the planning stages.

The state treasurer's office originally gave approval to the sale of lots on the development site over the objections of health, highway and water resources officials. The first approval given by the state was at the same time as Young's letter to the certain county officials lightly reprimanding them for trying to "hold back" a development such as this "wonderful thing" for the township and county.

Two developers from out of state, one from Arizona and one from Memphis, Tenn., both showed interest in Loch Erin, but backed out of any agreement because of the change in the plat act last year.

Prior to Jan. 1, 1968, township boards held the approval of any plat to be developed for homes. County agencies could only make recommendations and raise objections, but had no statutory provision on which to act.

After the passage in the state legislature of the plat act the county now maintains the approval or rejection of a development such as this. The Tennessee developers, who showed a great deal of interest in the area, backed out when they found that the sewer system was needed and the costs involved.

The changing of the plat act was the prime area where the developers would have been condemned by the county until a definite plan for water and sewer had been presented and a feasability study made of the soil and area. With the change in ownership, the old plat approvals would have been void.

The Village of Onsted has already planned a sewage system for the latter part of 1970 due to the troubles with water pollution of Wolf Creek in the area.

Other parts of Cambridge Township including the homes in Springville and neighboring farms, have suffered from sewage problems in the past.

The new board of supervisors will be faced with establishing of a county authority to watch over the project. They will also be charged with establishing a special assessment district for the sewage system.

The retiring board refused to take a definite stand on the issue. For most part they merely designated one of the agency heads to advise on the plans. One official called it typical "passing of the buck" from the township to the county.

Objections were voiced from various agency heads, including Don Mitchell, Drain Commissioner, Dr. Thomas Hamilton, county health director and Bill Burchfield of the highway commission. The county plat board heard the objections and approved Loch Erin over them.

The gross total from Loch Erin is expected to reach nearly $10 million, as of yet, few of the discrepancies that caused constant delays and various meetings have not been clearly outlined. The first step will be the authority and the feasibility study for a sewage system.

The Lenawee County Road Commission also has cause for concern from the developers. The dam, which will back up the water to form the lake is near completion. Water is backing up to an extent. Gilbert Highway, which is west of the dam, has not been condemned by the department.

Petitions were filed over a year ago and a public hearing held but the petition was denied by the commission based on a prerequisite that the developers build a road west of the lake to Springville to replace Gilbert Highway.

A road is presently under construction but has not met with county approval and new petitions for condemnation have been received but no hearing scheduled.

Commission engineers feel that if heavy rains would hit the area, Gilbert would be flooded as the water is backing up near the road at present. A pipe through the dam allows water to flow into Wolf Creek. Often during heavy spring rains the road becomes flooded the engineers concern stems from the pipe which they do not believe will be able to handle the flow of water.

Petitions Ready For Candidates

BRITTON — Petitions are available from Village Clerk Rosemary Auten for persons desiring to run in the spring election for village offices.

The petitions, requiring the signatures of at least five registered village residents, must be filed with the village clerk no later than 4 p.m. on Dec. 30.

Candidates must file under the Democrat or Republican party heading.

Up for election this year are village president, clerk, treasurer, assessor and three trustees for 2-year terms.

Half Notes Club Christmastime

President Lynn Peck was the hostess for the December meeting of the Half Notes Music Club recently at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Peck, on W. Chicago Blvd.

Sixteen members singing the Federation Hymn of the Club, opened the meeting. Money-making projects were discussed.

The hymn of the month was led by Pam Waters.

The lesson on the life of Peter Tchaikovsky was given by Kathy Hall, highlighted by a portion of his famous composition, "The Nutcracker Suite".

The program was two organ solos, Janet Hensen played "Gloria Excelsis" and Lynn Peck, "Fascination".

Each number was given a book of the story of "Silent Night" by the counselors, Mrs. Peck and Mrs. James Danforth.

Cookies and punch were served by the president and Andrea Phillips.

The next meeting will be at the United Methodist Church on Jan. 3.

OUR READERS WRITE

EDITOR'S NOTE — Russell Slick, an Army medic stationed in Vietnam, wrote The Herald this fall, about the plight of orphans there, and asked for some organization in Tecumseh to send them some things. The Jaycee Auxiliary responded with the packages he has mentioned, and he also reports that he has received letters from many places from readers of the story in the paper.

Now I'm back to Camp Naskins, after two weeks at An Hoa.

Next Wednesday, I've been invited to the orphanage to a Christmas program. Then on the 23rd, I'm making like Santa there. On the 24th, I'm going to a school about 1 mile from here, and push those reindeer around again.

When I got back here, I found the back wall of my pharmacy lined to the ceiling with packages. I guess you can guess that I got the stuff for the orphans.

TO THE EDITOR:

Isn't there some way we can stop those people who HIT AND RUN? Don't people have any conscience any more?

On the evening of Dec. 17, two friends and I were having dinner at the Country House. While we were there someone smashed the back of my car. They didn't have the courtesy to leave their name and address in my car or give it to the cashier at the restaurant.

If it had been just a small ding, I'd say they didn't realize they had hit my car but the amount of damage done they couldn't help but be aware of the fact that they had smashed in the trunk of my car.

I want them to know they have spoiled our Christmas because of this repair bill.

Remember it was a 1967 brown Ford, license FL 9717.

CLINTON — Marriage vows were exchanged by Mrs. Marilyn Vogel, 323 W. Franklin, and Sgt. Henry Louwerens, before the Rev. Paul McKenna, in the United Church of Christ, Thursday evening.

Only the bride's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carlton, were in attendance.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Brooks of Clinton and she is employed at Driscoll Bros. Sgt. Louwerens, formerly of Grand Rapids, has been commander of the State Police Post in Clinton since last January.

The couple spent the weekend in the Upper Peninsula. They are residing at the bride's home for the present.

Youth Entertain Their Families At Yule Program

CLINTON—A traditional Children's Christmas program was presented in the Clinton United Methodist Church, Dec. 14, and it was followed by a family potluck supper.

The MYF presented a play, "The Spirit of Christmas," with a cast including Debbie Gibbard, Leon Schneider and David Hawkins. Directors were Vivian Powell and Mrs. Edward Yocum.

Participating in the program were the Sunday School classes. Mrs. Kenneth Breeding and Mrs. Ronald Morgan directed the preschoolers; Mrs. Carl Duda and Mrs. Gordon Satterla, the first and second graders.

A playlet, directed by Mrs. Curtis Rendel, Mrs. Merlin Mowrey and Mrs. Jack Warren, was given by third and fourth graders.

Fifth and sixth graders dramatized the Christmas Story, directed by Mrs. Leroy Williams.

The evening's offering was sent to the Methodist Children's Home in Detroit.

Celebrate Yule On Thursday

The annual Christmas party will be held Thursday night, Dec. 26, at the Tecumseh Grange Hall.

A program is being planned and members are asked by the committee to bring home-made candy or popcorn and cookies.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Sturdevant and Mr. and Mrs. Noble Grebb with Glenn Hendershot are on the committee.

Special Ed. Needs One-Mill Levy

CLINTON — George Eidson was present at the regular meeting of the Board of Education of the Clinton Community Schools, last Tuesday, to explain the financial neds of the Lenawee County Special Education program. It will be necessary to pass a one-mill tax levy at the June school election, Mr. Eidson told the board members.

Also discussed was responsibility for the various school districts to provide transportation for the vocational students to the training center.

An effort will be made to inaugurate a common calendar for all county schools.

An investment schedule was worked out for the bonding funds to be banked until needed in the State Savings Bank, Clinton, United Savings Bank, Tecumseh and Bank of the Commonwealth, Detroit.

New Trooper Is Sworn In

CLINTON — Among the 54 Michigan State Police candidates who were sworn in as probationary troopers at the 73rd recruit school graduation Friday in Kellogg Center, E. Lansing, was Patrick T. Coady, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Coady, of Vanderbilt. He has been assigned to the Clinton State Police Post.
